—The doctrine of election and foreknowledge absolute was pretty clearly fixed in the mind of the old Scotch preacher who said to his people one day, "Ye canna be gude, and if ye were guide, it wad do ye na gude."

—The game laws should be amended some more. It is all right to impose a fine for shooting game out of season, but what is wanted now is a clause inserted to enable a man to shoot game and catch fish in season. We have found it easy enough not to shoot game out of season. To kill it in season is what bothers us.—Norristown Herald.

—There's a heap of philosophy in the question which a Washington young lady of the mature age of six propounded to her aunt the other day. It was after the story of the Creation and the Fall had been related, and the young lady had been meditating for some time on the moral of it, when she suddenly broke out with: "Aunty, after Adam and Eve disobeyed God, why didn't He kill 'em and begin over again?" It is not impossible that the question has occurred to older people.

Indian Depredations.

The fair reader shudders when she thinks of the settler's wife watching, from the door of her rude hut, the retreating form of her husband going out to his daily labor—going out perhaps to return not again, for before nightfall a savage hand may have laid him low among the prairie grasses. Or it may be that a child, a bright-eyed daughter, is snatched away in an unguarded moment, to grace the next war dance. When we read the heart-rending details of these savage depredations, we are apt to blame the government for not taking more strict precautions to insure the settlers' protection. But we daily read of the depredations of that arch-fiend, consumption, with scarely a thought of its terrific inroads upon human life. Tens of thousands of homes are annually desolated by consumption to one by Indian outrage. Like the Indian, consumption oftenest comes stealthily, and no danger is apprehended until the victim suddenly finds himself hopelessly ensnared, and death's fatal arrow ends the scene. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a powerful alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, has restored thousands of consumptives who had tried every other remedy recommended to them, without obtaining any relief, and are willing to testify to its remedial powers.

BITTERS

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. Ah the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

For sale by all Druggists and respectable dealers generally.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
NO. R. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. BAILEY, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms range within the province of our several specialities.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most approved remedies.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARILY TO BE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50; or "Invalids' and Travelers' Guide Book," 100 pages, 10 cents post-paid.
SURGICAL CASES.—Address all operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Wry Neck, Facial in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer (Scirrhus in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method and without pain, Cataract, Strabismus (Cross-Eye), Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Cure," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousands of cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite PreScription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its merits, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing the positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.
Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and filmy and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
SKIN DISEASE.
A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq. manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.
MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.
Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.
Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.
I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.
J. A. TUCKER.
13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.
NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.
CUTICURA REMEDIES
Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
Yours truly, MARK BRANDAN.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 29, 1878.
Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.
Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2000 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays to the promising county from these openings show a value of $27.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. The Obelisk for America.

It gives us much pleasure to announce that an accomplished officer of the United States navy, Lieutenant Gorringe, who recently returned from a successful survey of the Levant in the United States steamer "Gettysburg," has been granted leave of absence by the secretary of the navy, at the request of the State department, for the purpose of supervising and perfecting the necessary arrangements for bringing to this country the noble obelisk so generously presented to this city by the Khedive of Egypt. These arrangements will all be carried out without expense either to the United States government or to the city, and with no unnecessary delay. It is proper to add that the English contractor, Mr. Dixon, who conveyed the fallen obelisk from Egypt to England, and to whom we owe the first suggestion of the acquisition since made for the metropolis of the United States, has most handsomely recognized the propriety of putting the whole work of transporting hither its stately and more interesting companion monument into the charge of American citizens under the American flag, and that in a letter received by the editor of this journal he has very cordially and liberally put all his experience acquired in moving the first obelisk, together with his machinery and instruments on the spot, at the service of the American officer who has taken the matter in charge.—N. Y. World.

A Woman with a Humming-Bird to Caress.

Several days ago a lady living on Browne street heard a bird cry as if in pain, in the yard outside the door, and upon investigation found a young humming-bird in the talons of the family cat. She promptly rescued the tiny fellow, and found it to be but little hurt, though enough to warrant her in taking an interest in its convalescence. She took it into the house and kept it till the next day, when on taking it to the door to let it go, the bird flew up into a tree and refused to go farther away, finally returning to her hand. Charmed with the confidence displayed by the pretty creature, the lady took it fully in charge, and since then has fed and cared for it as for any other feathered pet. The bird is of a beautiful russet gold in color, seems to know its benefactress, and has charmingly coquettish ways. It permits its mistress to handle it without exhibiting fear, and seems to enjoy being stroked and petted. When it gets hungry it makes a plaintive call, and is then fed from a fresh petunia, into whose depths have been sprinkled sugar, moistened with water in imitation of the honey that is the natural food of the bird in freedom. The bird enjoys its meals with gusto, and calls for about twenty of them daily. It is very seldom that one of these dainty birds is caught, and still more rarely is one kept alive, to say nothing of becoming a pet, as is the case with the one spoken of. —Cincinnati Gazette.

Indian Depredations.

The fair reader shudders when she thinks of the settler's wife watching, from the door of her rude hut, the retreating form of her husband going out to his daily labor—going out perhaps to return not again, for before nightfall a savage hand may have laid him low among the prairie grasses. Or it may be that a child, a bright-eyed daughter, is snatched away in an unguarded moment, to grace the next war dance. When we read the heart-rending details of these savage depredations, we are apt to blame the government for not taking more strict precautions to insure the settlers' protection. But we daily read of the depredations of that arch-fiend, consumption, with scarcely a thought of its terrible inroads upon human life. Tens of thousands of homes are annually desolated by consumption to one by Indian outrage. Like the Indian, consumption ofttenest comes stealthily, and no danger is apprehended until the victim suddenly finds himself hopelessly ensnared, and death's fatal arrow ends the scene. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a powerful alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, has restored thousands of consumptives who had tried every other remedy recommended to them, without obtaining any relief, and are willing to testify to its remedial powers.

—The papers have much to say about intelligent cats. The intelligent cat is the one that knows enough to go to sleep at night, and that cat has been dead these ten years.

The Yellow Fever.

Twenty-two new cases of fever were reported at Memphis on the 8th inst., of which eight were white and fourteen colored; and there were three deaths, two of them being of colored persons. W. W. Guy, a prominent merchant of Memphis and New Orleans, and late a member of the board of police and fire commissioners, was taken down on the 8th with fever of a bad type.

The Memphis board of health on the 9th declared the fever epidemic, and warned absentees not to return to the city.

A case of fever was reported at Nashville, Tenn., on the 9th, the patient being a young girl. In the absence of the girl's family during the fever in '78, their house was occupied by a refugee family from Memphis who were sick with fever. They used the bedding which was stowed away, and the germs of the pestilence were left in it.

Fifteen new cases of yellow fever, and ten deaths, were reported at Memphis on Saturday.

Tennessee's Debt.

The proposition to settle the State debt of Tennessee by scaling the principal down fifty cents on a dollar and reducing the interest on the remainder to four per cent—in other words, to pay the State's creditors by stealing about three-fourths of their property from them—has been rejected on a popular vote, by not less than 15,000 majority. Whether this is due to the fact that the Tennesseans regard the proposed steal as too large, or because they do not wish to pay even a quarter of their just obligations and are angry because the proposition was not to steal the whole of the creditors' property, is not yet plain.

Veterans' Reunion.

From a circular issued from the headquarters of the New Hampshire Veteran Association we take the following particular concerning the coming reunion of the veterans:

The third encampment and reunion of New Hampshire veterans will occur on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 25th, 26th and 57th, at Weirs landing, Lake Winnipesaukee. All New Hampshire veterans, and veterans of other States now resident of New Hampshire, with their families, are cordially invited to be present. The encampment will be known as "Camp Nutt Head," and will be located at "Ahquedauken Grove," westward from the railroad, fronting the steamboat wharves. Major Evarts W. Farr, late 11th N. H. Regt., is announced as military commandant of the camp, and, empowered to select an officer of the day, and aides-de-camp as he may require. Sergt. John C. Linehan, late 3d N. H. Regt., is announced as musical director, and will have supervision of bands, drum corps and music.

Commander George Bowers, Department New Hampshire, G. A. R., and staff, will have headquarters on the field throughout the encampment, where all comrades and veterans will be welcomed.

Tents provided with plenty of straw will be assigned veterans upon reporting arrival at headquarters. Other lodging can be secured at hotels, boarding houses, and grove cottages at reasonable rates. Rations of good wholesome food,—meats, bread, coffee, butter, beans, (baked in the ground), vegetables, hardbread, pickles, etc.,—will be furnished at twenty-five cents a meal, or five meals for one dollar. Board and rooms may be obtained at regular camp-meeting rates, upon application to L. R. Weeks, proprietor of Lakeside hotel. Special badges for this reunion will be for sale at the camp. Veterans are requested to wear, also, their regimental, army corps and grand army badges, but no other uniform is expected or required. All veteran drummers, fifers and buglers are requested to bring their instruments.

Entertainment.—First day, Arrivals, soldiers' greeting, settling camp, etc. Business meeting of association at four o'clock P. M. In the evening a rousing Grand Army camp-fire will be lighted on the shore of the lake.

Second day, Regimental reunions in the morning. Reception of Gov. Head and staff and distinguished guests. An address of welcome. Oration by Col. F. W. Parker of Quincy, Mass., late 4th N. H., Regt. Poem by Judge E. E. Parker of Nashua, late United States navy. Short addresses by distinguished veterans and guests. Songs, stories and camp reminiscences by the "Old Boys," etc. Meeting of War Prisoners' Association. In the evening camp-fires will be relighted.

Third day, Business meeting. Morning camp fires. Breaking camp. "Auld Lang Syne." Farewells. Military bands will furnish martial music and give open air concerts, and veteran drum corps will sound the army calls at intervals during the days and evenings.

A large dancing pavilion on the grounds will afford enjoyment to all who may wish to dance. A series of amusements, consisting of tub and boat races; walking, swimming and jumping matches; base ball and foot ball games; blanket tossing and other athletic sports,—for which prizes will be offered—will be announced in orders on the field.

The President, Governor and Staff, and many prominent and noted military commanders, have been invited and will be present. This reunion is for the purpose of enabling the surviving veterans of the old Granite State to once again gather, with their families, for social and fraternal greetings, to revive old associations and memories, and enjoy a grand old-time picnic, devoid of martial pomp or ceremony. It has no political aims or objects, and it is earnestly desired that the tried and gallant veterans of New Hampshire respond once more at roll-call.

Fares to Weirs and return, on the Conway division of the Eastern railroad, will be as follows: From Portsmouth, $3.00; Salmon Falls, $2.30; Great Falls, $2.10; Rochester, $1.85; Wakefield, $1.40; East Wakefield, $1.60; North Wakefield, $1.80. These rates are via Wolfeboro', and include steamboat across the lake.

News and Notes.

Cool Burgess was arrested in New York on Friday on a requisition from Toronto, for a felonious assault on William F. Widgery, the man whom Burgess shot on the previous Tuesday for destroying his domestic happiness.

An explosion took place in a New York candy manufactory on Friday, from a quantity of superheated starch falling against a stove. Four employes were badly burned, and the room where the explosion occurred considerably damaged. This recalls to mind and doubtless explains the terrible explosion in the candy factory of Greenfield & Son, in December, 1877, when thirteen persons were killed or maimed for life, and a strong building blown to pieces.

Tom Clark, a New Orleans policeman, on Friday shot and killed his paramour, a Mrs. Brown, in an oyster saloon. Both were drunk. The murderer escaped.

On Thursday last, at Methuen, Mass., John Sullivan, alias "Crab," attempted to kill his wife with a loaded revolver. Sullivan has not been on good terms with his wife, and recently a separation ensued. Since then Sullivan alleges that his wife has been intimate with Thomas Kilcoyne, a wrestler. He was arraigned, pleaded not guilty, was adjudged guilty and held in $5,000, and in default committed. None of the parties bear a good reputation.

On Wednesday of last week J. Bolier outraged Vesta Kearney, the daughter of Mattary Kearney of Caribou, Me., aged eleven years, and the next day the whole town turned out in pursuit. He was taken at six o'clock that evening, but it was necessary to shoot him before he would surrender, and the wound is probably fatal. No matter.

The Exchange bank of Montreal suspended on Thursday of last week, and on Friday there was a panicky run on several of the banks of the city, one of them suspending payments after standing the run for thirty minutes.

The city of Serejavo, in European Turkey, took fire in the Latin quarter on Friday, and at ten o'clock that night 1000 buildings had been burned and 10,000 people rendered homeless, and the fire was still raging. The fire was caused by an explosion. The Catholic, Servian and Jewish quarters, with the Catholic and Servian churches, were destroyed. The fire was not put out until eight o'clock Saturday morning, at which time 20,000 people had been turned out of their homes.

An unknown woman about twenty years of age was struck by a train on the New York & New England railroad at Newton, Mass., Thursday night, and torn to pieces. Up to Saturday evening she had not been identified.

As Dr. Bane, who assaulted Elder Musser for vilifying Bane's mother, was leaving the police court at Salt Lake City on Thursday he was severely beaten by Musser and a score of confederates, among whom were several police. As Bane is a Gentile and the son of the United States receiver in Salt Lake, the attack is said to be from political motives as well as retaliatory.

Henry W. Kind, law partner of James D. Fay, who recently died by his own hand in Oregon, committed suicide Wednesday night of last week in San Francisco, by morphine. His wife's father had left an estate to Mrs. Kind, of which Kind had charge. He left a note to his wife saying he had squandered the entire property, which was the reason of his act.

Rev. Newman Hall, the noted Congregational pulpit orator of London, has been granted a divorce from his wife whom he accused of immoral conduct with a stable keeper named Richardson. Mrs. Hall brought counter charges of the same kind against her husband.

Fourteen out of fifteen cattle that had sought shelter under a tree on Peter S. Pierson's farm in South Brunswick, N. J., one day last week, were killed by a single stroke of lightning.

—A lawyer was held to be in contempt for simply making a motion in court. It was ascertained that he made a motion to throw an inkstand at the head of the court.

—Matter-of-fact hairdresser,—"How will you have it—short?" Customer—"Well, not as if I had just come out, you know. As if I had just been out a fortnight."

AROUND HOME.

The excursion trips of the steamer James Sampson will be continued until further notice.

Counterfeit $5 United States legal tender treasury notes, series of 1875, are reported as having been circulated in some of the towns in this vicinity.

James H. Seward of Kittery and John C. Steward of York are members of the York county republican committee chosen at the recent county conventions.

Robert H. Hussey, formerly landlord of the Great Falls hotel, and for many years landlord of the Granite State house, died on the 7th inst. at the age of forty-six years.

The Eastern railroad company has issued a circular repudiating John Davis, who is reported to have been representing himself as an agent of the company in various places.

The game of base ball between the Rockinghams of this city and the Farraguts of Rye beach did not come off on Friday last as proposed, but will be played some time during the present week, on the grounds of the Rye club.

The statement that Lieut. Fred L. Dodge, U. S. A., of this city, is at the Wentworth at Newcastle, was an error. His wife and son are there, but Lieut. Dodge is himself detained at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, by the duties of a new position to which he was not long ago appointed, and which preclude a leave of absence for him this year.

"Shadow," the Stratham correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter, says that Stephen Scammon of Stratham recently shot at three crows from a distance of one hundred and twenty-five paces, and killed them all, with a gun that was struck by lightning several years ago and had its stock splintered into twenty-three pieces. Unless "Shadow" himself has been doing some shooting with the long bow, Mr. Scammon's shot was a remarkable one; probably some of the lightning still remained in the gun, and that was what killed the three crows.

A young married lady in Kittery has this season successfully cultivated a quarter of an acre of land, doing all the work except the plowing, and raised a large amount of vegetables from it, disposing of them herself in this city. In addition to this she has taken care of two cows, set twenty hens and looked after other fowls, and all the time attended to her household duties. Her husband is a little inclined to look askance at her doing so much, but she keeps right on, and has bought all the furniture for the new house he recently built. A help meet for an industrious farmer is she, indeed.

A bill introduced in the legislature at its late session to charter the "Citizens' Gas-Light Company" of Exeter, passed the House without a dissenting vote, but was defeated in the Senate, as is claimed through the the efforts of a company which at present holds a gas monopoly in Exeter, and charges $4.25 per thousand feet for gas, which the proposed new company said they would furnish at $2.50 per thousand feet. Now it is said that a number of citizens of Exeter are taking measures to form a new gas company under the general laws of the State, a special charter not being necessary.

Mr. Asa McIntire of York has a wild gander which he captured when full grown, five years ago, and which is as tame as any domestic goose. The bird seems perfectly contented except for about a month each spring and fall, when he is very uneasy, and goes about "honking" at the top of his voice, looking up into the sky with his head turned sidewise, and trying to run away. Mr. McIntire has twice procured wild geese as mates for him, but the first one was killed by a fox and the second one stayed in an express office in this city for several days, and was so low from starvation when he received her that she died soon after.

William Entwistle, son of City Marshal Entwistle, has received an appointment as apprentice in the steam engineering department at the navy yard.

Schooner Christie Campbell, Edward Jamieson master, on Saturday arrived at Dixon's fish wharf with 90,000 pounds of cod from the western banks.

A gentleman who drove over Sagamore bridge on Saturday informs us that he saw something in the middle of the bridge which looked so much like a broken plank that he took good care to steer his horse clear of it.

A little girl named Hooper, belonging in Boston, came near drowning Thursday afternoon while bathing near the Wentworth at Newcastle, and would no doubt have lost her life but for the bravery of a lady from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, who swam to her. The girl was insensible when rescued.

Owing to a disarrangement of the motive power of the model of New York harbor at an early hour Saturday evening, which took several hours to remedy, the managers were unable to exhibit, not wishing to show the model without one of its most decided attractions—the vessels moving about in the harbor. This was a disappointment to many persons, a large number of whom gathered during the evening about the hall doors, but was unavoidable, though it cannot happen again. That all may have a chance to see the model the exhibition will be continued for three days longer, and the hall will be opened this morning at eight o'clock.

The boot-treers in the manufactory of Burt, Strong & Moore, of Dover, to the number of thirty-nine, struck on Friday for an increase of twelve cents per case, the price they have been getting being sixty-three cents, and the men claiming that treers in Massachusetts get seventy-five cents per case. The strikers say that when they began work at sixty-three cents per case it was on condition that they should have plenty of work and steady employment, which they have not had, being often compelled to stop work in the middle of the day. The employers it is said affirm that they cannot afford to pay more, and that they can obtain men enough to take the places of the strikers at the old prices.

On Friday a man calling himself E. W. Johnson hired a horse at Stoddard Brothers' stable, to go to Greenland as he said. He probably did go to that place, but failed to turn around when he got there, for in the afternoon he turned up in South Newmarket, where he traded horses with Mr. George Hanson, and then immediately drove off toward Exeter with the fresh horse at a high rate of speed. His haste caused Mr. Hanson to suspect that all was not right, and he followed the horse trader, procuring another horse at Exeter as the one he had just traded for seemed tired out, and overtaking the fugitive in Kingston. The man was taken back to Exeter and locked up on suspicion. An Exeter stable keeper recognized the horse traded off by Johnson as belonging to the Stoddards, and they were telegraped to; and Friday evening one of the firm went to Exeter and identified the team.

COLD. vs. YELLOW FEVER

The Sanitarian for August contains a very interesting article on the "Effect of freezing on yellow-fever infection," as exemplified in the case of the U. S. S. Plymouth, now lying at the quarantine anchorage in the lower harbor. The Sanitary Council of the Mississippi Valley having requested of the secretary of the navy all accessible information regarding the second outbreak of yellow fever on board that vessel in five months, the secretary transmitted to the council the report of the ship's surgeon to her commander, the latter's report to the department, and the report of the special board of inspection appointed to enquire into the matter. As it has been repeatedly stated that the freezing-out of the ship in Boston was not thorough, the following extracts from the official reports will be of interest. Surgeon Theoron Woolverton, in his report to Capt. Harmony announcing the re-appearance of yellow fever among the crew, says of the ship:

During the time she was at Boston, from December 19th, 1878, to March 15th, 1879, everything was removed from the ship; the crew were transferred to the receiving ship, and she remained fully exposed to intense cold for a month, for ten days in dry-dock, with a temperature at times below zero. The water in the tanks was frozen, as it was in basins put in the state-rooms of the ship, and for several days after the fires were rebuilt on board the cold continued so great that the water froze in the bilges at night. In addition one hundred pounds of sulphur was burned below decks, the fumigation extending over two days, and the berth-decks, holds, and storerooms were thoroughly whitewashed with a mixture of lime and chloride of lime.

The special board of inspection, consisting of Medical Inspectors W. T. Hord, Thomas W. Leach and Charles H. Burbank, in their report to Secretary Thompson say:

During this period—January 8th to February 12th—there was no fire at any time on board the Plymouth, except one in a small stove in the fire-room, at which the workmen warmed their hands, and this was lighted for a few days only. The temperature of the air was generally below the freezing-point, and ice formed and remained solid in buckets placed in every part of the ship. The water in the tanks was frozen. Hatches and air-pipes were left open; and, with the exception of the tanks, chains, and a few shot, everything was removed. Fumigations with sulphurous acid were several times employed, disinfectants were applied to the bilges, and lime-water freely used. The bedding was aired once, at least, when the temperature was below freezing. In fact, the disinfecting agencies of cold, fresh air, and fumigation were fully applied to the ship. * * After careful consideration of all the facts we have arrived at the conclusion that the infecting virus which gave rise to the last outbreak of fever must have been preserved in the rotten wood of the berth-deck or in the bedding or clothing of the crew.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

A party was given on board the Marion at the navy yard, Saturday afternoon.

Second Lieut. Woodhull S. Schenck, U. S. M. C., is detached from duty in the assistant quartermaster's office at Philadelphia, and ordered to duty at the marine barracks at Portsmouth navy yard.

THE SHOW TO-DAY.

Forepaugh's great show—circus and menagerie—comes to this city to-day, giving exhibitions at two and eight o'clock P. M. We have already given extracts from all the leading Boston papers warmly commending the show, and add the following, from the last issue of the Biddeford Journal:

There is no doubt about it at all—Forepaugh's circus and menagerie which exhibited in this city last Wednesday, is the best in every particular that travels. Everything pertaining to it is first-class —indeed, Adam Forepaugh couldn't be induced to have his name associated with any other kind, for he has a reputation and character as showman that would not allow of his connection with inferior exhibitions. The street parade, witnessed by thousands, was a grand affair, while under the canvass the show and performances were all that they had been represented to be. The exhibition of animals was large and varied, while the circus performances were capital. It would amount to nothing to particularize either; suffice it to say that the great show gave perfect satisfaction to the immense crowd that attended it.

For particulars see advertisement on opposite page.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. Charles A. Clark is detached from the U. S. S. Portsmouth, and placed on waiting orders.

Carpenter George E. Anderson is granted leave of absence for two months from August 10th.

First Lieut. Frank D. Webster is detached from the marine barracks at Brooklyn, and ordered to command the marine guard of the Constitution.

A mutual aid association has been established by officers of the navy, the organization being completed by the election of Lieut. Roswell D. Hitchcock as president, and a full list of other officers.

New Hampshire Items.

A young man named George Copp, aged about twenty-four years was drowned near Centre Harbor, Friday. He was alone in a rowboat. He was a son of Henry Copp of Moultonboro.

Miss Bradley, of Providence, R. I., who was arrested at Laconia on Tuesday of last week, charged with stealing a $500 set of diamond jewelry, waived examination in the police court Friday, and gave $600 bail to appear at the supreme court in September next.

Dr. Henry Ingham, a spiritualist physician of Walpole, was arrested on Friday for practicing without a license, bound over to the October term of the court, and released on bail. He was arrested on a similar complaint two months ago.

Charles Sanborn, a stage driver between Centre Harbor and West Ossipee, has been arrested on complaint of Isaac Adams, who charges Sanborn with stealing a trunk and two boxes. The offence, however, seems to consist in the stage driver taking Mrs. Adams as a passenger in the stage against the objections of Mr. Adams.

A break occurred in the upper canal at Manchester on Wednesday of last week, causing a shut down of all the mills until Friday noon, when the Manchester mill started up. The loss to the operatives is about $11,000 each day during the shut down, and to the stockholders about $1,100 a day; business generally throughout the city also feels such a circumstance most unfavorably.

Thomas Hanaford's barn in Franklin was burned on the 8th inst.; loss $150; insurance $75. On the 9th the stable of Hon. Austin F. Pike was burned, and the ell of his house; loss $1500; insured.

Political.

The Indianapalis Journal says that there are counties in southern Indiana where more Kentucky democrats voted for Williams is 1876 than there were resident democratic voters.

John F. Mines, formerly the unsuccessful editor of a democratic campaign paper at Utica, N. Y., but best known to the public from his ability at avoiding the truth, as shown in his "Conkling interview" and his cock-and-a-bull story about Gen. Grant's proposed kidnapping of Tilden, left the Astor house in New York three weeks ago without paying his board bill, and has not since been heard of. Perhaps he has been kidnapped.

Success in the Stock Market.

Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have just published "two unerring rules for success," and full details, so that any one can operate. Mailed free. Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every 30 days. $15 would make $75 profit, $100 would return $1,000, or 10 per cent. on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York Fashion Editress and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 375 per ct. profit on an investment, Oct. 5th, 1878. Many others are doing as well or better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal proportionate success by this system. All kinds of stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.—In bronchial and other chest affections, in arresting incipient consumption, and in lessening the distressing symptoms of this disease in its hopeless stages, as well as in cases of nervous debility in giving tone to the system, Fellows' Hypophosphites is undoubtedly a valuable remedy.
JOHN McMURRAY,
Methodist Minister, Newport, N. S.

—Out on a foul—Taking a ride on an ostrich.

—If you are ambitious to move in the highest circles join the next expedition to the Arctic circles.

—A freak of a tornado at Reno, Nevada, is thus described: "Moorman Cutter started out with a half-gallon of whiskey to take to his sick mother. He was found some hours afterward lying behind a fence on the hill. He said that he stepped around a corner to fix a cork in the jug, and while he was taking the measure of the orifice of the jug, a tremendous wind came down on him. It sucked the liquor clean out of the jug, blew it down his throat, and turned the jug inside out. He could remember nothing more."

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough Blood-purifying properties, this incomparable medicine effectually clears all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, Pimple, or Eruption, Scrofulous Tumors, Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow bloodshot spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of drugs, and bulky inert matter. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no injurious or scarcely any care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In expulsion of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or discharge of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy should be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" in a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS
Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.
Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
SKIN DISEASE.
A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq. manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.
Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.
Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him how he came by the way, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.
Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.
I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.
J. A. TUCKER.
13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.
NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.
CUTICURA REMEDIES
Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.
Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.
Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.
COLLINS VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2000 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 90 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $27.00 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "Mountain Lion," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are offered at the subscription price of $5.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and for funds to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Daily Chronicle.

The Unwilling Bride.

The northern part of Georgia is a wild, picturesque country. The gold found in this region had, in earlier days, drawn to the vicinity adventurers from nearly every civilized land.

Thirty years ago, many men of broken down fortunes from other States came to northern Georgia with the hope that the fickle goddess would prove kinder to them in this new avenue to wealth than she had deigned to be in other vocations.

Among these was a family named Loser, who had become much reduced in circumstances and were as unsuited to their present surroundings as it was possible for people to be. Luis Loser was a middle-aged man, of singular grace of person and elegance of manner; and his wife was a faded, helpless woman of fashion, torn from her native sphere, and transplanted to this uncongenial land against her own consent.

Mrs. Loser had married twice. Her first husband's name was Leslie, and a daughter of eighteen, named Kate, and one of fourteen years, named Edna, were her children by her first marriage.

At the time our story opens, Mrs. Loser, a delicate-looking woman with a peevish expression on the face which had once been radiant with the ephemeral beauty of lilies and roses, lay on an old-fashioned sofa in the spacious hall of the dwelling.

Her toilet corresponded with her surroundings—a much-worn morning dress of dark silk with frayed trimmings, was finished at the throat with a tie of coffee-colored lace, and a pair of well-worn satin slippers covered the small feet, thrust out as if their owner was proud to display them.

Her slender, useless looking hands were ornamented with glitterings rings, and in one of them she held a worn looking volume which she seemed to be reading with some interest.

Suddenly a rush was heard, and Kate Leslie, her daughter, came swiftly across the veranda and entered the hall, carrying in one hand a package of papers and letters, and swinging from the other a large straw hat simply trimmed.

A more striking contrast to th inert creature on the sofa could hardly have been found. The girl was full of life, energy, ambitious to run a brilliant career, and it was evident to those who knew her that she did not intend to be disappointed in her aspirations if the consummation of her wishes depended on herself.

Kate was in the heyday of youth—a brilliant, sparkling brunette, the roses of health on her cheeks and lips, and the light of hope and joy in her dark, expressive eyes. A magnificent suit of dark brown hair with a glint of red in it gave character to her bright face.

As Kate rushed across the floor toward her mother's place of indolent repose, she exclaimed in clear, ringing tones:

"Such a lot of papers and letters never came to this house at one time before! I've been to the office myself on Flyaway. Here is a letter for you, mamma, all the way from California, and by that token, if I did not recognized the writing, I should know that it is from Dick Staunton. Time indeed that he should write, for it is two years since we had a line from him, and we were all so good to him too!"

Mrs. Loser flushed slightly as she took Staunton's letter, opened it and eagerly read its contents. She seemed to be both interested and surprised, and her daughter furtively watched her while she pretended to arrange the rest of the mail on a side table.

"Well, I do declare!" cried Mrs. Loser, after a few moments. "I wondered what Dick had to say to me, but I suppose it was best to write to me under the circumstances."

"What can you mean, mamma, and what does Mr. Staunton say? Am I to conclude that Dick has become a millionaire, and wants me to help him spend his money?"

"Well, I do declare! If you haven't hit on the very thing itself. He doesn't say that he's worth a million, but he gives me to understand that he is very rich and getting better off every day, and he's coming back here after you. If you will marry him, he will stay in the East, and let his partner manage his mining interests. There! That's about all; and I think it is quite enough to settle your destiny. It would mine, if I were in your place."

While her mother spoke, Kate had flushed scarlet, and then grown pale as death. She asked, in a breathless sort of way:

"Do you believe it is quite true? Do you think Dick can really be in earnest?"

"I have no doubt he believes what he says himself, and I see no reason why it should not be true. Why do you grow so pale, Kate? It must be all right, for you liked him well enough when he was staying here with us, and he made no secret of how much he love with you he was. Indeed, till lately, I thought there was some sort of promise between you."

"Why till lately?" asked Kate, hoarsely.

"Well, I do declare! as if you couldn't answer that yourself! If you had promised Dick, I did not think you would carry on with Harry Conrad, as you have done since he came among us. 'It's a regular flirtation, and he's awfully in earnest, child, though he hasn't a foot of land he can call his own, nor money in the bank either. Of course, you will send him adrift now; you ought to have done it when he first presumed to speak to you of love."

"But I liked him then, and I more than like him now," said Kate, abruptly. "I—I made a sort of wandering promise to Mr. Staunton, but I had no idea he would ever be in a position to claim it. He asked me the day before he left us if I would remain single two years to give him a chance to make a fortune that would enable him to place me in such a position as I was born to fill. He had tried so many things and failed at them all, that I thought it quite safe to reply that I would wait ten years if he wished it. He could not have believed that I was in earnest."

"But he evidently did, my dear, as you will see when you read what he says. By this time Dick is on his way back, and he may walk in on us any day, expecting a warm welcome from the girl for whom he comes with a fortune in his hand. Read his letter and you will see that he does not mean to give you up."

With an air of listless dejection Kate held out her hand and accepted the letter offered by her mother. As she read the lines color came back to her face, and her eyes sparkled with aroused temper. She crushed the paper in her grasp, and scornfully said:

"What does Dick Staunton mean by saying that I belong to him—that he is coming to claim his own? That he will tolerate no interference on the part of any one, and if I have indulged in any girlish fancies I must put them aside and prepare to welcome my true lord and master when he comes to take me to himself? I never bound myself to him in any way, and I won't—I won't be dictated to by him in this manner."

Accustomed to her daughter's mode of expressing herself when greatly excited, Mrs. Loser sank back on her seat and tranquilly replied:

"It is natural to Dick to be masterful, and he says no more than you have given him a right to express. You admit that you consented to wait for him, and, to a man like him, that meant everything that such a promise can imply."

"But I never meant it. Oh, what shall I do? What shall I do?"

"I can easily tell you. Send Harry Conrad away at once, and make him understand that his dismissal is final. Think of the magnificent future opening before you, and prepare to receive with cordial welcome the lover who comes to shower his hardly-earned gold upon you."

Poor Kate left her mother's presence in a tempest of feeling it would be impossible to portray. A fierce battle was raging within her, and she also trembled before the dread that she would never be permitted to reject the lover who came with the power in his hand to release those she tenderly loved from the hopeless dreariness of their present existence.

A young, bright face, with nobility of soul stamped upon every lineament, arose before her, and she covered her face with her hands and moaned in her anguish:

"They will tear me from my Harry—my darling, and my pride; they will preach to me of my duty to them and to myself, until wrong will seem right, and I shall become a mere puppet in their hands. And he—he—that man of strong will, is coming to compel me to fulfill a contract I never meant to make. Oh, what shall I do! what will become of me!"

She had sat down on the upper step of the winding stairs, and now rising abruptly, she went into her room and closed the door.

Shortly afterwards Mrs. Loser knocked tremulously at her daughter's door and asked to be admitted.

There was a slight stir within, and a faltering voice replied:

"I had rather not see any one just yet, mamma. Give me time to bathe my eyes, and get calm, and I will see and talk with you. O! if you love me, leave me alone now!"

To this passionate adjuration Mrs. Loser replied:

"I must see you at once, Kate. I have something that is most important to say to you. Something that you ought to know, as it may help you to a decision as to what is right for you to do."

After a slight delay the door was unlocked, and Kate, with swollen eyes and a pathetic expression of helplessness upon her face, looked with trembling dread upon the mother who, she knew, had come to throw some additional load upon her young shoulders, heavy as was the one she already had to bear.

The apartment of Kate was simply but tastefully furnished. In it were found the few books she claimed as her own, her guitar, her portfolios of dried plants, and many little nick-nacks such as young girls like to collect around them.

The walls were covered with pencil sketches made by herself, fancifully framed with autumn leaves. Among them was found the shadowy outline of a young man's head so lightly drawn that the fair artist seemed afraid to make it too distinct lest it might be recognized. A wreath of wild flowers hung over it, and concealed the words faintly traced beneath—"My ideal."

The head was certainly a very noble and handsome one, and Kate deserved credit if she had drawn it from her own conception of what is grand and true in man.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1879.

The Yellow Fever.

Twenty-nine cases of yellow fever were reported at Memphis on Sunday, and five deaths. There is now no hope of checking the spread of the fever until frost comes.

Two cases of fever were reported on Sunday at Forest Hills, Tenn., eighteen miles west of Memphis.

A fatal case of fever was reported on the 8th at Mayersville, Miss.

A quarantine inspection boat was anchored in the Mississippi river near the head of island No. 1, on the 10th inst., and hereafter all upstream boats will be inspected in accordance with the rules of the national board of health. Any steamer refusing to submit to inspection will be prevented from touching at landings.

A clerk in Pratt's oil works at Williamsburg, N. Y., died Saturday of yellow fever.

News and Notes.

It is stated that a letter has been sent to our diplomatic representatives in Great Britain, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, protesting against the governments of those countries allowing their subjects to emigrate to the United States as Mormon converts.

An excursion steamer, the Mary Morgan, with several hundred passengers on board, on Friday night ran into and sank the freight steamer Pierrepont, bound from Smyrna to Philadelphia, off Fort Delaware. The Morgan's bow was stove in, but she is built in compartments and kept afloat, the forward bulkhead holding, and she picked up the Pierrepont's crew and passengers and landed them at Chester, Pa.

Society circles in Rhode Island are excited by reports of an unpleasant occurrence Friday evening at the summer residence of Ex-Senator Sprague, at Narragansett Pier. The reports of the scandalous affair are extremely contradictory.

The White Sulphur Springs property in West Virginia was sold on Saturday for $300,000, to A. F. Matthews.

The big rolling mills at Spuyten Duyvil, N. Y., which have been idle for eight years past, are to start up at once on a contract for 10,000 tons of railroad iron to be delivered at Kansas City. The long-idle manufactories all over the country are gradually starting into life again, notwithstanding the wails of the greenbackers.

John Moran, a New York river pirate who was shot on board a schooner some weeks ago, is dying in the hospital but refuses to make any confession.

A tract of wild West Virginia land, thought to be worthless, for which Horace Greeley paid $10,000, has recently become worth $40,000 to his estate.

At Helena, Texas, two young men named Cooper and Butler, who had long been enemies, recently met. Cooper said, "now I've got you," and shot Butler through the breast. Butler then drew a revolver and shot Cooper, the latter giving Butler two more shots in the breast, when Butler staggered toward Cooper, placed the pistol against his neck and fired. Both fell together, and died instantly.

The tow boat Iron Valley blew up opposite Cumberland, W. Va., Saturday, the boat being shattered to pieces, and the pilot, the captain's son and a passenger killed, and several other persons injured.

The financial panic in Montreal is about ended, and public confidence in the stability of the banks restored.

Political.

The "Abbott democrats," at a meeting held on Saturday in Boston, declined the request of the Butler democrats to unite with them in State convention. They also issued an address to the democrats of the State saying that the democratic party of Massachusetts should adhere to the principles announced in the national and Faneuil hall democratic conventions, and calling upon members of the party to make preparations for campaign organizations.

The democrats and greenbackers of Waldo county, Me., held their conventions at Belfast on Saturday; the greenbackers nominated a full county ticket, and the democrats "endorsed" it, making no nominations themselves.

The conservative voters of the north, without regard to the party, will say to themselves that if the political solidity of which the south is so proud, which is so carefully maintained, and to which the politicans so confidently trust, secures no better enforcement of law and order than it seems to do in Mississippi, the solid south cannot safely be charged with the government of the country. This is not stalwartism or sectionalism. It is common sense.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Graveyards from Hotel Windows.

There is a story about a stranger who came to Boston and put up at the St. James hotel. He was given a room in the rear of the building, and the first sight which met his eyes in the morning was a gloomy expanse of graveyard, right under his window. He was a man of sensitive nature—probably from Leadville, or some such pastoral neighborhood—and the landscape spoiled his appetite for that day. As soon as his day's work of pleasure was over, he quietly removed his plunder to the Parker house. Here he asked for a front room, and went to sleep in peace, but in the morning, as before, Aurora's gentle beams gilded a dazzling array of tombstones across School street, in the King's Chapel graveyard. The gentleman from Leadville had another day's bad digestion, but, being of courageous disposition he made a third trial and went over to the Tremont, where he expressly stipulated that he should not be given a back room nor a front one. The gentlemanly clerk assigned him a cheerful parlor on the west side and the guest went to bed happy. He arose at dawn, feeling decidedly more cheerful, and drew his curtains, to feast his gaze on—the Old Granary cemetery, with tombstones three hundred years old mouldering before him. It was too much for the stranger, who immediately paid his bill and departed to hunt up a town "where it wasn't so darned unhealthy that they had to have a graveyard attached to every hotel."—Boston Globe.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day;

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12, 2 A.M.

Slightly warmer, south-east to south-west winds, partly cloudy weather, and slight rise, followed by slowly falling barometer.

AROUND HOME.

The new city government organizes to-day.

Officer Moore on Monday arrested Manuel Newburgher, a deserter from the U. S. S. Marion, who had been lying around loose for the previous nine days without leave.

The steamer Gen. Bartlett visited this port on Monday, in four and a half hours from Haverhill, Mass., bringing an excursion party of about two hundred persons. She left on her return shortly after two o'clock.

Johnson, the man who hired a team of Stoddard Bros. of this city on Friday last, and traded the horse off in South Newmarket for another one, was before a magistrate in South Newmarket on Saturday, and held in $500 for trial at the supreme court in this city next October. In default of bail he was lodged in jail at Exeter. He hails from North Conway.

A team answering to the description of one stolen in Gloucester, Mass., last week, was taken possession of in this city on Monday by the owner. The team was driven into this city from Exeter by Mr. Lorenzo M. Carpenter of that town, who got it in a trade with the man who is supposed to have stolen it, who is well known and an old offender, having served at least one term in the State prison.

The United States training ship Portsmouth, Comdr. Crowninshield, which laid in the lower harbor all last week to ship boys for the naval service, was not overrun with applicants, and secured but few recruits—three we believe being the total. She made sail Sunday evening and tried to work out of the harbor, but the wind was too light for her to manage it, and she was obliged to bring up again and wait until Monday morning, when she left for Portland.

The "Chouaguen club," consisting of Messrs. Wm. S. Hazel, Stephen B. Pearson, Jr., Charles Page, James H. Hurd, Frank Pearson, Willard J. Sampson, George N. Jones, Herbert K. Sheldon and George H. Clark, four or five of them being members of Kearsarge engine company, No. 3, last week pitched three tents on Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, a few hundred feet to the eastward of Seaside lodge, and prepared for a two-weeks camp-out. What the name "Chouaguen" means we do not know, but presume it is short for "Chew away again," which is very apt to take place with dwellers at the point. Some one else has pitched a tent on Jerry's point, right under where the guns of the new fort will be if any guns are ever put there; and two or three other tents are to be seen along the river and Chauncey's creek front of Gerrish's island.

The friends of various candidates for positions under the new city government have been earnestly at work for some days to advance the interests of their special favorites, and no doubt some feel assured of success who will be unsuccessful. We do not propose to attempt instructing the new city fathers as to what they should do or whom elect, but we will say a word concerning the police force. Our duties during the past year have taken us into different parts of the city at all hours of the night, and we have never noticed any shirking from duty on the part of the officers. The discipline of the force has been kept up to as high a standard, and the peace and security of the city as well preserved, as under any administration the city has ever had; the officers have maintained their own respect and that of the law-abiding citizens, and have executed the more unpleasant parts of their duties judiciously and promptly, and with all the humane forbearance circumstances would admit of. How many of the present officers will be retained, from the marshal down, we have not the less idea; but we do not hesitate to say that the police business of the city has never been better performed than by the present incumbents, and that any extended substitution of new men for the experienced and trustworthy officers now doing police duty can hardly be for the public benefit.

Hon. Wm. P. Frye will speak at Kittery foreside this evening on the political questions of the day. The steamer James Sampson will run to accommodate any who may wish to attend from this city, returning after the close of the speaking.

George C. V. Downs, a boy fifteen years of age, was on Saturday lodged in jail at Dover to await trial on a charge of breaking into the depot at Farmington, and stealing money therefrom. He was caught in the act, with the money in his possession.

The Sappho, a steam yacht from Boston, bran-new, being only ten days off the stocks, came into the lower harbor on Sunday evening, and anchored off Newcastle. She is a handsome vessel, apparently very commodious for a craft of her size, is schooner rigged, and steams rapidly.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Garland, with a party of twenty-one young men from Dover, sailed from that place at seven o'clock Saturday morning. The excursionists chartered the vessel for a trip along shore and up the Hudson river as far as Albany, engaged their own steward, and laid in provisions to suit themselves.

The U. S. S. Portsmouth on Monday forenoon took the bottom, a few hours after leaving the lower harbor. The tug Leyden was sent to her assistance, but the ship came off herself with the flood tide, it is said without having sustained any apparent damage. So far as we could learn Monday evening the vessel must have struck on or near Stone's rock, about two or three miles off York harbor, but what she was doing in there at all, amongst the net-work of dangerous rocks all along there, is beyond our comprehension.

We find the following astonishing item in the Boston Journal of Monday evening: "The United States steamer Portsmouth sailed from Kittery to-day for Portland with the boilers of the Marion, which have been condemned. It is expected that she will go out of commission." It would be hard to decide from this item which of the two vessels named is expected to go out of commission; and the idea of taking condemned boilers from here to Portland is as amusing as is the notion that a war-steamer would be kept in commission after her boilers were out, as the item intimates is the case with the Marion. And the Portsmouth is not a steamer, but a sailing ship.

A MARITIME WAR.

The Concord railroad wharf was the scene of quite an excitement early Monday morning. The schooner E. M. Buehler, of Philadelphia, which arrived at this port last week, hauled into a berth at the railroad wharf for the purpose of unloading her cargo of coal, and had discharged about one hundred tons at knock-off time Saturday evening. Mr. Barrett, the station master of the Concord railroad, who is also wharf master, we understand says that the schooner was allowed into the berth under an arrangement to which the captain agreed, viz.; that the schooner might haul in, but should haul out at once on the appearance of one of the Reading railroad steamers, then about due, and give the steamer the berth; but the captain denies in part entering into any arrangement. The steamer arrived on Sunday, and came up to the wharf in the evening; the captain of the schooner refused to move her, and Mr. Barrett, acting under the authority of the harbor master, ordered her mooring lines cast off and the vessel hauled to another wharf, and attempted to board the schooner to oversee the carrying out of his directions, but desisted when confronted by the captain with a revolver. A warrant was procured, and the captain arrested for an assault on Mr. Barrett, and taken to the station house; and during his absence (Monday morning) another attempt was made to shift the schooner's berth, under direction of the harbor master, the mate of the schooner standing by to let go her anchor as soon as the lines were cast off. The harbor master forbade the mate doing this, but the latter said he had the captain's orders and should obey them; the lines were cast off, and down went the anchor. The mate and second mate were then arrested, and they were taken before Judge Batchelder on a charge of willfully obstructing the harbor master in the lawful exercise of his duty, Albert R. Hatch appearing for the respondents, and Calvin Page for the other side. Judge Batchelder decided that under the circumstances as presented to the court, the harbor master had no authority to order the schooner's removal, and the respondents were discharged. The case against the captain, for assaulting Mr. Barrett with a pistol, was nol. pros'd. It is said this will be made a test case as to the power of wharfingers or wharf owners in removing a vessel from a berth at the wharf when unloading, the captain of the E. M. Buehler stating that he will enter suit for $10,000 damages. In the meantime, the Reading company's steam collier secured the schooner's berth, and was rushing her coal ashore on Monday.

FOREPAUGH'S SHOW.

Forepaugh's circus and menagerie gave two of the best entertainments of the kind ever seen in this city, Monday afternoon and evening, fully keeping up to the promise of the advertisements. The menagerie is one of the most varied and complete that ever travelled, and the performing animals, elephants and horses, trained to a high degree of perfection. The ring performances, athletic exercises, etc., are unsurpassed, the attaches of the show courteous and attentive to its patrons, and even the most determined grumbler would be puzzled to find anything to growl about in the entertainment afforded, either as to quality or quantity.

JOHN S. JENNESS.

John Scribner Jenness, Esq., son of the late Hon. Richard Jenness of this city, died on Sunday at the Wentworth at Newcastle, where he has been stopping with his family. He was fifty-three years old, and leaves a widow and three daughters. Mr. Jenness was well known as a literary man, and an ardent antiquarian; and he was the author of valuable works on the first settlement of New Hampshire and the early history of the Isles of Shoals, "Transcript of original documents relating to the early history of New Hampshire," and several miscellaneous books.

ALFRED M. HOYT.

Alfred M. Hoyt, Esq., one of our most respected and worthy citizens, is added to the list of those who have passed on. He had been an invalid for a number of years from partial paralysis, and this condition of protracted ill health and suffering made life to him so burdensome, that death was doubtless a welcome messenger. The assiduous attention of a devoted companion, whose unwearied watchings were never relaxed, the kind ministrations and sympathies of the numerous friends that he had won during a busy life of upwards of fifty years, did much to brighten and console him in his sudden banishment from activity to solitude; yet his restless brain was so much stronger than his material self that the spirit would occasionally grow impatient and long to fly away to better conditions.

Mr. Hoyt was well known throughout the State as a successful teacher and a leading mathematician. For upwards of twenty years he taught the Haven school at the south-end, and hundreds of Portsmouth's sons and daughters at home and abroad will offer a grateful tribute to his memory when they learn of the final departure of their dear old teacher and friend. As an astronomer and mathematician, we venture the assertion that he had no superior in New Hampshire, and but few in New England. He was peculiarly endowed by nature for this department of learning, which he enjoyed to such an extent that it well nigh amounted to a passion. It was literally his meat and drink to encounter a difficult problem that involved the trial of all his fertile mathematical resources, and nothing could tempt him from such a task until he had conquered it.

His memory will ever linger with those of us who shared his instruction, with a fragrance born of a kind and faithful effort to aid us in gathering from the tree of knowledge; will linger with a sweetness that comes from all such lives as his; a life that was filled up with a faithful discharge of duty in whatever form it presented itself. A kind husband, a devoted father, a thorough and painstaking teacher, a good neighbor and an honored citizen has gone from us. Peace to his tired soul, and honor to his memory.

THE "BERTHA G."

Swinging at a mooring off Union wharf is the "Bertha G.," a white, cat-rigged yacht, the latest addition made by Mr. Thomas H. Odion to Portsmouth's yacht fleet. She was built last month by Staples & Dixon, of Eliot, from a model drafted by Mr. Odion after several years' experiments. In some respects she is peculiar, but she has important improvements unlike anything ever seen in this harbor. Heretofore the cuddies of small yachts have been of little use except as storage places. Having noticed that the roof of an omnibus was constructed so as to permit persons to stand upright in the centre, yet allow them to occupy the seats on the sides without endangering their heads, Mr. Odion took advantage of the suggestion and drafted the model of a boat with a crowned half-deck. At first boatmen thought that the crown would look unsightly, but now they are surprised to see how slight a change it makes. The deck line from the stem to the head of the standing room is straight, but the descending lines from it to the gunwales are curved. Only the top and middle plank is straight. The other deck lines blend together and the "hump," as some call it, appears to be only a small fraction of the deck. The crown does not weaken the deck, but gives to the cuddy a height that no other yacht of the Bertha G.'s length has. Her sides and bow are also higher than those of boats of her length, giving the cuddy accommodations for six persons on the side seats. Two persons can sleep comfortably in her.

The Bertha G. is twenty feet and a half in length over all and eighteen feet and a half on the water line, and she has eight feet beam. She draws twelve inches forward and twenty-eight inches aft. Her centreboard is five feet in length and three feet in width. Her mast is thirty-one feet in length and at present she carries sixty yards of canvas. She carries about 1600 pounds of iron ballast, but she has in her stern and amidships zinc air-chambers capable of sustaining more weight than the ballast, making her, in fact, a life-boat. Her bow appears to be full, but she is sharp on the water line and she has a very clean run. Inside the standing room everything is complete, another great improvement being made in the seats, which are of bent strips of ash. The workmanship is excellent, and confers credit upon her builders.

Although not built for speed her sailing qualities compare favorably with those of the Hiawatha, the Wawa, the Alice, and the Tina, that Mr. Odion has owned, and she has already shown her heels to several crack yachts down the harbor. She is an excellent sea boat and is in everyway a safe and comfortable pleasure boat.

—A Texas man brought out a forlorn, sparvined-looking steed, and addressed the spectators thus: "Fellow-citizens, this is the famous horse Dandy Jack. Look at him. He's perfect. If he were sent to the horse-maker, nothing could be done for him. What shall I have for the matchless steed?" "What will you take for him?" yelled the crowd. "Two hundred dollars." "Give you $5." "Take him. I never let $195 stand between me and a horse-trade." That's business.

Indian Depredations.

The fair reader shudders when she thinks of the settler's wife watching, from the door of her rude hut, the retreating form of her husband going out to his daily labor—going out perhaps to return not again, for before nightfall a savage hand may have laid him low among the prairie grasses. Or it may be that a child, a bright-eyed daughter, is snatched away in an unguarded moment, to grace the next war dance. When we read the heart-rending details of these savage depredations, we are apt to blame the government for not taking more strict precautions to insure the settlers' protection. But we daily read of the depredations of that arch-fiend, consumption, with scarcely a thought of its terrible inroads upon human life. Tens of thousands of homes are annually desolated by consumption to one by Indian outrage. Like the Indian, consumption ofteness comes stealthily, and no danger is apprehended until the victim suddenly finds himself hopelessly ensnared, and death's fatal arrow ends the scene. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a powerful alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, has restored thousands of consumptives who had tried every other remedy recommended to them, without obtaining any relief, and are willing to testify to its remedial powers.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.—In bronchial and other chest affections, in arresting incipient consumption, and in lessening the distressing symptoms of this disease in its hopeless stages, as well as in cases of nervous debility in giving tone to the system, Fellows' Hypophosphites is undoubtedly a valuable remedy.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offloaded by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for students desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Fever Sores, Salt-rheum, Swelled Glands, or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Ringworm, Itch, Itch, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish spots or pimples on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, loss of appetite, constipation, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it eradicates the root of radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians prescribe it in the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They act promptly without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blotched feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative is needed, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerous ulcers, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS
Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.
Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and oozing deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, are healed and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
SKIN DISEASE.
A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.
Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—I think I have paid for medicine and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.
Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very certainly felt that he had done me a good upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.
Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.
I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.
J. A. TUCKER.
13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.
NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.
CUTICURA REMEDIES
Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
Yours truly, MARK BRANDAN.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.
Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.
Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.00 per ton. The force blasts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.
The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrain Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which mines, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)
FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of the Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.
Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Concluded from yesterday.

The Unwilling Bride.

Her mother glanced around as she came in, unwilling to look straight at her daughter, and see in her face the signs of the bitter struggle she knew she had been passing through. Her eyes fell on the phantom head, and she said:

"This is something new; I have not seen it before. Have you taken to drawing ghosts, Kate? for this seems nothing more."

"That is the ghost of my happiness, mamma," said the girl, wearily, "and it will soon go to the grave that is being dug for it."

"What stuff! I see now that it is a highly idealized sketch of Harry Conrad's head, and you have placed it there as a shrine, I suppose, before which to offer your silly adoration. I do declare, Kate, that you are a most absurd young woman."

"Absurd as I may be, mamma, until to-day you seemed to sanction my attachment to Harry. It is cruel—cruel to expect me to tear my heart from him at a moment's warning. I know what you have come to say, but I would rather not hear it. All the persuasions self-interest may prompt you to utter will be powerless to change my feelings toward Mr. Conrad."

"You dreadful girl! is that the way you brave me to my very face? You cannot—you shall not—marry Harry Conrad. Have I not given you to understand that such a union is out of the question?—that it will bring destruction on all you are bound to care for in this world?"

Kate grew pale, but she quietly said:

"My refusal to sell myself for gold can only affect myself, mamma. Your fate and that of Edna cannot, in any way, be controlled by my discarded lover."

"Can it not? when he owns the very roof that covers us—the soil from which our scanty living is drawn? It is true, Kate. He holds a mortgage on the place for money advanced to Luis, and my dower right in this poverty-stricken home is all that stands between us and starvation. This is what I came to tell you, and this is what you must consider before you anger, by refusal, the man who certainly has the first claim on you."

Kate fell back as if she had been shot, and the courage she had battled so hard to sustain deserted her. Her breath came in low, gasping sobs, and after a long interval of silence, which her mother thought would never end, she faintly said:

"I understand that my fate is settled, then. I shall be allowed no choice. Oh! I know too well that I shall be forced to submit my will to yours, and struggle as I may, the net will close around me and compel me to give my hand to one man while my whole heart is in the possession of another. Oh, mother! mother, how could you have suffered things to come to such a pass as this? Paupers! dependent on Richard Staunton for the very bread we have eaten, he will demand his payment of me, and I dare not refuse it! I know the kind of man he is—he would set us adrift, penniless, homeless, to beg, or starve, should I prove false to that silly pledge given in childish thoughtlessness, and oh! so bitterly repented of since!"

Her voice sunk into low, sobbing murmurs, and her mother's pity for her was mingled with exultation that she seemed to yield at once to the necessities of her position, and accept the fate it was so much to the interest of the whole family that she should not refuse.

A week passed away and nothing was heard of the expected lover from California, although he had written that he should not be many days behind his letter, and at last rumors came that the Albatross, on which he had left San Francisco, had been wrecked, and that many lives had been lost.

Kate had been struck down by brain fever, and for days she lay vibrating between life and death, raving in wildest delirium, and then moaning over the cruel fate which gave her heart to one lover and forced her to yield her hand to another.

Mrs. Loser was fond and proud of her lovely daughter, yet the deepest dread in her heart at this dreary crisis was, that in the death of Kate the prospect of wealth must pass from them all.

Edna watched unwearidly by the sick-couch of her sister, and Mr. Loser devoted himself to her assistance. He was a great help to her, for he had studied medicine in his youth, and he undertook the management of the case himself, declaring that he could bring Kate safely through all the phases of this torturing illness. He had given her a potion which would not only break the fever, but so affect her brain that for a time she would have but little recollection of recent events, and so would not be apt to say anything to Staunton about her lover, Harry Conrad.

A few hours after Loser had administered the dangerous potion to Kate, Staunton suddenly arrived. He was a man six feet in height, magnificently proportioned, and might indeed have passed as a demi-god among men of lesser mould, for his head was massive and handsome as the marble bust of Napoleon. His eyes were dark hazel, well set and expressive, but with a gleam in them which showed that if things went wrong with him a temper might be aroused which it would be difficult to quell.

Loser, who had warned his wife and Edna with regard to what he had done, was the first to meet Staunton, who had heard of Kate's illness and eagerly questioned her step-father as to her condition.

Loser's face fell slightly as he saw by Staunton's manner how difficult it was going to be to deceive him with regard to Kate's real feelings, but he made the best he could of the situation, saying:

"Well, to tell you the truth, our dear girl has been very ill—is still suffering much, but the fever is broken, and I think—I am almost sure that with care, she will soon be restored to us."

"God Heaven! is she so far gone as that?" cried Staunton, with paling face. "What caused this illness? What is the matter with her? It was not brought on her by dread of my arrival, I hope."

His eyes flamed, his lips trembled and his brow grew stormy as he uttered the last words.

Catching at the chance his jealous fears suggested, Loser deliberately said:

"No—not by that, but by the shock she received when she heard of the danger you were in. She bore up a few days, but when no further news came from you, we—that is, the women—gave you up as lost; but I have believed through all that you would come back to us safe and sound."

Quite overcome by this false statement, the strong man sat down on the first chair he came to, and covering his face with his hands, wept a few delicious tears over the supposed despair of Kate over his own loss.

Loser watched him cynically, wondering if Kate's memory would be so deadened by the potion he had administered to her as to enable her to play the part he had assigned her in the tragi-comedy about to be enacted.

Suddenly Staunton lifted his head and asked:

"When can I see my dear girl? I must judge of her condition myself, and she had best be prepared to receive me. Her mother can do that."

Loser was nearly at his wits' ends, at a loss to know how he should deal with this impetuous man, and quite certain in his own mind that his sudden intrusion into the sick girl's apartment might produce results as fatal to his happiness as to Kate's life.

After a pause, he replied:

"You do not understand how low Kate is; she is sleeping calmly now under the influence of a narcotic, and I hope for the best results from the first quiet sleep she has enjoyed since the commencement of her illness. My wife is utterly broken down by what she has gone through, and I have had to use my skill in her behalf too; her nervous system is prostrated; she is lying down now, trying to sleep, and Edna is watching by Kate's bedside. You must be patient a while, Dick."

"Patience never was my forte, you know of old, Luis," replied Staunton, obstinately, "and what you tell me of my poor darling only increases my uneasiness and my desire to look on her sweet face again, even if she is unable to spring to my arms and tell me how true she has been to me through all that long and weary absence. I feel as if every moment away from her now is a wrong to both of us. Please send Edna to me."

"Of course I'll go; but wouldn't it be better for you to tell me something about yourself before I seek Edna? The child will ask a thousand questions, and perhaps, be unwilling to leave her sister for a moment. She knows that that is the crisis of the fever, and that everything depends on careful nursing."

Staunton regarded him with a searching stare, and then impetuously said:

"Before the Lord, Loser, I could almost believe that there is something wrong here, and that you are in a quandary as to what course to pursue. I am losing the last grain of patience that is in me," he cried, almost furiously. "Words! words! words! do you think I am to be put off with them, Luis, when my very heart is aching to see that dear face which has been my beacon star through all the efforts I have made to make myself rich for the sake of the smiles it would lavish on me in the time to come! Go—go—I will not be trifled with another moment."

Loser thought it best to obey this imperious command, and got out of the room as quickly as he could; but he paused a moment in the hall to review the position, and reassure himself as to his power to manage the complication of affairs so as to bring about a satisfactory denouement, well knowing that if Staunton got the slightest clew to what had taken place between Kate and Harry Conrad he would wreak a terrible vengeance on them all. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1879.

The Yellow Fever.

Thirty-four new cases, twenty white and fourteen colored, and two deaths, both colored, were reported in Memphis on the 11th. In one house a Mrs. Forbes and her six children are all sick in one room, and the stench from the cellar, which has been used as a vault, was so horrible that even the Howard Association nurses could not stay in the building until an immense amount of disinfectants had been used.

A woman and two children, refugees from Memphis, are in the quarantine hospital at St. Louis, sick with the fever.

There were eight new cases and four deaths in Memphis up to noon on Tuesday.

A case of fever was developed at Whitehaven, eight miles from Memphis, on Tuesday.

Political.

The "labor investigating committee"—one of the numerous junketing committees appointed by the democratic Congress to enable the larger portion of its members to travel about in style during the summer at the expense of the people—arrived at Ogden, Utah, on Wednesday of last week, and were met by a delegation of polygamous saints who conducted them to Salt Lake, where they were the guests of prominent Mormons, the Gentiles not being able to get near them. One effect of this hobnobbing of democratic reformers with Mormon law-breakers, and of the promises made to the latter by the former, is shown in the publication of incendiary and threatening articles against the Gentiles, in the Mormon organ conducted by John Taylor, who was hand-and-glove with Hendrick Wright during the committee's stay at Salt Lake.

The Tammany committee on organizations on Monday adopted a resolution declaring that under no circumstances will the Tammany democrats vote for Lucius Robinson as a candidate for governor of New York.

Hon. Zach. Chandler addressed a large meeting in Bangor, Me., Monday evening. Hon. Hannibal Hamlin spoke at Rockland the same evening, Gov. Garcelon being one of his auditors.

New Hampshire Items.

An immense crowd of people assembled on the shores of lake Massabesic Saturday to witness a submarine exhibition of walking under water, diving and torpedo experiments by Capt. George W. Townsend of Boston. The affair was gotten up by the proprietors of the Massabesic house.

Rev. William Hayne Leavell of Manchester preached a vigorous sermon Sunday against the recent law passed by the legislature taxing church property on all sums exceeding ten thousand dollars.

The governor and council returned Monday from the White mountains, where they have been on a tour of road inspecting for some days. They held a meeting on the trail near Rumney, but without transacting any business adjourned till Wednesday.

A bold attempt at burglary was made at the residence of Mrs. Onslow Stearns at Concord about midnight Saturday. Two men were frightened away upon an alarm being given by one of the ladies of the family, leaving a ladder leaning against the house.

A singular case of juvenile depravity was before the police court at Manchester, Monday morning. Three lads, the eldest being hardly a dozen years old, committed highway robbery on a bright lad of eight or nine, taking from him a pocket-book containing twenty cents.

News and Notes.

Lysander Ricker, of West Auburn, Me., fell down stairs Saturday night, and broke his neck. He was seventy years old.

Bodier, the ruffian who criminally assaulted the Kearney girl at Caribou, Me., on Wednesday of last week, and was shot by his pursuers before he would surrender, died Saturday night.

The British steamship Lucretia on the 11th inst. sunk the Spanish steamer Gorgons off Cape Finisterre, and fourteen lives were lost.

Anatole Bosque, a desperado, shot and killed Capt. Joseph Boyle, of steamer Heroine, at Mandeville, La., Friday night. Boyle, after being mortally wounded, shot Bosque twice, wounding him in the neck and shoulder.

An eleven-years-old daughter of Mrs. Palmatier of Great Barrington, Mass., while picking berries in a field on Saturday, was brutally abused by George W. Allen. The scoundrel fled, but was arrested on Sunday, and is held in $1000 for trial.

The school committee of Gloucester, Mass., have elected as principal of the training school Miss Sarah E. Sprague of Lewiston, Me., at a salary of $1000.

Several white men and boys went to a negro ball at California, Mo., Sunday night, and created a disturbance, during which Louis Myrick was killed by a negro named Memphis, and two or three others wounded.

Suit has been commenced by the government against B. T. Babbitt, the great soap manufacturer, for $83,480.74, with interest and penalties, for an alleged deficiency in the income tax paid the government from 1862 to 1871. The interest and penalties will put the amount claimed at over $150,000, and the government claims to have evidence to show that the defendant's income for those years was much larger than the return made by him.

After a year of delay, a German court martial has sentenced Admiral Batsch to imprisonment in a fortress for six months, and Lieut. Capt. Klauser for one month. They were the responsible officers of the war steamer Koenig Wilhelm, which sunk the Grosser Kurfurst, and thereby drowned three hundred sailors.

Joseph Temple of Webster, Me., aged ninety-two years and nine months, and Betsy, his wife, (maiden name Rickew) aged ninety-one, were married the 15th of February, 1807, and have lived kindly together on the same farm seventy-two years and five months. Their children number sixteen, ten of whom are living—seven sons and three daughters.

The Kremlin at Moscow was set on fire in broad daylight on July 19th, a wooden staircase having been saturated with petroleum. Red flags were displayed on the church towers, the tocsin was sounded, and the whole population hurried to the place, but the palace was only saved by great exertions.

DIED.

HOYT. In this city, Aug. 11th, Alfred M. Hoyt, aged 57 years.

☞ The funeral services of Mr. Alfred M. Hoyt will take place at the Unitarian church on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock P. M.

AROUND HOME.

Don't forget Col. J. C. Butler's excursion to the lakes to-day; tickets only $2 each.

The schooner Anna M. Nash arrived at Doane's wharf on Thursday last with three hundred and fifty barrels of mackerel, the result of a five weeks' trip.

Col. Jerome C. Butler has made arrangements for a series of excursions to the Isles of Shoals in the steamer Appledore, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, the first one to be on Friday next.

On Monday about a dozen of the sneak thieves who generally follow in the wake of a circus were in this city looking for business, but found themselves so closely watched by the police that they were glad to leave.

The schooner Velocipede, which lately arrived at Doane's wharf from the banks in a dilapidated condition, consequent on rough handling by a heavy gale of wind and a big sea, has been thoroughly repaired and fitted out for mackerel fishing, and sailed on Tuesday.

Mr. John Bright, one of the stage-men engaged in unloading the steamer Reading at Concord railroad wharf, on Tuesday afternoon missed catching the tub as it came up, lost his balance and fell into the vessel's hold, striking the coamings of the hatch in his descent, and was so badly injured that he lived but a short time after being taken up. He leaves a wife but no children.

Messrs. C. Sullivan and John O. Downs have purchased the interest of Mr. John Dixon in the meat, vegetable and fish market of C. Sullivan & Co., and will continue the business under the same firm name at the old stand, corner of Bow and Penhallow streets, where can always be found a good stock of everything procurable in their line of trade, and at fair prices.

On Saturday afternoon last Messrs. George Laighton and William Emery of Eliot, and Mr. John Gould of Boston, were out rowing on the river in the vicinity of "Frank fort," when one of the party "caught a frog" with his oar, and before he could clear the oar the boat filled and capsized. Fortunately for the excursionists Mr. John Cram saw the accident from the shore, and hastened to their assistance, arriving in about twenty minutes after the the boat went over, by which time they were very much exhausted.

The delights of river recreation seemed fully appreciated on Sunday, as almost everybody who owned or could procure a boat, or anything that would answer for a boat, was down the harbor. The fresh breeze during the afternoon gave those who like sailing every chance to gratify their fancy, while the smaller craft were skirting the shore and curving in among the ledges and islands in large numbers. The beaches were thickly dotted with parties, and all of the islands had visitors, all apparently enjoying themselves. Chowders, cunner fries and clam stews were the standard refreshments. On Monday the number of boats down the river was even larger than on the preceding day, but there were not so many little family parties scattered along the shores.

A competitive examination of candidates for appointment to a cadetship at West Point military academy was held in Dover on Monday, there being twelve candidates, as follows: John L. Rand and Edward E. Dennett of Portsmouth; Daniel Rollins, George E. Thompson and Samuel F. Burleigh of Dover; John T. Lyman and Herbert J. Brown of Exeter; Isaac Copp of Barnstead; Harry Taylor of Tilton; Samuel W. George of Northwood; George P. Haley of Jackson; Irving B. Hayes of Madbury. The examining committee consisted of Dr. J. R. Ham, of Dover, Wm. R. Burleigh, Esq., of Great Falls, and School Superintendent Gilman C. Fisher of Dover. George Parrish Haley, of Jackson, Carroll county, passed the best examination, and will receive the appointment as West Point cadet from Hon. J. G. Hall, Congressman from the first New Hampshire district.

D. F. Borthwick, at the Popular store, has a good supply of towels in his window marked at low prices.

This is the last day of the exhibition of the beautiful model of New York harbor. At Congress hall, day and evening. Admission ten cents.

The U. S. S. Tallapoosa, Lieut. D. G. McRitchie commanding, left the navy yard for Boston on Monday, where she arrived the same day.

The "Bertha G.," Mr. Thos. S. Odion's new boat, ran in from the Shoals to Whales's-back in forty-three minutes on the 10th inst., under a moderate breeze. This is pretty good travelling for a small yacht, and if the Bertha G. had twenty-five yards more of canvas put on her, which she could apparently carry as well as not, she would probably develope a very high rate of speed.

Notwithstanding the fact that so many persons in this city pretend to take an interest in bird life, yet it "is true and pity 'tis 'tis true," that not a single bird-house for shelter can be found in any tree along our thickly-studded streets. If anybody desires to see how these houses are appreciated, let them place a few in front of their premises.—Times.

There are not so many bird-houses about town as there should be, but there are some, for one tree in front of Mr. B. F. Webster's residence on Middle street has a dozen or more of them among its branches.

The Army and Navy Journal pays a tribute to the memory of the late. Lieut. Col. Treadwell, and a special order from the ordnance office of the army says: "In his death the ordnance department has lost an officer of great capacity and large experience. Self-reliant and strong of will and temper, with professional attainments of a high order, fine powers of analysis and rare good judgment, his social qualities were such as endeared him to all. When we recall his long and distinguished services to the department and country, it is hard to realize that, in the very flower of his age, and when his mental powers had fully ripened, death should have cut off the rich promises of so bright a future. Those of us who have for years been in intimate association with him mourn the loss of a friend and comrade, but the country has suffered the greater loss of a faithful and meritorious public servant. He fairly earned the reward that should follow duty well performed, and neither bronze nor marble can mark a spot where rests a nobler nature or a more excellent soldier."

ORGANIZATION OF THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

The new city government organized at the court house Tuesday forenoon.

The common council was called to order by Oliver Loomis, clerk of the last council, and Frank G. Thurston was chosen temporary chairman.

The oath of office was administered to Mayor-elect Sise by City Clerk D. J. Vaughan, and the mayor then administered the oath to the aldermen and councilmen.

The common council then balloted for a president, and John M. Clark was elected; and Arthur F. Pfeiffer was chosen clerk.

In convention, Daniel J. Vaughan was elected city clerk. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, after which the mayor delivered the following address:

Gentlemen of the City Councils: Again have the citizens in the most flattering manner elected me as their executive. And as during the past year it has been my sole purpose and endeavor to do only that which would redound to the best welfare and interests of all, so I must accept this re-election as a guarantee and endorsement of my unselfish labors for the general good. In returning sincere thanks for this honor I will only add that in the year now about to open I shall ever keep in view the best interests of our beloved city.

Our debt on the first of January last, as shown by the accounts then published, was $499,925.15; of that amount the sum of $156,725.15 was created by the current expenses of former years, most of which was for war purposes, and $343,000 is the sum advanced through the sale of the city's bonds in aid of the building of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, making the total debt of the city as above stated.

The cause of an increase in the rate of taxation was solely to meet the expenditures of the last year in excess of the appropriations, together with the purchase of the south mill-pond, and the necessary improvements for sanitary purposes in that, and also the north pond. The measures used to mitigate these nuisances will no doubt prove successful.

Our police force during the year have discharged their duties faithfully, and with honor to our city and themselves. I take this opportunity to sincerely thank them for the promptness with which they have obeyed all my orders, and would cheerfully recommend their re-appointment to the positions which they have so honorably filled.

Our streets generally are in excellent condition and we may well feel proud of them, for few cities of the size of ours can show any better thoroughfares. I am happy to state that the appropriations for this important department were during the past year reduced about one-half.

The city farm and almhouse, under the management of Superintendent Shannon, and the matron, his wife, maintains the excellent reputation of the past. Everything is kept in scrupulous order, and the unfortunate poor most carefully looked after. None of the land adjoining the city farm and offered for sale for the past five years has yet been disposed of.

Our schools, in which all must take a lively interest, have been improved the last year by some consolidating, and a therefore necessary transfer change of teachers, of the nature and extent of which the annual report of the board of instruction gives full particulars. Our teachers generally have been earnest in the discharge of their duties, and meeds of praise are due them for their faithful efforts. The expenses attending the educational department have been reduced to some extent, being $3,000 less than the past year and without detracting from the excellent standard of the schools. It is still a debatable question with a large number of our citizens whether a still further reduction should not be made and that the best interests of this important branch would not suffer by it. The matter will be brought to your attention at the proper time for action.

Two suits for damages have been brought against the city during the past year, and I suggest that all such cases, unless the municipality is at fault beyond the possibility of a doubt, be resisted to the full extent of the law. It is time, in our opinion, that individuals should understand that cities are not life and accident insurance companies.

The poor have as usual been well cared for, and hence no cases of actual suffering have come to knowledge; in a city so blessed with attentive charities as ours there is no reason why there should be real want or starvation. Before leaving this subject, I would recommend to the board of overseers of the poor and to those having charge of the benevolent institutions, concert of action, for by so doing the truly deserving will be greatly benefited.

You are aware of the refusal on the part of the Eastern railroad company to pay the rental justly due on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, and their reasons for so doing. The matter has been placed in the hands of Messrs. John H. George, John S. H. Frink and Albert R. Hatch, to bring suit in the courts for the payment thereof. The very full and complete statement made by the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, already published, will give full information concerning the present state of the case.

During the year just passed our city has been more fortunate than others in regard to fires, only one of any extent having occurred, but this exception should lead us to continued vigilance. To the fire department has been added 1000 feet of leather hose, and that portion is now in good order. At the Franklin block fire the steamer Dearborn broke down at the most critical moment, and upon examination it was thought best not to repair her, therefore she was condemned and a vote of the city councils authorized the purchase of a new steamer. This has been done, and the Manchester Locomotive Works were contracted with to build a second-class engine of the Amoskeag pattern, the price agreed upon being $3,000 and the old steamer Dearborn. When received the new engine will take the place and number of the Sagamore, and the latter will be placed in the house formerly occupied by the Dearborn. The steamer Goodrich, to make her what she should be, needs some alterations; at my request the Manchester Locomotive Works have examined her, and agree to make the necessary improvements for $800. This will be for your board to act upon hereafter.

To the board of engineers and members of the fire department great praise is due for efficiency, and duties well done on every occasion. Ever when duties called they have proved in every way worthy the confidence reposed in them by our citizens.

Gentlemen of the city councils, in the year we now enter upon let us in management of municipal affairs be guided by the exercise of strict economy in so far as it can be done without detriment to the city's best interests. Our tax-payers justly expect from you a reduction of their burdens, and this can only be accomplished through your earnest co-operation with me.

Let us then practice what we profess, and not disappoint those who have placed in our hands the welfare of this beloved and beautiful city.

The other business done was merely routine,—the adoption of rules and regulations, etc. The boards adjourned to meet in their respective chambers on Thursday evening.

Before the boards adjourned they were informed by the mayor that there was a prospect of an amicable settlement of the dispute between the Eastern railroad and the parties interested in the Portsmouth & Dover road.

Chronicle Correspondence.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 11th.

Camp meeting will commence two weeks from to-day, Aug. 25th. There are already upon the grounds some two hundred and fifty people, about seventy-five of the cottages being open and occupied. I hardly think there are as many here as last year at this time. From Portsmouth there are Miss Nellie Rand, Carrie and Frank McIntire, Mrs. Silas Philbrick, Miss Belle Roberts, S. W. Clarke and family. The family of John E. Giddings, Esq., have been here and are expected again soon. The tent of Mr. Wm. H. Noyes has been raised and seems ready for occupancy. From year to year there are changes; Mr. Nathaniel Herrick, mentioned in the CHRONICLE of Saturday last, is sadly missed by a large circle of friends. For several years I have met him here, and found in him a man to whom I became much attached, but he has gone to the "eternal camping grounds."

There has not been much building here thus far this year; one cottage on Brodhead avenue and one on Perkins avenue are all that I know of. That on Brodhead will be one of the very handsomest on the grounds. I am told that Greenland people are going to build a society building, but see no signs of it yet. The boarding house and restaurant, etc., are to be under the management of the Newmarket church, they having agreed to pay the association four hundred dollars. If the Lord gives them a good week, they will make as much more to go towards their church debt. Their pastor, Rev. M. T. Cilley, has had charge of the boarding house for two years, and can do better with it than any one else, but a great deal depends upon the weather, particularly on Thursday, which has always been the great day.

On Sunday there was preaching at the stand in the morning by Rev. W. H. Stuart of Hillsboro' Bridge. His text was Eph. V, 18—"Be filled with the spirit." I judge there was a congregation of one hundred and fifty, perhaps more. The sermon was earnest and impressive, and was listened to with the closest attention and apparent interest. In the afternoon there was a Bible reading, the regular Sunday school lesson, conducted by S. W. Clarke of Portsmouth. At half-past five was a prayer meeting, well attended, and conducted by Rev. Dr. Adams of Concord.

It is very cool here; at half-past nine Sunday evening the glass indicated fifty-six degrees above zero. I wore an overcoat to meeting, and during my evening walk. I shall be here more or less during the next three weeks, and if anything worthy of note transpires, will give you due notice thereof.

RYE, August 8th.

The beach season was never more flourishing than now; the hotels are well filled, and nearly all the private boarding houses are full; there is more company than for several years, and the landlords are reaping a good harvest. One of the most attractive sights is the bathing beach between eleven and one o'clock, when the guests at the hotels and boarding houses ride down in teams that are taxed to their utmost with loads of women and children. From Cummings' corner to the bath houses is filled with vehicles of all kinds, and hundreds of foot passengers. Four or five hundred persons, of all ages, sizes, sexes, and conditions, can be seen flopping about in the water at once, and the view is both picturesque and amusing. The bathing beach would be improved by the erection of covered stands with seats in them; and a free bathing house is needed for the general public.

Saturday evening the guests at the Sea View and cottages got up a "Pinafore" at the Farragut house, which was well attended, although admission tickets were $1 each, with more for reserved seats. The proceeds of the entertainment go to build a plank walk from the Farragut house to Cummings' corner. Some of our best citizens were present to hear the music, but were not allowed to stand on the piazza, a police officer from Portsmouth being present to keep them off. This action of the proprietor is severely commented on by the citizens as arbitrary and uncalled for, as there was no occasion for any brass-buttoned official to overawe our quiet and orderly people, and if there had been we have a local police to act when called on.

Prof. Turner of Boston gave a stereoptican exhibition at the Sea View on Monday evening, to a good audience. The views were very fine.

Wednesday evening Prof. A. R. Stover, humorous reader and speaker, assisted by George H. Eaton, character singer and reciter, gave a good entertainment at the Farragut house to a small audience.

Mr. John Burgun and sons, of Concord, are encamped on Beach street, and have done some very fine landscape painting on beach stones. They were here last summer.

Three butchers' carts, three bakers' carts, three vegetable wagons, three fruit teams and several pop corn peddlers, visit Rye every day. SCRIBE.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this potential, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of calomel, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. "Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and cating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.' manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.
13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
Yours truly, MARK BRANDAN.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 35 cents per cake; by mail, 50 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a bonded body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Daily Chronicle.

The Position of Agriculture.

In his essay on farming, Emerson says: "The glory of the farmer is that, in the division of labors, it is his part to create. All trade rests at last on his primitive activity. He stands close to nature. He obtains from the earth the bread and the meat. The food which was not he causes to be. The first farmer was the first man; and all historic nobility rests on possession and use of land. Men do not like hard work, but every man has an exceptional respect for tillage, and a feeling that this is the original calling of his race—that he himself is only excused from it by some circumstances which made him delegate it for a time to other hands. If he has not some skill which recommends him to the farmer, some product for which the farmer will give him corn, he must himself return to his due place among the planters. And the profession has in all eyes its ancient charm, as standing nearest to God, the first cause."

If agriculture really occupies this position among the industries, how important it is for the farmer to show proper respect for his calling, by doing his work in the best manner, by employing the best methods, by making use of all that science and experience teach, in order that he may reap the greatest possible results, and thereby compel people in other callings to believe what Emerson says of this one.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll is evidently an admirer of rural scenes and employment, for he says: "There is a quiet about the life of a farmer, and a hope of a serene old age, that no other business or profession can promise. A professional man is doomed to see younger and stronger men pass him in the race of life. He looks forward to an old age of intellectual mediocrity. He will be last where once he was first. But the farmer goes, as it were, in partnership with nature — he lives with trees and flowers—he breathes the sweet air of the fields. There is no constant and frightful strain on his mind. His nights are filled with sleep and rest. He watches his flocks and herds as they feed upon the green and hilly slopes. He hears the pleasant rain fall upon the waving corn, and the trees he planted in youth rustle above him as he plants others for the children yet to be."

A Three-Millionth of an Inch.

One of the most singular mechanical operations imaginable is the making of gold wire for what is known as gold lace. The refiner first prepares a solid rod of silver about an inch in thickness; he heats this rod, applies upon the surface a sheet of gold leaf, burnishes this down—applies another coating, burnishes this down—and so on, until the gold is about one-hundredth part of the thickness of the silver. The rod is then subjected to a train of processes which bringe it down to the state of fine wire, when it is passed through holes in a steel plate, lessening step by step in diameter. The gold never deserts the silver, but adheres closely to it, and shares all its mutations. It is one-hundredth part the thickness of the silver at the beginning, and maintains the same ratio to the end. As to the thinness to which the gold-coated rod of silver can be brought, the limit depends on the delicacy of human skill. It has been calculated, that the gold actually placed on the very finest silver wire for gold lace is not more than one-third of one-millionth of an inch in thickness; that is, not above one-tenth the thickness of an ordinary gold leaf.

The New Stock Speculations.

The new combination method of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have inaugurated, is attracting unusual attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. A customer in Providence invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every 30 days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s combination with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent. on the stock, and so on as the market varies. The new circular gives "two unerring rules for success," and shows how any one can operate profitably. Mailed free. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this or that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continuous self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this terrible condition is Allan's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13th, 1878.

To the prop'rs of Allan's Anti-Fat:

Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat: "It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week, until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost." Yours resp'y,

The Yellow Fever.

Twenty-two new cases and six deaths were reported in Memphis on the 12th inst.

At Corinth, Miss., one man died on the 12th; and the mayor and president of the board of health were sick, it was supposed with yellow fever contracted from Memphis refugees at the quarantine station. The people of Corinth were flying to the country in a terrible panic, and many were roaming the woods for shelter, the farmers having quarantined against them.

The city council of New Orleans on the 12th protested against the quarantining of that city by places north, and declared the city entirely free from fever.

The towns in western Tennessee and northern Alabama are fairly picketed with quarantine inspectors.

Surgeons Thomas Hiland and Walter K. Schofield, of the navy, not having had the yellow fever, the orders detailing them for duty at Matanzas and Havana, issued when they first volunteered, have been revoked. Medical Inspector Somerset Robinson will go to Matanzas as inspector.

Another Fall River Thief.

Walter Paine, 3d, treasurer of the American Linen Co., of Fall River, Mass., and brother-in-law of George B. Duffee, the Mechanics' Mill defaulter, has been dealing with the company's money, speculating in "futures," and is said to be $100,000 or more short in his accounts.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12, 1879.

The New York field of politics affords for the lookers-on a most interesting study. The undisguised enmity of the Tammany and Anti-Tammany democrats of this city is too earnest and too deep for either to withstand the triumph of the other at the coming convention for the nomination of candidates for State officers, with any degree of grace. It is not an uncommon thing for the democracy to commit felo de se when just on the verge of apparent success, and the fierce struggles and envious wranglings of 1879 are as likely as not to place New York with her thirty-five electoral votes in the list of States that will next year cast their votes for a republican President. With the election machinery of the "solid south" at their command, and a Congress with both branches in their undisputed possession, it would seem that a common prudence and a selfish regard for next year's results would lead the disturbing elements to adopt a wiser course. But the ambitions of the leaders are decidedly in the way, and the war will become more vigorous until, figuratively speaking, the stagonists "claw hair" at the State convention.

The present struggle over the city officers here is but a preliminary affair. Mayor Cooper, whom the republicans and Anti-Tammany democrats elected last November, is a zealous Tilden partisan, and is in the position of a "cat's-paw," his every move the suggestion of the cunning Presidential manipulator. The plan as finally exposed, is the capture of the police force through the commissioners, and as a result the appointment of inspectors of election. The Express, the ablest democratic paper in the city, boldly charges that it is the intention to get possession of the local election machinery for the purpose of "stuffing the ballot-boxes!" And the Presidential contest of 1868, when Tilden was chairman of the democratic State committee, gave ample proof that the warning now given by the Express is exceedingly timely. The feeling against Tilden here in the city is best illustrated by the remark of a Tammany sachem, who on being asked if the State committee were anti-Tilden, replied: "We had two majority against him at the last meeting—but there is no knowing what influence his 'barrel' has had on one or more of us, since!"

Tilden is a scheming, plotting and unscrupulous politician; the kind that prefers conspiracy to manly encounter, and the fact that George Lucius Robinson seems to be his candidate for a renomination, only causes his opponents to expect, when the convention meets, a change of base on the part of the adroit wire-puller that will show to the front some such candidate as Ex-Congressman Clarkson N. Potter—or, if thought advisable, the redoubtable railroad-wrecker himself, once more in his favorite role of "reformer!" Tilden has traded so extensively on this "reform" racket, that he actually believes he could hoodwink the voters of New York (if "things can be fixed right, you know, in the city,") into re-elevating him to the executive chair of the State. Tammany, exultant in its return to temporary power, was badly discomfited at the last city election, and bides its time for a stroke of revenge at Cooper and Tilden that shall be administered when it can do the most damage. With John Kelly at its head, it has the most perfect discipline and utmost surety of being wielded with telling effect. Kelly's strength lies in the fact that he is backed by the democratic masses who have so long and so extravagantly misruled this city. Kelly openly announces that 60,000 democratic voters here will bolt any such nomination as that of Gov. Robinson. Should any considerable number do so, the democratic candidate would depend on republican votes for an election, and it would remain to be seen whether there is enough idiocy of that kind still in existence in the Empire State. If there is, after the experience of the past two years, then there is no virtue in setting an example good or bad.

Tammany is by no means idle, and rules the democratic primaries, in or out of office, as readily as Gen. Arthur and his associates remain at the republican helm, in or out of the Custom House. And Tammany doesn't intend to be at the State convention without an available candidate with which to propitiate the country delegates, and floor Tilden. Horatio Seymour was pleaded with to allow the use of his name, but to no effect. Some such man is needed, and Chief Justice Sanford E. Church is a great deal "bigger" than Robinson, or Potter, and materially as well as morally than Tilden. To nominate him would delight John Kelly, and ensure the enthusiastic support of the "60,000 democrats" he claims to lead. But then Tilden's grapes would be all sour, and his doll "stuffed with sawdust." One of the pleasant anticipations of Tammanyites in 1879, prior to the city election, was to name Hendricks and Church as the next President and Vice President. Defeat took the starch out of that combination for the nonce, and the necessity that appears like fate, brings the name of Church into a position of greater prominence. Given the nomination of the Chief Justice, and his election to the gubernational chair, and where are Tilden and his claims for a Presidential renomination? New York would present the name of Sanford E. Church, vice Samuel J. Tilden politically indisposed, at the next democratic Presidential convention, and though Church might not carry the convention, the last nail in the political coffin of your "uncle Samuel" would have been driven.

Out of all this strife for selfish personal aggrandizement, comes republican possibility, amounting in fact to very strong probability. The Greeley republicans and the element which now strongly supports the administration, are more heartily in accordance with their former professed principles, than in any year since "war times." The republicans of New York failed to do an act of justice to Hon. A. B. Cornell, who had organized victory after victory as chairman of the State committee—just as the republicans of the nation failed to do justice to the brave-hearted Blaine at Cincinnati, who had won the right of undisputed leadership and was the choice of the republican masses who gave the deciding votes afterward in the electoral college. In New York State, as in the nation, a coalition defeated the favorite—with what wisdom the record shows—and the listless campaigns that ensued showed plainly the disappointment. There are strong indications that Mr. Cornell will lead the ticket this year, but he is by no means the only republican who can be chosen. It is said of Senator Conkling, I do not pretend to say how truly, that he can carry New York State at any time when he is personally interested sufficiently to undertake it with determination. His experience in the Hayes-Tilden campaign and his brilliant success of last year, are spoken of as corroborative evidences. With his intimate personal friend, Cornell, at the head of the ticket, Mr. Conkling can have but the most inspiring of personal motives to impel him to "take hold with a will." His possible candidacy for the Presidency hinges on the fact that the republican party will need the electoral vote of New York State in 1880, and the man who can prove by figures plain to all arithmeticians in and out of the World office, that he can keep it out of the clutches of Sammy Tilden or any other democratic "miscreant," is certainly entitled to "distinguished consideration" at the hands of his party.

And all these foregoing reasons go to show why political matters will be lively in New York this fall. G.

News and Notes.

The British steamship Semiramide, bound from Boston for Liverpool, was run down and sunk on the 10th inst., off Fastnet. She was an iron steamer of 1794 tons, and had a cargo valued at $92,000. Ship Southern Rights, of Bath, Me., has been abandoned at sea; crew saved. Ship Dauntless, 999 tons, built at Mystic, Conn., is ashore near Dunkirk, and will probably prove a total loss.

A terrible thunder-storm swept over Denmark on the 4th inst., destroying over one hundred houses, killing fifty or more persons, and doing immense damage to crops.

Willie O. Eaton, seven years old, of Salem, Mass., was accidentally shot on the 12th inst. by another boy, the bullet passing in at the right shoulder and lodging in his left breast, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

The body of the young woman found dead on the railroad track in Newton, Mass., on the evening of the 7th inst., and shockingly mangled by the cars, has been identified as that of Maggie Murphy of East Boston, a young woman of good character. There are some suspicious circumstances connected with the case, but it is believed to have been an accident.

In a street fight in Boston, on the evening of the 12th inst., between Thomas and William Kivlin and Patrick and John Malone, Patrick Malone shot the two Kivlins with a revolver about as big as a ducking-gun, badly wounding both; it is thought Thomas Kivlin will die.

The dead body of Edgar W. Lord was found in the cellar of a house in Boston on the evening of the 11th inst. The coroner decided it was a case of suicide.

John Bitzer, sixty years old, of Arlington, Mass., was found hanging to a tree near his house on the 11th inst., having been missing two days. Undoubtedly a suicide.

The annual Salisbury beach gathering takes place September 20th, and Gen. Butler will be among the speakers.

There was a consecration service at Hartford, Conn., on a recent Sunday, which was largely attended by people from other towns, special trains being run on the railroads. In the evening, as a very heavy train approached New Britain, when on a steep up-grade some funny fellows on a car in the rear of the train put on the brakes and brought the train to a dead stop. The joke, however, reacted on its perpetrators. The train was so heavy that it could not be started again, and so it was divided and the second half left standing until the first half had been taken to New Britain and unloaded. The jokers in the last part of the train did not laugh so much as they might.

Miss Ella R. Gifford, nineteen years of age, one of three orphan children of Capt. Leonard Gifford, has disappeared from her home in New Bedford, Mass., under circumstances which lead to the belief that she has committed suicide.

Barge Jemima Leonard, from New York, in tow of tug Knickerbocker, arrived at Vinalhaven, Me., a few days ago, and took the immense Gen. Wool monument, weighing two hundred and fifty tons, the shaft of which is sixty feet in length, and each side five and a half feet at the base, being only a few feet shorter than the famous Cleopatra Needle. When quarried, the block was sixty-one feet in length, being much the largest single stone ever quarried in this country. This monument is to be erected at Troy, N. Y.

In Harrison, Me., the other night, a married man, returning homeward from an interview with his unlawful beloved—an unmarried young lady—was rotten-egged by a band of indignant townsmen. The party followed him at first on foot, discharging frequent volleys of decayed eggs; and then they took a team and followed him as rear guard for quite a number of miles until he was once more "in the bosom of his family." Instead, however, of obtaining that sweet sympathy in trouble which man is wont to expect from the wife of his bosom, his better half actually thanked the "vigilance committee" for applying the heroic treatment to her recreant spouse.

New Hampshire Items.

At Contoocook, on the 11th inst., Johnny Stevens fell into the river and was sucked into the flume of Burnham's mill. He was caught in the eddy and was just going into the wheel when Nathan Burnham discovered and rescued him.

The Unitarian society of Franklin, recently organized, will proceed at once to build a church, Mrs. James Smith of St. Louis, a native of Franklin, paying one-third of its cost.

Alvin Cook was arrested on the 12th inst. at Newburyport, for stealing a horse and buggy from William E. Merrill of West Newbury on the previous day. Marshal DeRochemont found Cook intoxicated in the outskirts of the city, with the horse and front wheels of the buggy. The rest of the team could not be found.

At Hudson, on the 10th inst., the skeleton of a man was found in a clump of bushes on what is known as the Gowan farm. The flesh, where it was protected by the leg of the boot, was not wholly decomposed, and it is therefore argued that death occurred not more than three months ago. In the pocket of the clothing there was $1.60 and an old razor. There is no one missing from Hudson or that vicinity, and therefore it is believed that the deceased was a tramp who perished in the early spring from cold and hunger.

Mrs. Gilbert Fuller, of Woodsville, was assaulted and shockingly beaten on the evening of the 12th inst. by Mrs. Henry Williams and her daughter, the latter being about twenty years old. The girl knocked Mrs. Fuller down with a chair, and then with her mother's aid pounded the prostrate woman, inflicting probably fatal injuries.

George E. French of Nashua, formerly a well-known teamster, but lately a chronic loafer and thief, has gone to the house of correction at Wilton for four months, for stealing from George W. Greene, grocer.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14, 2 A.M.

Southerly to westerly winds, partly cloudy weather and light local rains, with falling barometer during the day, and slight changes in temperature.

AROUND HOME.

Thirteen schooners, all but two of them coal laden, arrived at this port on the 13th inst.

A milk-car standing on the side track at North Hampton one night recently, was broken into, and about fifteen dollars stolen from a desk, the lock of which was forced.

The exhibition of the model of New York harbor has met with such success that it will remain for the rest of this week at Congress hall. Open day and evening. Children admitted every afternoon for five cents each.

The schooner Daniel Marcy arrived at Doane's wharf on Tuesday night of this week, with three hundred and eighty-five barrels of mackerel, the finest lot landed here for two years. Her total catch for the season, up to date, is 1920 barrels.

The alarm of fire at about half-past five o'clock Wednesday afternoon was occasioned by the partial burning of the ell of John Buckley's house on Jefferson street. The fire department turned out, but their services were not called into requisition. Loss small.

There was a sprinkling of rain in this city on the afternoon of the 13th inst., but not enough to cool the air, which seemed all the hotter after the shower was over. At Berwick, Me., and for some distance this side, the shower was an unusually heavy one.

The schooner Charles H. Trickey, Kelly, from Philadelphia, and the John Bracewell, Chatfield, from Baltimore, arrived in the lower harbor on Wednesday morning of this week, both bound to Dover with cargoes of coal. The schooners Forest Home, Kent, and H. Prescott, Swett, both from Port Johnson for Dover with coal, and J. J. Little, Gandy, from Philadelphia for South Newmarket, also arrived during the day. One of these vessels was towed up the river in the afternoon by the steam tug Ann.

A Berkshire merchant has a novel way of curing petty shop-lifting. Whenever losses come to his notice he charges them on his ledger to "Thief," and when a person is detected in pilfering he takes him (or her) to the desk, exhibits the account, and says the culprit can pay the whole or be punished. They invariably pay, and in this way he has recovered $500 or more in the past few years.—Massachusetts paper.

A well-known grocer of this city has kept a "thief" account for twenty years or more, similar to the one mentioned above, and for the same purpose. He has found it effective in covering losses from petty thieves, but we do not imagine he originated the plan.

The steamer Empire State made an excursion trip from Boston to the Isles of Shoals on Wednesday of this week, with a very large party, among them being the common council of Newton, Mass., and guests, on invitation of the president of the board, Mr. John Q. Henry. We are informed that the hotels at the Shoals are so crowded that cots and camp bedsteads are up in every available place, and all occupied; and that the season will be the most successful the islands have ever enjoyed. The great improvements at the Oceanic are fully appreciated by the guests, as the special advantages of the hotel's position long have been.

Henry Beckman of Seabrook, the pardoned-out State-prison-bird who stole the horse belonging to George James of Gloucester, Mass., which was sold by Beckman in Exeter and afterward identified by the owner in this city, was on the 12th inst. traced by Sheriff Kent and Deputy Sheriff Hoyt of Exeter to Salisbury beach, and thence to Amesbury and Wenham, Mass.; the criminal having got beyond the jurisdiction of New Hampshire, the case was turned over to an officer at Salem, Mass. On the previous day the thief traded horses with three persons, all the animals he disposed of having been stolen, but all of them have been recovered by the officers. Beckman was sent to State prison for trying to wreck a train on the Eastern railroad near Seabrook, and should have been kept in prison till his time was up.

THE ACCIDENT TO THE PORTSMOUTH.

The Newburyport Herald of Wednesday, the 13th inst., says:

Schooner Lydia A. Davis, Capt. Robert Floyd, of this port, was fishing on Monday morning near York Nubble, when the captain perceived a ship aground on Moore's rock. The seine boats belonging to the schooner rowed around the ship in distress, which proved to be the United States school ship Portsmouth, which had left the navy yard at Kittery early in the morning, and had stuck fast upon the rock, about two miles from shore and in seven fathoms of water. The captain of the Portsmouth asked the men in the boat to row back to the schooner and anchor her, which they did, securing her with two anchors. A boat from the school ship then brought a hawser, which was fastened to the mainmast of the Lydia A. Davis, by which the Portsmouth was hauled off and went on her way to Portland, where she was bound. Previously aid had been asked from the navy yard, and the tug Leyden was on her way to the rescue, but her services were not needed.

The Portsmouth must have an awful keel on her, to stick fast in seven fathoms of water. It would not be supposed from her size and appearance that she drew more than seventeen or eighteen feet at the outside, in her present trim.

A NEW HISTORY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The gratifying announcement is made that a general history of New Hampshire is to be written, and to no more competent or skillful hand could the important task be entrusted than to Dr. A. H. Quint, of Dover, who has undertaken this great work. Jeremy Belknap, our time-honored historian, once lived at Dover; and his successor will not prove unworthy of him. Dr. Quint is, as our readers well know, a most accomplished student in historical lore. He has worked diligently for many years amid the early records of Dover and of the State, and has brought to light much valuable material. The records and documents that have been discovered during the century since Belknap wrote, and more particulary within the past five and twenty years, throw a flood of light upon many facts as to which Dr. Belknap was compelled to grope his way in ignorance. The time is ripe for this new history.

We are glad that Dr. Quint has determined to take up this work. If his health and strength permit he will no doubt contribute a volume of enduring value, and fitly crown his already high reputation. We are not aware whether he desires aid in the shape of letters and documents, but we may assume that anyone who has information not otherwise accessible will do all lovers of historical truth a favor by communicating with him.

Enlarged May 1, 1879. Price unchanged.

The only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy, for correcting intemperate habits, regulating the stomach and bowels, breaking up colds, chills and fevers, is SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER. For relieving gouty and rheumatic pains, preventing malarial fevers, and promoting sleep it is truly wonderful. Ask for SANFORD'S. tsept6

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Richmond arrived at Yokohama, Japan, July 3d, accompanied by the Ashuelot. On the 4th Rear Admiral Patterson transferred his flag from the Monongahela to the Richmond; the former vessel was to be shortly sent to Hakodadi, the Richmond remaining at Yokohama. The Ashuelot would remain at Yokohama for some time longer, to give her officers and crew the benefit of a comfortable climate. The Ranger was on her way from Hong Kong, and would stop at Nagasaki. The Monocacy and Palos were at Shanghai, but in case any serious sickness occurred there would go to Chefoo.

—The English style of dancing at present is very quiet. The gliding waltzes are as stately as minuets, and consequently short dresses do not seem inappropriate.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

For sale by all Druggists and respectable dealers generally.

Political.

Dr. Luke P. Blackburn, the newly-elected governor of Kentucky, is the same Blackburn who planned to infect our cities with small pox and yellow fever during the war by filling a vessel with infected clothing and sending it to New York.

The Iowa greenbackers met in State convention on the 12th inst., had a squabble, made no nominations, resolved to raise a campaign fund of $42,000 for Iowa, and endorsed the greenback gospel as expounded by Brick Pomeroy.

The New York Tribune says: "The scandals of election broils in Baltimore have had the curious effect of drawing from the democratic State convention of Maryland a demand for a registration law. Unless we are mistaken, this is the first time any such representative body of democrats has taken a position in favor of a registration law. To be sure, it is the plea of democrats for protection against democratic frauds, but that is all the republicans have ever asked."

Kemper county, Miss., where Judge Chisolm and his son and daughter, and several of his friends, were murdered for the crime of being republicans, by a democratic mob led by county officials, the leader of the mob being at the next election chosen high sheriff of the county, comes to the front again. Mr. Stewart was addressing a republican meeting, and in so doing said something which did not please one Mr. Brittain. Thereupon Mr. Brittain threw a brick at the speaker, which knocked him down, and then attacked him with a knife, inflicting three severe wounds. This broke up the meeting. The democrats will have a large majority in Kemper county.

—The good student keeps shady, but always avoids school places in hot weather.

—"Why," asked a governess of her little charge, "do we pray God to give us our daily bread? Why don't we ask for four days or five days, or a week?" "Because we want it fresh," replied the ingenuous child.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and other effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Ringworm, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the worst Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Propr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients. The Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required in taking them. They act mildly, without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Dash of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escapes their sensitive impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, and they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulceration, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or acrid drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS
Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Humors, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.
A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.
Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.
Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.
Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.
I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.
J. A. TUCKER.
13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.
NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES
Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
Yours truly, MARK BRANDAN.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.
Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 3300 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Secretary, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Daily Chronicle.

The Colorado Beetle and Paris Green.

This pest has greatly mitigated its unwelcome presence this season. Now we should make an effort to finish him. The last brood will gather on the late potatoes, and if every one interested would exert himself, an end might practically be made of the insect. This has been an unfortunate season as regards accidents from the use of Paris green. "Familiarity has bred contempt" for this dangerous substance, and there have been more horses, cows, pigs and fowls lost by poisoning than ever before. There have been some curious accidents. A horse tied to a wagon in which was a can of green, reached over, opened the can with his teeth, licked the poison and died in a short time. A portion of a barrel of water, in which the green had been mixed for application, was upset on a meadow and neglected. Cows pasturing on the field ate the grass, and three died and the others recovered with difficulty. A workman coming into dinner, left the shaker, containing some "greened" flour, at the doorstep; some fowls came and pecked at the flour and when the man came out the fowls lay dead. A calf chewed up a piece of paper in which some green had been wrapped, and which was thrown down carelessly and blown about by the wind. The calf died. Such accidents as these show that people have become careless. Carelessness always leads to loss, if not disaster, and carelessness with poisons is criminal.—American Agriculturist.

Mr. Burrows Illustrates.

Representative Burrows, of Michigan, in his speech at the republican reunion in Madison, Wis., said: "I cannot understand this fiat business. I can understand how a piece of paper is perfectly good if it is payable at some time and to some one, but how a piece of paper stamped as money is money, I cannot understand. I can understand perfectly well, when I buy a ticket from here to Chicago, that it is good for something, because it is redeemable in a ride, but I cannot understand how the ticket itself is the ride, and nobody but a modern greenback fiat-money man would sit down on that ticket and think he was going to Chicago. I can understand how a ticket into a circus is good, if I can get into the show, but I cannot understand how the ticket is a show, and nobody but a modern fiat-money man would take the ticket and think he saw the horses going round and the whole performance. I can understand how an order on a farmer here in Wisconsin for a cow is pretty good, if I can get the cow; but I cannot understand how the order itself is a cow, and nobody but a modern greenback fiat-money man would sit down on a stool and attempt to milk the order. I will tell you, my fellow citizens, there is no use in talking about getting out of the national debt in any way except to pay it; that is the only straightforward way to do. To-day the best thing that could happen to the financial interests and the business interests would be for Congress to pass a law at its next session to punish with death any member of Congress that would make a speech on finance for the next twenty years. What we want is to let it alone, and we are on the high road to prosperity."

The Rich California Banker.

When it became known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific Coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange, all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succeed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much wider and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite orders of thousands of customers, in different sums, into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro rata among shareholders every 30 days. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay 50 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 per cent. on the stock during the month. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) gives "two unerring rules for success," and full particulars, so that any one can operate in stocks, and make money. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Exchange Place, N. Y.

—Seldom does one find a humorous Chinaman. But there is a story told of a Mongolian domestic in Reno, which shows that there is at least one comic Asiatic in the town. A gentleman who is fond of fishing, recently sent his Chinaman into the garden to dig some earth-worms for bait. Shortly afterward he heard the Chinaman laughing loudly in the garden. When John came in, the gentleman asked the cause of his merriment. John said: "Me dig worms in garden. Lady come along and say, 'what you going to do with worms, John?' Me say, 'Make soup—belly nice soup.' She put up her hands and say, 'Oh! oh!' then run heap quick."—Reno (Nev.) Gazette.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1879.

The Yellow Fever.

Memphis advices of the 13th inst. says: "The weather is growing warmer, and greater ravages of the scourge are anticipated. The whole city is now infected, and the only safety lies in depopulation, which is fast progressing. So far it is quite remarkable that of all the prominent citizens who have been stricken only one has recovered. Twenty-three new cases in all were reported to the board of health to-day, seven whites and sixteen colored, and two deaths."

Not the Work of "Carpet-Baggers."

Georgia was one of the first of the "reconstructed" States to be wrested from the rule of the carpet-baggers by the pure and undefiled white democracy that fought in the rebel army, and ever since then it has been absolutely under democratic control, the democracy taking care to prevent the growth of any opposition party by freely using the means so well understood by southern democrats. But even this pure reform democratic rule has not resulted in absolutely stopping all stealing, for if the democratic accounts sent from the State capital are to be credited the government is more corrupt now than it ever was in the palmiest days of the "infamous carpet-bag rule." The democratic controller-general has been impeached by the legislature for depositing in a bank to his own credit money belonging the State, and for using his position to speculate in wild lands sold by his official order for delinquent taxes. Frauds have been discovered in the accounts of the keeper of the penitentiary, and a committee of investigation has been appointed; committees have also been appointed to investigate the treasury, agricultural bureau and other departments. A despatch from Atlanta says: "Atlanta is full of gossip of official scandal since the developments last week. The press and people all over the State demand an investigation of every office except those of the governor and secretary of State, which seem to be above suspicion." The people of Georgia are beginning to find out that one-party rule is pretty sure to result in official corruption.

A Remarkable Showing.

Green B. Raum, commissioner of internal revenue, in his official report to the secretary of the treasury on the condition of the internal revenue accounts makes the following remarkable showing: During the past fiscal year, $113,000,000 have been collected and paid into the treasury without loss or deficiency of a single dollar; and the entire amount which is in default upon the collections of three years, amounting to $343,000,000, is just $2,786. This sum will be recovered by suits. And yet democratic members of the Senate strove to show at the last session of Congress that the public service was honeycombed with corruption and wastefulness. When they can prove that any private business, however scrupulously conducted, is managed with so small a percentage of loss, the country may listen to their complaints, but not while there is such a balance-sheet as this before it.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13th.

Lately Hon. William E. Chandler, secretary of the republican congressional committee, left this city for California. The story comes back here that the heavy men of his party in San Francisco designed to honor him by a big dinner at a big hotel, but, by a most ludicrous mistake, paid that attention to an acrobat and juggler by the same name, who happened to be in the city at the same time. It will be worth something to hear the genuine Chandler tell the story when he returns.

This city is a warning to all others to avoid wooden pavements. They are unsubstantial, and they breed disease. Those laid here a few years ago have long been unserviceable, and are being raked off from some of the streets, and replaced by better and more durable ones, but it will take years at the present rate to replace all the wood pavements, on which the board of public works squandered millions.

A new evening republican paper is to be started here about the first of September, by W. J. Murtagh, formerly proprietor of the National Republican, and L. A. Gobright, formerly manager of the associated press here. Both gentlemen have had experience, and they ought to succeed in their new enterprise.

The secretary of the navy and his chief of the bureau of construction are away on some sort of an inspection tour. The department, however, runs on as usual. The secretary has put it in better order than it has been for many years.

Hon. J. A. Bentley, commissioner of pensions, is away on a summer vacation, whereat sundry waiting persons, who ought to be pensioners, rejoice, and hope that he will so enjoy himself as not to hurry back. Indeed, if he were never to return to the pension office there would be little if any mourning.

The board of directors of the National Fair corporation are in a quandary just now. They had concluded to purchase grounds and a race-course on the Baltimore & Potomac railroad, beyond the eastern branch of the Potomac, but before closing the purchase they found the intended fair grounds were surrounded by other grounds, through which access to the fair grounds would be somewhat costly. On looking around for another place they found a suitable one, and the fair, or, rather, the beginning of a series of fairs, will be held this fall. The association intends to make its exhibitions creditable to the capital of the nation, and hopes in time to attract here many visitors from the States. KNOX.

News and Notes.

John Crompton, a colored farmer of Prince George county, Md., was shot dead on the night of the 11th inst. while sitting at supper with his wife and three children, by an assassin who fired a charge of buckshot into his back from the bushes near the rear door of the house, which was open.

Capt. Secrest, a mail contractor, J. C. Wilson, an ex-sheriff, and a clock peddler named Young, have been recently captured and murdered by a gang of desperadoes in New Mexico, some of whose companions Capt. Secrest several years ago assisted to send to the penitentiary. New Mexico being a territory, the failure of Congress to provide for the payment of deputy United States marshals to enforce the laws leaves the law-abiding population at the mercy of the criminal classes, and the latter are carrying things with a high hand.

Many incendiary fires and attempts to kindle others have recently taken place in Newton, Mass., and several buildings have latterly been guarded by private watchmen. On Wednesday night, the 13th inst., one of these watchmen, Mr. George W. Lamson, Jr., who was guarding an unfinished house, saw a man in the building, and on attempting to halt him was fired at by another man outside, the bullet passing through his coat. The villain then ran, pursued by Mr. Lamson, who fired four shots at the fugitive, one of them bringing him to his knees, but he quickly recovered his feet and escaped, as did his mate. Blood in large quantities was found in several places, and a bottle of kerosene in the house watched by Mr. Lamson.

George A. Simpson, alias John Simpson, about twenty-six years old and not long ago a Universalist minister in East Camaridge, Mass., is under arrest for horse stealing, a business which he has carried on quite extensively.

Frank T. Taylor, aged nineteen years, a clerk in the office of Congressman Casey Young, and Robert E. Bernard, sixteen years old, Mr. Young's nephew and private secretary, fought a duel at Bladensburg, near Washington, D. C., on the 13th inst., using pistols. Several shots were exchanged by the idiots, but of course no brains were blown out. A large crowd of admiring spectators attended the performance of the farce.

Ever since the Freeman tragedy at Pocasset, Mass., many people have been curious to visit the house. By request of the medical examiner everything has been left untouched since the sad death of little Edie, and the presence of the tell-tale stains upon the floor and clothing has excited the unhealthy curiosity of many persons. The house has been closed, but has been forcibly entered by large numbers of silly people, and portions of the building carried off.

Rev. Mr. Durand and Deacon Clark of Meriden, Conn., have been in a squabble for some time about two ladders which the deacon took from the minister, the ownership of which is disputed. A church arbitration was appointed and decided that the deacon should give up the ladders, but he won't, and the matter is likely to go to court. Meanwhile the minister and the deacon have waxed exceeding mad.

Miss Dudley of Binton, Ala., recently advised her cousin not to receive an introduction to a young man named Owen. On the 11th inst. Owen demanded an explanation of Miss Dudley's brother, and on his refusal snapped a pistol at him. Dudley then shot Owen four times, and cut his throat. Owen died.

Dr. Gulick of Hyde Park, near Scranton, Pa., while intoxicated tried to assault Dr. Gibbs at his house on the night of the 12th inst., and was shot by the latter. Dr. Gulick then assaulted Mrs. Gibbs, stabbing her with a knife in the body. Mrs. Gibbs is probably fatally injured. The cause of the affray was an old enmity which existed between Gulick and Gibbs, who are two well known physicians.

The New York Herald of the 13th inst. devotes four columns to recent developments concerning the Stewart grave robbery. It says that in January a Nassau street lawyer received a letter from Montreal by way of Boston, signed "Romaine," enclosing a retainer of $100 and asking him to take charge of negotiations with Mr. Hilton for the return of the body, which was offered for a quarter of a million dollars. The lawyer also received by express, as evidence of the good faith of the writer, the silver knobs and parts of the handle of Stewart's coffin, and the coffin plate. The lawyer communicated the facts to the police, but assured Judge Hilton and Mrs. Stewart that the only way the body could be recovered was by the payment of the quarter of a million demanded. Judge Hilton declined to negotiate.

The farmers of Frederick, Md., are alarmed at the burning of their threshing machines and barns, and the reception of letters threatening further destruction if they do not give up the use of machinery in farm operations. One of these letters, signed "Working men," says: "We intend to stop steam threshing. We do not get work enough to keep us through the summer and winter; we have to go in det. We will give you two days to pull in." The farmers propose to organize for mutual protection.

Mary Valentine, once a reigning belle of New York city, but for the past twenty years employed as an attendant in the women's department at the Tombs prison, died Wednesday night at the age of eighty-two years. She was sent to the Tombs for drunkenness off and on for forty years, at the end of which time she offered herself as a permanent prisoner. She has worked in the prison ever since that time, earning no salary, but getting her meals for the work.

A boy named Jewell was stung to death by hornets at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on the 13th inst., while gathering apples.

Manson M. Hasty's buildings at Limerick, York county, Me., consisting of a two-story house with ell, woodshed and a large barn, all new, were burned about noon on the 12th inst. Loss, $4,000; insured $3,000. That night the frame dwelling house of Mrs. Margaret Rennick, of Biddeford, was burned with its contents, having caught fire from a defective chimney. Loss $2,000; insured $1400.

AROUND HOME.

The steam yacht Startled Fawn was in port on the 13th inst., with a party from Newburyport.

Fred P. Wilson in another place advertises white lead, warranted pure, at seven cents a pound, and Parisian green paint, for blinds, at the lowest price, for sale at his well stocked hardware and paint store, No. 37 Congress street.

A party of Indians, men and women, attracted considerable attention as they drove around town on Thursday in one of the big excursion wagons. We are informed that they came from a camp in Kittery, and belong to Oldtown, Me.

The crew of a fishing schooner that arrived at this port a day or two since, when about fourteen miles southeast from the Isles of Shoals passed a slice of pork about three inches square, on which were two potato bugs, supposed to be bound to Bermuda, to settle. Everything seemed lovely.

Two gentlemen of this city went on a fishing excursion to York ledge on Tuesday of this week, and had very good luck, taking some nice cod and haddock, though the dog-fish bothered them considerably. One of them caught a haddock that weighed twenty-two pounds, round weight.

Councilman James M. Goodrich, although a democrat, last year introduced a resolution, which passed the common council but was killed by the mayor and aldermen—that the mayor be authorized to appoint ten special police to enforce the law to shut up the rumshops on Sundays. Was that the reason Mr. Goodrich was made a yearling of in the council by his party, and one of Frank Jones' brewers put in instead?—Weekly.

A party of excursionists from Manchester, numbering between two hundred and fifty and three hundred, went to the Shoals on Thursday in steamer Appledore. The excursion was under the management of he Young Men's Christian Association of Manchester, and a number of the excursionists remained at the Shoals over night, the hotels having granted them special rates.

Annie Bell Hobbs, the young daughter of Mr. Edwin J. Hobbs, keeper of White island light, Isles of Shoals, met with a serious accident on Wednesday, the 13th inst. In returning to the house from the high bluff at the eastern end of the island, whither she had been to salute the steamer Empire State, which had just passed with a large excursion party from Boston, she made a misstep and fell on the rocks, breaking the large bone of her right arm. Dr. F. H. Devenport of Boston, physician at the Appledore and Oceanic hotels this season, was called to set the bone, and the girl is doing well.

We learn that work on the breakwater between Goat (or Governor's) island and Great island will be commenced in September, and that 12,000 tons of cobble stones will be advertised for, 2,000 tons to be delivered by Sept. 12th. Why the government need advertise for stone of any kind for building this breakwater is not clear, for if the structure is to be faced on each side with a wall, as we hope it is, there is enough split stone at forts Constitution and McClary to build the walls of and have some left over; and there are thousands of tons of broken rock under the sea face of Fort McClary, belonging to the government, easy to get at with scows, just the stuff for filling-in with, and only about a mile away from the site of the proposed breakwater. And neither the split stone nor the broken stuff is worth anything where it is, nor ever will be, stone fortifications being out of date.

ELECTION EXCITEMENT.

If the recent election of a municipal government by the people created no excitement and but little interest, the election of stipendiary officers by the city councils created excitement and interest enough to make up for it. The political pot boiled fiercely from Monday to Thursday evening, the questions of who should be street commissioner and city marshal furnishing the major part of the fuel. For street commissioner, the candidates were Mr. William F. Ham, the incumbent during the last municipal year, and Mr. Robert C. Sides, an ex-commissioner; this part of the contest was settled at a caucus of the republican members of the city councils on Wednesday evening, when Mr. Ham was selected; but no choice of a city marshal could be agreed upon up to the time that the caucus dissolved. There were two candidates for this position also, viz.: Mr. Thomas Entwistle, who has been city marshal for two years past, and Mr. Frank B. Johnson, formerly for many years at the head of the city police. On Thursday the supporters of each candidate were earnestly at work to secure the election of their man and the defeat of the other side; and it is reported that representatives of each party were busily engaged in conferring with certain democratic leaders in regard to some arrangement by which the support of the democratic members of the councils could be secured, in return for certain concessions in the way of appointing democrats to office. What the result will be we cannot say; the only result so far apparent was the failure of the board of aldermen to elect a marshal and police officers on Thursday evening. Without aiming to "run" the board of aldermen we may suggest that the easiest way for the board to solve the difficulty would be to re-elect all the old officers, and that such action would perhaps be as satisfactory to the great mass of the citizens as any that could be taken.

TEMPLARS' VISIT.

On Wednesday evening of this week De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar of this city was visited officially by the Right Eminent Grand Commander of the State, Sir Albert Scripture Wait. He was accompanied by Vice Eminent Deputy Grand Commander Joseph W. Hildreth, Eminent Grand Recorder George P. Cleaves and Eminent Grand Sword Bearer Andrew Bunton. Besides these grand officers, Sir D. C. Roberts of Concord, Sir A. H. Weston of Manchester, and Sir John D. Leman of St. Paul's Commandry of Dover, were present. After the formal reception of the visitors, the degree of the Order of the Red Cross was conferred, following which were remarks from Eminent Sir Wait, who declared that the true principle of Templarhood appeared to be fully understood and appreciated throughout the New Hampshire jurisdiction. Much satisfaction was expressed by the visiting Templars in regard to the courteous manner in which they were entertained wherever they had visited throughout the State.

Measurers of Wood, Benjamin M. Parker, F. W. Rogers, Daniel F. Mason, Oliver Ayers, James H. Thompson, Daniel Littlefield, Otis F. Philbrick, Thomas H. Odion.

Surveyors of Lumber, B. M. Parker, Meshach Muchmore, Albert C. Anderson, Daniel Littlefield, Joseph Adams, Albert A. Fernald, Thomas E. Call, Moses Yeaton, Charles Downs, William D. Varrell.

The convention rose, and the board of mayor and aldermen resumed, and elected the following:

Chief Engineer, Stephen L. Marston.

Assistant Engineers, J. Frank Shannon, Samuel H. Kingsbury, Willard Sears, John S. Whidden.

Clerk to Board of Engineers, James L. Parker.

Assistant Marshals, Franklin Cole, Charles A. C. Gray.

The election of city marshal, regular and supernumerary police officers, health officers, and inspector of petroleum and its products, was deferred to a more convenient season.

The only general business transacted by the board of aldermen was the reference to the committee on streets of a request of Edward Huntress for a crosswalk at the head of Dearborn street, and a petition of Dr. Potter for a relay of the sidewalk in front of his house on Islington street.

SWEETSER'S,

Another Peripatetic Quack.

"Dr." Thomas F. Blanchard, who advertised himself as physician-in-chief for the Missouri State hospital for consumptives—an institution that has not existed in fact—recently favored Portland, Me., with his presence, but on being exposed by the papers as a pretender hurriedly took his leave, since when it has been discovered that a young lady from a Massachusetts city was basely deceived by him. It appears that the doctor had the girl's oldest sister for a patient, and succeeded in seducing the younger sister by promising to advance her whatever funds she needed to establish her sister and mother in the west, and to give her $2,000 besides to start a store with, he agreeing to protect her character. The girl followed him to Portland, and did not suspect that the man was other than he stated himself to be until his exposure by the papers. Trusting to the honor or the medical skill of travelling quacks is risky business.

New Hampshire Items.

Daniel Spillane, a boy about twelve years old, was drowned at Milton on the evening of the 12th inst. In attempting to cross the dam of the Great Falls Manufacturing Co. he slipped and fell into the water, and his body was found soon after in the wheel-pit of the Excelsior Co.'s mill. He was on a visit to Milton with his mother.

Three boys, named John Ahern, David Welch and David Ahern, were arraigned at Concord on the 13th inst., for placing obstructions on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad track on the 8th inst. The first two were bound over for appearance at the supreme court, and the latter discharged.

At a pinic of the Hibernian societies of Franklin, Concord and Fisherville at Webster lake, on the 13th inst., there was a general fight. A few policemen were present, but they were utterly powerless to quell the disturbances, one of them being severely bruised. Firearms were produced, but not used.

The Boston Post of Thursday says: "In some towns in Rockingham county an apparently new disease has appeared among cattle, which as yet baffles all skill. The symptoms are discharges from the nostrils, droolings, swinging of the head to and fro, rolling eyes, and drooping ears. These symptoms are followed by pressing the head against anything hard, swaying of the body, and in ending watery diarrœha, which is soon followed by death."

The details of the assault on Susan Fuller at Woodsville, by the Williamses, mother and daughter, show that it was a brutal affair, the victim being shockingly beaten, scratched and disfigured by the assailants, and her hair pulled out by handsful. The parties all live in the same house, and bear the worst of reputations as prostitutes and thieves.

The Roman Catholic diocese of Portland comprises the States of Maine and New Hampshire. The churches number seventy-four, two of which are French and two Indian, with three in course of erection. They are supplied with sixty-five priests. New Hampshire comprises about one-third of the churches and priests of the diocese. There are fourteen parochial schools, in a part of which 2350 pupils are reported; five academies for girls, two orphan asylums, with 190 orphans, and two convents are also mentioned in this diocese. The Roman Catholic population in the diocese is estimated at 80,000.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMOURS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and coming deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicine and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DEANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The following REMEDIES should be used in the loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution restored. Infect, Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goiters or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No one of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Dizziness, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Distress, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Ago does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, tiny, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, roaring in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal tones, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, languor, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the carnally discharge gonorrhœa. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.50 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the sum of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

THE SOUTHEND BOYS OF BY-GONE DAYS.

A time there was within the memory of many now living, when a portion at least of the southend boys were a rough set of the youthful population. If an unfortunate "northender" was caught "down to mill-dam," as the older class of the more northern section of the town were wont to style that locality, he was obliged to undergo what was termed "naturalization" by being taken to the summit of the mill-steps, and then, in a sitting position, bumped from step to step until reaching the bottom. In hoop-time he too well knew the danger of doing so, to venture upon an indulgence in that recreation even as far down as Brimstone hill, aware as he was that the loss of his hoop would be the consequence, if he got off as lightly as that; and cases sometimes occurred when the season for that recreation was at its height, of raids being suddenly made by southern belligerents as far up as the old hay-scales in Haymarket square, capturing the hoop of every stray urchin they met on their way, even though no better than one from a flour-barrel; for the neatly made articles now in use, like a good many other things, were then unknown. It was a merry scene when they were peaceably enjoying the sport, to look upon a troop of fifty to a hundred boys driving hoop together in the widest of our streets. So it was to see as many flying their kites from the summit of Mason's hill, opposite the jail, and in the green fields extending around the Rock pasture—now covered by dwellings, their yards and gardens; at times when a large kite had got well "set," lending their reels of twine to the owner to see how high it could be made to reach before showing an inclination by "diving" to return to terra firma. Boys do not seem to be so gregarious now as then in their sports, except in skating, straying away in groups, instead of gathering in hoop and kite times on a common playground.

To return to the southend boys and their rough ways, in earlier years the situation of any unfortunate pedagogue who chanced to be placed over them in the old wooden structure that preceded the present Haven school building, found his situation anything but a pleasant one; thorns flourishing more abundantly than flowers in his pathway. A legion survived that one of them, on a spring day, while looking, as school was dismissed for the half-holiday of Saturday, to learn if the fuel in the wood-room, beneath the southern end of the building, was likely to hold out until warmer weather, found the door suddenly closed and the key turned upon him. He would probably have remained a prisoner for some time, as the neighborhood was pretty much deserted when the boys had gone home, had he not succeeded, by groping in the dark, as light came only from the door, in laying his hand upon the axe, with which he soon released himself. The boys, it was said, who had been perpetrators of the trick, one shutting the door while the other turned the key, and had gone home in high glee on Saturday, did not think there was quite so much fun in locking up the master as there might have been, while conscious at the same hour on Monday, of certain demonstrations that had been made upon their backs with a cowhide by the same hands that had released their prisoner.

In the course of time a young man came to Portsmouth, who was a fine scholar, very good-looking, gentlemanly in deportment, and who, though but little past twenty in years, had acquired not a little skill as a teacher. After having had charge of one of the schools in the brick school-house on State street, where, while instructing them well, he won the warmest regards of his pupils, when the Lancasterian system was adopted, he was placed over that at the south end. By the same judicious system in his management of those who before had been so intractable, and who were regarded to much extent as but half civilized—sometimes on the half-holidays of Wednesday and Saturday sharing with them in their sports in the fields—no more symptoms of insubordination were seen among them than in the best ordered school in all the town. There are those who to this day, after the lapse of half a century, remember him with the warmest affection; one of them, now a retired shipmaster of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose home was not far from the old school-house, does not hesitate to say that he never loved any man so well but his own father. When he had held his position for several years, he took a fancy to enter the lecturing field, a pursuit then almost unknown in this country, choosing astronomy for his theme, which had been to him a pastime from his boyhood, and in looking about to find a teacher to take his place, secured one from Haverhill, Mass., and after a week spent in instructing him in the system of Lancaster, left him in charge of the school, numbering from one to two hundred pupils. There was nothing about the new teacher to give offence, pleasant of manner, and disposed to rule by the same judicious means as his predecessor had done, but some "rude fellows of the baser sort," (aided by others whose schooling days were over but who came to see the sport they imagined was to be had and share in it,) thought they would have a good time with the "country bumpkin," as they regarded him, because he came from a more rural region than Portsmouth; but it proved to some of them a good time such as they nor their fathers cared to have again repeated. On the first morning the new teacher entered on his duties, he was disturbed by whistling and other noises as soon as he commenced reading the customary chapter in the Testament; and various other interruptions to the quiet of the school occurred all through the day, and every day in the week; the offenders in which it was impossible for him to discover, though most of the boys would have been glad to make them known had they dared to do so. On Saturday, about the middle of the forenoon, the teacher saw from his desk one of the conspirators tear into fragments a book belonging to the school—all the books being furnished free to the scholars—and, with his sceptre in his hand, got of the proverbial "birch" but of rawhide, he took the offender, by no means a small one, by the collar of his jacket, asking his motive for what he had done, the evidence of which was lying upon the floor before them. An insolent reply was being followed by a smart application of the cowskin, when he was assailed by two big fellows who had left school a couple of years before to sail with their father in his Boston packet. The gentleman from the interior, though never having taken lessons in "the noble and manly art of self-defence," like the late Messrs. Tom Hyer and John Morrissey, yet from having always lived among pure country air, alternately teaching school and working on his father's farm, he had plenty of strength to "strike out straight from the shoulder," while still holding on to the first aggressor, so that it took him but a little time to become complete "master of the situation," and the defeated trio, if not retreating out of doors, went chopfallen to their seats.

The master, hearing it intimated, by a voice out-of-doors, as the door was locked at the close of the session, that he would not be likely to find his instrument of correction again, made his appearance with a new one on Monday morning, much longer than its predecessor, and with a tail that would sting like a hornet; yet with the most placid of countenances, as if no disturbance to his authority had occurred. Scarcely had the boys taken their seats when the board of selectmen entered the school, the chairman of whom gave notice from the platform that the disturbers of the peace on Saturday were safe in custody and would be summarily punished; that the master would be fully sustained in his position, and, which most especially interested the youngsters, that the school would be closed for the day. When they were dismissed, a dozen or two, who had intimation of what was to be seen by doing so, followed the master and the officials to the office of 'Squire Adams, upon the spot now occupied by the Kearsarge Mills, where a trial of the three refractory subjects took place, and they were fined fifteen dollars each; their liberty to go at large and behave better in future depending upon the readiness with which the fine was paid. The father of the two brothers produced the money for them, though with a very ill grace, but the other culprit having no one ready to get him off in the same way, had to take the alternative of being boarded and lodged for a while at the public institution then in charge of that very pleasant individual, Andrew Gerrish, Esq., but now of Sheriff Kent. The master, who had no further trouble with his subjects, and not much use for his new sceptre, continued to keep the school until it was abolished in the course of the year, when the long building was divided into two apartments; Messrs. Abner Greenleaf and Wm. Weeks serving as teachers. He is still enjoying life, in a green old age, upon his farm at Haverhill, Mass., where he was born, and while having been very successful since as a horticulturist, and converted the old homestead into a tasteful modern dwelling, he has not forgotten his early school-keeping days, especially that portion spent at Portsmouth. J. H. B.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1879.

News and Notes.

By a collision between two trains on the Atlantic City narrow-guage railroad near Philadelphia on Thursday, five persons were killed.

Tremont Temple, Boston, was almost destroyed by fire on Thursday night, the loss on the building and the stocks of goods in the stores on the lower floor being estimated at $175,000. Four firemen were badly hurt by falling timbers. The fire is supposed to have occurred through the spontaneous combustion of oily rags.

Joseph F. Frye, a Boston leather merchant, was found dead on the floor of his house Friday morning, with a bullet hole in his head. A safe was found open, and there is suspicion that Mr. Frye was murdered.

In testing the visual power and color sense of ninety-four of the engineers, firemen and switchmen of the Lowell railroad, Dr. Jeffries found two who were color blind and eighteen below the visual test.

Another indication that business is reviving is afforded by the report from northern New Jersey, where iron mines that have been closed since 1873, are being reopened and work pushed night and day, while new mines are being opened and furnaces built.

The failure of James McHenry is announced, with liabilities of $5,000,000, and assets poor.

George A. Simpson, the enterprising horse-thief who "was formerly a Universalist minister," it turns out was never a Universalist minister at all. He was at one time granted a letter of license, which was subsequently unconditionally revoked, as he was found to be an impostor.

Thaddeus Baber, of St. Louis, Mo., on Thursday shot his mother-in-law dead and fatally wounded his wife. He was arrested.

The war in South America has utterly destroyed business in Peru. The Peruvian navy is to assume the offensive, and has already captured vessels belonging to Chili estimated at over a million dollars in value. The people of Chili are exasperated at the course of war, and the most savage censure is visited on the government by the press for inactivity, indolence and stupidity.

The mayor of New Bedford, whose appointment of chief of police was not confirmed by the board of aldermen, the board being equally divided on the question, at last bethought him of a cute way of getting to windward of the opposing aldermen. So he renewed the nomination of his man, and then put the question, "Shall the nomination be rejected?" As the vote was divided as before, the mayor then ruled that the nomination, not being rejected, was approved; but his opponents carried the question to the courts, and the decision is that the mayor's method of securing the confirmation of an appointment will not answer.

Persons visiting or leaving New York city for business or pleasure, or to visit Niagara, Saratoga, the White mountains, Brighton or Manhattan beach, Long Branch or other summer resorts, will find the Grand Union one of the best and most convenient hotels in New York; being situated opposite the Grand Central depot, baggage expressage and carriage is saved. It is first class in all appointments, and kept on the European plan, guests paying only for what they get. Its 350 elegantly furnished rooms are reduced to $1 and upwards per day. The restaurants, lunch and wine rooms are supplied with the best. Guests live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel in the city. Wm. D. Garrison, manager, studies to make guests fully at home, and the hotel richly merits its large patronage.—New York People.

Wages in Europe and America.

The department of State has published a work of great importance at the present time, being a collection of reports from the consuls of the United States in Europe, covering all phases of the labor question, and showing the following facts, which may without exaggeration be called "startling:"

First—that wages in the United States are twice as high as in Belgium, Denmark, France and England, on the average; three times as high as in Germany, Italy and Spain; and four times as high as in the Netherlands.

Second—That the prices of the necessaries of life are lower in the United States than in Europe, and that the laborer in the United States, were he satisfied with the scanty and miserable fare upon which the laborer in Europe must live, can purchase like food for less money than it can be purchased in Europe.

Third—That French working people, with far less wages, are happier than the working people of Great Britain, who receive the highest wages in Europe, on account of the steadiness and economical habits of the former, and the strikes, drinking habits and consequent recklessness of the latter.

Fourth—That more misery results from strikes, drinking, socialism and communism in England and Germany than from all other causes combined, hard times included.

These are not the statements of partisan stump-speakers, but deductions from the official statistics of the various European countries, and from their current market prices; and they should and no doubt will have a marked effect in counteracting the baneful influence of the communist spouters—mainly aliens—who aim to make great men of themselves by telling the working men of the United States that they are the most oppressed people on earth.

The Yellow Fever.

There were forty new cases of yellow fever in Memphis on the 14th inst., and extraordinary measures are being adopted to arrest the spread of the terrible disease. An extra session of the Tennessee legislature is proposed to provide means for this purpose, and for caring for the suffering and destitute.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER

Enlarged May 1,1879. Price unchanged.

"The only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy, for correcting intemperate habits, regulating the stomach and bowels, breaking up colds, chills and fevers, is SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER. For relieving gouty and rheumatic pains, preventing malarial fevers, and promoting sleep it is truly wonderful. Ask for SANFORD'S. tsept16

AROUND HOME.

Three bicycle riders arrived in town from Boston on Friday, having been three days on the way.

Japanese paper napkins can be procured at Mercer Goodrich's book and room-paper store, under the city building.

Alvah Blake, fisherman for Col. Dumas at Hampton, recently captured a sea turtle that measured nearly six feet across the back.

A court of enquiry was in session at the navy yard on Friday, investigating charges against two of the employes in the boiler-makers' department.

The schooner Mayflower on Thursday discharged four hundred mackerel barrels at Doane's wharf. The schooner Gov. Goodwin arrived there on the same day, with three hundred and seventy barrels of mackerel.

A meeting of the Veteran Artillery association was held Friday evening. A committee was appointed to confer with the members in relation to their annual clam bake, and with Capt. F. W. Hilton of the Wentworth as to having it at that place.

Hon. Warren Brown, of Hampton Falls, is building what will be when finished the finest house in that town. The lumber for the structure was brought direct from Bangor to Hampton, the schooner Georgiana taking a cargo into Hampton river for Mr. Brown a week or two ago.

Sheriff Kent on Friday received from Lewiston, Me., a depatch announcing the stealing of a horse from that city, and giving a description of the animal. Inquiry showed that the horse was put up at Cochrane's stable in this city Thursday night, by two men, and driven off toward Boston at an early hour Friday morning.

The examination of applicants for admission to the bar was concluded late Wednesday afternoon, having been a long and difficult one. There were nine candidates, three of whom failed to pass. The following are the names of the successful men: Wallace Hackett, of Portsmouth; John Kivel, of Dover; Chas. B. Hibbard, of Laconia; Nathaniel E. Martin, of Concord; John M. Harrington, of Manchester; and Frank E. Howard, of Lancaster.—Monitor.

Deacon Emery Batchelder and daughter, of Hampton Falls, met with a severe accident on Sunday, the 3d inst. They were driving home from church when a sudden start of the horse caused the seat on which they were to capsize, throwing them backward out of the wagon. The lady's head was badly cut, and Mr. Batchelder was so badly hurt that he soon went into convulsions, and for a time his life was despaired of.

On Friday evening as a seaman of the U. S. S. Marion, named Peter Christenton, was crossing Daniel street at the junction of Penhallow, he was run into by a team driven by Mr. John M. Hussey. The horse was going at a rapid rate, and the sailor, who was looking another way, and did not see the team until it was too close for him to escape, caught one of the shafts and was dragged some distance before the horse could be stopped; and then, before the man could get clear, the horse commenced kicking, and struck him in the ribs, breaking one of them and inflicting some bad bruises.

A committee of the late board of aldermen had under consideration a proposition for a telephone fire alarm in this city. Those who have looked into it say it is just what is needed; its cost will be only $600. The plan as proposed, is that a dozen boxes be located in sundry parts of the city, each having a number to designate its quarter, with the central station at the police headquarters and also with gongs at each of the breweries. On discovery of a fire an alarm is sprung from the nearest box to the central office, giving the number of the district, whereupon the receiver signals to the breweries to also give it, and also sounds it on the North church bell. By this simple announcement the firemen and everybody else will know just what district the fire is in.—Journal.

The exhibition of the model of New York harbor at Congress hall is announced positively to close to-night. Children will be admitted this afternoon for five cents each, and no boy should be deprived of the pleasure of seeing the little ships and steamers cruising about the real water of the miniature harbor.

It is a little singular that the only sister of John Bright, who was killed a few days ago by a fall into the hold of the Reading railroad company's steamer Reading, lost her life by an accident in which another steamer owned by the same company was concerned. The lady mentioned was the wife of Capt. Penniwell, of the schooner Marietta Tilton, which was run down and sunk by the steamer Harrisburg close to the Cross Rip light-ship in Vinyard Sound on the night of May 16th, 1877, when Captain Penniwell, his wife and all but two of the crew were drowned.

SUPREME COURT--LAW TERM.

The supreme court, at the law term held at Concord, on Friday, decided several cases of importance and interest in this vicinity.

In the matter of the Ten Cents savings bank of this city, it was decided that the special depositors, so called, or those who deposited money on special agreement as to the amount of interest to be received, and those who were entitled to no interest and drew out their money by checks, are entitled to preference over the regular depositors, and are to be paid in full. There being quite a large amount of deposits of this nature in the bank, the regular depositors will suffer severely by this decision. It was also decided that a depositor owing the bank on a note could not set off his deposit against said note, but must pay it in full and take a dividend on his or her deposit.

It was decided that the Portsmouth savings bank, which accepted on deposit a check of $1800 drawn by the treasurer of the Ten Cents savings bank upon the Freeman's national bank of Boston in favor of Mrs. Harriet Thurston, and which the bank in Boston would not pay, was entitled to be paid the full amount of the check by the assignee of the Ten Cents saving bank.

In the case of Sarah A. Stokell against the assignee of the Ten Cents savings bank, to determine who is entitled to $2500 collected on a life insurance policy on the life of the late John Stokell, it was determined that the bank has no right to hold it, and that the money belongs to Mrs. Stokell.

In the case of Mary S. Norton and another against the Ten Cents savings bank, to determine who is entitled to two bank books held by the bank, amounting to about $900, the bench awarded them to Mrs. Norton, it being decided that the bank has no right to hold them.

These decisions against the Ten Cents savings bank involve some $20,000.

In the case of Rowell vs. the Boston & Maine railroad, involving the right of the defeated party to have a new trial by way of review, it was held that the statute passed last year repealing the right of review could not affect any case pending at the time of its passage. This decision gives a right to defeated parties to have new trials in a large number of important cases, including the case of Alice M. Craig vs. Henry F. Gerrish of this city, for injuries from a dog bite.

The case of Alfred O. Larkin vs. the city of Portsmouth, to have taxes abated, was decided in favor of the city.

THE FIRST RELIGIOUS PAPER.

A friend has sent us a fac simile of the Herald of Gospel Liberty of Sept. 1st, 1808, published in this city by Elias Smith—the first number of the first religious newspaper ever issued. It is printed—and well printed, too,—on a sheet measuring eleven inches one way and twenty inches the other, with three columns to a page, the reading matter on each of the four pages occupying a space of seven and one-half by nine inches. The editor notices the ordination in Hampton Falls of Ebenezer Levet, "according to the simplicity of the New-Testament." The terms are: "One dollar per year, exclusive of postage; fifty cents to be advanced when the first number is delivered; the other fifty when twenty-six numbers are delivered. Those who are accountable for ten, to receive one free. Where there are more than one subscriber in a town, an agent is appointed to receive the subscriptions and the money, and to deliver the papers." The announcement is made that "all interesting communications (post paid) addressed to Daniel P. Drown, Portsmouth, will be thankfully received and attended to by the editor;" and "Subscribers are requested to notice that one of the conditions of the Herald is fifty cents to be paid when the first number is delivered. This sum is necessary to enable the editor to prosecute the business." Thus modestly was begun the business of issuing religious newspapers, in which now millions of dollars are invested, every sect having its organs, and many of the religious periodicals exercising an influence such as Elder Smith could never have dreamed of when he started his little Herald. The fac simile was printed by the Christian Publishing Association of Dayton, Ohio, and issued on Christmas, 1877.

Chronicle Correspondence.

RYE, August 13th.

The hotels and private houses are crowded with guests, and the families and help have to bunk on the floor.

Nearly every night a hop is held at one or other of the hotels. On Saturday evening a German came off at the Sea View, which was the first of the season; the fine hall was filled with guests of the hotel and cottages, and was brilliant with elegant toilettes. The spacious piazza was filled with citizens of this and neighboring towns.

Monday evening Mr. O. A. Robinson gave readings at the Sea View, to a large audience.

On Tuesday the annual athletic meeting was held at the Farragut house, and was a great occasion for the guests and the public. The Rye cornet band furnished music, and the crowd of lookers-on was very large. The first trial was a foot-race, won by C. D. Miller. Then came a sack race, won by Stephen Peabody; a three-quarter mile race, won by Archie H. Jenness of Rye in 3:52; walking match, same distance, won by G. Beals; half-mile swim, A. Miller winner; bicycle race, Mr. Crehore winner; potato race, C. D. Miller winner; tug of war, won by Farragut team; base-ball throwing match, won by R. A. Peabody, distance 310 1-2 feet. A dory race was undecided.

Prof. Goldberg gave a sleight-of-hand and humorous-reading entertainment at the Sea view, Tuesday evening, and Mr. Robinson repeated his entertainment at the same place Wednesday evening, both drawing good audiences. SCRIBE.

A half dozen young women are tenting on the pine-wooded shore of a lake in East Northwood. The camp comprises six tents, devoted to sleeping, cooking, eating and entertaining. They have a male servant but no male companions. This single man does all the hard work, such as building fires, bringing water, launching the boats, caring for and harnessing the horse, cooking, etc. The young ladies wear the sensible short dresses, stout boots and broad hats suitable to such occasion. Their amusements are fishing, rowing, driving, walking, roasting potatoes, corn, etc., in hot ashes, singing, reciting and playing games. Georgie Cayvan of Boston is one of this independent little party.

Mrs. Williams and her daughter, who committed the atrocious assault on Susan Fuller at Woodsville, were arrested on the eight of the 13th inst., just as they were starting for Vermont. The injured woman's condition is improving.

The house of Frank Boutwell, in Dalton, was burned on the morning of the 13th inst.; loss $1000; insurance $600. On the following morning the hotel known as "Cushman's stand" was burned, the occupants barely escaping with their lives; loss $1200; insurance $600. Both fires were incendiary.

The governor and council have awarded the contract for placing heating apparatus in the new State prison to James Munn of Concord.

New Publication.

Harper's Magazine for September is now ready for delivery to subscribers, or for sale by single number, at W. G. Myers' bookstore and Moses Bros.' news depot. It contains the usual amount of varied, interesting and valuable matter, among the articles being "Fifty years of American art," with fifteen illustrations; "Gold mining in Georgia," fourteen illustrations; "The last revel in Printz hall," a story, eight illustrations; "The King collection of engraved gems," sixteen illustrations; "Navesink Highlands," thirteen illustrations; "White Wings: a yachting romance," two illustrations; with other illustrated articles, poems, sketches and stories, editorial departments, etc., making a whole in which every one can find something to interest and instruct.

Brentano's Aquatic Monthly and Sporting Gazetteer for August is received, from Brentano's Literary Emporium, No. 39 Union square, New York city. This number has for a frontispiece a handsome likeness of Edward Payson Weston, the champion pedestrian of the world; and it contain a full and interesting record of events in the various segments of the sporting world, as usual. Persons interested in horse-racing, yachting, boating, shooting, base-ball, archery, running, swimming, polo, tennis, cricket, or any other athletic or gentle sport, will find matter of interest in this periodical. Four dollars a year; single number forty cents.

Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge, one of the new editors of the International Review, will contribute to the September number a review of the life of Secretary of the Treasury Albert Gallatin—a life which marks an era in the financial history of the United States perhaps as important as that through which the nation is now passing. Mr. Philip Gilbert Hamerton will begin his article on Rubens in the same number.

Political.

The Richmond (Va.) Despatch objects to the comments of the republican papers on recent occurrences in Yazoo county, Mississippi, and suggests that it is none of the business of the people of the north how the elections in that section are carried on.

The intensity of southern intolerance may be gauged by the fact that there is not a daily republican newspaper published in the lately-rebellious States, with the single exception of a German paper at San Antonio, Texas, which exists because the ex-confederates cannot read what it prints.

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this or that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continuous self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this terrible condition is Allan's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13th, 1878.

To the prop'rs of Allan's Anti-Fat:

Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat: "It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week, until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost." Yours resp'y,

POWELL & PLIMPTON,
Wholesale druggists.

—A western buyer, who was in New York last week, seeing the placard "Ice cream at wholesale" in front of a restaurant, entered and said, "How much is your ice cream a quart?" "Fifty cents," was the reply of the polite attendant. "Well, then," returned the Hoosier, fanning himself with his hat, "give me a bushel and a sugar scoop."

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.[s] manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our poissession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

New Hampshire Gazette !

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Ringworm, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goiter or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish spots or pimples on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it directs perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

"THE LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the natural economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerated patches, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The local remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of Instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, including the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, with direction accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures most obstinate cases, and "Cleanses the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no caustic or poisonous drugs. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

BITTERS

It is positive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $27.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $5.25 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an economical and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, in subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to —Age imparts a richer flavor to wine and increases its value; but alas! it is the worst thing that could happen to an egg.

—The French savans are making air out of water, and gas out of old rags, and they have discovered that the sun is slowly burning up and that the earth will freeze to death in six billion years, but the wisest of all those wise savans hasn't thought to inquire why it is that, when cabbages are only five cents a head, you have to pay ten cents for a cigar.

—One of the Russian grand dukes is married to a German girl of humble birth. "society" at Moscow snubs her. So the other day the grand duke caused a hotel where many ladies of "society" were accustomed to sup with their admirers to be surrounded by the police. The ladies were called upon to give their names and their addresses, and then their husbands were sent for to identify them.

—The Saturday Review says that "the interesting young man must be pale and thin, have long hair, but no side whiskers, eat little in public, never smoke a pipe, be short-sighted, have a big pain, be sour, talk about himself, be impudent, be extreme in opinion, especially on theology and medievalism, be popular with women, not able to shoot or ride, hate wet feet, be disliked by men, and, in toto, be 'a double-distilled fool.'"

—A man in an English town recently climbed a tree to a height of seventy feet, and drew a crowd of spectators, among whom were his wife and daughter, by singing hymns. Then he took a rope from his pocket, and said: "Good-bye; I have made a nice noose, and now I am going to tie the knot. Marwood says that a drop of six feet is necessary, but I am only going to give myself three. I have tied the knot and I am going to jump." Then he hanged himself.

—The Middletown (N. Y.) Argus says that two young ladies from Port Jervis, who are visiting in Middletown, were the other night escorted by a couple of young fellows to the pond and given a sail in one of the boats. Now the waters of this pond are generally very placid, and as its area is not great, its navigation is not attended with much peril; yet when the boat landed and the ladies stepped on shore one of them gave a great sigh of relief, and exclaimed, "Oh, dear! I am so glad to be once more on vice versa."

Lively Stock Operations.

The current of recent events has given great impetus to business in Wall street, and many successful turns are reported where immense profits are made in short periods. The most successful way that we have heard of yet for operating in stocks is by the Combination Method of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y. By this system thousands of orders in various sums are pooled into one vast capital and operated under the most experienced and skillful management, thus securing to each shareholder superior advantages and profits, not possible in any other way. Profits are paid at the end of thirty days. A gentleman in Boston made $737.20 on an investment of $100. Many others are doing as well or better. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with equal proportionate success by this Combination or Co-operative Method. $15 would make $75, or 5 per cent. on the stock; $100 would return $900, or 9 per cent. during the month, and so on according to the market. The new circular contains "two unerring rules for success" and full information, so that any one can operate with profit. Stocks and bonds wanted. Deposits received. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 59 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

The Frye Murder.

The medical examination of the body of Joseph Frye, the Boston merchant found dead in the basement of his house Friday forenoon, showed that there were eight stabs in the left side of his back, low down, four of the wounds penetrating the intestines. There were also two stabs in the left side of his chest, and several cuts on his neck; and on his head the mark of a heavy blow, which in the opinion of the physicians would have stunned him if given when he was alive. A bullet hole was found through his heart and liver, the pistol having been close to his body when fired. There is no doubt of its being an atrocious case of murder, but by whom committed is not yet known.

Death of Mrs. Nellie Sateris.

Mrs. Ellen Wrenshall Sartoris, the only daughter of Ex-President Grant, died in London on Friday night. She leaves two children. She was twenty-four years old on the 4th of July last.

War of Races in Quebec.

On Friday last there was a serious riot in Quebec, between two factions of ship laborers. One section of the ship laborers' society, composed mostly of French Canadians, considering themselves unjustly treated seceded from the organization and set up a society for themselves; this enraged the Irish, who mainly compose the parent society, and when the seceders on Friday forenoon got up a procession they were attacked by the Irish. The French Canadians numbered about 3000, the Irish being less numerous, but the former were beaten back in their attempt to march to "the cove," about thirty men on both sides being wounded, and at least two killed; some of the wounded will die. Revolvers, knives, clubs and stones were freely used; stores were robbed of fire arms, and several houses sacked by the mob; and the police, numbering but forty-one men, being absolutely powerless, did not attempt to interfere. In the afternoon about 1800 French Canadians mustered, armed with shot-guns, rifles and revolvers, and made a rush through the principal streets of the St. Louis quarter, yelling and firing shots. The Irishmen of the cove moved against them, and they dispersed without any serious collision. The military were ordered under arms by the board of magistrates, and guns were placed in position to sweep Champlain street if necessary. A bloody riot was expected during the night, and every preparation possible was made to quell it by the authorities; but no disturbance occurred to call out the military.

Saturday forenoon passed quietly, but about noon hostilities were resumed, the French attacking Champlain street from the heights. No general rioting was reported up to Sunday morning, but several individual encounters took place. A meeting of the old ship laborer's society was held for the purpose of inducing the extremists in the society to accept the terms desired by the French seceders. The upper part of the town was nearly free from trouble, and strangers and business men were not interfered with.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BUNTING COSTUMES.

Genteel poverty finds nothing so convenient just now as bunting. Rich people wear it freely, and just for that reason the tired schoolmistress, or the clergyman's wife, may freshen up in a bunting costume without the feeling that they are assuming a "badge" of any kind. The pastor's young daughter too, in her toilette of bunting, may try her small coquettish airs unfettered by the thought that Mrs. Grump over the way is calling her extravagant, or that Miss Miggins is whispering awful things to Deacon Sparse. Then too, bunting unites so well with the varied silks and ribbons of the day; can be made grave or gay just as one wishes, and is suited to morning or evening; rainy weather or sunshine. And as has been said, it is worn by rich as well as poor. Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts appeared the other morning at Saratoga in a costume of white bunting combined with yellow and black striped satin. The same evening Mrs. Edwin Booth wore a pale blue bunting adorned with black velvet bows; and Marie Litta, as in the recesses of her parlor at Congress hall she ran scales to her Weber piano, preparatory to her evening concert, wore a charming morning toilette of white bunting trimmed with blue satin bows. The Weber indeed seems a favorite instrument at Saratoga, for I have observed it in leading hotel parlors, and it is selected for concerts given by prominent musicians.

BELTS AND PARASOLS.

Fancy a delicate young lady strapping around her waist a circingle of coarse canvass, red, white, blue, or yellow, fastened with yellow leather thongs, and you have what is regarded as "sweet" at the present time. The wider the more stylish. An epidemic of belts has certainly broken out, and is spreading. Exclusive houses are making up more refined specimens in silk of various colors, which are fastened by expensive straps of alligator skin. For alligator skin is one of our ragos, and permeates the entire world of satchels, pocket books, belts, bags, and the like; nothing being thought so lovely as the crinkled, yellowish, mottled surfaces. The real is quite expensive, but imitations run riot and are cheap. What is left of the female mind after belts are exhausted runs to parasols, and bills are brought in not as formerly for one, two or three parasols, but for a wine colored one to match a wine colored costume! blue and ecru to match a blue and ecru toilette, and so on indefinitely.

COSTUMES.

But going back to belts, what do they signify? They mean the final departure of the princess costume and the establishment of the panier style of dress. Bunched on the hips and bouffant in the back. For do you not see that a belt does not harmonize well with an expanse of close-fitting, corset-like whalebone extending below? Something bunchy and bouffant is much more to the purpose. So here is a reason not only for belts, but for sashes, which this summer have suddenly come to life again. Another evidence of the approaching reign of bunchiness (I can't find any other word) is the display of bustles, which, dismal to tell, are on the increase. I hate to write this, for of all odious things they are the most so, yet what are fashion writers put in the world for if not to tell truth? Then again there are prophecies of small hoops to keep out the untrimmed skirts, but we won't indulge in horrid anticipations. Before leaving the subject of costumes I will mention a pretty blue camel's hair and satin costume worn by a young beauty of fourteen at Saratoga, made Lucile skirt and Floy basque. This would be suitable for a miss of sixteen or a girl of ten or twelve.

FALL DRESS GOODS.

Of course it will be quite a while before these are shown, but I have had admittance to a sanctum where only a few of the chosen are allowed to enter, and so I can prophesy. Striking novelties appear. What is called "silk shot" effects are very noticeable. Here the goods which often are wrought in small armure or straight rows, show stitchings of bright squares, colored silk at regular intervals, or again the silk mixtures are thickly scattered with no regularity whatever. Jacquard goods displaying bright silken flowers on a dark ground are largely imported, but in opposite style, many fabrics are woven with dark, invisible stripes obscured by grayish cloudings. The bandana ideas of the summer are repeated in very bold, bright plaids with satine, Scotch cheviot and twilled surfaces, and these are in great numbers. But the chief novelty is the introduction, of fine soft dress goods having cashmere and broche effects. Fancy an Indian shawl, stripped or otherwise, reduced down in pattern to less than a dozenth part of the original size, and you have an idea of what these novel and very beautiful materials resemble.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14th,

News and Notes.

St. Pierre, Miquelon, was visited by a disastrous fire on Friday night, and about thirty buildings in the business portion of the town were burned, including four government buildings, and the post-office.

The Swedish colony in northern Aroostook, Me., is constantly swelled by accessions from Sweden. Last week twenty-two Swedes arrived at New Sweden direct from their homes across the Atlantic.

Recently David Bean of Harmony, Me., and Mrs. Lenora Wing of St. Albans, eloped for parts unknown. He has left behind a wife and three children. She left a husband and two children.

An unknown tramp, attempting to force an entrance, Thursday night, into the house of N. W. Baldwin, a resident of the Chicago suburban town, "River Forest," was shot dead by a discharge of a shotgun, in the hands of a son of Mr. Baldwin. Two accomplices escaped.

Five men were drowned in the lake near Cleveland on Friday, through the swamping of a boat in which they were going to a base ball match between women.

The Fort Worth gang of mail robbers, eight or nine in number, who were recently captured in Colorado and Texas, have all been convicted.

The cashier of the Citizens' national bank, at Washington, D. C., has stolen $60,000 of the bank's money to speculate with.

John Burr of Wallingford, Conn., was married on the evening of the 11th inst., and the Burr mansion was the scene of hilarity. In the midst of the festivities the bride saw one of her old admirers in the crowd, and eloped with him.

There was a disturbance at Lurgan, Ireland, on the 14th inst., between a home rule procession and the police, who charged on the mob with fixed bayonets. Many of the police were wounded by stones. The violence of the crowd was so great that the police fired upon them and killed one and wounded two. The mob subsequently wrecked Lord Lurgan's gate lodge and the house of a Protestant.

A house in Garland, Me., owned by Mrs. Eliza Bartlett, was badly shattered by lightning Thursday afternoon. A son had his limbs paralyzed for a time, and a Miss Ayer, from Haverhill, Mass., who was visiting there, had her clothing and a slipper torn from her person, but was not seriously injured.

Harriman won the first prize at the O'Leary walk in Providence, making 283 miles 2 laps, beating the next best competitor nearly 9 miles.

A remarkable accident occurred at Fall river, Mass., Friday. Workmen were engaged in cutting down a large tree just as a funeral procession was forming. The tree was not supported by ropes, and as one of the carriages, bearing six women, was passing the tree, it suddenly fell. The trunk, over a foot thick, struck the hack, completely wrecking it, but, strange as it may seem, no one sustained serious injury.

Philadelphia dispatches say that two more Mollie Maguires, McManus and O'Neill, are to be executed in October. O'Neill has confessed to the murder of Hesser, the night watchman at Hickory Swamp colliery, near Shamokin, and implicates nine others, whose whereabouts are known to the authorities and who will be arrested inside of another month.

The 3d Reg't N. H. National Guard, Col. J. N. Patterson commanding, will go in camp for four days near Concord, Sept. 23d.

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this or that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continuous self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this terrible condition is Allan's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13th, 1878.

To the prop'rs of Allan's Anti-Fat:

Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat: "It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week, until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost." Yours resp'y,

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 18, 2 A.M.

Cloudy weather and rain; winds mostly north-easterly; nearly stationary temperature.

AROUND HOME.

Rev. Dr. Hedge, professer of German literature at Harvard, and one of the most distinguished scholars and theologians in this country, preached for Rev. Mr. DeNormandie at the South Parish on Sunday morning. The sermon was one of great power and beauty, upon "The spirits in prison."

The telegraph sometimes makes queer work with messages sent over the wires. Every associated press paper in Boston last week contained an item sent from this city referring to Thomas E. Drake, the "pigeon shotter," instead of the "liquor spotter," as the message was unquestionably written and sent from here.

The schooners R. H. Colson, E. G. Buxton and A. S. Willey, all from New York and bound to Dover, and the John Hurst, from Port Johnson for the navy yard, were the arrivals of sailing craft at this port on Saturday. In addition, the tug L. A. Belknap, Capt. Riley, arrived from Boston, having in tow a barge loaded with lumber for the navy yard.

On Saturday last Dr. Daniel D. Hanson of Berwick, Me., who has for the past two months been practising as a botanic physician in Raymond, in this State, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Shepard and brought to this city, and arraigned before Judge Batchelder on a charge of practising medicine in contravention of the State law. The charge being sustained he was ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 to appear at the October term of the supreme court. He "accepted the situation" and informed the judge that he would not procure bail, but would go to jail. The jail in this city being well populated, he was taken to Exeter jail, where he says he will stay until the court sits if the parties instigating the prosecution wish, and longer. No doubt he could procure the bail demanded if he wished.

On Friday afternoon one of the large two-masted whaleboats was coming into the harbor, jogging along moderately under a gentle breeze, with the single sturdy fisherman who composed her crew lying back in the stern sheets, steering and enjoying a comfortable smoke, and apparently paying no particular attention to anything. Suddenly he was observed to abandon the helm and slam himself vigorously across the after thwart, face downward, thrusting his left arm up to the elbow in a tub of fish-bait and dropping his pipe into the bottom of the boat. The cause of this eccentric performance was the abrupt and unexpected stoppage of the boat, and when the astonished fisherman looked up to see what had caused that phenomenon, he found that he had rammed the U. S. S. Plymouth on the quarter, and then got his mast foul of something or another. The ship-keepers lent him a hand to get clear, and in about ten minutes he was again on his way up the harbor, calmly finishing his sail and smoke. Lucky for the old Plymouth there wasn't much wind.

On Friday and Saturday of last week an investigation was in progress at the navy yard before a board consisting of Chief Engineer David B. McComb, president, Comdr. Henry L. Johnson and Lieut. Augustus Kelley, members, and Lieut. Walter Goodwin, recorder. The investigation is for the purpose of enquiring into eight charges preferred against Tobey Burke, foreman boiler-maker, and a workman in the same department named Boardman. On Friday testimony was heard on the charge that Burke knowingly permitted Boardman to take from the yard a quantity of white lead in November, 1877. On Saturday testimony was received on charges that in November last plate iron, rivets and other materials belonging to the government were used in making repairs to the boilers of the steamer Clara Batemen, which by permission of the commodore was allowed to lie at the navy yard while the repairs were made, the work being done by Boardman and other parties, and not by government employes. The evidence was contradictory. How far the charges will be sustained the court will decide, but from what we have heard we should fancy there is some personal spite and jealousy connected with the matter.

An old rattletrap barn on the bank of the river at Dover took a lurch on Friday, half of the lower story tumbling into the river, letting the wreck of the upper story down on top of a cow and a lot of swine housed on the lower floor, but the animals were all rescued unhurt.

Something contemptible broke into a school-house in the 10th school district of Berwick, Me., one night recently, burst open a cupboard in which a Sunday school library was kept, and mutilated the books, tumbled them into the ashes in the stove, and otherwise damaged them.

Jerry Leary of Great Falls has been lodged in Dover jail to await trial for breaking into the house of Hiram Horne of Great Falls on Sunday afternoon, the 3d inst., while the family were absent, and stealing twenty dollars. Leary had a companion in the crime, but the latter secured bail.

Mr. Edward L. Pike, a native of this city but for many years a resident of Cambridge, Mass., and for nearly forty years employed in the composing room of the Boston Post, being foreman there a number of years, died at the residence of his son, Eben W. Pike, in Walpole, on Friday.

The Kennebunk Star says that never within memory has there been such a rush of visitors to the sea-shore of Kennebunkport as this summer, the Ocean Bluff hotel and the boarding houses being so crowded that beds have to be improvised wherever they can be, and the cottages all filled. A number of large boarding houses are projected, to be ready in time for next summer's business.

One hundred and fifty cattle pens and one hundred stalls for horses are to be built on the State fair grounds immediately, and a large addition made to the spectators' seats. The Great Falls Journal says the Granite State park, where the fair is to be held, isn't in Dover except to a very limited extent, nearly the entire property being in Somersworth, and paying taxes there; the distance of the park from Dover and Great Falls is about the same.

The Bourbon democracy of York county have won another victory over their greenback allies, in the crowding off the greenback ticket of Hill, the greenback candidate for State senator in the southwest district of the county, and the substitution of Stover, the democratic candidate, who is a dyed-in-the-wool old Bourbon, and favors Eben F. Pillsbury for United States senator. Hill, the greenbacker who has been dropped, is opposed to Pillsbury, which accounts for his being slaughtered. Whether the republican greenbackers of the county can thus be handed over to Pillsbury election day will show.

The Boston Traveller of Saturday evening says: "Portsmouth, long celebrated for the manner in which old memories are kept up among her sons, last evening sent a delegation to the residence of Mr. Gideon Beck, the veteran auctioneer, living on Randolph avenue, Milton. The occasion was the sixty-second birth-day of that gentleman, and about twenty-five of his former townspeople assembled to do him honor. Among those present were B. P. Shillaber, Esq., Rev. John G. Adams of Portsmouth, Marcellus Bufford, Esq., Ex-Alderman Stackpole and Ex-Alderman Whidden of Portsmouth, Frederick Laighton, Esq., Capt. Samuel Laighton of New Orleans, William E. Ford, Esq., and Major Andrew Beck of Portsmouth. Poems were read by Mrs. Partington and Rev. John G. Adams, and an address was made by Mr. Bufford. The evening was a most enjoyable one, and all who participated expressed themselves as highly delighted."

The republicans of York county are making an active speaking canvass, and the indications in that county are that greenodembackism will not make at the next election anything like the showing it did last year. Hon. Zach Chandler and Hon. O. C. Moore addressed an immense gathering of people at Biddeford on Thursday evening of last week; the greenbackers had a meeting advertised for the same evening at the city hall, with a long array of speakers; but only one of the speakers advertised, Gen. Horace Binney Sargent, was present, and the few hundred persons who composed the audience were sorry they had not gone to hear Zach. Mr. Moore and Hon. Horace L. Piper spoke at Kennebunk on Friday evening, and at York village on Saturday, both meetings being attended by large and enthusiastic audiences. Hon. Daniel F. Davis, the republican candidate for governor, and Hon. Eugene Hale, will speak at North Berwick on Friday, the 22d inst. Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor and Hon. James M. Stone will speak at East Eliot on Thursday, the 21st, and at South Berwick on Friday. The republican meetings are everywhere well attended, and the republicans are evidently gaining confidence every day, while the trading fusionists are as evidently losing confidence and voters.

GOSPORT NAVY YARD.

It is marvellous what eyes some of these summer tourists have. Here's a lively writer who has been to the Shoals, and treats the readers of one of the best religious weeklies in the country to a few paragraphs of gushing description—beginning with an interesting statement, as follows:

Starting from the fertile farms of Greenland, N. H., whose rich expanse neither stump nor brush doth corrupt, and where the tangled barberry bush is driven to the remote stone wall, we passed through picturesque old Portsmouth, seeing the Wentworth's clustered mansion, half hidden in a nook at Little Harbor, the great navy yard buildings at Gosport, and, further on, the soft, grass-grown mounds and embankments of 1812.

Possibly if this observant traveller will be good enough to look in on us another summer, we will have grown sufficiently picturesque around here to permit Norfolk itself to loom up distinctly into the range of his vision!

Naval Affairs.

Pay Inspector Rufus Parks, attached to the navy yard at Norfolk, is granted leave of absence for one month from August 20th.

Leave of absence is granted to Capt. R. W. Huntington, U. S. M. C., commanding the marines at Annapolis, Md., for two months from August 12th.

Second Lieut. John T. Broadhead, U. S. M. C., is detached from duty at the marine barracks at Washington, D. C., and ordered to this navy yard.

A San Francisco paper of August 8th says: "The United States ship Alaska sails to-morrow for South America, where she will relieve the Pensacola, and allow the latter to come home."

The U. S. S. Powhatan arrived at Pensacola on Thursday morning last, with a section of the government dock in tow.

Assr. Engr. Mattice has reported his return home, having been detached from the Trenton on the Asiatic station, and placed on waiting orders.

Twenty-eight boys for the naval service left St. Louis, Mo., on the 13th inst., in charge of Lieut. Taunt, for New York, where they will be put on board the training ship Minnesota. Over one hundred and twenty boys were awaiting the surgeon's examination at St. Louis on that date.

—The man who opens a bundle exerts an undo influence on it.

The republican orator who says the "war has buried State rights," is an ass. Local self-government has not been "buried," and it will not be if the people of the United States do their bounden duty to the republican party by hamstringing it next year.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—"Walter, do you think the stars are inhabited?" she said, glancing at him with an expression that showed what confidence she had in his superior wisdom. "Clara," he replied, "Your father only allows me $10 a week, and you can't expect any but a high-priced clerk to answer that question."

—A gentleman in a draper's shop had the misfortune to tread on a lady's skirt. She turned round, her face flushed with anger, but seeing the gentleman was a stranger she smiled complacently, saying. "I beg pardon, sir; I was going to be in a dreadful passion. I thought it was my husband."—French paper.

—The flags waving over a circus at Scranton, Pa., were arranged so that the British was the highest, whereupon the mayor, with the threatening name of Powderly, ordered the manager thereafter to "take the precaution to place the American flag in its proper position, viz., above all others, for no other flag can float above it in this city."

The Exodus Again.

The following item respecting the exodus of colored men from the south, concerning which little has been heard since the yellow fever appeared at Memphis, was sent from St. Louis, Mo., on the 14th inst.:

Eight cars pretty well filled with colored men of the better class, well dressed and having money, arrived at East St. Louis, Ill., on 13th inst., from different points in Mississippi, en route to Kansas on a prospecting trip. They were provided with round trip tickets, and if not favorably impressed with Kansas will either return directly home or examine some other northern State with a view to emigrating. They started for Kansas that night.

A later report concerning this prospecting trip of Mississippi colored men is as follows:

It appears that the party of colored men who recently passed through East St. Louis was gotten up by the merchants and planters in Mississippi, with a view to giving an opportunity to such negroes as wish to go there and judge the country for themselves, the expense of the trip being nominal. Many planters fear there will be an extensive exodus after the present cotton crop is picked. Some of them, therefore, got up this excursion, believing that the representatives of the colored men who might go would be disappointed with Kansas and return, and that their unfavorable accounts would have a strong influence with the negroes generally, preventing any extensive migrating movement. Quite a large number of whites, who took advantage of the cheap rates obtained, also joined the party, and a considerable number of them have gone to Kansas.

—A man can never succeed in holding two or three dozen pins in his mouth as a woman does, no matter how much he practices on shad.

—"No, sir," said the gentleman from Pittsburgh, "I was not in the war, but my brother was, and he was wounded." "Ah! indeed, seriously wounded?" "Yes, sir; he was shot in the horse."

By the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites the blood is speedily vitalised and purified, and so made capable of producing a sound mind and a sound body.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and oozing deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and to fall off in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain condition he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and he asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1; CUTICURA RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those who have left the city of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been constituted, and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of unique judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of dispensing, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50 or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," 100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, extending over years, has gained cases of those diseases peculiar to woman. I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, tingled it out as the chiefest of crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single lady who may faithfully try any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked wonders, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. Do not call this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those ailments.

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of inactivity and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (our times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 14th.

The most interesting portion of the late alleged interview with Ex-Governor Tilden is that in which he says that "the country is now approaching to what promises to be a long era of prosperity." In this opinion the distinguished gentleman agrees with most of the well-informed public men who have lately expressed an opinion. Of the papers it is your correspondent's lot to examine day by day, and which come from every section, very many report the revival of manufacturing interests of various kinds, in the neighborhood of their publication. This is noticeably the case during the last few weeks. We shall have, too, this fall, the largest crops ever raised in the country, and a market abroad for all our surplus. Immigration increases monthly, and that is not a bad indication of what people abroad think of our condition. Certainly, Mr. Tilden and the other prophets of good have much on which to base their calculations.

The national board of health reports leave no room for doubt that the yellow fever has come to stay for the season. The board has full reports, daily, and unquestionably they are reliable. Not only at Memphis, but in other sections of the southwest, the disease is epidemic and is spreading. There is comfort, however, in believing, as the officials of the board do, that there will be nothing like the widespread mortality and suffering of last year.

The President and Sec'y Sherman are all there is now here of the government. The secretary will leave for Ohio in a few days, and the President will take his vacation early in September.

The officials estimate the export of wheat from the United States this year at 200,000,000 bushels, being much more than ever before. There will be a demand abroad for more than we can supply. Happily we have only to know how much the rest of the world will need from year to year, and we can furnish it. We do not need more than a year's notice.

KNOX.

The Boss American.

The civil war has not yet wiped out patriotism from the American heart. It may lie slumbering and unseen upon our own shores, but when we strike abroad the fitful spark is breathed into fiery existence, that brightens as it shines. A typical wild eagle of this sort was recently met with. Among a party of young American tourists on the continent was one who would have proved chief sachem of the doubting Thomases of the Innocents Abroad; he was so thoroughly patriotic that he could see no excellence in anything in the Old World as compared with his own country. Mountains, water-falls, churches, monuments, scenery and all other objects were inferior to what the United States could show.

His companions became somewhat tired of his overwhelming boastfulness, and determined to give him one startling novelty at any rate, and witness the fall of his boasting greatness. They spent last winter in Rome, and one night on a drinking bout they got the enthusiastic young Yankee under the table but kept sober themselves. He got glorious drunk, intoxication kissed his eyelids down in sleep, and they carried him into the catacombs, laid him carefully down, with a candle within reach, and retired a short distance out of sight to wait for developments. After a while their friend roused up, having slept off the first drunken stupor, and, in a state of some astonishment, began endeavoring to locate himself, at the same time muttering:

"Well—hic—this's little strange. Wonner—hic—where I am, anyway."

He got out his match, lighted his candle, and began to study his surroundings. On each side were shelves piled with grinning skulls, and niches filled with skeletons, while all about were piled legs, arms, ribs and vertebræ—a ghastly array and altogether new to him. He nodded to the skulls on one side with a drunken "How do do—hic?" and on the other with "How d'ye feel—hic—anyway?" took a look at his watch, and once more at his surroundings, got on his feet, took off his hat, and holding it above his head shrieked, gleefully and proud:

"S all right; 's—hic—all right. Morning of the resurrection, by thunder! —hic. First man on the ground—'rah for United States!—allers ahead. 'Rah for me specially!"

—Miss Annie Louise Cary was visited at her home in Maine the other day by a party of friends. After trying in vain to make anybody hear at the front of the house they quietly walked around to the kitchen at the back, where they found the charming contralto humming an air from "Aida," and meanwhile closely watching a broiling steak. The cookery was pronounced as delightful as the voice—and that is saying a great deal.

—"What are you looking for?" asked one of the Widow Bedott's two daughters, who were entertaining their two young fellows on the piazza rather late one night last summer, of their mother, who seemed to be hunting something around the front yard. "The morning papers," answered the widow. The young men left.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1879.

Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

A despatch from London, dated the 18th inst., says: "The reported death of the daughter of Gen. Grant is unfounded. It arose from the death of Mrs. E. T. Sartoris, formerly Adelaide Kemble."

The Yellow Fever.

There were forty-six new cases of yellow fever and eleven deaths at Memphis during Saturday and Sunday.

There were eight new cases, and five deaths, reported at Memphis up to noon on Monday. The weather was growing warmer.

The Frye Murder.

The suicide theory which some persons held in regard to the death of Joseph F. Frye was abandoned when his wife arrived home in Boston at a late hour on Saturday afternoon from Wolfeboro', where she had been staying with her children, having been detained in Portsmouth for some time through a train missing its connections. She found that though the large and heavy pieces of silver ware were not removed, a large lot of small articles—silver and plated knives, forks, spoons, etc., with some jewelry and a watch—and some money, were stolen. The pistol found near Mr. Frye's body has not been recognized, but evidently belonged to one of the murderers, as Mr. Frye never carried nor owned a pistol. A most mysterious circumstance connected with this affair is that none of the persons who spent Thursday evening at Mr. Frye's house have yet made themselves known, though it is certain there were several persons there, as the click of billiard balls and the sound of a piano were heard at the same time Thursday evening by persons outside of the house.

Mediation Tendered.

The announcement is made that our government has instructed Minister Christiancy at Lima, Peru, and Minister Osborn at Santiago, Chili, to communicate to the governments to which they are accredited that the United States deeply regrets the unhappy condition of affairs existing between Chili and Peru, and that, while our government does not desire to thrust its mediation upon them, yet such is its regard for the peace and prosperity of both, that should it be mutually desired, we shall be ready to use our good offices to secure an honorable settlement of the difficulties between the belligerent governments, whenever they shall indicate that such friendly services will be accepted, to bring about an honorable peace. These instructions have been communicated to the governments of Peru and Chili, but sufficient time has not elapsed for a reply. It is a reasonable hope on the part of our government that this tender, made in the spirit of friendship, will lead to the acceptance of mediation and bring about a speedy termination of the war.

Jesse Pomeroy Again.

On Monday morning Hon. Gideon Haynes, ex-warden of the Massachusetts State prison, who is in chare of the old prison at Charlestown, had occasion to visit one of the cells in which are stored various articles which belonged to the prisoners, which he proceeded to closely examine. Among other things was a chair, bearing the name of Jesse Pomeroy cut in the arm. Mr. Haynes' curiosity was rewarded by finding, carefully imbedded in the arm of the chair, a stonecutter's steel chisel about ten inches long and weighing nearly two pounds. The arm of the chair appears to have been carefully hollowed so as to leave a bare shell of wood, and in the space thus made this formidable implement was secreted by covering the aperture with hard soap. The soap was stained to the color of the wood of which the arm of the chair was made, and the job was so nicely done that none but those accustomed to the crookee and adroit ways of the dangerous classes would be likely to discover the deception. Had the chair been sent to Concord and placed in the cell of young Pomeroy, it is the opinion of those who are experts in the use of such tools, that in an hour's time he would have regained his liberty, having in his possession a formidable weapon, a single blow from which would fell the strongest man to the earth.

News and Notes.

The so called piratical craft which removed articles from the wrecked steamer Virginia at Sable island arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Friday, and proves to be the schooner Carl Schurz of that port, Captain Neil McPhee, who, finding the steamer abandoned and fast filling with water, supposed he had a right to take goods. On his arrival at Gloucester he reported at the custom house, and delivered up the articles, which consist of one hundred and sixty cheeses, a piano, large Manila warp, lanterns, several sacks of flour, rigging, mattresses, etc., to the authorities. The captain states that he did not cover the vessel's name with canvas, and in no way tried to conceal her identity.

Three of the men who were among the mob that murdered Standing, the Mormon elder, in Georgia, have been arrested. They declare their party took him into the woods, intending to whip him, when he deliberately picked up a pistol and shot himself in the face fatally. It may be suggested that this story is of about the same thickness as the regular democratic yarns about unarmed republican negroes, just before election, attacking mobs of armed democrats, so as to get themselves killed and thereby bring discredit on a pure party.

The assistant superintendent of the narrow gauge railroad on which five persons were last week killed by a collision in New Jersey, and a telegraph operator and the engineer of one of the trains, have been arrested for manslaughter, it being charged that the collision occurred through their negligence.

A young woman named Roche committed suicide Sunday night by jumping overboard from the steamer Bristol, when the boat was about fifteen miles from New York. She was dressed in silk and wore diamond earrings. In her pocket-book, which she left in charge of the purser of the boat, were found $12 in money, a pawn-ticket for a pair of diamond earrings, and a note addressed to Joseph Langfeldt, No. 507 Arch street, Philadelphia, saying she could no longer live without him.

The Locust Grove hotel, near Coney island, was burned Friday night, being entirely destroyed in fifteen minutes from the time it was set on fire by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The steward, watchman, and two female servants were burned to a crisp, and several other persons are reported as missing.

James W. Wilbur, an assistant overseer in the Pacific mills at Lawrence, Mass., has been detected in peculations from the company to the amount of several thousand dollars. Wilbur put names of persons not in the employ of the company upon the pay-roll and employed boys to draw the money and pay it over to him.

Frank Dean, formerly of Gloucester, Mass., who burglarized the depot at McIndoes Falls on the 9th inst. was arrested Saturday at Burke, Vt., after stealing a horse. He escaped from the officer after stealing his (the officer's) gold watch, but was captured again Sunday, being found concealed in a barn near St. Johnsbury. He is now in jail.

Washington Webster of South Ryegate, Vt., has been bound over to appear before the grand jury on the charge of committing rape on the person of the daughter of Nancy Adams of Ryegate. As Miss Adams and another young lady were driving from Wells River to Ryegate, a few evenings since, Webster, with another young man, took her from the carriage and committed the outrage complained of.

At Shelburne Falls, Mass., on Sunday, a fight occurred between two young men, George Newstead and Willie Adler, which resulted in Newstead being stabbed once in the left breast and twice in the back with a jack-knife. He is seriously cut, and is not expected to live. Both were under the influence of liquor. Adler was arrested.

The people of St. Augustine, Fla., have come to the conclusion that their mayor is worth as much as the city scavenger, and have accordingly raised his salary so that it is now as much as that of the latter official—$25 a month.

The medical examiner has made a report upon the death of special police officer Griffin of Newburyport, who died in consequence of injuries received on the 4th of July while trying to quell a disturbance created by a gang of roughs. The report charges Jeremiah Toomey and James Healey with causing his death, and they will be indicted for manslaughter.

James Skippington was stabbed three times in Philadelphia, and probably fatally wounded, by Edward Young, aged fifteen years. Young was intoxicated, and attacked Skippington without provocation. He was arrested.

At Milwaukee, Saturday afternoon, detectives arrested Rowe C. Earl and wife, and Mary Henderson, who had been caught passing counterfeit money. They belong to a regular gang, and hail from Chicago.

Frank Lambert and wife of Folsom, Cal., were attacked in bed by an unknown assassin Friday night, and Mrs. Lambert was killed. Mr. Lambert was badly wounded.

During a storm Friday, lightning struck a stable near Thornton, Va., killing two young men and severely injuring two others who had taken refuge therein.

At Los Angeles, Cal., Saturday, J. D. Lynch and William A. Spaulding, editors respectively of the Herald and Express, engaged in a shooting affray on the street, and several bystanders were wounded, but both belligerents escaped unhurt. The trouble arose from an article in the Herald reflecting on Spaulding.

Frank McCarthy and Frank Jones, brakemen on the Boston & Albany railroad, were arrested on Friday in Boston for stealing a lot of shoes. On Saturday William McSheehan and George Bailey were put on in their places; McSheehan was killed by falling from the cars at Grafton, and Bailey was struck by a bridge near South Framingham, and killed.

If any New Hampshire pedestrians have a desire to try their speed and endurance, they can have the chance at Biddeford, Me., on the 5th of September. On that day a go-as-you-please race of ten hours will commence at the trotting park in that place, open to all competitors in New Hampshire and Maine, for a purse of $500 in gold, divided into eight prizes as follows: $150 to first; $100 to second; $75 to third; $60 to fourth; $45 to fifth; $30 to sixth; $25 to seventh; $15 to eighth. Entrance fee $15. All entries must be made before August 31st, with H. L. Currier, Biddeford, Me., who will give all necessary information.

The king and queen of the Sandwich islands had a swimming race while on a recent excursion. James G. Fair, the Nevada millionaire, who was then visiting the royal family, says that the party could not land from their steamer for reason of the breakers. The king said that all ought to swim to the shore. The queen assented, and the pair jumped overboard together. They buffeted the waves with skill, and soon reached land. They not only went where no boat could go, but braved another danger, for the place was alive with sharks.

Fifteen persons were killed and thirty-six wounded by a railroad collision in the department of Orne, France, on Saturday.

A notorious Mexican guerilla named Dominuillero, and Fisgueredo, the leader of the late insurrection in Vera Cruz, with four of his followers, have been captured, and all shot by order of President Diaz.

The Russian nihilists recently blew up the government powder magazine near St. Petersburg, and a number of soldiers and workmen were killed.

AROUND HOME.

A former resident of this city now on a visit here called at the Children's Home on Saturday, and on going away left twenty-five dollars for the benefit of the institution.

The fishing smack "Never Surrender," of Newburyport, went on the rocks at Hampton a few nights ago, and was stove to pieces, boat and fishing gear being a total loss. She was owned and sailed by Cyrus Thurlow.

Mr. William H. Gardiner of this city has accepted ar appointment as principal of an academy in Tennessee, at a compensation of about $1200 per annum, and will leave for that State the last of this or the first of next week. Previous to accepting this offer Mr. Gardiner had received two offers of positions as teacher in New York, one in New Jersey, and two in New Hampshire.

Mr. Samuel Spinney has recently returned from a four months' visit to his son in Massachusetts, and looks first-rate, notwithstanding his seventy-two years. He was absent from the city at the recent municipal election, and of course failed to vote—the first time he ever missed voting at an election in this city since he arrived at the age of twenty-one years. Mr. Spinney became of age on the 2d of November, 1828, and on the 4th of the same month voted for Andrew Jackson for president of the United States; and at every national, State and municipal election since has deposited in the ballot-box a democratic ticket, until the last election as stated. The old gentleman bids fair to see a good many more election days, and we hope he may; we also hope he may see the error of his political ways and become a good republican, but our hope in this direction does not amount to a very confident expectation.

Mr. William Dixon of Kittery is building a boat for Mr. Decatur of that town, from a model designed by the latter. She is to be twenty-four feet and six inches long over all, and twent feet at the water line, with nine feet and nine inches beam, and a centre-board eight feet long. She will have air tanks and an air tight deck, with but a small standing room; the cuddy will have four births for sleeping, and the boat is to have all the modern improvements suitable for a craft of her size. She will be cat-rigged, with a mast twenty-six feet and eight inches in diameter; boom twenty-five feet long, and gaff fifteen feet and eight inches. The sail, which will contain one hundred and nineteen yards of canvas, will hoist on an iron traveller on the after side of the mast, instead of having the mast hooped as usual. The model is somewhat similar to that of the boats most popular in Norfolk and Baltimore, which have the reputation of being excellent sea boats and fast sailers.

Mrs. Eliza A. Neal of South Berwick was some time ago called upon by a man who represented himself as an agent for a washing macnine, and said that he was introducing the machine to the public and desired to give a sample to one lady in each town to try, and recommend if the machine was liked. He asked Mrs. Neal if he should not send her one, and stated that she need not be agent; he simply wanted her to recommend the washer after trial. She at first declined, but finally agreed to take one, and signed what purported to be a statement to that effect. Judge of her surprise when, about a week afterward, (no machines having been received,) she was called upon by a man representing himself to be a lawyer, who held in his hand an order for four dozen machines at three dollars each, signed by Mrs. Neal, and which, he said, was overdue. Her husband being absent, through threats and insults Mrs. Neal was led to sign a note for the amount of the order ($144) payable to order in sixty days at the South Berwick bank. The man then departed, and nothing has since been heard from company, agent or machines. Mrs. Neal advertises that she shall resist payment of the note, and cautions all persons against purchasing it.

A fire in a business block owned by Dixon Brothers, in High street, Great Falls, Monday morning, damaged the building to the amount of $1500, and caused other losses as follows: O'Brien Brothers, tailors, $1200; Free Press office, William Plummer & Co., grocers, and H. C. Goodwin, druggist, $1000 each; Charles Watson, grocer, $200; all insured. The fire was incendiary.

Dr. Hanson, who was on Saturday committed to jail by the police court to await trial on a charge of illegally practising medicine at Raymond, has made a complaint against Dr. True M. Gould of Raymond, charging him with letting a building for the illegal sale of liquor. The case will be tried on Friday. There is much feeling manifested in Raymond on both sides of the pill question.

The largest, handsomest and most delicious peaches that we have seen for some time are for sale by Locke & Whiddon, on Market street.

Jeremiah Manning and Henry Brown, two marines, were before the police court on Monday for drunkenness, and each assesed $9.90.

D. F. Borthwick has 10-4 sheets at a less price than the raw cotton can be purchased for.

The Solargraph Watch.

The 'Eastern Manufacturing Company' of Rockland, Maine, has been victimizing people by advertising to sell a solargraph watch and heavy plated chain for $1 The watch is nothing more than a sun dial and the chain a valueless affair.—Boston paper.

This is the concern to which the CHRONICLE gave a gratis puff some months ago. We received from the "company" the liberal offer of a "solargraph watch and heavy gold - plated chain, value $1, for nothing," if we would merely give them about ten dollars' worth of advertising. A good many papers must have accepted these flattering terms, for we saw the solargraph advertisement in quite a number of them; but we could not see our way clear to accommodate the "company" in the way they asked, so we gave them the puff referred to—and they are welcome to all the dollars it put into their pockets. We believe the "company" then hailed from Rockport, Mass.; but possibly he may have since then changed his post-office address.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Vandalia, with a section of the Pensacola dock in tow, passed Key West on the 15th inst., and was expected to reach Pensacola on the 19th.

The training ship Minnesota, with 586 naval apprentices on board, anchored in Hampstead harbor, Long Island, Friday evening, to remain until Monday, when she would leave for Gardiner's bay. The school ship St. Mary's, Comdr. Henry Erben, was at Hampstead, and would remain until the 23d inst.

Duncan's Debut.

[Manchester Mirror.]

The democrats who are paying the campaign expenses of the Maine greenbackers have caught a Tartar in the person of the famous Blanton Duncan of Kentucky, who will be recollected as the organizer and head of the straight-out democracy in the Greeley campaign. This individual was imported into the pine-tree State last week to help beat the republicans, and in his first speech he proceeded to notify the democrats that they were going to lose every northern State that holds an election this year; that they do not stand a ghost of a chance of electing the next President, and that their only chance is to go over, bag and baggage, to the greenbackers. Not only this, but he told them further that they richly deserved the hard fate in store for them. Speaking of the southern question, he said:—

The stories of outrage and murder of the black people have never been half told, painful as the pictures are that have been drawn. Much as the southern Bourbons may try, they cannot blot out the fact that the exodus is the result of political and business slavery of the blacks. "I have," he added, "a plantation in Bolivar county, Miss., and am, therefore, competent by association and education, to deal with this question knowingly."

Passing then to the subject of finance, he said that, on this, as on everything else, the democrats had been lagging after the republicans, about four years behind, ever since the war. That Voorhees and Pendleton and all the other democrats in Congress voted for contraction under McCullock, supported the gold legislation of 1869, followed Greeley in 1872, advocated specie payments, and in 1876 howled because the republicans had not brought about resumption, and now, when everything they have been clamoring for has been brought about, they turn and accuse the party in power of ruining the country by its financial policy. Such a party of trimmers and hypocritos, Col. Duncan thinks, has no right to live and is certain to die.

New Hampshire Items.

The Winnipiseogee Paper Company at Franklin Falls have begun an extension of their upper mill, in order to add another first-class Foudrinier machine, of the largest capacity, of which they have now three in their two mills, running day and night.

Andrew Simonds and Lewis C. Flanders of Hopkinton, charged with cruelty to a horse owned by Mrs. Sarah D. S. Putney, were arrested Friday night, and Saturday ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 each. Simonds got bonds, but Flanders went to jail. It is said the horse will die.

Michael Catine's house at Franklin was burned Saturday morning, with its contents. Loss $1200; insured.

An attempt was made at an early hour Sunday morning to murder Mrs. Margaret Fuller, the victim of the recent assault in Woodsville, while asleep in bed. Some person entered her room and struck her just over the right eye with some blunt instrument, inflicting an ugly but not dangerous wound. Her husband, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was aroused by her cries, and the assailant fled. Suspicion rests upon the Williams women, who previously assaulted Mrs. Fuller.

Political.

The democratic press of Maine is busily engaged in the defence of Greenbacker Smith. The attitude is such that there is no mistaking the fact that the democratic and greenback parties are one—or hope to be.

The republican congressional committee is in receipt of letters from all parts of Ohio giving the most favorable accounts of republican prospects in that State, and an emphatic majority is confi-

The supposed leading greenback candidate for governor in Wisconsin, George B. Goodwin, has written a sharp letter to the executive committee of the party, declaring himself a hard-money man and opposed to the greenback platform in every particular.

The Manchester Times hopes that if Jeff Davis ever goes to Washington it will be in irons under guard of some of the survivors of the Andersonville prison pen.

Every indication shows that the greenback issue is a last year's bird's-nest. With improving business, great crops, abundant currency, general employment and cheap living, the greenback argument is confined to those who were ruined by unwise speculations and those who learned their lessons like parrots and know not the meaning of what they utter. If we can have all the currency we want, as good as gold, any schoolboy can see that it is better than money which constantly fluctuates in relation to the world's standard of value, which is also our standard, whatever we may call money.—Boston Traveller.

—Charles G. Greene used to say: "To remedy a redundancy of style, practice writing advertisements and pay for them."

—In writing about his engagement of Blanche Davenport, Max Strakosch says: "I cannot describe her. She does not seem earthly. I saw her draw tears from strong men. I cried myself. She is simply divine." It is understood that the price of tickets will remain as usual, and that persons out of town can secure seats by telegraph without extra charge.—Albany Journal.

A Singular Show.

Nothing is more novel and stunning in its effect upon travellers from this country in England than the constant obtrusion of the everlasting six-pence in places where we should consider it an insult to all proper or sacred feeling. The prince imperial is not yet, it appears, finally buried. The coffin lies in a temporary chapel open to view, surrounded by the insignia of the Legion of Honor which the lad wore when alive, and by numerous crosses, wreaths, etc., given by the queen and royal princes on the day of the funeral. Ladies daily bring wreaths and heap them up outside of the grille, behind which the remains lie. The odd part of the matter to an American is that the whole affair — coffin, crowns, crosses and all—is exhibited to the public, from three to five daily, at a charge of a shilling per head, children half-price.

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this or that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continuous self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this terrible condition is Allan's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13th, 1878.

To the prop'rs of Allan's Anti-Fat:

Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat: "It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week, until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost." Yours resp'y,

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and filthy, and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed in the bath by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation of the bath and upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

18 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterwards. When the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

CHARLES W. GARDNER.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1872. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $250,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been perfected and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an experienced specialist.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal examination. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor," 1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50; or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," 100 pages, 10 cents postage.

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cataract (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, (Cut-Ear), Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, extending over many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical practice, on its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly. I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid, that I will pay the price for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatenings of Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not call this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 200 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office. Advice free before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the tenure of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done upon them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.50 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $5.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted. If subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D.

The Ticonderoga at St. Helena.

We have received a copy of the St. Helena Guardian of July 10th, and as many persons in this vicinity have friends on board the U. S. S. Ticonderoga we take from the Guardian the following account of how the 4th of July was spent at the island:

The presence of a United States flagship in our roadstead on the anniversary of the "Glorious Fourth" added considerable eclat to the celebration of the national fete day. At an early hour the masthends of the "Ticonderoga" and those of the foreign consulates were decorated with flags, the clerk of the weather being alone sullen and apparently opposed to the common rejoicings on the eventful morn. From early dawn the rain came down in good earnest and tested the patience of our gallant transatlantic cousins, who for hours were vainly struggling with the incessant downpour in the attempt to get their ship in proper trim for the reception appointed to be held at one o'clock P. M. As the day advanced, however, the clouds ceased to weep, so that by the time the salutes from the ship and forts were exchanged, there appeared to be a tolerable prospect of a fine afternoon, which was happily realized to the delight of all interested. At the time appointed, the boats of the "Ticonderoga" were at the landing place to convey the guests on board, and the gallant sons of Neptune soon selected partners for the first dance. Nothing could exceed the courtesy and attention displayed alike to all by Commodore Snufeldt, the commander and officers of the ship, to their numerous visitors, for whom a most recherche luncheon was provided in the wardroom. The fine poop of the vessel was extemporised into a very elegant ballroom, draped with the flags of all nations tastefully arranged, which together with the gay costumes of the ladies, blended with the handsome uniforms of the officers as they whirled in the exhilarating valse or the five formal figures of the lancers, rendered the scene peculiarly attractive, so that a most enjoyable afternoon rapidly glided away, and the prescribed limits (by common consent) were extended by an hour or two later to the mutual satisfaction of hosts and guests. His excellency the governor left the ship at five P. M. under a salute of seventeen guns, the marine guard being drawn up on the deck under command of Lieut. Mannix. The "Ticonderoga's," by their courteous demeanour and gentlemanly bearing, have quite won the hearts of our community. His excellency the governor gave a dinner party and soiree to the commodore and officers on Tuesday, the 24th ult., and some of the officers were entertained the same evening at the residence of the ex-vice consul. On Wednesday evening the members of the club gave a supper party in honor of the ship's visit to our port,—indeed we are always prepared to welcome our American cousins to our island homes" and before the departure of the "Ticonderagar on her long and interesting cruise, quite anticipate the pleasure of recording further exchanges of civilities between the ship and shore.

How Women Would Vote.

Were the question admitted to the ballot, and women were allowed to vote, every women in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. Dr. Pierce has received hundreds of grateful testimonials of its curative power.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, March 4th, 1878.

Dear Sir—For many months I was a great sufferer. Physicians could afford me no relief. In my despair I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription. It speedily effected my entire and permanent cure.

Yours thankfully,
MRS. PAUL R. BAXTER.

The Way Vanderbilt Succeeded.

When Commodore Vanderbilt was running steamboats, he beat all rivals by crowding on steam to the utmost, and even running down his enemy if necessary, to accomplish a triumph. When he went into railroading, he adopted a much shrewder and more successful way, by uniting vast lines and their tributaries under his own management, thus capturing all rivals, by sharing with them the immense pool of profits that were made by his skillful manipulation. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., accomplish a much greater success in stock operations by their new Combination Method of dealing. By this system the orders of thousands of customers are pooled into one vast sum and co-operated under the most experienced management, thus giving to each shareholder all the benefits of large capital and best skill. Profits divided monthly. Any amount from $5 to $25,000 can be used with great success. $15 will make $75 profit. $80 would return $720 or nine per cent on the stock during the month, according to the market. The new circular (mailed free) has "two unerring rules for success" and full explanations, so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. city.

—A young woman, who had never learned the gentle art of cooking, being desirous of impressing her husband with her knowledge and diligence, manages to have the kitchen door ajar on the day after their return from their bridal tour, and just as her lord comes in from the office, exclaims loudly "Hurry up, Eliza, do! Haven't you washed the lettuce yet? Here, give it to me; where's the soap?"

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1879.

Arrest of Mr. Frye's Murderers.

Two of the murderers of Joseph F. Frye were arrested in Boston on Tuesday, and confess their guilt. From their confession it appears that there were at least three, and probably four, persons concerned in the murder, which was deliberately planned and mercilessly carried out. The fellows in custody are two Italian barbers of a low class; one called Nicolas, about sixteen years old, who often visited Mr. Frye; and a friend of his called "the Greek." These two persons visited Mr. Frye's house by invitation on the night of the murder, going there at eight o'clock and passing the time till eleven in playing billiards, partaking of refreshments, etc. A third Italian, called Larry, was outside the house, watching. Under pretence of examining the house Nicolas and the Greek accompanied Mr. Frye into the basement at about eleven o'clock. By preconcerted arrangement the Greek, who was behind, struck Mr. Frye with a closed pair of shears, and also inflicted the stabs in the back. The man struggled and screamed, at the same time seizing Nicolas' hand and begging him not to kill him. The Greek ordered Nicolas to fire, saying if he did not he (the Greek) would kill him too. The boy then fired the fatal shot. The injured man soon grew weak and dropped upon the floor. The boy Nicolas cocked the pistol and again snapped it, but it did not explode, and when he had again cocked it Mr. Frye was dead, and the murderer laid his weapon carefully in the coal hod, where it was found. The assassins then rifled the pockets of their victim, taking the watch and chain and keys. Proceeding up stairs the safe was opened and rifled of such articles as they considered of value. Both men took off the marble slab thinking to find something under it. They supposed their victim to be a very wealthy man, and were sorely disappointed at securing such a small amount of booty. They secured no money at all. All the property stolen has been recovered.

The Storm.

The heavy storm that prevailed along the coast of the Atlantic on Saturday night, Sunday and Monday, was in reality a double storm, one from the west and another from the south having struck the coast together at North Carolina, and extended to Newfoundland. The rainfall was very heavy, and some damage was caused by floods. The gale was heaviest on Monday along the coast from North Carolina to New Jersey; along the New England coast the hardest blow was on Monday night.

At Beaufort, N. C., Monday, the sea ran so high as to knock down the Atlantic house, the largest hotel in that part of the country, the guests escaping at the last moment. All the wharves in Beaufort were swept away. At Morehead City the market, school-house, wharf, Methodist church, etc., were destroyed.

At Wilmington, N. C., the German barque Marie went ashore; her masts were cut away, and she had seven feet of water in her hold. The British barque Katie Bonafield was also driven ashore, but would get off without damage.

A large coasting schooner with her sails blown away came to anchor near the beach at Atlantic City, N. J., Monday, and her crew of five men lashed themselves to the rigging. The life-saving crew were on hand, but were unable to rescue the men up to Monday night.

Steamer Providence, from Fall River for New York, was detained at Newport Monday night.

The storm was very severe in Boston harbor and on the cape. The yacht fleet at South Boston suffered greatly, many boats foundering, being stove to pieces, or going on shore. At Nantasket the boats and bathing houses were knocked around, and the guests in the hotels terribly frightened, but no great harm was done. The Portuguese schooner Adelaide, from the Cape de Verde islands for Boston, went ashore at Marshfield; crew saved. At Cotuit Port, on Cape Cod, a large yacht went ashore; at Hyannis four vessels were beached, and one at Yarmouth; and an unknown schooner, dismasted, sank near Truro, the fate of her crew being unknown. Schooner Yankee became a total wreck at Duxbury; crew saved. At Gloucester six vessels went ashore, but most of them will get off. At Newburyport about twenty small boats were sunk, and four yachts destroyed, steamers and schooners at the wharves being wrenched and chafed. At Plymouth a number of yachts were sunk or driven on shore, and at Newport, R. I., the yacht fleet was treated in the same way. No loss of life is yet reported.

The Yellow Fever.

Five new cases and two deaths were reported at Memphis Monday afternoon. Several new cases were reported at a point four miles from the city.

Brig Georgia, from Jamaica, and barque Belle Wooster, from Sagua La Grande, arrived at quarantine at Philadelphia on Monday, with yellow fever aboard.

Schooner Susan Stetson, from Miragoane for Boston, arrived at Dutch Island harbor Friday. The captain's wife died at Miragoane, and two seamen on the passage home. The survivors are all well.

Eleven new cases and four deaths were reported up to noon on Tuesday, at Memphis.

News and Notes.

A rotten bridge over the Housatonic river at Stockbridge, Mass., fell on Tuesday as a carriage containing six persons was crossing it. One man was killed and two women badly injured, the others escaping with slight hurts.

The partially decomposed remains of a body, supposed to be that of Samuel E. Albright, who killed William K. Miller, at Montgomery's Ferry, Penn., on the 4th of August, was found in a cave near the scene of the murder, Sunday. He is supposed to have committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

William Fields, of Southport, Me., his daughter, aged eleven years, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Westman, were drowned a few days ago by the sinking of their yacht.

J. A. Duffee, of Ottawa, Canada, was drowned at Old Orchard, Me., on Sunday, while bathing. He was one of the best swimmers at the beach, and was probably taken with cramp. His body was washed ashore.

Jefferson Jack, a wealthy farmer of Pottstown, Pa., aged seventy-six years, and his hired man, named Holman, have been arrested for complicity in the murder of Samuel Crooks, of Pottstown.

It is now stated that there is an agreement among the European powers that Turkey shall be compelled to carry out the treaty of Berlin, in regard to the rectification of the Greek frontier.

A despatch from Calcutta says the drouth in Cashmere continues. The terrible famine has already carried off half the population.

Severe storms are reported in England, which have damaged crops and caused great injury to property in many large cities.

The man to whom the note was addressed by Miss Roche, who committed suicide by jumping from the steamer Bristol on Saturday night, is Jonas Langfeld, of the firm of Langfeld & Co. of Philadelphia. He has been in business in that city for some years and bears a good reputation. He is a Jew, and twenty-eight years old. He left his home Sunday morning, and had not returned at night. His father says he knows nothing whatever concerning Miss Roche.

A. N. Adams, of Boston, accused of complicity in the Jennie P. Clark murder, has been released from jail, bonds in $15,000 having been furnished by several persons, to one of whom he is to report every evening.

What other preparations fail to do, Hall's Hair Renewer surely accomplishes. It renews the hair and especially restores its color when gray and faded. As a dressing it is unsurpassed, making the hair moist, soft and glossy. The most economical preparation ever offered, its effects remain a long time, and those who have once made a trial of it will never use any other.—Advertiser and Union, Fredonia, N. Y.

Henry L. Hill has been singularly unfortunate in the breaking of limbs in his family and farm stock during his residence of four years in Derry; two of his children have each broken an arm, and a cow and a horse each broken a leg. On Friday, the 8th inst., Mrs. Hill, while descending the cellar stairs with a pan of milk, slipped and broke her leg. On the following Monday another horse got stuck in the mud, and broke a leg.

While Alonzo Gove of Hanover, and Caleb Soper, a medical student of Warrensburg, N. Y., were swinging Monday in the Dartmouth college gymnasium, the ropes broke, precipitating them to the floor with great force. Soper escaped with slight injury, but Gove's condition is critical.

AROUND HOME.

The light-house tender, with Capt. Skerrett, light-house inspector of the first district, on board, arrived at this port on Monday. She has been making the quarterly tour of inspection of the district.

Boatswain John McCaffery, stationed at this navy yard, has received orders to report for duty on board the U. S. S. Shenandoah, now fitting out at New York as the flag ship of the South Atlantic squadron.

The aqueduct company's rain-gauge showed that five and a half inches of water fell during the late storm, three inches of it during Monday night. That sounds very large, but the aqueduct men stick to it.

One would have supposed that the drenching rain of Monday night would have kept the dust down for twenty-four hours, but it did not, for very respectable clouds of dust were blown along Congress street Tuesday afternoon.

The proprietors of Newcastle bridge have elected as directors for the ensuing year, Mark H. Wentworth, David Urch, William M. Spinney, Charles W. Rogers, and Ephraim Urch. The directors have chosen David Urch president of the board.

The commotion in political circles last week, caused by the lively canvassing for the different municipal offices, seems to have subsided, and we expect on Friday morning to chronicle the news that the police force as now constituted has been re-elected, which will satisfy the citizens generally much better than any radical change would do.

Senator Thurman, in a published interview, recently told a reporter: "While at the Isles of Shoals, which is just within the borders of the State of Maine, I heard nothing of the probable result of the election in that State. I went there to find a place out of the reach of newspapers, reporters and political talk, and I am happy to say I found it, and I am sorry that I had to leave it."

A trifling error, due to the omission of several words by the compositor, got into the description in Tuesday's CHRONICLE of the yacht Mr. Dixon of Kittery is building for Mr. Decatur. The item said her mast would be "twenty-six feet and eight inches in diameter;" it is not to be so large, as such a spar would be too heavy for a boat only twenty feet long on the water line. The mast will be twenty-six feet and eight inches long, and eight inches in diameter.

The established and reliable firm of Ayers & Locke call attention in another column to their very extensive and complete stock of goods suited for the early fall trade, and specify a few of the many bargains they are offering in dry goods. Their store is headquarters for carpet-buyers in this vicinity, they keeping on hand the largest and most varied assortment to be found in the city, and having especial advantages for showing their goods to intending purchasers.

Submarine divers recently visited the U. S. S. Portsmouth, at Portland, Me., and made a careful examination of her bottom to ascertain the damage inflicted by the recent grounding of the ship on Moore's rock, off York, on the passage from this port to Portland. They found that the hull had received no damage save the loss of a few sheets of copper, but the false keel was somewhat injured, not enough, however, to require immediate attention. The examination occupied some four hours.

While some churches have half-day services on Sunday, and others close their houses of worship entirely during the hot weather, the church in South Hampton supports four services each sabbath, through the season. On the afternoon of Aug. 3d. with the mercury at ninety, the pastor preached forty minutes to forty hearers, and was in readiness in the evening to conduct the fourth service; the condition of the forty hearers is not stated.

The coming State fair to be held in Dover on the 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th of September, promises to be the most attractive of any fair held in the State for years. The premiums to be awarded amount to $10,000, of which $7000 will be given as agricultural and stock awards. The amount devoted to purses for the trotting meeting is $3000, the entries closing on the 25th inst. at the American house in Dover. Gov. Head and staff will be present daily during the continuance of the fair. An immense number of box stalls, cattle pens, sheds, etc., are being erected, the grand stand enlarged and paint applied, and the grounds cleared up, making everything look clean and handsome. The managers are working hard to outdo all previous efforts and make this the most successful show ever known in New Hampshire.

The party of young men who started from Dover at six o'clock on the morning of the 9th inst., for New York and Albany, in schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Garland, arrived at New York at six o'clock on Saturday morning, the 16th, just seven days from home. The first night out they laid at anchor in Star island roads at the Shoals, proceeding next day and making about seventy miles, there being more sea than wind; some of the party were so seasick that there was talk of putting into Gloucester and landing them but they stuck it out and were soon all right, and the rest of the passage was greatly enjoyed by all hands. The schooner took a berth at one of the East river piers, the excursionists proposing to take other conveyance up the Hudson if they went; and it was intended by them to start on their return Tuesday, if the weather was favorable.

The camp of the "Chouaguen association" at Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, was very roughly handled by the heavy blow Monday night. The boys had their tents as well secured as possible, but the thin coating of earth on top of the rock does not offer a very good hold for tent poles and pegs, and the canvas soon went down before the gale. The cooking-tent was turned inside out and the stove capsized, tin pots and pans went on exploring expeditions over the end of the point, and the crockery ware was seriously demoralized. The dining tent and the big sleeping tent immediately followed suit to the cooking-tent's lead, and the boys were glad to take refuge in Seaside lodge, which stood the blow unharmed, with whatever wreck stuff from their camp they could lay hands on in the darkness and pouring rain. They came home on Tuesday, old Boreas having effectually "broken camp" for them the night before. So heavy a blow at this time of the year is very unusual, and it is probable that this one was the "line gale," the clerk of the weather having made a blunder of a month in his reckoning. It made the "Chouaguens" strike a bee line for home, anyway.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Aug. 19; Batchelder, J.

Ellen Harrington and a young man, for drunkenness, were fined $3 each and $6.90 costs. Their financial affairs being in an embarrassed condition, they both went up.

THE STORM.

At a few minutes past nine o'clock on Monday evening the order was received at the signal station in this city to display cautionary signals. The wind was at the time blowing a stiff breeze, with the rain falling in torrents; and from that time the wind increased in violence as the night advanced, until it developed into a strong gale. The amount of damage from wind and rain in this vicinity is considerable, mainly to crops. Corn has suffered worse than anything else, a large part of it being laid flat; much of it will however recover. Fruit trees were stripped of a large part of their fruit, and a few fences blown down.

In this city, beyond the shaking off of unripe fruit, and the uprooting of four or five shade trees on the streets, no harm was done save the throwing down of a few signs and awnings. A large elm opposite the academy and a locust near the jail were blown over.

At the Shoals the force of the wind was felt very severely. Several of the boats broke from their moorings, and were driven on the rocks and stove to pieces or badly injured. All the awnings on both islands were destroyed. The guests at the hotels, most of whom were ignorant of what it was to feel the full force of a storm, were treated to an entire novelty; and many of them were so much excited by it as to be unable to sleep through the night. The wind blew with such force that two ladies who were entering a door leading from the piazza to the hall-way were thrown flat on the floor. The steamer Appledore remained at her landing at Star island during the night, and although the sea broke completely over her upper deck she sustained no material damage, and arrived in all safe, although somewhat late.

At Rye, Hampton and York beaches the hotel guests were considerably exercised in their minds, but no serious damage is reported to either persons or buildings.

Chronicle Correspondence.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 18th.

Very little has transpired here since I last wrote you that would interest either you or your readers; but some wise person has said that the times poorest to read about are the best to live in. I would not care for this monotony always, or for any length of time, but it is well enough for a few days. It hardly seems like being in the world, but more like being away from it and looking on with no very extended vision; we get no news except through the papers, and the people here do not seem to care what is going on outside as long as they can get cottages to live in, a plenty to eat and drink and a chance to go to meeting or to play croquet. The last two may not seem to go together very well, but nevertheless they comprise about all that is done here in the way of improvement or amusement. In fair weather the boys indulge in base ball, and they have also measured the distance of a quarter of a mile, in a circle, and have walking and running, rivalling, for ought I know, Weston and O'Leary, or the classic games described in the fifth book of Virgil's Æneid. Friday evening the young ladies from Portsmouth had a candy pull at their cottage on Adams avenue; it is supposed to have been a sweet affair, and I am assured it was much enjoyed. By the way, the young ladies from Portsmouth are among the handsomest on the grounds,—I cannot say as much for the masculines, but if the editor of the CHRONICLE were only here, he would make the gallery complete.

On Saturday commenced one of the wettest rains on record, the only storm that has never yet cleared off. I know it was a wet rain, for I heard one of the shrewdest ladies upon the grounds give directions that the water hogshead near her cottage should be uncovered, saying it might not catch much more, but it would wet what was already in it.

Sunday there was preaching in the morning, at the Great Falls tent, by Rev. Dr. Adams. His text was Mal. III, 16 and 17. Dr. Adams is an able preacher. He went on in his clear way to speak of the fear of the Lord, of thought and sociability in religion, and finally of the advantages of a religious life. As you and your readers are theologically inclined, I will leave you to imagine the rest. In the afternoon there was a Sunday-school exercise, at the Great Falls tent, under the charge of Rev. Mr. Culver of Bristol. At the same hour there was a Children's school at the tent of Grace church, Haverhill. There were present about sixty, perhaps more, and the exercises were conducted by Rev. J. M. Bean of Milton Mills and S. W. Clarke of Portsmouth. The evening prayer meeting was fully attended and was conducted by Rev. G. W. Norris of Manchester.

To-day I have been cleaning-house. The modus operandi was as follows: I got two pails of water and a long-handled dipper; I then took a dipper-ful of water and then threw it (the water, not the dipper) at the house, and the whole of it came down plump in my face. I then remembered I had some writing to do that must be attended to. If I have not made myself understood in this communication, it is because I was somewhat bewildered by my house-cleaning operations.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Trenton arrived at Gravesend Aug. 5th, from Copenhagen.

The practice ship Saratoga, from New Bedford, arrived at Newport, R. I., on the 16th inst. The steamers Standish and Mayflower left Newport for Egg harbor on the 17th.

The Hartford and Essex were at Montevideo July 9th, and would leave in a few days for Rio Janeiro.

Capt. Robert F. R. Lewis is ordered to the command of the Shenandoah, now at New York, and Lieut. Comdr. William S. Dana is ordered as executive officer of the same vessel. Lieut. Wm. W. Meade is detached from the torpedo station at Newport, Lieut. Wm. A. Morgan and Passed Asst. Surgeon Frank B. Stephenson from the Boston navy yard, Lieut. Robert E. Carmody from command of the torpedo boat Intrepid, and all ordered to the Shenandoah. Paymaster James E. Tolfree is ordered to the Shenandoah, and to discharge the duties of fleet paymaster of the South Atlantic station.

A Great Calf.

A correspondent writes that "Mr. Vincent M. Sanborn of Franklin has a cow which on the 5th of April last produced a bull calf that weighed 135 pounds when two days old, and 540 pounds on Aug. 5th, when four months old, being a gain of three and a quarter pounds a day. The calf on the latter date girthed four feet and six inches. The cow girths six feet and four inches, and weighs 1408 pounds. Cow and calf are of the Durham breed."

—Poor boys play "shinny." Rich young men play same game on horseback and call it "Polo," and put the game into the newpapers.

—Student fresh from college, to conductor: "I wish to get on the penultima car." Conductor—"We have no peanut car; you can take the smoker." Mutually disgusted.

—A man may go fishing and catch a handsome string of fish, and lose them out of the back of the wagon coming home, or have them grabbed by the dog at the house where he left his team, but he can never tell the story and have it believed.

Political.

The New York Tribune publishes the following statement:—"The Maine republicans should be apprised that large sums of money from democratic and greenback sources are being sent to their State. It can be said on authority as good as any in the city of New York, that a thousand-dollar draft on a New York bank, which left this city not a great while since, came back from Maine bearing the indorsement of Mr. Dana of the democratic committee and Mr. William Philbrick of the greenback committee. Mr. Philbrick's name was the last, and the thousand dollars lodged in his hands. Maine friends will know who these parties are, and will estimate the significance of the transaction. Maine was a very zealous Tilden State in 1876, and Mr. Tilden is a man of large wealth."

The Most Popular Girl.

The most popular girl in America today is Miss Anna W. Williams, a modest teacher in one of the public schools in Philadelphia, if we may judge by the struggle people of every rank and condition in life make to secure her likeness. Men toil early and late, commit crime and do all manner of evil to secure the impress of her faultless profile even. Women sell that, the price whereof is above rubies, that they may possess her counterfeit features, though they have never seen or known the original. Not one of the many beautiful women whose photographs, taken in a hundred different positions, are in the stock of numberless picture stores, are nearly so much sought after as that of the modest Miss Williams. Statesmen, merchants, soldiers and laboring men make the goal of their ambition the possession of the gentle Anna's likeness, and why? Because it is her face that is stamped on the silver dollar, she having set for the artist who designed the head of the Goddess of Liberty which adorns that coin.

When we reflect that a power of endurance can be imparted to the brain, and that weak minds have been restored to strength by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, we cannot but conclude that the subtile power is really podendable matter. Persons who study hard should preserve their balance of power by using the syrup.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, which are proved internally by CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Dandruffy and Scaly Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of these thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath, at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the cities were disinfected. I felt I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than the CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had much good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. AND E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER S. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms treated within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the care of those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50), "Invalids' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Hare-lip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer (cancer in the breast), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cataract, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have perfected to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation for a period of over 20 years of positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, stamed it as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effective remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottles.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Womb, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatening Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 200 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats plainly of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fee for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to interferences. All cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and Litigation generally, prosecuted. Send for Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & Co. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,207,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & Co. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & Co., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & Co. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1879.

The Storm.

The details of the great storm show it to have been the most disastrous one for yachts and other small craft that has occurred for years.

At Norfolk, Va., buildings were unroofed, trees blown over and vessels driven ashore, wharves washed away, one church steeple thrown down and two other churches injured, the damages being estimated at more than a quarter of a million dollars.

At Portsmouth, Va., many buildings, including the Catholic church and city jail, were unroofed, and a large warehouse and a new foundry blown down; over one hundred and fifty buildings were injured. At the navy yard a great deal of damage was done, and a general suspension of work occurred. The roof of the marine barracks was blown off, the steam dredge and pile-driver beached and the receiving ship Franklin forced from her moorings and grounded. The sea wall of the naval hospital was washed away, and extensive damage done the beautiful grounds.

A dead white woman was found lashed to the rigging of a schooner off Gwynn's island, Va., on the 20th inst. The crew are supposed to have been lost.

The vessels in several Massachusetts ports suffered heavily. At Wareham, Salem, and several of the ports on Cape Cod, many of the small craft were driven on shore or foundered at their anchors. The Yarmouth camp-meeting was broken up, and the trains for Boston were crowded the day after the storm by people hurrying away from the cape and Martha's Vineyard.

At Cottage City, Martha's Vineyard, the houses were shaken like reeds and the inmates terribly frightened; the landings at Oak Bluffs and the Highlands were damaged, the narrrow-gauge railroad badly washed, and two bridges rendered impassable, while bath houses and tents were knocked around like nine-pins. The vessels at anchor in Vineyard Haven were well sheltered, and but little damage was done to them.

Yachts Thistle, Harry C. Whorf, Undine, Fairy and Topsy, which left Plymouth, Mass., on the 18th inst., had not been heard of up to noon on the 20th, and it is feared are lost. At least eighteen persons were on the five vessels.

At Portland the yacht Idler sank at her moorings, and several vessels were driven ashore, while the tents of the campers out on the islands down the harbor were nearly all blown away.

Back from the seacoast the storm appears to have done no serious damage, though the rain was very heavy and the wind high.

State Temperance Camp-Meeting.

The 4th annual session of the State Temperance Camp-meeting Association commences at one o'clock P. M. on Wednesday of next week, at the Weirs camp-ground, holding over the Sabbath. The following prominent speakers will be present, with others: Gov. Natt Head, Hon. J. H. Gallinger, Ex-Gov. Harriman, Miss Frances E. Willard, of Illinois, Mrs. J. K. Barney of Rhode Island, and Messrs. Booth and Smith of Massachusetts. Although the great aim of the meeting is, and will be, to inculcate "Gospel temperance," strengthen the reformed, and advance the cause of temperance, yet arrangements have been made for social and entertaining enjoyment. The mammoth stereopticon, which added so much to the enjoyment of the last meeting, has been engaged, with a new set of scenes. Among other things thrown upon the canvas will be the songs and hymns to be sung at the evening services. Steamers will also be in readiness to convey excursion parties to any point in the lake. There will also be some very fine solo singing at the evening entertainments. Mrs. Clark Wilson, sister of the lamented P. P. Bliss, is expected to be present, and assist with her wonderful singing.

Naval Matters.

The U. S. S. Wachusett, Comdr. Wilson, arrived at New York on the 19th inst, from Key West. She lost two boats and had her spanker gaff broken in the blow of the 18th.

The U. S. S. Constellation, Commander McNair, arrived below New Bedford on the 19th inst., from Newport, R. I.

A Washington despatch says the U. S. S. Tennessee, now at the Brooklyn navy yard, is to be got ready for sea without delay, and that she will be put into commission early next month. The impression having become general that she will be ordered to the Mediterranean, the secretary says all the young naval officers in the service on leave are anxious to be ordered for duty on the Tennessee. Where she will be ordered, the secretary says, will not be made known until she is put in commission.

News and Notes.

The murder of Joseph F. Frye by a gang of young thieves and assassins will afford the gushing sentimentalists of Massachusetts another excellent opportunity to whimper about "humanity," and "poor boys" and "were impelled to do it," a la the Jesse Pomeroy affair. We look to see a most imposing procession of weak-minded women and sap-headed men moving on the governor's office to save the poor boys from being severely punished merely for committing a cold-blooded and atrocious murder.

An insane woman named Smith, living at Waitsfield, Vt., on Tuesday attacked a carpenter who was doing some work at the house occupied by her and her sister, striking him with a chisel and cutting off one ear. The chisel went so deep as to expose the jugular vein, inflicting a fatal wound.

In Baltimore, on the 19th inst., Frank Bogden, colored, shot and instantly killed his wife Susan. Earlier in the day Bogden put her out of the house, and told her if she came back he would kill her. She attempted to return, when he fired upon her with an old army musket. Bogden was arrested.

Rev. W. R. Tillinghast, rector of Trinity Episcopal church of Detroit, while camping out on Fox island, at the mouth of Detroit river, a few days ago, was accidentally killed by the careless handling of a revolver by a young man named Wright.

A sheriff's posse and a number of Italian coal-burners had a fight at Fish creek, near Eureka, Nevada, on the evening of the 18th inst., during which five of the Italians were killed and six wounded, and several prisoners taken. None of the sheriff's men were injured. This sounds very much like a report of a "negro riot" in the south just before election.

Besides the Italian and Greek who actually murdered Joseph F. Fyre, two other Italians are in custody for complicity in the crime. They are both barbers. One, Vincenzo Bandiera, twenty-five years old, is charged with being accessory before the fact, the murder having been planned at his shop and in his presence. The other, Joseph Donati, is held as an accessory after the fact, the stolen property having been placed in his care by the murderers, and concealed by him. A fifth scoundrel is wanted, an Italian named Saro Chiovara, alias Larry O'Neil who planned the murder and watched outside the house while it was committed. Five pieces of hemp rope should be promptly called into use.

James M. Stevens, who on the 11th inst. murdered his wife near Fincastle, Va., has committed suicide. After killing his wife, he took to the woods and remained concealed a week, when he returned home, and seating himself on a block of wood in the yard, shot himself through the heart with the same weapon used upon his wife. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

A daring attempt was made during the night of the 19th inst. to rob the vault of the Long Branch banking company by five men, who assaulted, gagged and bound the police officer on the street, entered the bank and attempted to blow open the safe with gunpowder, but fled at the sound of the explosion without obtaining a dollar.

There was great excitement in Fall River, Mass., on the evening of the 19th inst., caused by the arrest of George B. Durfee, ex-treasurer of the Mechanics' mill, on a warrant charging him with the embezzlement of $35,000 from the mill. He was locked up, and all efforts to procure bail were fruitless. The second and greater cause of excitement was the announcement that Walter Paine, 3d, the defaulting treasurer of the American Linen mill, had left for parts unknown. A warrant for his arrest was issued at the instigation of the mill directors for the embezzlement of $20,000, but the officers found that the man was gone. It is believed that he has left the country, and that his fraudulent operations are greater than yet reported.

The detail of eight soldiers which left Vinita, Indian Territory, in search of Capt. Secrist, mail contractor, who had been missing three weeks, found the body with a bullet wound in the head and nearly eaten up by wolves, some 180 miles southwest of Vinita and thirty from the stage route. While there the soldiers were told that there was a gang of fifty desperadoes in the hills in the neighborhood, who sent word to the soldiers that if they wanted to see them to come on. If this gang is as large as is represented, the border towns of Kansas are in danger of raids. One town, Carreyville, has already been successfully pillaged. If nothing is done to capture them they will try to lay their hands on larger towns. The soldiers found no trace of the three men who accompanied Secrist, and the supposition is that they were also murdered.

In 1854 the whig admirers of Henry Clay presented him with a vase of solid silver two and a half feet high, spendidly fabricated. Now his spendthrift grandson places it on the market for sale. The Clays are sadly degenerating.

Four months ago Mr. A. J. Swanton of Richmond, Me., lost his pocket-book containing some valuable papers, and on Saturday last, while on his way down town, his attention was called to his dog rubbing against his leg, and to his astonishment he found that the animal had the lost pocket-book in his mouth, and on examining it he found everything all right.

An Iowa law remits a certain percentage of taxes for five years on every acre of fruit and for ten years on every acre of forest trees planted within the State and kept alive. Under this stimulus more than seventy-five thousand acres of fruit and forest trees has been planted, and there has been a remission of State and county taxes to the amount of about $200,000.

Queen Victoria's journeys from England to Scotland are estimated to cost $10,000 apiece. A pilot engine precedes the royal train. The express trains on the Deeside railroad only run when she is at Balmoral.

The bed of the river along the front of New Orleans is being covered with thick mat of cane, strongly wired together, and weighted with bags of sand. The object is to protect the shore from being washed out by varying currents.

Kate Baker, the divorced wife of Edwin Price, the present husband of Fanny Davenport, publishes a statement that she was not paid $5,000 to give him up, as has been stated in the papers. She says that she got only the $60 a month alimony allowed by the court, according to agreement.

The small, meek-looking wife of Tom Cottrell, a Missouri horse thief, followed him weeping out of a St. Joseph court room, after his trial and conviction. In the corridor she flew at the sheriff like a tigress, threw him on the floor, and thus enabled the prisoner to mount a mule and escape.

Maj. Hubbell and Capt. Smith spent a night in drunkenness, at Goshen, Ind., and on the following morning awoke with aching heads, and heartily ashamed of themselves. The captain proposed suicide, and the major said that the idea was excellent. They bought a vial of morphine, drank it, and died. The affair gave the local total abstinence society an opportunity, which they improved by closing every barroom in the village.

Groves and Godnight, Presbyterian clergymen, announced in Texas that they had received a special divine revelation in which the end of the world within ten years was foretold. Their presbytery expelled them, but they are making many converts, and have started a sect called the Tabernacle of the Coming Lord. They preach that Grant, re-elected in 1880, will invade and subdue Europe, overthrow Romanism, and finally meet a downfall—after which the millenium.

There is no doubt that we are beginning an era of healthful prosperity. Nothing can check it. We are the granary for the world. Our crop this year is enormous. Industries thrive. Last year we put down over 3000 miles of railroad. This year it will be 4000. The only question is whether the prosperity will continue. It is bound to continue, I think, but we shall have no era of high prices; simply a healthy, remunerative business, with moderate prices, that will enable consumers to go on with their enterprises. This is true prosperity. High prices check progress. We have got to that stage when everything will go on without an era of high prices.—Hon. Abram G. Hewitt.

—Charles Jarrett became a widower at Buena Vista, Texas, and his head was so turned by freedom that within a month he married three women in as many counties.

—Captain Baylis of the steamer Old Colony, finding a set of sharpers on board one trip recently, took off his uniform, went in and out among them, imitated their signals to each other, and as soon as they began their contemplated work of rifling the passengers sleeping on cots, arrested and confined them.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 21, 2 A.M.

Slightly warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, westerly winds backing to southerly, stationary or falling barometer.

AROUND HOME.

The market was almost bare of fresh fish on the 20th inst., only halibut and blue-fish being obtainable. A number of boats came in, but had no fares.

A fine pleasure yacht belonging to M. Charles Bell, one of the summer visitors at Little Boar's Head, was sunk at her moorings during the storm of Monday night.

As a boy named Arthur Locke was turning a cow out of her stable, in Dover on the 16th inst., the animal was frightened at seeing a man pass with a rubber cape on, and kicked the boy over, his leg being badly broken in the fall.

The broken spar buoy at Governor's island ledge has been replaced by a whole one, but the new one is under all the time except at slack water, just as the other was—and as any other one would be. A buoy does not amount to much on that ledge, when the tide is running.

The Boston papers of the 20th contained a despatch from Gloucester, Mass., that "The packet schooner Lizzie Smith, running between Dover, N. H., and Boston, went ashore at Long beach, Annisquam harbor, on the night of the 18th inst., and will probably have to be launched." We think there is no such vessel on the route mentioned.

The schooner John E. Hurst, belonging to Elizabeth, N. J., a vessel of 126 tons register that has been running from the coal ports to the Piscataqua for some time, was run into on the 18th inst. off Newcastle, Del., by the steamship Camden, bound from Genoa for Philadelphia, and went down in five minutes after being struck. The schooner was on her way from Philadelphia to Newmarket with a cargo of coal. Crew saved.

The committee who are looking up the unmarked graves of soldiers and sailors of the late war, with the view of accepting the offer of the government to furnish headstones for the same, are experiencing some difficulty in securing the correct data as to the time of birth, death, et cetera, to place on some ten or more of them. Any information left with Mr. John H Locke will be gladly received, as the Grand Army are anxious to send the roster to Washington at an early day in order to have the stones engraved and put in position.

The fellow calling himself E. W. Johnson, who stole a team from Stoddord Bros. of this city a few weeks ago and was lodged in jail at Exeter to await trial for that crime, was believed by Sheriff Kent to be a noted criminal who under various names has for some years been engaged in committing similar offences in this State and Massachusetts. Having procured strong proof that his suspicions were correct, the sheriff has had several interviews with the thief, who at first refused to give any information as to his former life, but finally made a partial confession of many unlawful acts. He has followed the "profession" of horse-thief for years, and served five terms in State prisons, the last one for embezzlement and larceny. He has carried on his thieving operations under many assumed names, among them being George Washington Johnson, George Williams, Albert Williams, E. T. Ames, E. W. Ames, and George White. He is about fifty-nine years old, but refuses to give his true name, or to tell where he belongs. Sheriff Kent on the 20th inst. received a letter from Warden Chamberlain, of the Concord, Mass., State prison, giving a description of a convict who has served time in prison in that State, which answers in every particular to the description of Johnson, or whatever his name may be. If he is the same, he was released from the Massachusetts prison last winter, having been sent there from Lawrence three years ago. Sheriff Kent has had him photographed.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18th.

All the long list of attorneys "suspended from practice" at the interior department last March, have now been "restored." They can go on with what is now left of their business—that is, with what other attorneys have not in the meantime taken possession of. I ask every reader's attention to the fact that in March last a dozen attorneys of this city, without trial or investigation, were summarily forbidden to practice further before the interior department, and that in every case, upon investigation, they were found "not guilty" of any offense. The hardship lies in the fact that such suspension, even for a short time, may ruin a business which the lifetime of a man has been spent in creating, or in which a fortune has been invested. No one man—certainly none who can make so strange a use of power as was done in March last, as above stated—should have such arbitrary authority. It would seem that Congress, if it would only inquire into the matter, would put a check upon government officials in this respect.

Consul General Moseby refuses to let alone the subject of the alleged irregularities and dishonesty of some of our official representatives in China. In a letter to the State department, dated in February, but now just published, he recites what he considers heavy frauds upon the United States.

Senator Harris, who introduced the resolution appropriating $4000 for the building of a monument at the birthplace of Washington, will, by invitation of Secretary of State Evarts, accompany that official when he makes the preliminary examination of the spot. He says he hopes that Congress, at its next session, will increase the amount considerably, and he will make an early effort in that direction.

Our worshipful good masters, the appointed commissioners of the District—we have no elective officers here—have concluded since a decision of the Supreme Court of the District against the legality of their new and onerous water tax, that they would pay back the illegal tax already collected if they could, but they rejoice in the fact that it is already in the treasury, and can't be got out without an act of Congress.

The number of men in the Washington navy yard for a part of the latter half of August is unusually large. The present practice there is not to discharge men on account of lack of work, but to give each one of the employes some work in each half month, and on the 1st and 15th of each month to furlough a portion of them as many days as are necessary to bring the force down to the amount of work to be done. It is noticeable that no fault is found by the men with this arrangement, and it has been decided to continue it in force while the present scarcity of work continues, and to introduce it whenever the like circumstances occur. The Yantic is undergoing repairs at the yard, and nearly completed. This is another instance of building a new ship under the pretext of repairing an old one, almost nothing of the old ship remaining,—the building of new ships being prohibited by law without special act of Congress for that purpose. KNOX.

New Hampshire Items.

The contract for erecting the new Amory mill at Manchester, has been awarded to Creesy & Noyes of Boston, the same parties who are building the State prison at Concord. There were nine bidders.

John Goodhue, while digging a well for the use of the steam saw mill at West Henniker, found at the depth of six feet, embedded in the hardpan, an eel eighteen inches in length. After being exposed to the air a short time it became full of life.

A general order has been issued from the Adjutant-General's office, ordering the First Brigade New Hampshire National Guard into camp as follows:—First regiment at Manchester on Tuesday, September 9th; second regiment at Keene on Tuesday, Sept. 16th; third regiment at Concord, Tuesday, Sept. 23d. Regimental commanders will select the ground and make all minor arrangements.

Political.

In the House of Representatives in Maine last winter, the greenocratic fusionists had a majority of seventeen. This majority was obtained by the revolution in Penobscot and Waldo counties, and by picking up a member here and there in close towns. It is a remarkable fact that the transposition of seventy-four votes in close towns would have secured the House to the republicans. These votes, and many more, will be transposed this year. The republicans now claim Davis' election by a clean majority of 3000; a majority of seven in the Senate; and a majority of twenty-five in the House. It is said that the democratic State committee concede the House to the republicans, and are figuring on the Senate.

—At a Castleton, Ind., camp meeting on Sunday, several dozen small flasks of whisky were sold having a thin coating of pop-corn on the outside. They were passed by the authorities for corn balls, but when several of the crowd were drunk an examination discovered the deception.

—While a Chicago brewer and his wife were dancing and drinking wine at a neighbor's wedding, one evening last week, their daughter, who had remained at home on the plea of having "such a headache," quietly ran away with a young man and was married.

—The Pacific mills at Lawrence, Mass., are an enormous concern. The pay roll runs as high as ten dollars a minute, and the cost of supplies with which to keep the machinery running is twenty dollars a minute. Between ten and fifteen thousand persons derive their sustenance from the Pacific mills.

—The first walking hats received by Boston milliners for the fall trade are shaped almost like the low-crowned beaver hats worn by boys, having crowns of the bell shape and curving brims rolled up on the outer edge. A very ugly bonnet has a close crown and a brim set halfway between the top and the lower edge of the crown, so that the face-trimmings can be placed beneath it.

—As two Iowa girls were disporting themselves in a secluded pool of the Makuketa one afternoon last week, a tramp appeared on the bank and bore steadily and surely down upon the garments heaped upon the shore. The ladies were appalled and helpless. Down swooped the intruder, and as several shrieks rang out through the still evening air he hastily gathered a bundle into his arms and as quickly disappeared among the trees. The fair bathers sank upon the grass in abject confusion and distress. No time was to be lost; another man might appear upon the scene and more embarrassing situations ensue. The ladies began to rummage among the remnant of the wardrobes left, and fortunately found that one skirt belonging to one suit and an overdress of another had been left. The shoes also and one stocking still remained. The hats and light shawls they had hung in a tree, and so, fortunately, these were still safe. Equipped in these odds and ends, and well covered by the laprobe of the buggy, the two crestfallen adventurers started for home, which they contrived to reach in the deeper shadows of evening.

How Women Would Vote.

Were the question admitted to the ballot, and women were allowed to vote, every women in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. Dr. Pierce has received hundreds of grateful testimonials of its curative power.

—A female elephant is known by the size of her trunk.

—A Massachusetts man recently offered a school prize for the best essay on "Honesty." Of the twenty-three responses received, a large proportion proved to have been stolen, and one, a poem, was stolen entire.

—One of the best representations of a cucumber or water-melon cramp under full headway is to see two young people at a watering place hotel dance the Knickerbocker or hop waltz. Physicians say the illusion is perfect.

—It was at Nantucket, the other day. On the way up from the boat one of the party asked the driver, "Do they play 'Pinafore' here?" "Guess not," answered the benighted islander, with a puzzled look, "but they play billiards."

—The serenity of preaching service in a church at Winnemucca, Nevada, was disturbed on a recent Sunday evening by a playful exchange of shots between two gamblers, several shots going through the windows. A Chinaman was in pursuit of a colored gambler who had "swept the board."

The Way Vanderbilt Succeeded.

When Commodore Vanderbilt was running steamboats, he beat all rivals by crowding on steam to the utmost, and even running down his enemy if necessary, to accomplish a triumph. When he went into railroading, he adopted a much shrewder and more successful way, by uniting vast lines and their tributaries under his own management, thus capturing all rivals, by sharing with them the immense pool of profits that were made by his skillful manipulation. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., accomplish a much greater success in stock operations by their new Combination Method of dealing. By this system the orders of thousands of customers are pooled into one vast sum and co-operated under the most experienced management, thus giving to each shareholder all the benefits of large capital and best skill. Profits divided monthly. Any amount from $5 to $25,000 can be used with great success. $16 will make $75 profit. $80 would return $720 or nine per cent on the stock during the month, according to the market. The new circular (mailed free) has "two unerring rules for success" and full explanations, so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. city.

Cuticura

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon Sts., a young man employed there, gave the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have spent much good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will readily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing more than a half-dollar's worth, of the small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

CHARLES W. GARDNER.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms coming within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all the chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. We have received results Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, send post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' Guide to Health" Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL DISEASES.—Amongst the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Fistulas, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cataracts, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while treating its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the pillar or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which it is recommended, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pouched wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down, Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

American and Foreign PATENTS.

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,997,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & Co., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We decline to win success by deserving it. Address

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

"The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.00 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

"The mines are the natural extension of the "Wickenburg Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, (ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $2.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Political.

Gov. Talbot of Massachusetts declines to be a candidate for re-election.

Henry M. Dixon, the independent democratic candidate for sheriff of Yazoo county, Miss., was murdered in the streets of Yazoo city on the 19th inst., by a "regular" democrat. A negro was murdered just outside the city on the same day, his body being brought in on the 20th. Yazoo county will give a rousing majority for the party of free elections and true reform in politics.

To the democratic suggestion that the republican party has fulfilled its mission and ought to die, Hon. Zach. Chandler bluntly responds that undoubtedly the party is better prepared to die than any other party that ever lived, but it has made different arrangements. Its work will not be finished until a black republican can go from Maine to Texas, and preach 'black republican' sentiments and vote the 'black republican' ticket as freely as a rebel can come from Texas to Maine, talk treason and vote the democratic ticket."

A prominent southern politician, familiar with Mississippi affairs and now in Washington, says there is hardly a doubt of Jeff Davis being sent to the United States Senate from that State. This will please the northern people whose relatives were tortured to death at Andersonville and other southern prison pens.

Down in Norway, Maine, the chairman of a greenback meeting, on introducing Blanton Duncan of Kentucky, late colonel in the confederate army, said that the speaker was a man from the south and could tell the audience how false were the stories about bulldozing. Col. Duncan, to the great distress of the Bourbon chairman, observed that not half the truth about bulldozing in the south had ever been told, and added that he was a southern man and owned and carried on a plantation in Kentucky, and knew what he was talking about. The democracy want Duncan to leave Maine.

Congressman Singleton of Mississippi, whose name is so prominently brought forward in connection with the bull-dozing of independent candidates in that State, was one of the most earnest advocates of the repeal of the supervisors' law by Congress at its late session, in order that "free elections" might not be interfered with! Of course, by a "free election" is meant an election where every democrat may vote as many times as he pleases, and a member of any other party can only vote at the risk of his life, and then not his vote counted.

Here is a little keen satire on the late extra session of Congress from an ultra southern democratic journal: "How can the great democratic party of the Union go before the country arguing in favor of free elections, while the democrats of Mississippi are enforcing mob law and deciding political contests before a vote is cast? What argument can be used against troops at the polls while a Mississippi mob warns a candidate not to submit his claims to the suffrages of the people?"

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it.—From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Ill.

How Women Would Vote.

Were the question admitted to the ballot, and women were allowed to vote, every women in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. Dr. Pierce has received hundreds of grateful testimonials of its curative power.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, March 4th, 1878.

Dear Sir—For many months I was a great sufferer. Physicians could afford me no relief. In my despair I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription. It speedily effected my entire and permanent cure.

Yours thankfully,
Mrs. PAUL R. BAXTER.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER was enlarged May 1, 1879, so that every bottle now holds one fourth more than formerly, while the price remains the same.

When we reflect that a power of endurance can be imparted to the brain, and that weak minds have been restored to strength by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, we cannot but conclude that the subtile power is really ponderable matter. Persons who study hard should preserve their balance of power by using the syrup.

Portsmouth Chronicle

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1879.

An Original Bulldozer Bulldozed.

On Tuesday, the 19th inst., Capt. Henry M. Dixon, late of the Confederate States Army, organizer of "Dixon's Scouts" in the Mississippi campaign of 1875, and one of the first and foremost of the original bull-dozers, a white native of Virginia and always a strong democrat, was openly murdered in the streets of Yazoo city, Miss., by James Barksdale, the "regular democratic" candidate for chancery clerk of the county, for the crimes of running for the office of sheriff as an independent democratic candidate, and refusing to withdraw at the dictation of a mob that was acting under the direct advice of the democratic State committee, backed up by Congressman Singleton, who misrepresents that district in the United States House of Representatives. Barksdale was armed with the favorite argument of the Mississippi democrat, a double-barrelled shot-gun, and put four buckshot into his victim's back. Dixon was "game," and after being mortally wounded fired four shots from a revolver at his murderer, but failed to hit him. Barksdale is chairman of the democratic State committee of Mississippi. He was arrested, and there will a farcical examination, at which plenty of "regular" democrats will swear that the murder was prompted by personal motives, and not by political ones—which will deceive no person, north or south.

News and Notes.

Niccolo Infantino and Antonio Ardito were on Thursday fully committed without bail to await trial for the murder of Mr. Frye; and Vincenzo Bandiera for being accessory before the fact. Joseph Donato was held in $10,000 as an accessory after the fact.

The body of Miss Roach, the young woman who committed suicide from a steamer in Hell Gate recently, has been found. She had been a frequenter of assignation houses in New York, and was addicted to the use of liquors. Joseph Langfeldt of Philadelphia, to whom the letter she left behind was directed, says he met her at a ball about a year ago, but knew nothing of her life or character, and positively denies any intimacy with her whatever. He had not seen or heard of her for many months until he read in the papers of her suicide, and letter to him.

Jake Smith, a colored man of New Haven, Conn., on Wednesday fatally stabbed Charles Pierce, another colored man, who had enticed Smith's wife and children away from him.

Albert Frein, with two young ladies, went out in a boat on the Housatonic river, above the dam at Great Barrington, Mass., on the 19th inst., and were carried over the dam by the freshet. Frein and one of the young ladies were drowned, the other lady being rescued by a young man named Mehan, who rushed into the river and brought her ashore in a senseless condition.

George B. Durfee, one of the latest discovered thieves of Fall River, Mass., has secured bail in $10,000; he is charged with stealing $35,000 from the Mechanics' mill company, of which he was treasurer. Walter Paine, 3d, Durfee's cousin and late treasurer of the American Linen company, has fled. He is the latest discovered thief of Fall River, and stole over $78,000, his system of crime having been carried on for years.

A New York river thief named Perry on Wednesday dangerously wounded a watchman named Maguire, who was active in bringing to justice the thieves who were with "Bum" Moran at the time he was shot by the master of a schooner they were trying to rob.

A child of Robert Macomber of East Monmouth, Me., eighteen months old, was missed on the 19th inst. Two hundred men made search, and found the child dead.

Hon. James Boothby Burke Roache, brother and heir to the second Baron Fenoy of Ireland, was killed recently by Indians in the Yellowstone country, where he was hunting. Mr. Roache came to this country in May last and went west on a hunting tour.

Mrs. John Tillinghast, of Utica, N. Y., while temporarily insane, on Wednesday poured kerosene oil on a fire from a can. The can exploded and she was burned to death.

John Hohstadt of Highgate, Vt., was a soldier in the war of 1812, and obeyed Gov. Martin Chittenden's memorable proclamation calling the Vermont militia home from across the lake. For this he and others were declared deserters by the general of the American army. Many years ago he moved to Missouri, and during the late war seven of his sons were in the Union army. He is now eighty-nine years old, and has applied to the State for an honorable discharge on his 1812 record, so that he can die without a stain on his name.

Considerable uneasiness has been caused among owners of horses at Providence, R. I., by the discovery that glanders and farcy are prevailing quite extensively in the stables of that city. Six horses have been seized, condemned and killed by the health authorities within two days.

Henry Nash, a negro aged seventy-one years, was fatally shot one night recently while trying to gain admittance to Mrs. Potter's house at Collinsville, Conn. He was fired at by the woman's father, named Pierpont, who lives near by, and the latter has been arrested.

Miss Ella R. Gifford of New Bedford, Mass., who disappeared on the 9th inst. and was supposed to have committed suicide, was found on the 20th in a retreat she had fixed up for herself in a thick growth of bushes in Dartmouth, an adjoining town. She had lived all the time on berries and the remnants of food she found at a spot where there had been a clambake. She was very much exhausted from hunger, and exposure to the recent storms. She is deranged, but is recovering.

At Waldron, Ky., on the 15th inst., Sheriff Leming was fatally shot by one Malone, whom he was trying to arrest for beating his wife. Malone was followed by a crowd, and on refusing to surrender was shot down.

There was a cricket match at Ottawa, Ont., on the 19th and 20th insts., between teams representing the United States and Canada. The former won by a score of 168 to 167, with five wickets to spare.

The United States government has made a claim of $103,000 against England, for actual loss and damage sustained by American fishermen in consequence of the violent invasion of their treaty rights at Fortune bay, Newfoundland, and to obtain some security against a recurrence of similar offences in future.

Courtney and Frenchy Johnson had a boat-race at Rochester, N. Y., on the 20th inst., the former winning by half a second. Distance three miles; Courtney's time, twenty-two minutes and five seconds.

The Duke of Edinburg laid the foundation for the new Eddystone lighthouse on the 20th inst.

R. Richards of Sherbrook, Quebec, was married at Derby Line, Vt., on the 20th inst. The groom is one hundred years old and the bride forty-five.

The steamer Great Eastern is to be fitted up with new boilers and machines, at a cost of £100,000, to carry cattle between London and Texas. She is capable of holding 2000 head of cattle and 36,000 sheep.

Mr. William Black's new story, entitled "White Wings: a yachting romance," is begun in the September number of the Eclectic Magazine. Besides Mr. Black's story it contains a large number of valuable articles from the foreign periodicals, one of them, which deals with the "Yellow agony," (alias the Chinese question) in Australia, being of especial interest; and a fine steel engraving entitled "Penn's Treaty with the Indians." The new volume of the magazine began with the July number, and promises to be one of the best ever issued. The regular price of the Eclectic is five dollars per year, or forty-five cents per copy; but the three numbers of the new volume will be sent to any one as a "trial subscription" on receipt of one dollar, and now is a good time to give it a trial. E. R. Pelton, publisher, twenty-five Bond street, New York city.

The Salem (Mass.) Gazette says a stroll through the various leather establishments of that city reveals the fact that business was never better, or more men employed in the different departments connected with tanning and currying, than at the present time. The proprietors all report business good and prices on stock firm at the present time. The appreciation in stock has inspired new zeal, and if the demand for stock and the prices continue firm, an era of business prosperity, such as never existed in the leather trade before, may surely be realized in Salem.

Prof. Richardson considers absinthe-drinking worse than opium-eating. In the worst examples, the absinthe drinker becomes a confirmed epileptic. Absinthe is a green, poisonous-looking liquid, very bitter, said to be made of wormwood, but with a taste more like anise and fennel. One or two wineglassfuls of it a day will produce permanent dyspepsia. A more consummate devil of destruction could not be concocted. It is popular in Paris, but not commonly found in this country, outside of New York.

—Song of the belles:—Be flirtuous and you will be happy.

—Mme. Judic, said to be the most beautiful woman on the French stage, has an olive complexion and dark hair and eyes. Her face is oval and her nose straight. She is always laughing, and her spirits affect her acting, so that Edmund Yates calls her a big child. She says that the English are very serious people, even when they go to see a comedy played.

—Colonel James Bowie, the hero of the Alamo, after whom bowie-knives were called, was a mild, pleasant, and by no means homicidal person, who merely invented a convenient and useful knife for hunting, and never had a serious "personal difficulty" in his life. He never had a thought of using his invention to take human life, yet his name will be associated with crime and violence forever; or as long as western men gamble, drink and quarrel.

—Now is the season of the year when the small boy ties a string around his waist and considereth himself properly arrayed to take a bath in public.

—One man asked another why his beard was so brown and his hair so white. "Because," he replied, "one is twenty years younger than the other."

—A man out west has killed his physician, and the occurrence is so unusual a one that the papers can't find type big enough to express their astonishment.

—A lady said that woman was the only sincere exponent of Christianity. Sniffen remarked, "That is the reason why so many young men wish to embrace the faith."

Slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather, occasional rain, southwesterly winds, and falling barometer.

AROUND HOME.

Col. J. C. Butler has another excursion to the Shoals to-day in the steamer Appledore.

Four large three-masted coal vessels were anchored below on Thursday afternoon, waiting for a tow up to the wharf.

The new steam fire engine Col. Sise, No. 2, will arrive from Manchester on Tuesday, and be tested on Market square.

The Rockingham Quarterly Meeting of Free Baptists holds its session with the Kittery point church this week, commencing Thursday and continuing two days.

The barque Harvard, of Boston, commanded by Capt. Samuel Pray of this city, got into dock at Dunkirk on the 8th inst. without damage, after being lightened of one hundred and fifty tons of cargo.

The schooner John Stroup, Capt. Hunt, is lying at Sise's wharf, undergoing repairs. Her sister keelsons are being taken out and her centreboard casing tightened. Mr. Warren Keen of Kittery is supervising the work.

The clothing store of C. H. Ellison & Co., of Newmarket, was broken into on Tuesday night of this week, and some $200 worth of goods carried away. This is the second robbery committed in Newmarket within two weeks. There is no clue to the thieves.

The camp-meeting at Epping commences on Monday. During the week, every day but Saturday, the Concord railroad will run an extra train, leaving this city at 8:25 A. M. and the campgrounds at 4:45 P. M., tickets being placed at sixty cents for the round trip.

The court of inquiry convened at the navy yard last week to investigate charges against Tobey Burke, foreman of boiler makers, and James Boardman, an employe in the same department, has finished its work and forwarded the findings to Washington. It is reported that the board found that the charges were groundless.

A few days ago a man giving his name as James W. Sanborn came to this city and hired the store in the former Ten Cents savings bank for a wholesale and retail candy manufactory. He afterward got trusted for a shirt and other articles of wearing apparel, and then tried to sell his watch. Shortly after he disappeared, leaving bills unpaid, including his board and lodging.

Messrs. Charles F. Wiggin, Walter N. Meloon and John D. Randall left this city on Thursday morning for a two-weeks' camp-out in the woods. Their route is via Portland and the Grand Trunk railway to Berlin Falls, whence they will tramp it fifty or sixty miles to the headwaters of the Diamond river, which rises near the Canada line. After spending a week on that river they will go twenty or thirty miles further north and east to lake Parmachena in Maine, where they will stop another week. Two of the party have camped out in that region before, and know the ropes all right.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening:

The following were appointed special police without pay: Robert Anderson, at navy yard landing; David Urch, at Newcastle bridge; John Lowry, at south mill bridge; James Walley, at Cass st.

Petition of C. C. Jackson and others for the widening of Vaughan street, was referred to the committee on streets to report.

Bonds of Charles A. C. Gray and Franklin Cole, as assistant marshals, and of William Shannon as superintendent of the city farm, were received and approved.

A communication from Annie Noble, in relation to taxes paid on property she did not own and asking that the same be returned, was referred to the committee on claims.

A petition of William Ward for sidewalk on Elm street, was referred to the committee on streets.

A petition of residents of this State and Maine, relative to a landing stage at Pray's wharf, was referred to the officers of the Concord railroad.

A petition of Charles Drown and others for a gaslight on Gardner street was referred to the committee on street lights.

Invitation from the city government of Manchester to participate in the dedication ceremonies of the soldiers' monument Sept. 11th, came up as an unfinished business, and Aldermen Mugridge and Shannon were appointed a committee to confer with members of the board in regard to the number who will attend.

Communication from Wilbur I. Trafton in relation to telephone fire alarm was referred to committee on fire department.

Petition of Ichabod Goodwin and others for a sewer on Winter and State streets was referred to committee on drains to report.

Communication from E. H. Winchester in relation to repairs on Lafayette road was referred to committee on streets to report.

Ald. Laighton moved to proceed to the election of six policemen, night watchmen and constables. Ald. Shannon called the attention of the board to the statues in relation to the question as to whether they should be appointed or elected, and moved that Ald. Laighton's motion be amended to read that they be appointed. The amendment was lost on a vote, six to three. The board then proceeded to ballot, and elected the following:

Thomas Moore, Peter Pray, Joseph B. White, William Nowell, Charles P. Abbott, John Turner.

Ald. Barri offered as a resolution, "That Thomas Entwistle be appointed city marshal of the city of Portsmouth for the ensuing year." Ald. Laighton moved to amend so as to provide for electing by ballot; the yeas and nays were called, the amendment prevailed, and Thomas Entwistle was elected city marshal, securing eight ballots out of nine cast.

THE PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD.

In the report to the stockholders of this road recently published in your columns, signed "Frank Jones, in behalf of the directors," criticism is challenged; or to use its own words, "Personally the directors court investigation as to all their doings and will meet any responsibility which may justly attach to them."

Referring then (but by no means for lack of material) to one point only and that made of importance in the report, the writer thinks he risks but little in saying that it demands explanation, full and explicit—inasmuch as it is found impossible to reconcile its statements with several documents signed, under seal, Frank Jones, President, and George L. Treadwell, Treasurer, (of the railroad) and on file at the city clerk's office.

The report gives as one reason for the enormous cost of the road, (a cost out of all proportion—so say experts—to the work,) that it was in part from "the fact that the bonds of the cities of Porismouth and Dover, accepted in payments of stock were sold at some discount." Now, why were the bonds of this city accepted in payment of the city's subscription to the stock?

The city, as Frank Jones, President, and George L. Treadwell, Treasurer, of the road, have told us under their hands and the seal of the road, had "sold and delivered those bonds to the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company! and the Trust Co. in consideration thereof promise and agree to pay the assessments on the stock forthwith," etc. Now to understand the full significance of these transactions, it must be borne in mind that the treasurer of the railroad was president of the Trust Co., and the president of the road one of its trustees or directors, or both; in fact the two corporations seem, through their officers, as closely connected as Siamese twins in this matter.

It is thus seen that each of these corporations state under the signatures of their respective presidents, (ex officio, to be sure, in the Trust Company's case,) that these bonds had been "sold and delivered" "to the Trust Co.," and, to complete the circuit, it will be remembered that the sale was so announced by the press at the time; and it is impossible that the city government, which assumed such vast responsibility in this matter, and that, too, in face of strong opposition and remonstrance, would have sanctioned such announcement had it not been true. We thus have each party concerned either positively stating, or assenting to the statement, that the city bonds had been sold to one of these parties, viz.: the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company! Now, by no word, inference, or implication, is it anywhere suggested that the bonds were "sold and delivered" at any other than the par value; to say otherwise, now, would be an insult to the intelligence of the public.

Now the question inevitably arises, how came the president of the railroad to "accept these bonds in payment of the city's stock," and wherefore does he charge the discount at which he says he sold them to this city, and not to his twin corporation, to which he states they were "sold and delivered?" He knew the Trust Co. owned the bonds, and he knew that the Trust Company had agreed to and was obliged to pay dollar for dollar for the stock he might have, just as justifiably, received and sold any other of its assets, charging the loss to the city, as do as he did.

But, Mr. Editor, the documents tell the story; copies of them have been in the writer's hands some years, in full faith that the time would come when it would be his duty to bring them to the notice of a trusting public. This excessively disagreeable duty is however necessarily much lightened by the serene complacency with which the directors "court" enquiry; this article has been somewhat lengthened beyond intention that they may know some few of the points which others think demand explanation—the writer having only the documents which follow and the report upon which to found his judgment. The documents are on file, not recorded. Why?

Taking all the evidence at command the writer holds, and believes the public will, that somebody should be held accountable for the full amount of loss now charged to this city for discount on sale of bonds the property of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company. W.

The documents are in three sets, each identical except date and amount. One copy of each follows:

Whereas the City of Portsmouth has subscribed to the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad the sum of $300,000, and to provide for the payment of said subscription has issued interest-bearing bonds, and has sold and delivered to the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co. a part of them of the par value of $150,000, and the said Company has agreed to pay the assessments on said subscription as they fall due to the amount of $150,000. And whereas the Eastern R. R. Co. in N. H. has agreed with the P. & D. R. R. to pay dividends on the said stock from the time said P. & D. R. R. shall be completed, and the interest upon all moneys advanced is also to be paid as part of the expense of building said railroad.

Now the said P. & D. R. R. expressly promise and agree that they will pay all interest on said bonds that shall accrue up to the time that said E. R. R. shall begin to pay dividends on said stock, and will indemnify and save harmless the said city from the payment of any coupons or interest on said bonds up to that time.

In witness whereof we have caused this instrument to be signed by the President and Treasurer of the Corporation, and the seal of the Corporation to be attached this first day of January, 1873.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire State Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting at Keene on October 18th and 19th.

On the night of the 19th inst. four young men got on the train going north at Laconia, all seeming under the influence of liquor, with a boy about fourteen years old, whom they had evidently made to drink until he was overpowered. After the train had started the boy refused to go with them, and although he made no active resistance, two of the men seized and choked him severely, until a gentleman on the car remonstrated against such brutal treatment, when they desisted. All got off at Weirs. One of the men said the boy's name was Casey, and that his father was a Nashua policeman, but they made other contradictory statements about him. He appeared to be a refined and intelligent lad, and it seemed mysterious that he should be in such company. The names of the men could not be ascertained.

Naval Matters.

The Vandalia, with a section of the government dock, arrived at Pensacola on the evening of the 19th inst.

The Alliance at last advices was at Copenhagen. The Quinnebaug arrived at a port in Greece July 31st, having Minister Maynard on board; the Wyoming had previously arrived at the same port. The Enterprise was at Cronstadt during the latter part of July, and was to leave on the 1st of August for Cowes, Isle of Wight, via Kiel. The health of the squadron was excellent.

The Alaska sailed for Valparaiso, from San Francisco, on the 12th inst.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and coiling deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and finally result in premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery brought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, per bottle, $1; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

—THE—

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home; while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1872. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, in the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of natural adaptitude and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.50 or "Invalids' Guide Book" (96 pages, 10 cents postpaid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Stricture (Strictures of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cyst, (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cataract, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most efficacious and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal experience. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and combined with, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and to confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid who may use it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularity, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Disease of Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist "to please the ear," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 200 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats plainly of those delicate peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestionable evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2200 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.50 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "Montezuma Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect that, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, in Postage Stamps, money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Naval Matters.

Advices from Norfolk, Va., of the 20th inst., say: "The tugs Fortune and Jean Sands made several ineffectual attempts yesterday to haul the frigate Franklin off St. Helena point, where she was driven by the storm on Monday. The officers have decided that she can only be moved by taking her battery of forty-six guns off. She now lies badly listed over, and in a very uncomfortable position for those on board. She will be injured to some extent. She will be taken into dry dock for repairs as soon as hauled off. The Franklin had out four of the heaviest anchors used in the navy."

Peter Nalan, who belongs in Hartford, Conn., was asleep in his boat on the night of the 10th inst., near Hummock light, when he awoke suddenly to see the steamer Narragansett bearing down upon him. He pulled with all his might, but couldn't get out of the way, and dived overboard and swam a long way under water. When he came up the steamer had passed over and sunk his boat. He swam about an hour, and was finally picked up by the lightkeeper at the Hummock.

A few days ago Mrs. Mary Batchelder of Burlington, Me., aged eighty years, pitched a load of seed hay from a scaffold to the great beams.

Miss Lizzie Knowles, a young lady seventeen years of age, died a few days since at Harpswell, Me., from poisoning. An infant child of Mr. A. E. Pinkham died two weeks ago from being poisoned by paint obtained from a paper box; and Miss Knowles being at work in the family, washed and applied cloths to the face of the child. In about five hours a scratch on her hand began to swell and be painful, the inflammation soon extending through the whole system, causing a lingering and painful illness, which resulted in death.

Sir Rowland Hill, ex-secretary to the general post-office of England, and originator of the plan for a uniform penny postage system, lies at the point of death in the eighty-fifth year of his age.

Steamship France, from Havre, arrived at New York on the 20th inst. with $800,000 in gold bars.

"The Flurry in Stocks"

Always means an opportunity for some shrewd and lively operator to make a handsome profit. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have established the new combination system for operating in stocks, so that capital in any amount from $5 to $50.000 can be used profitably at any time that may suit the customer. By pooling the orders of thousands of patrons into one immense sum, and operating them as a mighty whole, under the most experienced skill, vast profits are made which could be gained in no other way. These are divided pro rata among shareholders—monthly. An investment of $10 returns $50, or 5 per cent on the stock. $100 pays $950, and so on, according to the market. A St. Louis patron made over $300 per cent on an investment in October by the combination method. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) has "two unerring rules for success," and full information so that any one can operate with profit. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1879.

The Yazoo Plan, as Exemplified in Henry M. Dixon's Murder.

The assassination of Henry M. Dixon, and the causes which led to it, will be largely talked of by the press of the north—at least by the republican portion of it—for many months; and we make no apology to our readers for giving a general resume of the matter, gathered from different sources.

In 1870 the white population of Yazoo county, Miss., was 4,884; the negroes numbered 12,395. In 1873, the republicans in Yazoo cast 2,499 votes, and the opposition 638. In 1874, there was no election. In 1875, the democrats polled 4,044 votes, and the republicans seven. In 1876, the Tilden electors received 3,672 votes and the Hayes electors two!

The curious result in Yazoo and other Mississippi counties in 1875 attracted the attention of the United States Senate, and a committee of investigation was appointed. Their report fills two thick volumes. After the publication of that report, the returns in 1876 surprised nobody. Senators Boutwell, Angus Cameron, McMillan, Bayard and McDonald served on the committee of investigation. They found that prior to the election of 1875 a company of armed men, commanded by Capt. Henry M. Dixon, and known as "Dixon's Scouts," had served as a kind of volunteer police. Captain Dixon was a planter, about thirty years old, but his beardless face gave him the appearance of a boy. He was a small, wiry, nervous man, quick as a cat, and uncommonly ready with the pistol. It is said—but this does not appear in the committee's report—that in 1865 he was one of a band of outlaws in South Carolina who murdered three soldiers of a Maine regiment. Dixon escaped, but three of his comrades were caught, tried by a military commission and sent to the Dry Tortugas. Dixon was tried in Yazoo county for the murder of a negro, and acquitted. Colonel A. T. Morgan was the prosecuting attorney. Colonel Morgan, as sheriff, afterward brought Dixon into court on an indictment for gambling. The personal relations of the two men, however were not unfriendly.

The republicans had called a county convention, and organized two or three campaign clubs. One of these clubs held a meeting at the county seat on the evening of the 1st of September, 1875. Sheriff Morgan was speaking. Dixon and a dozen other democrats came in. Morgan was speaking of the county supervisors, by name, recommending them as good citizens. When he named Captain Bedwell, Dixon remarked insolently, "He's a thief." A member of the club answered, "That's all you know about it." In a flash Dixon emptied his pistol at the man, and then firing began on both sides and the lights went out. One man was killed, and two or three were wounded. The meeting was broken up.

After this, the republican canvass was given up. Morgan left the county and State. There were no more meetings. There was no convention. The Dixon Scouts patrolled the county. When it was rumored that Governor Ames was about to send a company of militia to restore order the Scouts turned out 900 strong to meet them. Ten or dozen republicans, mostly negroes, were killed. The democratic majority was overwhelming, and the "intrepid Captain Dixon" was publicly presented with a valuable silver cup bearing an inscription complimentary to his "bravery and activity in the redemption of this county from radical rule."

But times have changed in Mississippi. The unanimity is getting monotonous. There are not offices enough to go around, and this summer Captain Dixon had the temerity to offer himself as an independent candidate for a county office, in opposition to the regular democratic nominee. Thereupon Congressman Singleton, who represents the Yazoo district, visited that county with Maj. Barksdale, chairman of the State democratic committee, and held a consultation with the "regular" democratic leaders. They represented to those leaders that it would never do to allow an independent party to be formed in Yazoo; that it must be nipped in the bud, and that Yazoo and all Mississippi must be kept "solid." Not many days had passed before a crowd of citizens waited upon Capt. Dixon, and compelled him at the muzzle of the pistol to sign a written agreement to withdraw from the canvass. On his return to Jackson, Chair man Barksdale issued a circular to the "Democratic Conservative Party" of Mississippi, the concluding paragraph of which reads as follows:

Relieved from the menace of organized opposition, majorities are liable to become indifferent to the maintenance of their own organization and to divide among themselves. It should be remembered that the reforms which have been inaugurated can be perfected and carried out only by a rigid adherence to the discipline and observance of the methods by which the victories of 1875, '76 and '77 were won.

The Vicksburg Herald, a democratic paper, dared to denounce this proceeding as an outrage; whereupon there was "a called meeting of the democratic citizens of Yazoo county" on the 5th inst., at which the Herald was denounced by resolution as "an enemy to this community." The Okolona Southern States and nearly every other paper in the State, all of them being of course democratic, loudly applauded the course of the Singleton-Barksdale bull-dozers; and the Yazoo Sentinel thus rejoiced over the suppression of Dixon:

Thus has Yazoo again won the proud title of the "banner county" of Mississippi, and laid down, not by words, but deeds, the sound political doctrine that fomenters of strife shall not sow the seeds of internecine strife within her borders. Let her sister counties, who in '75 so valiantly imitated her example, again assert their power, and all will be well with them.

From this it appears that it was Yazoo county which started the campaign of terrorism and murder in 1875, which proved so effective in suppressing the republican vote, and which has been since known as "the Mississippi plan;" and as Dixon was the only man prominent enough in the campaign of murder in that county to be thought entitled to a public presentation of plate for his services, it is more than likely that he was the originator of the plan to which he owes his death—in other words, that he was the first of the bull dozers, as he was certainly one of the worst. Another Yazoo paper, the Herald, closed its account of the overthrow of the "independent democratic" movement with the following patriotic outburst.

So the political canvass in this county may be considered as at an end. The democratic flag now waves over this glorious old county uncontaminated and unchallenged, and long may it wave.

But Dixon had no intention of holding to the agreement wrung from him by open threats of murder for himself and thinly-concealed threats of murder for his family, and as soon as he got his wife and babes in a place of safety in a northern State he published a card in which he said the agreement was not considered binding by himself or his friends. He continued:

It was never my intention to abide by it, and I am now free to say that I am still a candidate and will continue to be, and if elected, which I fully expect to be, I will take charge of the office, or test my rights under the laws of the land.

There is something ludicrously comical in the idea of a bull-dozer of Dixon's eminence speaking of trusting to "the laws of the land" in the State and the very county which gave birth to "the Plan;" but he evidently did believe that although those laws did not and would not protect a republican from outrage and murder, they would protect a democrat and an ex-rebel officer, for he persisted in his candidacy until Chairman Barksdale of the democratic State committee felt impelled to make him take a dose of his own political medicine, and killed him as a warning to all "independents" everywhere that only the democratic ticket can be voted in Mississippi if the voter wishes to live.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles Sumner Cook, B. S., of Keene, has been appointed tutor in mathematics in the Chandler scientific department of Dartmouth college.

The following State prison convicts were pardoned by the governor and council on Thursday: William Waugh and Ann Gorman, from Hillsborough county, sentenced to two years each for concealing the death of a child; Frank C. Miller of Hillsborough county, two years for breaking and stealing; Charles Mellen of Hillsborough county, four years for obtaining money on false pretenses; Frank Jewett of Strafford county, two years for stealing.

Trinity Commandry of Knights Templar of Manchester held a meeting Thursday night and voted to tender an escort to the grand lodge at the dedication of the soldier's monument, on September 11th. They also voted to invite the grand commandry and all subordinate commandries throughout the State. The indications all point to a very large Masonic attendance. Arrangements are also being made for veteran soldiers, not connected with the Grand Army posts, to take part, and all classes of citizens are now united in their efforts to render the occasion a grand success.

A Milan man stole fifteen pounds of trout from two Lancaster men who were fishing at Millsfield, and shot at one of them who pursued him. He was captured by an officer and compelled to pay a round price for his freak.

Political.

The republicans of Androscoggin county, Me., on the 21st inst. held the largest mass meeting ever known in the county at Lake Auburn. Five brass bands were present, and thousands of people from the surrounding country. Hon. D. F. Davis, Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., and Hon. Eugene Hale made speeches, which were enthusiastically received.

J. A. Barksdale, the murderer of Henry M. Dixon, was arrested at Yazoo city, and released on the 21st inst. on a bond of $15,000, examination being waived, and the prosecuting attorney agreeing to the release. Of course the facts that Barksdale is chairman of the democratic State committee and the prosecuting attorney and judges all "regular" democrats, and that the man assassinated by Barksdale was an "independent" who had been unavailingly warned by a mob sent by the democratic committee that he would be murdered if he did not withdraw from the canvass, had nothing to do with the murderer's getting off so easily. The only wonder is that there was even a pretence of arresting him. He will be presented with a service of silver for his gallant services to the party, as soon as the little storm has blown over and Yazoo county has once more recorded a unanimous vote for democratic reform and free elections.

News and Notes.

A family going by the name of Tiffany were arrested in South Walpole, Mass., Friday, charged with keeping an infamous den where abortion and infanticide have been carried on as a regular business.

Capt. Webb, the Englishman who swam across the British Channel, a distance of twenty-two miles, and Capt. Paul Boyton, the American rubber-suit swimmer, had a swimming match at Newport, R. I., on Friday, for $2000, Boyton to paddle twenty-five miles in his swimming suit while Webb swam twenty miles. They started from the beach at a very early hour, and Webb gave up the contest at ten o'clock in the forenoon, thoroughly exhausted.

J. W. Cotton, station agent and grocer at Williamsburg station, on the Kansas Pacific road, near Topeka, Kansas, was murdered Thursday by a tramp, who struck him in the neck with an axe, nearly severing his head from his body. A man has been arrested on suspicion.

A severe shock of earthquake is reported at St. Catherines, Ont., and Niagara, and other parts of Canada, at three o'clock Thursday morning. It was attended with noises like explosions.

B. B. Pearson, superintendent of public education in Harrison county, Mississippi, on the 21st inst. shot and killed John D. Conkerton of New Orleans in a bar-room, in a dispute about paying for drinks. He fired at Conkerton twice, and hit him both times. Mr. Pearson is evidently a very proper person for superintendent of public instruction in Mississippi, being abundantly able to "teach the young idea how to shoot," which is the most important branch of a Mississippi education.

The weavers at Fall River held a mass meeting Thursday evening, and voted to demand an increase in wages. As their demand will not be acceded to, a general strike is expected.

The river barge Massasoit took 1500 persons from Haverhill, Mass., to Salisbury beach point on Thursday, the largest number ever carried down the river.

Fall River had another bit of a sensation Thursday, caused by the resignation of another mill treasurer, George H. Eddy, who has been gambling in cotton, and lost over fifteen thousand dollars of other people's money.

The Tasmania (Australia) Mail says: "Trickett has issued a challenge to row Hanlan a three or four mile race on the Paramatta river for $2000 to $5000 a side, and allow Hanlan's expenses to visit the colonies."

Henry J. Rogers, the agent in the erection of the first telegraph line between Baltimore and Washington, which was the first telegraph line in the world, died at his residence in the former city August 20th, at the age of sixty-nine years.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 23, 2 A. M.

Partly cloudy weather, occasional rain, warm southwest winds, veering to colder northwest winds, falling, followed by rising barometer.

AROUND HOME.

Strawberry Bank Lodge of Good Templars was organized at Mercantile hall on the evening of the 21st inst.

The Concord railroad is selling tickets to the Alton Bay camp-meeting, good to Sept. 5th, at $1.65 for the round trip.

At a meeting held at the Atlantic house, Salisbury beach, on Wednesday, the 21st inst., it was decided to hold the annual gathering on Thursday, September 11th.

Rev. Dr. Pike will hold the 2d Quarterly Conference in the vestry on Daniel street this (Saturday) evening at eight o'clock; all the members are requested to attend.

The Advent camp-meeting at Seabrook will commence on Saturday, Sept. 6th, and continue through the following week, closing on Sunday, Sept. 14th. Elder Arthur A. Waite will be on the ground with his gospel tent and his facile pencil.

The steamer Stamford, from Gloucester Mass., with a very large party on board, and the Gen. Bartlett, from Haverhill, also with excursionists, visited this port on Friday and remained long enough to allow the passengers to have a brief ramble about the city.

George E. Leavitt, of Haverhill, Mass., purchased considerable quantities of the apples that were blown from the trees in Stratham and vicinity, the price paid being ten cents a bushel, delivered at Newmarket junction. What use he could put the immature fruit to is not stated, but probably it was ground up for cider.

In the case of Charles W. Martin of Haverhill, Mass., formerly of this city, against Levi G. Towle, of Exeter, an action to recover for damages received through the overturning of the defendant's barge in Hampton some years ago, judgment on the verdict for plaintiff was ordered at the adjourned law term of the supreme court held at Concord on the 14th inst.

A reception and ball, given by the officers of the U. S. S. Marion on board the ship Friday evening, was largely attended by gentlemen and ladies prominent in official life and social circles, and was the most brilliant affair of the season. Every preparation was made for the gratification of their guests by the officers, and every attention paid to their enjoyment of the occasion, which was a complete success.

At the annual meeting of the Workingmen's Institute, held at the reading room on McDonough street on the evening of the 21st inst., officers were elected as follows: Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, president; John H. Rose, Lawrence Howarth, vice presidents; William E. Cook, secretary; William Howarth, assistant secretary and treasurer; Thomas Moore, William Maddock, John H. Slater, auditors; Joseph Davidson, janitor.

The new bethel flag was hoisted on Friday over the Bow mission rooms. It is a blue flag fifteen feet long and six feet wide, with the word "Bethel" on it in white letters. It is displayed from a staff which reaches twenty-two feet above the roof of the building, and as the decks of vessels in the lower harbor can be seen from the roof at the base of the staff, the seamen on the vessels will be easily able to see the flag floating from a still higher position. The flag-staff was made by Mr. Wm. R. Martin, and is his contribution for the cause.

A post-office has just been established at Union Bluff, York, Me., Moses French, Esq., postmaster, for the accommodation of the summer residents at Union Bluff, Concordville, Doverville and Long beach. The direction should be, simply, "Union Bluff, York Co., Me." This will be welcome news to the frequenters of this favorite resort,—not only for this summer only, but for all coming time.

A good line of prints, ginghams, cottons, linen goods, etc., can be found at D. F. Borthwick's, Nos. 7 and 9 Market street.

The eight charges against Tobey Burke, foreman boiler maker at the navy yard, and James Boardman, flange turner, were filed by men who formerly worked in that department. After hearing all the evidence offered in support of the charges, and the statements of one or two parties in defence, the case was closed. None of the charges were sustained to the satisfaction of the officers composing the board, and the defendants were exonerated.

SOUTH NEWMARKET.

The traveller as he bowls along over the fine roads through the lower part of Rockingham county sees on all sides evidences of thrift and prosperity. The houses are kept well painted, the outbuildings well cared for and the fences in good order, and the animals are fat and sleek. The corn crop promises well. The recent gale prostrated the corn in many places, but upon the shining of the sun again, it has generally straightened itself up. The apple crop, although small this "off year," will afford enough for ordinary purposes.

Apparently one of the most prosperous towns in the county is the village of South Newmarket. The town has an air of comfort, and a pleasant aspect. The well kept lawns and the pretty flower gardens indicate the love of the beautiful, which the citizens possess to an eminent degree.

The Swamscott machine company is now reported to be in full operation, furnishing employment to a large number of skillful mechanics.

The following is a list of officers of Fraternity Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this town: S. P. Badger, N. G.; D. F. Davis, V. G.; J. G. Clark, Treasurer; C. Chandler, Secretary. The members are numerous and active. The hall is situated on the main street, and from the rear windows presents a fine view of that pleasant tributary of the Piscataqua, the placid Swamscot river. The lodge room is well arranged and tastefully furnished, and contains among other works of art evidence of the skill in carving of Bellamy of Kittery, and in gilding of Jarvis of Portsmouth.

A very good hotel is the Shute house, Oliver Sanborn landlord. The house is neat and clean, the table well supplied, the company agreeable, the stable attached well taken care of, the landlord accommodating, and the charges moderate. Over the whole establishment appear order and content. V.

A RUM ARGUMENT.

The gospel temperance tent of William Hurd of Dover was attacked by a mob of ruffians in Colchester, Conn., one night recently, while Mr. Hurd and others were conducting a temperance meeting, a large proportion of the audience being women and children. The first assault was made by a shower of stones, bricks and broken bottles thrown at the tent from the outside. The reporter of the New York Sun, who describes the affair, says;

The tent reeled, but withstood the shock, and at once a village warwhoop went up from outside, and blended with the cries of frightened women and children in the tent. In the confusion some of the lights were extinguished, and the roughs bore down on the gathering, swearing and yelling. The guy-ropes were cut, and the tent nearly brought to the ground. Several persons were slightly injured by stones before the roughs were dispelled by the officers, and one gentleman, while passing the tent, was accidentally struck by a stone or brickbat, and so severely harmed that it was necessary to take him home in a carriage. The meeting was adjourned for the night. Hurd, who has plenty of pluck, announced that he had come to stay and that no violence would intimidate him. He has held meetings for the last two nights, which have been disturbed by the hoots and cries of a mob, but the violent attack has not been repeated. It is strongly intimated that, in case of a second assault, Hurd will be prepared to meet the storming party with something more pungent than Scriptural lessons.

So he should be. The Connecticut rumocrats should be taught that even temperance men, and women and children, have some rights which rum sellers and rum drinkers are bound to respect, among them being the right of free speech, even if that right is used to denounce the evils of intemperance and the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Aug. 22; Batchelder, J.

Dr. True M. Gould of Raymond, complained of for letting a building for the illegal sale of liquor, was examined on Friday, and no evidence to substantiate the charge being offered he was discharged. The complaint was made by Dr. Daniel B. Hanson, of Berwick, Me., who was lodged in Exeter jail on the 16th inst. to await trial on a charge of practising medicine in Raymond with permission from the doctors of this State. Dr. Hanson gave bail on Friday, and was discharged from custody.

Clement Huntress, who lives on Newington road, made complaint against two men named Tobey and Staples, who live in Eliot, Me., for committing an assault on him near his residence on the 3d of July. The testimony offered was very contradictory, and no corroborative evidence being submitted to show which side was best entitled to credence, the defendants were discharged.

It is understood that the Canadian government has succeeded in getting English capitalists to undertake the completion of the Canada Pacific railroad.

Seth Curtis arrived at Norwich, Conn., the other day, from Worcester, Mass., where he had been working, went on a spree, had his money and other things stolen, and finally brought up at the alms-house with a bad abscess on his hand, and he is now dead.

James G. Barry, an old and wealthy citizen and ex-mayor of St. Louis, Mo., is missing. He left two weeks ago for Coney island, but telegrams say that he has not reached there. Apprehensions are felt that something serious has befallen him.

Rev. Henry J. Munson, the self-married Advent preacher, was convicted of lewd and lascivious conduct, in the superior court, at Fitchburg, Mass., on Thursday. The case goes to the supreme court on law points. The validity of his alleged divorce in Missouri is disputed.

The first ascent of Mount Blanc was made, this season, by Dr. Bryant, of Boston; and a few weeks after the village of Chamounix had been illuminated in honor of the event, another physician from the same city scaled the snow-line of the Matterhorn, the most dangerous of Alpine adventures. Dr. Mosely was destined to share the fate of Lord Francis Douglas and his two English companions, who led the way to the crest fourteen years ago. Like them he had clambered to the summit and waved his handkerchief in an ecstacy of triumph, and like them, on retracing his steps down the walls of the mountain, he plunged over a precipice and was caught on a glacier many thousand feet below the cabin on the eastern face where he had halted for breath. Lord Douglas' body was never recovered. Poor Mosely's mangled corpse lying on a ledge of ice opposite the Riffel can be distinctly seen from below.—Tribune.

Cuticura

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.[1] manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have used a good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

J. A. TUCKER.

12 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, cor. Washington and Essex Streets, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cts. per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS. Weary sufferer from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Weak Back or Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, Weak Back, Weak Stomach and Bowels, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness, Shooting Pains through the Loins and Back, try these Plasters. Placed over the pit of the Stomach, they prevent and cure Ague Pains, Bilious Colic, Liver Complaints, and protect the system from a thousand ills. w,s&g1

New Hampshire Gazette !

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

UP ONE EASY FLIGHT.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and in fact the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business for exceedingly his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of "World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. E. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER H. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully at home by letter, as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,008 pages, cloth, post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (168 pages, 10 cents postpaid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Varicose Veins and Uterine Tumors, Cataract (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by our new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. Our new pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning glory of my medical course. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapped around bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Sympathetic Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 1008 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.50 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "Montana in Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which sold, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, it but is necessary to add a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $5.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D.

Daily Chronicle.

Political.

Chairman Barksdale, of the democratic State committee of Mississippi, will have to murder some more people with his shot-gun. A convention of "independents," white and colored, met in Yazoo on Thursday last, only two days after Dixon was assassinated, and nominated a full county ticket.

At the emphatic demand of the democratic end of the combination in Maine, the greenback managers have proclaimed that Blanton Duncan will speak no more in that State under their auspices. Duncan knows too much about democratic outrage in the south, and insists on telling about it.

General Stuart L. Woodford of New York, and his daughter, have offered to accompany Mrs. Chisolm to Mississppi, and to remain there as her protector while the assassins of her husband and children are placed on trial. The offer has been accepted and he will pay his second visit to the home of the terrorists. The knightly act is characteristic of the man.

Mr. Harper of Illinois, imported by the greenbackers of Maine to show to the farmers and merchants of that State how wretchedly miserable and ground down they are, at a speech in Gardiner the other night dwelt at length on the failure of resumption, insisting that it was so dead a failure that nobody could pay specie for greenbacks, and no capitalist engaged in manufacturing and employing a large number of men could pay gold to his hands. "In fact," said the growling Mr. Harper, "I am so confident that resumption is a failure that I will give one hundred dollars to the man who will show me one instance of a manufacturer's paying his hands in gold." Thereupon Mr. George F. Holmes, having an eye to business, arose and claimed the hundred dollars. The ground of his claim was pretty good. For the last three months he has paid the hands in his lumber factory in gold, and there is at least one other case of the same sort in Gardiner. But Mr. Harper did not pay the $100. It was a flat promise to pay. There was nothing behind it.

—Brighton, the famous English watering-place, is reported to be deserted this season for some unknown cause.

—The Cornhill Magazine tells of a man who being bitten by a cat which died of hydrophobia, was attacked by symptoms of the disease, and I be cured himself by taking violent physical exercise in the open air, although he suffered greatly. His physician says he was cured by a violent effort of the will.

When we reflect that a power of endurance can be imparted to the brain, and that weak minds have been restored to strength by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, we cannot but conclude that the subtile power is really ponderable matter. Persons who study hard should preserve their balance of power by using the syrup.

Enlarged May 1, 1879. Price unchanged.

The only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy, for correcting intemperate habits, regulating the stomach and bowels, breaking up colds, chills and fevers, is SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER. For relieving gouty and rheumatic pains, preventing malarial fevers, and promoting sleep it is truly wonderful. Ask for SANFORD'S. teop10

MONDAY, AUGUST 25, 1879.

A Democratic Statement.

The correspondent of the Boston Post, writing from Bangor, Me., after saying that, while most of the non-fusion democrats in Penobscot county will either vote for Garcelon or not vote at all, some will vote for Davis as a rebuke to the "truck-and-dicker" leaders, makes the following significant admission:

The republicans are doing vigorous work in the county. Blaine, Raum, and Corporal Davis are traveling from town to town, and wherever they make a stay the people seem to gather in goodly numbers to listen. This was not so last year. Republican meetings were then sparsely attended. In fact, it was not without difficulty that a respectable audience could be secured, and it was not an unfrequent occurrence that the speakers, upon reaching the place of meeting, found it bare of an audience. It is different altogether this year. Their meetings are not only well attended, but they have held some which they claim to be the best attended and most respectable and intelligent that have ever been gotten together in the country towns. They claim gains in every direction.

Larry O'Neil Captured.

Angelo Amferre, alias Larry O'Neil, the fifth and last of the party of Italians implicated in the murder of Joseph F. Frye, was arrested in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Friday, at the favorite Italian headquarters, by detectives from Boston, and was taken to the latter city on Saturday. When searched at the station house in New York, a fifty-cent piece, a razor, toothbrush and eighteen Italian pennies were found on him. He said he knew what he was arrested for, but it would be all right when he got to Boston, declaring he did not commit the murder but knew who did. He was locked up, and an officer placed in his cell to watch him. He stated that he was a native of Palermo, Sicily, eighteen years old, and came to this country four years ago. He acknowledged having been with Infantino and "the Greek" on the night of the murder, but said he stopped outside the house. About midnight his companions came out and showed him several articles which they said Frye had given them, but he refusing to believe them, they confessed to having killed Frye. The prisoner afterward denied this story. He said that after he left Boston he went to Lynn, then returned to Boston where he pawned his watch for $5, and then went to Brooklyn by boat. He saw the officers who were searching for him on the boat, but they did not see him. If not arrested, he intended to have shipped on an Italian vessel Saturday morning.

News and Notes.

Rev. I. S. Kalloch, the workingmen's candidate for mayor of San Francisco, was fatally shot in the street Friday night by Charles De Young, editor of the Chronicle, who fired from a carriage. The assassin was badly maltreated by the mob, and lodged in jail.

Mrs. Augusta Fisher of Hartford, Ct., attempted to hasten a slow burning fire, Friday evening, by pouring kerosene upon it; result fatal.

There was a tidal wave at Fisk's Mills, Sonoma county, Cal., on Monday of last week, which washed three men and one woman into the sea, where they were drowned.

James G. Barry, the missing ex-mayor of St. Louis, has turned up all right at Greenville, N. J.

There was a fox-hunt at Newport, R. I., Friday, and Miss Alice Bedlow, daughter of Ex-Mayor Bedlow of Newport, was thrown from her horse and kicked in the face and stomach, and Col. J. E. Waring, Jr., fell and dislocated his shoulder. They had better have tried the Mississippi plan—the shot-gun—on that fox.

Dr. William Hall of Bangor, Me., has been indicted by the grand jury, on the charge of manslaughter, in causing the death of Mrs. Otis Cobb, while in childbirth, by unskillful treatment.

At Phœnix, Arizona, Thursday night of last week, one McCloskey fatally stabbed John Labarr, a saloon keeper. McCloskey was arrested next morning. A vigilance committee requested all places of business to be closed, marched to the jail, took out McCloskey and John Keller, the latter confined for killing one Monahon a few days previously, and hanged both to a tree on the plaza. After warning a number of well known bad characters to quit the town, the crowd dispersed. Everything was conducted quietly, and no opposition was made to the proceedings.

The interment of Dennis Coppers of Hoboken, N. J., in his lot with his wife's remains in the Catholic cemetery having been refused because Coppers was a Freemason, the courts will be appealed to for redress.

An automatic signal buoy, painted red, has been moored off Chatham, Mass., in six fathoms of water.

An excursion train left Waterville, Me., Friday morning, with two fire companies and others bound on a trip to Portland and the islands down the harbor. On the return a fight took place near Portland, and the train on its arrival at Waterville contained a shockingly battered crowd. One man, named Shaw, was reported left behind in a dying condition.

On Friday George Clark of Tuscola, Ill., was fatally shot by his stepson, Hugh McGuire, who told him he had come all the way from Kansas to kill him for deserting his (McGuire's) mother. McGuire gave himself to the authorities.

Visitors at Niagara now view the fall at night by electric light.

Nona Trowbridge, whose two sisters recently hanged themselves in Chicago because they dreaded poverty, is hopelessly ill. The shock of the tragedy prostrated her, and for two days she did not eat or drink a particle. She is now insane and dying.

The bridging of the English Channel is seriously proposed by Sainte Anne, a French engineer of good professional standing. He proposes to build a line of immensely solid stone piers, and on them place sections of girder, suspension and tubular structure, according to local requirements.

Rev. Calvin Williams, a negro, was taken before a justice at Stoningham, Conn., for keeping an unlicensed dog. He obtained permission to open the proceedings with prayer, and used the opportunity to describe in his lengthy petition the manifold wickedness of the prosecutor, for whom he asked "divine forgiveness," if possible.

The Wolverhampton (England) Plate-Lock Society, a co-operative experiment in which John Stuart Mill took a deep interest, has failed. The enterprise was exceedingly prosperous for a time, but the profits were too promptly divided among the shareholders, and the treasury was empty when the present depression in the English hardware trade began.

Victoria (Australia) still retains the death penalty for rape, and the question is now whether two youths are to be hanged for this offence, of which they are convicted. The one who planned the whole thing was at the time of its perpetration fourteen years old, and the other nineteen. The executive decided to let the law take its course, but public sentiment compelled a respite. In twenty-five years only one white man has been hanged for this offence.

The Taunton, Massachusetts, Gazette remarks: "Reports from all parts of this section of the State and Rhode Island indicate that the damage to crops by the fate gale was unprecedented. A Berkley farmer reports that his corn and cabbage were blown out of the ground. In Dighton and Rehoboth fruit trees were stripped. In Swansea the pear orchards were harmed badly. In Norton the corn fields are in a bad condition." A Norfolk, Va., despatch says the loss to farmers in that section by the tempest will not fall far short of a half a million dollars in three adjoining counties.

The New York World reports an interview with Cyrus W. Field concerning his joint connection with Samuel J. Tilden in the elevated railroad enterprise. Field intimated that Tilden had dealt unjustly with him, and said he could never again have any kind of business transactions with Tilden. Field declined to tell the whole story, but said it would probably be brought out in a lawsuit, in which he (Field) would be the principal witness.

New Hampshire Items.

Henry Cole of Springfield, a Frenchman, was arrested on Thursday charged with the murder of Frank Wheeler, a young man about nineteen years old, who has not been seen since the 29th of June, at which time Cole charged Wheeler with improper intimacy with his wife, and Wheeler was knocked down at Cole's house, where there was a party of Frenchmen all more or less intoxicated. The Frenchmen all left for Canada with the exception of Cole, who was arraigned at Newport on Friday, and pleaded not guilty. The case was continued for further investigation until the 4th of September. There is a great deal of excitement there, and a thorough investigation will be made.

The Advent camp-meeting at Alton bay commenced last Friday afternoon, with a large attendance.

Mrs. Sarah Patrie, a French woman of Manchester, kindled her fire with kerosene on Friday; result, the woman and her four-year-old child terribly burned. The mill operatives in Manchester are said to use kerosene for kindling fires to a great extent.

The pardons reported as having been made by the governor and council last week were not properly pardons, but expirations of sentences under the statutes which give a reduction of the term of sentence for good behavior of convicts.

John Hill, a farmer of Strafford fifty-eight years old, went into his pasture on Wednesday evening of last week to drive his cows to the barn. Not returning, search was made and he was found dead beside a rock in his pasture. He was troubled with heart disease, which no doubt caused his death.

The following are the assignments of Supreme Court terms for the fall circuit: Colebrook, August 19th, Judge Foster; Dover, Sept. 2d, Judge Clark; Nashua, Sept. 2d, Judge Foster; Newport, Sept. 2d, Judge Stanley; Laconia, Sept. 28th, Judge Bingham; Haverhill, Sept. 26th, Judge Stanley; Concord, October 7th, Judge Allen; Lancaster, October 14th, Judge Smith; Portsmouth, October 21st, Judge Bingham; Keene, October 21st, Judge Clark; Ossipee, October 21st, Judge Smith; Plymouth, November 4th, Judge Allen.

Naval Affairs.

Boatswain John McDonald is detached from the U. S. S. Portsmouth, and ordered to the Boston navy yard.

Capt. Henry J. Bishop, U. S. M. C., is ordered to the Colorado on the 5th of September.

Capt. Richard L. Law, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, left Washington on the 15th inst. for a visit to the Boston and Portsmouth navy yards.

Boatswain Henry P. Grace is detached from the Boston navy yard, and ordered to the Portsmouth yard.

Lieut. John T. Broadhead, U. S. M. C., recently detached from duty at the Washington navy yard and ordered to the marine barracks at this yard, has resigned, the resignation to take effect Nov. 14th.

AROUND HOME.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Garland, arrived at Dover from New York with her party of excursionists on Thursday afternoon of last week, all well.

Mrs. Margaret Langley, of Haverhill, Mass., eighty-eight years of age, fell and broke her hip on the 19th inst., at York beach, where she was stopping for a few days.

A man named Tallant, of Concord, drove his horse from York beach to Dover on Saturday. Soon after arriving there the animal had an attack of the colic, and quickly died.

Orrin Gotham, twenty-eight years of age, an employe in Bunker's hotel at Epping, made a wager that he could eat thirty-six peaches. He accomplished the feat, and died in consequence Saturday morning.

There was a smashup near the railroad crossing at the north end, Saturday evening, when a carriage containing the surgeon of the navy yard and his lady, proceeding toward the bridge, was struck by a passing team going in the same direction, and so badly broken as to be disabled. The other team drove on without stopping, but we are informed that the occupant is known.

We are please to learn that Mr. Charles H. Bessellievre, for several years past a prompt and efficient yet quiet and unobtrusive member of the city police force, but who went down in the combination fight last week, has been appointed to a good position in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard. Mr. Bessellievre was a gallant soldier in the war for the preservation of the Union, and wears the scars of honorable wounds received in that conflict.

Richard H. Goding, treasurer of York county, Me., died at Alfred on Wednesday of last week, of consumption. He was elected Sheriff of the county in 1864, '66 and '68. In 1872 and '73 he represented the towns of Kennebunk and Alfred in the legislature. In February, 1877, he was appointed county treasurer by the governor, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Banks, who had been elected State treasurer; and Mr. Goding was elected in 1878 to the same position.

Rev. Mr. DeNormandie has been quite ill for a week past, but we are glad to learn that he is much better and will soon be about again. His pulpit was occupied on Sunday morning by the familiar form of Rev. A. J. Patterson, of Boston Highlands, who kindly consented to supply for Mr. DeNormandie. Dr. Patterson's face was a pleasant reminder of former days, when he 'went in and out among us' fearlessly and devotedly discharging duty as it presented itself to him. May he live long and prosper.

A meeting of the members of De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar is to be held this evening, to act upon the invitation of Trinity Commandry of Manchester to join them as escort to the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on the occasion of the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument in that city Sept. 11th. All the commandries in the State have been invited, and it is expected that there will be a larger number of Knights Templar assembled on that day than were ever together before in this State, as Mount Horeb Commandry of Concord, St. George of Nashua and Hugh de Payens of Keene have already signified their intention of being present.

Mr. Samuel Lamprey opens a new course for a juvenile class in dancing at Congress hall, Wednesday, Sept. 17th. Mr. Lamprey has been an esteemed citizen for twenty-six years, and we speak of him as an acquaintance of thirty years. He has a well earned reputation as an upright, worthy man, a thorough master of his profession, and a gentleman. That he is an excellent teacher has been well proved by the experience of some of his young pupils during a tour of Europe in the high encomiums bestowed upon their style of dancing, as was the case with the children of Capt. Bradford, even while in gay France. Another lady had the same experience with her children (his pupils) while travelling in Scotland. Mr. Lamprey teaches the same style of dancing as does Mons. Arcan in Boston and Prof. Dodworth in New York.—Journal.

On Thursday last a deposit book was taken into the Strafford savings bank at Dover which had not been there for thirty-one years. It had credited upon it $53 in favor of the depositor, and the treasurer of the bank added thereto the sum of $375, as interest.

Hon. Daniel Needham, of Boston, will deliver the annual address at the State fair at Dover, upon "Agriculture, the strength of the Nation."

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The U. S. S. Wachusett has arrived at this naval station, to go into the dry dock. It will be remembered that she grounded on a bar in the Mississippi river some weeks ago, she having gone up the river to ship boys for the naval service. She arrived at the yard on Saturday afternoon, and moored to one of the large buoys. She is a 3d rate, of the same size as the Kearsarge, 695 tons, and carries six guns.

The steamer Leyden, with a party on board, went down river on a fishing and chowder excursion, Saturday.

The officers of the yard will give a reception in one of the large rooms in the building devoted to the storage of provisions and clothing, on Wednesday.

A HARD TIME FOR SEAMEN.

Four coal schooners which arrived at this port on Friday afternoon last were all more or less roughly handled by the great gale of the 18th inst.

The schooner L. A. Rommell, Capt. Jeffries, of Somers Point, N. J., from Philadelphia, got off the easiest of the four. She ran into Sandy Hook, Saturday, and anchored, but got under weigh next day; on the commencement of the gale she managed to get back under Sandy Hook again, losing only an old spanker in doing so, and rode out the gale with two anchors down.

The Laura V. Rose, Capt. Allen, from Philadelphia, took the gale off Shinnecock, L. I., and had to ride it out at sea, losing her jib, mainsail and spanker, and having her yawl boat and everything movable about decks carried off by the seas.

The Samuel Hart, of St. George, Me., Capt. W. H. Holbrook, from North Amboy, was also caught in the gale off Shinnecock, and lost her deckload of coal, had mainsail blown to pieces, yawl swept away and deckhouse slightly stove. No person was hurt, nor was the steward washed overboard and then thrown on board again by a wave, as stated in the Boston papers.

The Benjamin F. Lee, of Leesburg, N. J., Capt. Marts, from Philadelphia, had her scupper-ports torn away by the sea, which also stripped the battens off the main hatch; the reefed mainsail was split, and the between-decks cargo shifted so as to give the schooner a list of two feet or more. During the gale the vessel got so near Block island as to hear the whistle on shore. The crew report the sea as making a clean breach over the South Shoals lightship during the gale, which it is said was never known before.

Nearly every vessel seen on the passage by the above named schooners, after the storm, showed traces of the hard weather in split sails or spars gone, or both, and considerable wreck stuff was seen by some of them.

The Abbie Corson, Corson master, which vessel also arrived on Friday, reports that after the gale, when five miles off Nauset, she picked up a yawl-boat badly stove, with iron-strapped davit blocks attached, the falls and painter having been cut.

THE STORM AT YORK BEACH.

A young man belonging in this city, who is camping on long beach, York, tells us about how the gale worked in that region on Monday night of last week. There were nine parties camping out on the beach at that time, from Eliot, Great Falls, Salmon Falls, Canterbury, Haverhill and this city. During the night one party of young men, from Great Falls, undertook to keep their tent to the ground by sitting on the guys and holding on to the pegs; but an extra gust at last burst in the end of the tent, and in a twinkling it went aloft, yanking the young fellows together into a confused heap in the middle of the place it had previously occupied, and wandering off by itself in the darkness. Another establishment—a little bit of a tent occupied by one youth—was so effectually disposed of during the night that only the pole remained in the morning, tent and man having entirely disappeared. The rest of the tents, having more or less shelter from the gale, escaped with but little harm. The crops along the beach region were beaten flat, especially the corn, some of which was torn up by the roots. The large barn of Mr. George Bowdon took the wind fair in its side, and that side was bulged in so that it was about three feet out of line in the centre. Many trees were uprooted, and as in other places, most of the fruit trees were shaken bare. On Tuesday, Major George L. Wentworth of Salmon Falls came very near losing his life, while bathing with another man, not far from the Sea View house. A dory they had with them got adrift, and the wind was taking her rapidly off shore, when Maj. Wentworth went in pursuit, overtook her and climbed aboard, and attempted to pull back; but a sea half filled the boat and carried away one of his oars, and finding he could make no headway with the other oar he again took to the water and attempted to tow the dory ashore, but the dory towed him to sea instead, and he was rescued by another boat after being about an hour in the water, in a very exhausted condition. The dory went on a sea voyage by itself, full of water.

COURTEOUS POLICEMEN.

Under the above heading the Haverhill (Mass.) Bulletin of Aug. 13th contained the following item:

A gentleman and his wife, members of the excursion party that visited Portsmouth from this city last Monday, had an experience that does not often occur. They were on Congress street; the gentleman stepped into a store to make some purchases, his wife remaining on the sidewalk. Standing near her were two policemen, and one of them addressed the lady in the most affectionate manner, calling her his darling and inviting her to accompany him to the circus. She however took no notice of him, but when her husband joined her she repeated the remark of the officer to him. He at once turned to the officer and asked for an explanation, but the officer turned away, not quick enough however to prevent his number being taken. Perhaps this is the way the Portsmouth police have of being courteous.

The Haverhill Banner of the 22d inst. refers to the same incident as follows:

A gentleman and his wife from this city recently made an excursion to Portsmouth, and while on the streets of that city, he stepped into a shop leaving his wife on the sidewalk, when a policeman insulted her with improper advances. It is not an uncommon thing that illiterate and licentious men get on police duty, where none but courteous gentlemen should be. Officers are obliged to be found sometimes in rough places, but this should not change their manly exterior. There are many in these positions, who, from their habits and passions, should be guarded instead of being guardians. Mayors are a good deal responsible for not investigating more closely the characters of the men they appoint.

The mayor of Portsmouth does not appoint the police; and if he did he would have no cause to be ashamed of the reputation of the men comprising the force in this city, for efficiency or courtesy. We do not hesitate to assert that the Haverhill man was mistaken in charging the insult to his wife to a member of the police force, and to say that our contemporaries of the press are emptying their vials of wrath on the wrong persons. The man whose wife was insulted was written to by the city marshal as soon as the item in the Bulletin was brought to the latter's notice, but the complainant did not know the officer's number, and the only reason he had for supposing the insulter a policeman at all was that he wore a "blue suit with brass buttons," and a white hat. This is a seaport, and on the date mentioned (the 11th inst.) there were a half dozen or more yachts in the harbor, all of whose crews were in "blue coats and brass buttons," and probably fifty or more persons were that day on our streets who would better answer the personal description of the man who accosted the lady than any member of the police force, not one of whom it comes near fitting. The Portsmouth police are all married men, we believe, and well conducted citizens, we know; they do not insult women; and even if one of them should take a notion to behave so improperly, he would know better than to do it just when an election of a new force was coming off, for there is not an idiot among them.

Aren't the Doctors Inside?

Editor Chronicle:—In your police court report of Saturday reference is made to one Dr. Hanson as having been arraigned for practicing medicine in Raymond, without a license. I know nothing of Dr. Hanson, never having heard of the man. But what sort of a law is this that compels one to apply to an Examining Board of Physicians for permission to compete with them for the healing of the people? I have not examined into the workings of this little piece of clandestine legislation, but it looks, upon the face of it, monopolizing and undemocratic. The argument is undoubtedly protection. But whom does it protect? Certainly only a small class of individuals who chance to have a certificate from some first, second or third-rate medical school that they are fitted to practise medicine!

But legislation, it is understood is not for a class, but for the whole people. Of course these medical graduates will not have the presumption to claim that such an enactment as that which provides a censorship of doctors over the medical practice is for the good of the people. Because, that implies an ability on the part of these claimants to be able to cure the sick, themselves, and for fear the sick will be tampered with by some novice or bungler, they step in with this censorship and protect the public! O, no! They don't make any such ludicrous claim. But if not, then what is their reason for this legislation in the interest of a class? We pause for a reply.

If, however, this is all right, I think the lawyers and the ministers should be similarly protected. And then I would include all mechanics. Every artisan should be obliged to serve a certain length of time at his trade, at the expiration of which he should be furnished with a certificate of his fitness, failing to receive which he should everywhere be refused employment. This would protect those who have taken pains to secure their mechanical knowledge by a proper term of apprenticeship. Let us have all classes treated alike, and not legislate in the interest of one alone. G.

—A gentleman who had been dining out the night before, went into a barber's shop one morning to be shaved. He saw that the barber had been taking more than was good for him, and his hand shook very much, and, naturally indignant, he began to give him a little moral advice by saying: "Bad thing, drink!" "Yes," said the barber, "it makes the skin awful tender."

—She was five years old, looking out of the window of a car that was whirling through the kitchen garden region of New-Jersey, anxious to be informed of the character of the growing crops. Said her father: "That field contains sweet potatoes, that one, beans; the others, cabbage." "Cabbages?" quoth the five-year-old. "Yes, cabbage." "Well, where is the corned beef?"

—An ingenious but wicked mode of pot fishermen on Seneca lake, between Watkins and Big stream, in New York. They have constructed a circular enclosure in the lake, in which several openings are made, which may be closed with drop gates. These gates are left open for an hour or so, and then closed. The water is then pumped out of the enclosure by means of a small steam engine on the shore, and the fishermen get hundreds of lake trout, bass and pickerel. They will soon destroy all the fish.

—About six months ago a young Brazilian, aged about twenty-eight, arrived in Paris from Rio Janeiro. He called himself Ferdinand Costales, and gave himself out as a doctor rich enough not to pratice. Of pleasing exterior, and provided with authentic papers and letters of credit and introduction, the young Brazilian penetrated the salons of the noble faubourg. He was an incefatigable dancer, an agreeable talker, and always welcome. After these soirees he used to go to the boulevard restaurants, and carry on the gayety through the night. The Brazilian always wore his hair pasted over his forehead and temples at all hours of the day and night. M. Costales was supping in company with two girls and a fourth person at one of the boulevard restaurants. The fourth person feigning drunkenness, put his fingers through the hair of Costales. The latter rose furious and very soon left the room. The next morning he was arrested at his house. The fourth person was a detective, who had suspected Costales to be a certain Marin, who had escaped from New Caledonia. The cicatrice discovered under the hair was conclusive.

How Women Would Vote.

Were the question admitted to the ballot, and women were allowed to vote, every women in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. Dr. Pierce has received hundreds of grateful testimonials of its curative power.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, March 4th, 1878.

Dear Sir—For many months I was a great sufferer. Physicians could afford me no relief. In my despair I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription. It speedily effected my entire and permanent cure.

Yours thankfully,

MRS. PAUL R. BAXTER.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known treatments and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating down into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER; Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, medicinally the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our files.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 306 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

PRINTING OFFICE!

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough Blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption, Tetter, Mercurial diseases, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Extensively it has manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chilliness followed with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" a dozen bottles of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of calomel, croton, and bulky excipients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blocked feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Are also not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes acrid, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak eyes, stopping up, or obstruction of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice catarrhal, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged glands, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried into the nasal passages, and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures most attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no offensive or injurious drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

For the ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.

The mutability of earthly things and of politics especially has no more striking exemplification than the changes wrought in two short weeks, which place Cornell, the favorite heretofore in the race for the republican gubernatorial nomination, far in the rear, with a fair prospect of being distanced before the convention meets. Senator Conkling, occupying as he has for years the position of a leader who swayed autocratic power in New York State politics, sees his prestige departing which through a decade he has maintained uncompromisingly. Ask a dozen men the reason of Cornell's apparent coming defeat, and ten of them will answer that it is because of his being the candidate of Conkling. His former strength and present weakness came of this intimacy. The Conkling-Sprague difficulty, placed the Senator in an awkward predicament, and though the public may not believe reports prejudicial to Senator Conkling and Mrs. Sprague, the Canonchet difficulty may unmake a would-be Governor and ruin the prospects of a possible President. Fickle Fortune deserts men at critical periods, and statesmen who have been greater favorites than the brilliant orator who occupies a senatorial seat from the Empire State, have before this seen their fondest hopes decay, and died with their highest ambitions ungratified. "There's a Divinity that shapes our ends rough"—you know. Gen. Grant's withdrawal from the Presidential candidacy, and Senator Conkling's practical retirement from the list of candidates, narrows down the contest for supremacy in the national republican convention of 1880 to Messrs. Blaine, Washburne and Sherman, with the still fresh remembrance of the ill-fated alliance of Conkling, Cameron and Bristow—people have almost forgotten there was a Bristow, since—to help do justice to the leader who was sacrificed to malignity and jealousy.

That excessively fresh political saint and noble "reformer," Samuel Jones Tilden, is also getting a "set-back" about now, which were democratic politicians as sensitive as the republican sort, would remand him to the ranks effectually and forever. Sammy cleared a cool million of dollars by speculating in elevated railway stock and bonds, and his characteristic "smartness" is shown now that the chickens return to their roost. Cyrus W. Field, with whom he has been intimately associated, now declares that he despises the "reformer" and will have nothing to do with him hereafter. The most authentic rumor that is going the rounds, gives the following as the version nearest to the inward truthfulness of the transaction:

It seems that Cyrus and Samuel held large blocks of elevated railroad stock and bonds, purchased at $14 per share—the par value being $100. The wonderful success of the undertaking sent the stock to $160 per share, or thereabouts. Then Cyrus and Samuel felt mutual inward convictions that the time had come for the harvest. Cyrus immediately hied himself to Europe, Samuel having authorized him to sell jointly with his own, at the best prices to be secured, some 7000 or more shares of his, the said Samuel's stock. Cyrus wasted no time, and soon had negotiations fairly "under weigh." Everything seemed serene, and he was about to close the bargain for $4,000,000 or so, one bright morning, when a sudden change seemed to come over the countenances of the expected purchasers. Come to think of it, they didn't want any elevated stock, after all. The price asked was too far above the market on this side. The mystified Cyrus, projector of ocean telegraphy, elevated railroad enterprises, and such, demanded the reason for "such conduct as those," and was put out of his misery by being informed that the American agent of the would-be purchasers had telegraphed that Mr. Tilden had quietly disposed of his elevated railroad stock at figures nearly fifty per cent lower than Mr. Field had offered it. Cyrus read the telegram,

"——smiled a sickly sort of smile,
And curled up on the floor;
And the subsequent proceedings
Interested him no more."

Cyrus has returned a wiser and very indignant man, his market having been spoiled by the "reformer's" premature delivery. He is certainly sufficiently advanced in years to know enough "not to meddle with edged tools" — and feels keenly the ridiculous position in which he is placed. An enterprising reporter interviewed him, and the World published a column article about it. Another reporter interviewed "Reformer" Samuel, who remarked between each sardonic grin, that he had a right to do as he chose with his own, and that he had "a legal right to sell"—which nobody can deny. Cyrus refuses to state the exact facts, but hints that a proposed lawsuit for damages will bring them out. Great "moral forces" have heretofore been Samuel's "best hold," but these forces make him exceedingly slippery to deal with, a serious disadvantage to his friends and associates.

Saturday's World (democratic,) in reviewing the Tilden interview, tritely says of some of Samuel's excuses:

But if a brief conflict with two or three railway managers addicted to "financial pyrotechnics" compelled him to throw a vast amount of his railway property on one side, and to retire for rest and recreation into the country, what must he not have suffered from a single month's contention with hungry office seekers and a single month's devotion to the tremendous work of purifying the public service of the Federal Union!

The Evening Express (democratic,) follows this up, speaking of it as Mr. Tilden's "elevated railway trapeze performance,"—and closes an article thuswise:

Somehow Samuel seems to have not the remotest conception of what people understand by conscience and honor, and similar old-fashioned terms.

And this is the man whom half the democracy of the Union expect will purchase his way to the Presidential chair a few months hence. G.

Tragedy at Bow.

The premises of Samuel R. Noyes, a well-off farmer of Bow, seventy-five years old, were burned on Friday night last, and after the fire was out his charred remains were found in the ruins of the barn. As there were no cattle in the barn, and nothing to take Mr. Noyes there, it is believed he was murdered and robbed, and the fire raised to conceal the greater crime. It is known that Mr. Noyes had considerable money on hand.

A Bad Record.

Police Sergeant Jacob Nohl, of Toledo, Ohio, having been attacked in a published card by Ross Saulsbury, a State prison bird, on Saturday demanded a retraction. Saulsbury refused to make one, when Nohl shot him dead, and then mortally wounded himself.

At Trinidad, Col., Friday night, a mob took from jail two men named Cormack and Logan, imprisoned for feloniously assaulting two little girls, and hung them.

Fred Keesler, a German farmer of Buckley, Ohio, on Thursday night shot away his wife's jaw with a gun, finished murdering her with an axe, and then made his escape.

James Shannon, of Jersey City, on Saturday found his wife drunk when he went home after his day's work, and no supper ready. He went out and got drunk himself, and then returned and beat his wife to death.

Edward D. Ryan killed Michael Kelly in a street fight in Brooklyn on Saturday.

Henry Carolters was shot dead near Decatur, Ala., Saturday, by Lee Wood, for criminal intimacy with the latter's wife. Both men are colored.

Bill Ames, who was under heavy bonds for having stabbed his father to death two years ago, was himself killed Friday evening at Glasgow, Ky., by John Bowles, for abusing a negro.

Henry Bedford mortally wounded T. W. McClure in Barbour county, Kansas, with pistol shots, on Wednesday of last week. They were quarreling over a land claim.

James Dobbins and Michael Burns, old farmers in the vicinity of Kansas City, shot and killed each other Friday evening, in a family quarrel in which their wives and families took part.

William T. Carter, a prominent stockbroker of Philadelphia, Ralph E. Webb, a respected citizen of Chester, Conn., and Edwin A. Merritt, a young man of North Scituate, Mass., committed suicide on Saturday, the first by jumping overboard from a steamer and the last two by hanging.

The body of a man named Joseph Robinson was found dead in his house at North Abington, Mass., Saturday night. He had evidently been hanging in the attic over a stairway for at least two weeks, as the body was badly decomposed and covered with vermin.

News and Notes.

Miss Eaton, to whom Munson married himself at Worcester, Mass., recently, claims to have been under a mesmeric influence of Munson, and that she was not acting of her own will, but was apparently being led by him all the time. Her story is fully credited by persons who know her.

Dory-making, the principle business of Salisbury point, Mass., is thriving, all the shops being in full blast, which is uncommon at this time of year.

The trial of Rev. H. H. Hayden, the Connecticut clergyman who has been in jail a year waiting to be tried for the murder of Mary Stannard, has been again postponed. To the ordinary mind it appears that the delay in this case is a gross outrage. If Hayden can be proved guilty, he should be promptly punished; if he is innocent he should be released. New evidence is said to have been discovered against the prisoner, the most important being the recovery from a wound in Mary Stannard's body of a little piece of steel, which exactly fits a nick in Mr. Hayden's knife. Mr. Hayden will be ably defended, however, and Methodist ministers in different parts of the State are raising money to help him. He has grown fleshy in jail.

Experts have recently examined the copper lode of the Douglass mine at Bluehill, Me., and have pronounced so decided an opinion in favor of its richness and its extent that capitalists have promptly furnished the means to develop it, and on a large scale.

Three two-story buildings which stood over the river at Dexter, Me., capsized Saturday forenoon, through the giving away of the foundations, and went down into the water. Two were storehouses, one a grocery shop and one a clothing manufactory. No one was injured, but the buildings and contents were damaged considerably.

Some 267 persons were poisoned Saturday at a picnic near Milwaukee, Wis., from drinking lemonade which had been made with the wrong acid. It is thought several cases are fatal.

Samuel Butler's twelve year old son, Fred, at Pittsfield, Vt., tried the experiment of hanging himself the other day to see if he could extricate himself while suspended, and was strangled to death.

Mrs. James Adams, wife of a prominent citizen of Newark, N. J., was fatally burned Saturday night by the explosion of a kerosene lamp which she attempted to light.

Six masked men boarded a schooner off Ilikef's island, New York harbor, Thursday night, and robbed the captain of $185 and a watch and chain valued at $300.

The warfare by the strikers against the working spinners in Fall River, Mass., continues disgraceful and flagrant. One spinner was found disabled in the street, having been attacked and his leg broken. Several others who were attacked by a mob Sunday and found refuge in an engine house, were arrested and taken to the cells, because three of their number had fired pistols, as they allege, in defence of their lives. There ought somehow to be found a means of enforcing the penalties of the law against the incitors of these outrages upon men who prefer to work rather than to beg.

The provocation for the shooting of the notorious Isaac S. Kalloch in San Francisco was a blackguard allusion to the character of the mother of De Young, and Kalloch had been warned that he would be shot at sight if he made it. A crowd of many thousands of excited partisans of Kalloch filled the streets, Saturday night, clamoring to be led against the jail where De Young was confined, that they might execute summary vengeance upon him; but after waiting for Kearney until fatigue had intervened to some extent in behalf of peace, that leader of the Sand Lots arrived, and counselled moderation. The danger of an outbreak seems to be averted for the moment, but if Kalloch should die, the power of law and order in San Francisco would probably be severely tested. What kind of a creature Kalloch is, is well understood here in the east, where his exploits are yet fresh in mind; De Young appears to be about equally eminent as a blackguard, and either or both of them might die without causing any great loss to decency and morality.

There is an elm tree in Berwick, Me., that measures twenty-seven feet, eleven and one-half inches in circumference, eighteen inches from the ground!

Ambrose Fortescue, the American awaiting trial at London for forgery on the Bank of England, proves to be Peter Burns, a notorious Philadelphia burglar, counterfeiter and forger.

A twelve year old girl at Covington, Ky., while playing with her baby brother had a pistol in her hand, which the baby seized, causing it to discharge. The ball entered the girl's breast, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

The details of the fight on the train that was taking the excursion party of Waterville firemen from Portland to their homes on Friday evening show it to have been a disgraceful display of ruffianism. Soon after the train started a free fight began, the rioters attempting to drive the peaceably disposed persons from the car where the row commenced. The train was backed into the station yard again, and officers who had been telephoned for soon arrived, by which time the fight had become general. Knives had been drawn, and there was a scene of the wildest confusion. The car windows were broken, seats torn up and the doors broken. The officers went to work, and in a few minutes had thrown several of the ruffians out of the car; one was rendered insensible, and it was thought for a short time that he would not recover, but he did, and with three others was taken to the station. One officer was kicked severely in the ribs, but he has no doubt the man that did it can be identified by the bruises on his head, a club having quickly knocked all the fight out of the kicker. The name of the man so severely injured was Jim Shaw. About twenty rioters were put off the cars, and the remainder being quieted down, the train proceeded.

The prospect for cotton manufacturers in England is exceedingly gloomy, and a further reduction of wages of operatives is being inaugurated. Great suffering among the laboring classes is inevitable during the coming winter.

James Lawrence, a supposed victim of the Brooklyn theatre fire, in December, 1876, has just returned from South America, to which port he shipped as a sailor.

Bartholdi's colossal statue of Liberty for New York harbor is making rapid progress toward completion. The public will shortly be permitted to visit its interior.

Political.

One Capt. Trevellick, of Michigan, in a recent speech before the greenbackers of Biddeford proceeded to review the tramp law of New Hampshire, which he said "imprisoned the mechanic who was out of money and work, and happened to ask bread on the road." Capt. Trevellick is a donkey, or else he lied. He had better come to New Hampshire and try to advance the interests of greenodembackey by denouncing the excellent law which has so effectually cleared the State of lazy, thieving bummers.

Now and then we get a bit of testimony regarding the political condition of the south, which is at once intelligent and trustworthy. Such is the evidence of Mr. N. K. Sawyer, formerly collector of customs in Maine, who has been for the last six years in Florida, and who went there with the idea that the south was veritably reconstructed and ready to enter upon a politically honest career. He supported Greeley in 1872, and Tilden in 1876; he now writes to the Lewiston, Me., Journal that "the time has not yet come when it will be safe to turn over the legislation of this great nation to the democrats." He gives his reasons. The democrats in several counties in Florida "have within a few weeks perpetrated outrages on some colored people that would disgrace Comanche Indians." This is not all; it is the drift of public opinion in the south, the spirit of lawlessness which convinces him that the peace of the country demands the retention of power by the republican party. All this is very natural. The active men in the south were either in the confederate army, or have grown up with all the bitterness of feeling engendered by the war of the rebellion. They are at heart secessionists and rebels. They cannot initiate another war, but they can wreak their hate upon the negro, and upon any independent individual who may happen to live among them. The older heads intend to rule within the Union, and under the forms of law, and to rule as nearly as possible in the ante-bellum style. Florida and Mississippi are at one. To the southerner the negro is now, just as much as before the war, a predestined serf; the United States government an institution to be countenanced or used for the sectional interests of the south. Nothing was changed at Appomattox save the purpose of the south to fight.

Socialist up to a Certain Point.

I was travelling in a department of the south, after the revolution of February. I met one day the mayor of a village, proprietor of a metairie.

"Sir," said he to me, "what do they mean down here at Paris by that word 'communism?' Is it some sluggish business, is it not? So, at least, our curate says."

"It is a system of partition," replied I, "invented once on a time by a dreamer."

"What did he dream?"

"That the man who had a million should share it with the commune."

His eyes brightened. "Not a bad dream either," said he.

"But further," I resumed, "that the man who has 100,000 francs should abandon the half to his neighbor."

"Well, he would still have enough with the other half."

"Then, the man who has 50,000 francs should come down to 25,000 francs, through a spirit of fraternity."

The face of the mayor assumed a thoughtful tinge.

"That may still do."

"Lastly, that the man who possesses 25,000 francs—"

Twenty-five thousand francs," he interrupted, springing up with a bound, "that's the value of my farm; let him who would have a vine stock belonging to it, come and seek it. He will see how I will receive him at the end of my musket."—French paper.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 26, 2 A. M.

Partly cloudy weather, occasional rain, variable winds mostly northeast, stationary or lower temperature.

AROUND HOME.

The schooner Brunette arrived at Doane's wharf on Friday last, with fifteen hundred mackerel barrels.

Mr. Benjamin Durgin, of Kittery, will speak on Market square on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, on "Science and theology reconciled."

Sagamore Engine Co., No. 2, will give a supper at their engine house Wednesday evening, the occasion being the reception of the new engine Col. Sise.

An excursion is to start from this city and Dover for Fabyan's on Wednesday, Sept. 3d. Tickets for the round trip will be $2.50, and be good for five days.

The contract for painting the county buildings at Brentwood has been awarded to to Messrs. Willard J. Sampson & Co., of this city, the price being $147. They will commence the job at once.

The brick store No. 3 Bow street, next door to C. E. Myers & Co.'s place of business, was sold at auction last week by Morse & Ilsley for $2550, Mr. Charles H. Garrett being the purchaser.

A party of young men on Saturday night started for the Shoals in the schooner yacht Wm. H. Russell, but owing to the lack of wind it took them until Sunday noon to get there, when a good breeze sprang up and they then returned home—not missing a good time, however.

At the meeting of De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar, Monday evening, to consider the invitation to take part in the dedication ceremonies of the soldiers' monument at Manchester, a committee was appointed to make arrangements, the invitation having been accepted.

The reform club held a full and very interesting meeting at the mission hall, Sunday evening. A number of seafaring men were present to enjoy the services, and the president of the club, Mr. G. W. Randall, gave them a cordial invitation to take part; which one of their number accepted, speaking very neatly and to the acceptance of all present.

Mr. John K. A. Hanson delivered a lecture on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad matter Monday evening, on Market square, but the solemnity of the occasion was seriously marred by the explosion of a lot of cannon crackers inside the dry-goods box on which he stood while desiroying the railroad magnates. When the noisy crackers went off the lecturer did the same, amid the cheers of the assembled thousands.

Mr. Henry Marden, son of Josiah L. Marden of Kittery point, was drowned on the Grand banks on the ninth of August, from a dory, he being at the time one of the crew of a fishing vessel belonging to Gloucester, Mass. Mr. Marden was twenty-four years old, and leaves a wife and one child. He was quiet and unassuming in his manner, of excellent moral character, and a good son, husband and father, his aim being to do his duty in full and to make everyone around him happy.

Hon. William P. Frye, member of Congress from the 2d district of Maine, addressed the republicans of Eliot on Saturday evening. The gathering was the largest that has occurred at a political meeting in that town for years, it being estimated that over a thousand people were present. Mr. Frye remained in Eliot over Sunday to enjoy a quiet rest, as the guest of Thomas Staples, Esq. On Monday he visited this city and was waited upon by the prominent politicians, and himself made a friendly call on Hon. Frank Jones.

It is reported that there was something of a rumpus at the republican meeting in Eliot, Saturday evening, owing to the meeting being disturbed by some enthusiastic members of the "truck and dicker" party. It is said that one man was qualified to give the dentist a job, another had his lip inflated so that it stuck out beyond his nose, and several eyes went into mourning. If this report is correct it shows that more interest is taken in the election by the Eliot people than was shown by the citizens of Portsmouth at the recent municipal election.

WE STAND CORRECTED.

The Times of Monday evening thus refers to an item that appeared in the CHRONICLE of that day:

The always-correct CHRONICLE says, in speaking of the effects of the gale on the schooner Samuel Hart: "No person was hurt, nor was the steward washed overboard and then thrown on board again by a wave, as stated in the Boston papers." Bandages won't lie, and further we take the word of parties on board the Hart, given immediately on the vessel's arrival, instead of the CHRONICLE'S.

The item "in the Boston papers," to which we referred, said: "The captain had both wrists severely injured, and was otherwise hurt, while the steward was knocked overboard by a heavy sea, but was washed on board again by the incoming wave, without bodily harm." We are of course very sorry that we contradicted it, now that we learn from the Times that we were in error. But in palliation of our blunder we may plead that at the time we thought our authority reasonably reliable, as Capt. W. H. Holbrook, master of the schooner Samuel Hart, assured us that he was not injured during the gale, and that if any person was washed overboard from his vessel and then thrown back again, the circumstance had not come to his knowledge. But he had not then read the Times.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The dry dock was hauled out on Monday to receive the Wachusett. The ship will be taken up on this morning's tide.

Capt. Richard L. Law, who ranks as commodore by virtue of being chief of the bureau of yards and docks, paid an official visit to the navy yard on Monday, and received the regular salute. The guns made an extra big noise.

POLICE COURT.

Timothy Reagan was again up before the court on the charge of maintaining a nuisance at the north part of the city. Reagan was before the court on the same complaint a short time since, and was let off on condition that he would remove the pigs to another locality and make his yard clean, which he did; since that time he has returned the pigs to their old place and was again complained of. He was put under $50 bonds to appear at the October term of the supreme court. Mr. Reagan furnished sureties for his appearance, and that the nuisance complained of shall not in the meantime be maintained.

NAVAL BATTLE.

Quite a disturbance occurred on board the government steamer Leyden on Saturday, during an excursion. Two men employed in the department of yards and docks, named Shannon and Zambelli, were with several others sent on board for duty during the day, and assigned to the fire-room. There has for some time been a disagreement between the two, largely due, so we are informed by parties who have worked in company with the two men, to Zambelli's exasperating slurs; and one time they came to blows on the yard. On Saturday, during the trip, some words of a not overfriendly character passed between them; and soon after, according to the statements made to us, as Shannon was stooping over he was kicked in the face by Zambelli. This attention was acknowledged by Shannon with a blow from his fist, and a round of fisticuffs followed. The affair was reported to the commodore, who had the belligerents brought before him in the engine room for an investigation, which was suddenly ended by Shannon "striking out from the shoulder" at Zambelli, who was behind the commodore, and hitting him in the face. The commodore immediately caught hold of Shannon, and the latter, who was "mad 'way through," clinched the commodore around the waist, apparently intending to put him out of the engine room if he could, so our informant says! It was not until Shannon received a blow from some third person that he would release his hold, when he was taken away without causing any more trouble. He was probably at once discharged, as an assault committed in the commodore's presence, not to mention an assault upon that officer himself, is an offence that, like fraud, can never be condoned. Men who have worked on the yard with the two combatants say that Zambelli has on several occasions thrown irritating taunts at Shannon, and they consider the former mainly if not wholly to blame for the disturbance; but whether this is true or not, the latter's high temper was evidently what caused the sudden collapse of the investigation.

New Hampshire Items.

Jeremiah Brown of Candia, while going from his store to his house, Tuesday night of last week, fell over a wheelbarrow lying in the way, striking his neck across the handle with such force as to render him insensible and rupturing an artery. He remained insensible for several days, and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Beecher preached at the Twin Mountain house on Sunday.

The hotels at the mountains have more guests than at any time last season.

Mrs. Ansel Page, of Conway, hung herself at Fryeburg, Me., on the 23d inst.

Lyman P. Wyatt, residing on the borders of Farmington, attempted suicide by hanging himself in his barn, a few days ago. He was seen to leave the house early in the morning in his night clothes, and as soon as possible was followed by his housekeeper and his two children. One of the latter, aged about thirteen years, finding his father, in about fifteen minutes, suspended from a beam, and apparently dead, raised the body up and attracted the housekeeper by his cries. She succeeded in cutting Wyatt down. He gasped once, and then appeared lifeless, but a physician who was called succeeded in reviving him somewhat, so that there is a chance of his recovery, although he remains speechless. The cause of his attempt is supposed to have been temporary insanity, caused by the loss of his wife and by the fact that his farm was somewhat encumbered.

Naval Affairs.

The battery of the U. S. S. Franklin, aground at Norfolk, Va., was taken out on Friday, and on Saturday two government steamers attempted to haul her off, but failed. She was lying in eight feet of mud.

The navy department is informed that the U. S. S. Lackawanna, Capt. Ralph Chandler commanding, arrived at Apia, Samoan islands, June 25th, in fifty-six days from Callao, Peru. Capt. Chandler reports that the timely arrival of the ship will go far toward preventing a civil war there.

The U. S. S. Portsmouth sailed from Portland for Halifax, N. S., on Saturday last.

—A good joke was unconsciously got off recently on a local physician. In arranging a patient's broken leg he connected it with a tackle having a flat-iron as a compensation weight, and told the man's wife to let it stay there until his return. But she wanted that iron the next day, bad; and used it. While at work she saw the doctor coming, and in her fright replaced the iron, glowing hot, on the tackle. He came in, examined the leg and took up the hot iron. It dropped like lead, and the man of physic went on an impromptu can-can, equalled only by the vigorous use he made of his tongue. There was music there for half an hour, and he thinks yet that that woman put up a job on him.—Springfield Republican.

Enlarged May 1, 1879. Price unchanged.

The only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy, for correcting intemperate habits, regulating the stomach and bowels, breaking up colds, chills and fevers, is SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER. For relieving gouty and rheumatic pains, preventing malarial fevers, and promoting sleep it is truly wonderful. Ask for SANFORD'S. tsept10

Canada Thistles.

Some farmers are giving their experience on the destruction of the Canada thistle. One has tried this method, another a different method, and a third something else, all more or less successful. But the truth is nothing is like hoeing cultivation to get rid of this the vilest pest any farmer can be cursed with. In commencing operations against the enemy, the determination should be to be victorious and leave no artifice or device untried to gain it; and this is, as we say, thorough cultivation, and a whole and retail extermination of the thistle. The battle should begin before the pest makes its appearance, and after it makes its appearance, and as often as its makes its appearance. Successive crops of corn, followed by barley and wheat, will do the business for it in case there was a thistle left after the corn was harvested. No fence corner should be allowed to harbor one thistle. It should be ferreted out wherever it shows its prickly head, after which there will be none to kill if one can induce the neighbors to treat it in the same way, which they will be very likely to do after they witness your success.—Germantown Telegraph.

An Income Without Care.

By the combination method of operating in stocks a handsome income can be secured without care. Capital in any amount, from $10 to $50,000, may be used with equal proportionate success. By this system Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., pool the orders of thousands of customers, of various sums, into one vast amount, and co-operate them under the most skillful management, dividing profits monthly. Each share-holder thus obtains all the advantages of the largest capital and experienced skill, and the percentage of profits is very great; $20 will pay $100 in 30 days; $250 will return $1,825, or 7 1-2 per cent. on the stock, and so on, as the market varies. A prominent publisher of the Rock Island (Ill.) daily Argus, made $104.15 on an invest of $20.00, in October. Hundreds of others are doing even better. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular has "two unerring rules for success in stock operations" and full information, so that any one can deal in stocks. All kinds of bonds and stocks wanted. New Government bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

Cuticura

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and oozing deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and fall out, result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what the remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and give it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 29, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most troublesome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities where is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula, or common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their injurious effects are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Tettar, Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goiter or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are unaffected by climate, and, being enclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate. And they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, slight deafness, or total deafness, hissing sounds, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, snuffing to relieve the head, hoarse voice, altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total depletion of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The only remedy may be applied, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. This is pleasant and easily understood. Full directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expect" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as its Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $10 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation.* The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, Aug. 21, 1879.

The mania for streets many and multiplied, seems to possess some people, and the more impossible it is to cut a street through a particular place, the more expensive the buildings which must be sacrificed, the greater the desire to put the scheme through. A very favorite idea with certain people for some time past, has been to open another connection between our two great avenues, Washington and Tremont streets, by running Hamilton place directly through Music hall and the big organ, and as the text upon which to preach their pet measure to the people, they hold up the bugbear of a possible fire, and declare that the hall could never be emptied in haste. And since the fire in Tremont Temple last week, the only other large, centrally-located hall suitable for concerts and lectures in the city, the outcry about Music hall has begun afresh. But it is all nonsense, for although considerably shut in, being located in the hollow square formed by buildings on Washington, Winter, Tremont and Bromfield streets, there are broad exits into Winter and Tremont streets, and another not so commonly used, into Bromfield street, and should the proposed plan be executed of opening another exit into Hamilton place, which can easily be done, and certainly should be, the hall will be as safe as any in the city, and much more so than some which are filled nightly, and of which we hear no outcry. These would-be vandals have entirely failed to carry their point, however, as I could have told them they would, for had there been any real danger of their success, the shrewd, long-sighted director of the conservatory which occupies the thirty-odd rooms in the Music hall building, would not have opened the handsome new music store in the Winter street annex, as he did just before leaving with his excursion for Europe. The musical and literary bureau of which he is manager, is now located in the rear of this store, and a very artistic prospectus which has just been issued therefrom, shows a galaxy of noted names of artists and readers and lecturers, a list of which I would give you did space permit. However, if you are specially interested, you can send for a copy yourself, which I have no doubt will be cheerfully furnished.

But apropos of fires, I must tell you of a rather comical Cassabianca-like incident which occurred at the time when a slight fire took place in one of the conservatory rooms last winter. On the first alarm, given by a frightened little office-boy, one of the young lady clerks who always thinks of the right thing in the right place, ran up stairs to call John, the general utility young man of the establishment, whom she found pumping away at the machine by which some eight or ten organs are run for lessons. As coolly as if she were announcing a caller, she said, "John, the house is on fire; they want you down stairs," and turning to a young gentleman pupil who stood near, continued, "you please blow the organ while he is gone!"

And the youth actually did go to work to pump quietly away until everybody was ordered out of the building! Thus does the work of this institution go on, whatever betides.

It is difficult to conceive a reason for such a piece of incendiarism as the firing of Tremont Temple. But Boston has seemed beset by fire-bugs ever since the fearful conflagration of six years ago. But we rarely hear that one has been arrested and so they grow bold, and the work goes on. But it isn't the first time that the Temple has been burned, and it will rise again from its ashes, though it seems almost doubtful whether it will be opened as a free church again, for experience has, I should think, sufficiently shown, that even with the best of preachers and the biggest of congregations, a free church cannot support itself. But the hall is needed for many purposes. It was here that the famous anti-slavery meetings were held in ante-bellum days, and it is here that the advocates of the sixteenth amendment and the temperance cause, meet in these later ones.

And now a word about recent publications. I have been reading the September Atlantic and either this always celebrated magazine has greatly improved of late, or else I have just wakened up to a sense of what is really interesting. Probably it is the latter. But if you want to "squelch" your dearest enemy with a sense of your overpoweringly superior knowledge, just read some of the scientific and political economy papers in the Atlantic, and then fire away at the unfortunate afore-mentioned. If Mrs. B., whom you hate, talks spitefully against Mrs. C., whom you love, (of course I am writing "to ladies only" now, as some of the physiological lecturers advertise) and insinuates that the married women of the present day are wicked creatures, devoted to finery and culture and scorning to do their duty by the generation to come by raising big families of children as was the custom in the "good old times," you can just floor that Mrs. B., by quoting from Shaler's paper on "The Uses of Numbers in Society." "The force that formerly went to the multiplication of the species now goes to the making of a higher individuality. The growth of the individual and the multiplication of the race are opposed uses of the organic forces." And you can then complete your onslaught by winning Mr. B. completely over to your side, by showing your familiarity with the complications of "American finances from 1789 to 1835" (John Watts Kearney) and giving him points wherewith to settle the next political debate which may arise between him and his neighbor. For as I heard a stump-speaker in Maine truly say the other day, "We are not all educated in the finances of the country," and so when one does make a point therein, all opponents are immediately staggered beyond recovery. ROBIN.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 25.

The storm which was raging here when I wrote you a week ago to-day culminated and exhausted itself Monday night. You know more about its work elsewhere than I do. Here it gave many of the dwellers in tents a soaking and frightened more. There were some out at midnight with lanterns, thinking that the last blow had come, but, so far as I know, there was no damage or harm done. The soil here is like a sieve, and in a day or two it was ready for another soaking.

Wednesday afternoon, in company with others, we visited the County farm at Brentwood, not exactly to pick out a room, though some facetious friend suggested as much. No human person can look without a feeling of sadness upon those in poverty and suffering. These are always found in such institutions. Poverty is there, and sickness is there, and sickness brings suffering. Everything that can be done is done to make easier and lighter the lot and burden of the poor inmates, and much credit is due to all concerned, especially to Supt. Scott and his worthy wife.

Tuesday and Thursday there were prayer meetings in Great Falls tent, and Friday evening a class meeting in the tent of Grace church, Haverhill. These were well attended; at the class meeting eighty spoke.

I shall not trouble you or your readers with lengthy reports of many of the sermons, but I do wish to give you a brief abstract of the sermon of Sunday morning by Rev. W. W. Smith of Derry. It was a great sermon and will not be excelled during the week; fortunate indeed will the people be, if they listen to as good preaching on Thursday, when the big guns are usually brought out. The text was Gen. XII, 3. "I will bless thee, and thy name shall be great; and thou shalt be a blessing." Also II Cor. V, 14. "For the love of Christ constraineth us."

We all wish for usefulness, as for happiness. There is not one present but would prefer to make a blade of grass grow where none grew before, rather than to be like Attila, the "scourge of God," of whom it was said that the grass never grew again where his charger had trodden. The two texts had brought to the speaker's mind a vision of two of the most useful men the world had ever seen. Abraham lived about as long before Christ as we live after Him, but he "saw Christ's day and was glad." Paul, the chief apostle, was one of the first fruits of Christ's harvest, but it seemed to the speaker, as he mused upon the two texts, that he beheld these two illustrious figures coming hand in hand down Calvary's side full of blessing from the great Fountain of all good.

Two propositions are suggested by the texts: First, in order to bless others we must first be blessed ourselves. Second, the gift that shall most surely fulfill this double office is the fullness of the constraining love of Christ. God put it in the right order in making the great promise to the father of the faithful. To first seek salvation is not selfish. It was absurd to set up for benefactor without having something to impart; we must either be an independent fountain of good, or first receive the gift ourselves. So the slightest desires of true penitence are the gems of a world-wide beneficence. Abraham was one of the benefactors, not only of the pre-Messianic era, but of all ages, because he discovered the short path to a blessing for himself and the world. To him was given a great name, as the official representative of God's purpose to save men through faith; the glorious father of a multitude received a quickly communicable treasure. The principle applies to us, and, thank God, the promise also, for we may be blessed and be a blessing in receiving the gift of Christ's constraining love; it is the crowning effect of true faith. Is faith an absurd principle? The sceptics themselves cannot dispense with it. Lucretius, whose poem is the treasure house for the materialists, confesses faith in unseen atoms as being the source of the whole marvelous superstructure of the universe with its innumerable hierarchies of existence, so full of apparent purpose. Which is the inverted pyramid? No one ever saw either the great God or the atoms of the materialistic poet, but of the two faiths, Abraham's seems to the speaker the more reasonable; and he is thankful that he can hold it amid the conflicting thought of the day.

But the crowning effect of the faith of our two heroes was love, for even Abraham saw through the mist of ages the cross and near it the broken tomb, and in the strength of this love he, as well as Paul, went forth, saved from legal fear and pride and selfishness and despair, victorious in the principle that is always a fount of blessings and never a bane. The nobodies of the kingdom are those who do not possess the fullness of this love. Have you the eloquence of Demosthenes, but also the pride and scorn of his master oration? Then you are a nobody in the realm of grace. No gift without this love can make a somebody in the circles of our Prince. He is the faithful friend who dares wound our hearts with warning of our peril; but more than this, He is the one who plunges into the abyss to rescue us with his own sacrifice. And it is no diminution of the gift that "joint heirs" is written in the plural. Who wants a lonely heaven! Let it be all ours alone and let the precious jasper and pearls and diamonds and every conceivable gem be sprinkled as thick as hoar frost on a winter's morn, and all the preciousness would be but as the chill of winter to the soul without that wondrous company which shall but heighten the riches, while they participate in them.

In concluding the speaker applied to the church the power of this principle in a few simple questions, and closed with a passage remarkable for its beauty of expression. Christ, said he, is a successful leader. His trophies already won cannot be estimated. He who conquered Saul and the Roman empire and bridged the darkness of the middle ages with the glorious gospel will yet take the world. "He shall see of the travail of his soul and be satisfied." We poor sinners can love nothing short of success. The speaker owns the power of this argument even for himself. He hopes to win with Christ. His faith is firm that Christ will do all that his wondrous merits deserve. Come with us, then, and receive the fulfillment of God's promise in Christ,—"I will bless thee—and thou shalt be a blessing." *

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1879.

News and Notes.

Comparative quiet was restored at San Francisco on Monday. Kalloch is not likely to die from his wounds, and there are good reasons for the belief that the reports of his critical condition were greatly exaggerated. Denis Kearney's speech to his followers Saturday night demonstrated that his power over his followers is tremendous. He had not spoken ten minutes before all idea of attacking the jail was abandoned by the infuriated mob. De Young was arraigned and committed without bail, on Monday.

One man was killed and four others fatally injured by the fall of an arch which was undergoing repairs in the blast furnace of the Pottstown, Pa., Iron Co., Monday.

The town of Avon, Me., had a genuine case of elopement, a short time since, in broad daylight. The old gent mounted his bareback steed and gave chase, but the young people succeeded in escaping.

Two girls, named Matilda Sherrard, fifteen years old, and Hattie Hamilton, aged sixteen, were drowned while bathing at Lincoln, Me., on Sunday. Their bodies were recovered.

Three men fell overboard from an excursion steamer at Haverhill, Mass., on Sunday evening, and one of them, George W. Rice, was drowned.

George Pecker of Newburyport, eighty-seven years old, left his home Sunday afternoon and has not since been seen. He is believed to have committed suicide.

The district court at Fall River, Mass., was busy all day Monday, principally with the case of Wm. Potts, Jr., a working spinner, who was arrested for assault with a pistol on Thomas Hurley, a striker, which led to a serious disturbance Sunday. At the conclusion of the defence the court ordered Potts discharged, and the arrest of Hurley, the striker, for perjury. The testimony proved that the spinners were attacked by strikers, and did not fire pistol shots until compelled to do so in self-defence.

The municipal council of Paris has voted to turn out all the teachers in the public schools in that city who belong to the religious congregations, and appoint lay instructors only. Just before the adjournment of the French Chambers, a committee reported in favor of selling the crown jewels. One of the reasons given was that their retention in the possession of the government must lead any one to expect a monarchical restoration.

John Kelly, a government employe at Fort Hamilton, New York harbor, was shot dead Sunday by Patrick Kilbride, a laborer, with whom he had remonstrated for beating his wife while drunk Saturday evening. The murderer has not been arrested.

The tobacco factory of Turpin & Co., at Richmond, Va., better known as "Castle Thunder," used as a prison for Union soldiers during the rebellion, was burned Tuesday, with other buildings; loss $75,000.

Lawrence Broderick, of Hyde Park, Mass., was stabbed by Mrs. Margaret Gibbons on the evening of the 18th inst., and died on the 26th. The woman, who is a bad character and was drunk when she committed the deed, is awaiting trial. Broderick is said to have been a peaceable man, and of good reputation.

Jacob Jauch, a master baker of Cincinnati, on Monday reserved three dollars from the wages of one of his journeymen, William Frey, to pay the latter's bill at a neighboring grocery. Frey caught up a hatchet and chopped his employer's head in pieces.

Mrs. Fannie Moores, who died August 23d of yellow fever at Memphis, was a daughter of the late Senator Solon Borland of Arkansas. She was formerly the reigning belle of Little Rock, and was somewhat celebrated as a poetress.

The yellow fever seems to have held its own at Memphis during the past week, without any great increase in the number of new cases, of which thirty-four were reported on Monday, the fever having apparently taken a fresh start in the suburbs and the north part of the city. The wife of Gen. J. B. Hood died at New Orleans of the disease on the 25th inst., having been sick but a few days. The general alarm concerning the yellow fever seems to have in a great degree subsided in other places in the south.

A great shooting contest concluded at Versailles, France, on Monday, in which Milton Farrow, the American marksman, gained the first three prizes.

Our Haytien minister telegraphed Monday that the revolution was at an end—the provisional government having defeated the liberals and acquired the rebellious cities. A restoration of the regular government is now anticipated.

Harvest reports from Servia, Persia, Mesopotamia and India are discouraging. In England the outcome of the grain crop is estimated at one-third less than the average, indicating a loss to producers of one hundred and twenty million dollars. Austria also shows a deficient grain crop. Almost a famine now prevails among tenant farmers in the west of Ireland.

A young man at Spaxton, England, thought that it would be fun to set fire to a nearly empty cask of benzoline. He dropped a lighted match in the bung-hole and ran. One person was killed by the explosion, and the young man is in prison awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter. He will probably plead that he didn't think it would "go off."

The Moscow journals relate an extraordinary escape of a young nihilist girl named Gobieslawska, from the hands of the police. The latter had discovered the house in which she was concealed, and were about to make the arrest, when, to their surprise, they saw a balloon rising from the garden containing the object of their search and two men. They rapidly disappeared for some unknown destination leaving the gendarmes to gaze disconsolately after them.

Twenty-six States out of thirty-eight now hold their elections biennially, thereby saving much trouble and expense, and in these States the legislatures also meet once in two years. There is no doubt that the practice will be adopted by all the States, and the question is to be submitted to the people of Maine at the approaching election.

—Decidedly cool—refusing to pay the ice man.

—At a trial of a criminal case, the prisoner entered a plea of "not guilty," when one of the jurymen put on his hat and started for the door. The judge called him back and informed him that he could no. leave until the case was tried. "Tried?" queried the juror. "Why, he acknowledges he is not guilty!"

—Yesterday a policeman saw a young man sitting on a dry goods box, with his head tied up and one arm in a sling. Some of his ear was gone, and his nose needed sending to a repair shop. "Did a loaded wagon run over you?" asked the policeman. "No; we were only celebrating my birthday last night. We had a glorious time. You ought to have been there." The policeman merely said that judging by the looks of the celebrant the whole force ought to have been there.

—No matter how you camp, two grand essentials should be thoroughly remembered—plenty of dish-cloths and a good hatchet. A good blanket, rough clothes, strong shoes and a convenient valise or "knapsack" are absolute essentials. Do not become burdened with needless trifles, however. In fact, while nothing is needed in the way of red neckties, white kids and purple gaiterettes, careful attention should be given to the little things you will surely require but can not buy in the woods, or possibly in "the only country store" for miles around, even to a stout-bladed jack-knife.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

AROUND HOME.

The steam yacht Startled Fawn made an excursion trip from Newburyport to York beach on Tuesday.

The new steam fire engine Col. Sise, No. 2, will be tried on Market square this afternoon at half-past one o'clock.

Smelts are now caught from the south mill-bridge. Seven dozen were caught there by one party on Tuesday morning.

Schooner yacht Phantom, Capt. Frank Rowe, from Portland and bound for Salem, came into this harbor Tuesday evening.

Assistant Engineers O. P. Remick and Alex Dennett, of the United States revenue marine, are at present visiting their homes in Kittery, on leave of absence.

In the list of passengers by steamship Mississippi, which sailed from New Bedford for Fayal, Western islands, a day or two since, is the name of Aaron Burnham of Kittery, Me.

An extra train will be run from this city to Dover on Sunday next, the 31st., to connect with the trains for Alton Bay camp-meeting. The train will leave this city at 7:45 o'clock A. M., and return in the evening. Fare for the round trip, $1.40.

As a buggy containing a gentleman and two ladies was turning from Jefferson street into Atkinson, on Tuesday afternoon, one wheel of the vehicle came off and all three of its occupants were thrown out, but fortunately no serious damage was done.

The Pinafore club have held regular Sunday meetings at Chauncey's creek during the summer. Their last one was very largely attended by guests outside the regular club membership, but the commissary department was equal to the occasion, old campers-out such as they generally making a liberal allowance for "contingent."

The Times man says he has been "called upon by parties who were on board at the time, to say that the CHRONICLE's 'particulars' are wide of the facts" concerning the naval battle on board the tug Leyden on Saturday last. All right; the Times man can give his version of the affair if he wants to—we don't care. "Bandages won't lie."

The recent numerous burglaries at Newmarket and vicinity are likely to be solved, as Sheriff Kent on Monday arrested a Boston man in a carriage at Newington, and subsequently recovered some goods stolen from B. F. Haley's store at Newmarket, which had been hid near the old Piscataqua bridge at Newington. The prisoner was brought to this city, and later a young man whose name is not yet made public was brought from Newmarket and properly cared for, the latter it is said being the principal in the burglaries. The officers are looking for other parties, who are known.

From Dover come reports that business was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. Unusual activity is manifested in the shoe business; one firm is making over 1200 cases of boots and shoes per week, an increase of 450 cases per week over the corresponding time last year, with a pay-roll of $5500 per month. Other firms report a corresponding increase. The Cocheco Print Works are running on full time; large orders are coming in very fast, and it is very difficult to supply the increasing demand for their goods; the new styles of lawn and "Pinafore patchwork" are meeting with immense success. Building of all kinds has received a great impetus, and about fifty dwelling houses are in process of erection, and many improvements contemplated.

THE WACHUSETT AGROUND.

An attempt was made Tuesday morning to put the U. S. S. Wachusett into the dry dock; the ship's moorings were slipped from the buoy, and the Leyden took her in tow, but from some cause not yet explained the tide ran away with the vessel, and she went on the south beacon ledge, with her head up stream, the tide having gone about a foot when she grounded, which was at about eight o'clock. The Leyden and the tug Clara Bateman pulled on her, but failed to get her off; and as the tide dropped still further and she sewed aft, her bow swung around and looked down river. At low tide her stern was well out of water and her bow very low in it, and that she was twisted somewhat could be seen at a glance. Some of her guns were taken out during the day, and shortly after four o'clock she came off the ledge and was again made fast to the buoy. Whether she is making any water or not in consequence of the accident is not reported, but she must have been badly strained. Where she went on is just about where the Kearsarge grounded a year ago last winter. The government would save money by knocking off a piece of that ledge with dynamite, instead of trying to do it with wooden keels.

BETHEL WORK.

On Sunday afternoon the new bethel flag was dedicated at the mission hall. Considering the uncomfortable warmth of the day the attendance was quite large. It was expected that Mr. C. E. Myers would preside, but he sent a note saying he was unable to be present, and enclosing a substantial contribution instead; so Mr. James Janvrin was invited to the chair. A quartette, consisting of Dr. Goodall and Messrs. Buzzell, Owen and Simpson, sang several pieces; Rev. Thomas Reese invoked the divine blessing, after which Dr. Goodall read selections of scripture appropriate to the occasion, and remarks were made by Mr. Janvrin, Capt. John Clark, (aged eighty-two years,) Mr. Charles W. Gardner and City Missionary Loyne.

The missionary report was read, showing that during the past four years Mr. Loyne has visited 1500 vessels, distributed about 9000 papers and magazines, and assisted many seamen in various ways, such as writing letters, procuring aid for men in distress, helping them away from the city, inviting mariners to public worship, procuring signers to the pledge, etc.

Mr. Amos S. Foster rendered a statement of the condition of the flag fund, as follows: Received—J. H. Lord $1.50, W. A Loyne $1.45, C. E. Myers $10, Mrs. A. W. Haven $2, collection at dedication $4.07, sundries seven cents; total, $19.09. Expended—Thomas S. Gay, for flag, $14, carpenters and riggers $7.50; total, $21.50—leaving a balance of $2.41 against the fund. The spar was contributed by Mr. Wm. R. Martin, and the painting by Mr. Willard J. Sampson.

Rev. E. Owen offered the dedicatory prayer, and the services closed with the singing of "Let the lower lights be burning" by the quartette and congregation.

WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN.

Ships of war in commission seem to be rather unlucky in this vicinity for some time past. The Constellation managed to lose two anchors at the Shoals, in a light wind and smooth sea, and just how it was managed has never been paraded before the public. Whether the ship blundered on top of the islands unexpectedly (which is hardly probable, as she had taken a departure from Portland but a few hours before) and had to let go both anchors to keep from going on the rocks, or snapped the chains through the anchors being dropped to bring her up in the roads while the ship had too much way on, has not been reported; but it is certain that it was not a display of skillful seamanship which caused the loss of the Constellation's ground tackle under such circumstances. Then the Portsmouth, another sailing ship, couldn't get from here to Portland without thumping a rock not more than two miles off York beach, where she stuck fast "in seven fathoms of water," according to the reports, probably standing on one end to do it, as she could not reach bottom in seven fathoms any other way. What the Portsmouth was doing so close in shore among the mess of ragged rocks all along there, when she had plenty of sea room, a clear sky and broad daylight is a little mysterious. And now the Wachusett gets ashore on beacon ledge in our harbor, instead of going into the floating dock as she set out to do. These occurrences give room to suspect that there is a screw loose somewhere.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. Charles W. Ruschenberger is detached from the Marion, and placed on waiting orders. Lieut. John P. Wallis is ordered to the Marion.

The practice ship Constellation left Newport, R. I., on Monday morning, for Hampton Roads.

The Powhatan arrived at New York on the 24th inst. from Pensacola, to which place she towed a section of the naval dock from Roach's shipyard at Chester, Pa. Rear Admiral Robert H. Wyman, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, has again hoisted his flag on the Powhatan, he having transferred it temporarily to the Marion while the Powhatan was engaged on tow-boat duty.

The Kearsarge was expected to leave St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 26th, for Halifax, and to arrive at the latter port about Sept. 3d.

The Wyoming arrived at Constantinople Aug. 5th; the Trenton was at Gravesend, Eng., Aug. 15th.

New Hampshire Items.

Gen. Joe Hooker arrived in Concord on Monday afternoon, and was Gov. Head's guest during the night. A reception was given in his honor at the Phenix hotel. Gen. Hooker and Gov. Head left for the veterans' reunion at Weirs at 8:30 o'clock A. M., Tuesday.

As Rev. J. B. Harrison, Unitarian minister of Franklin Falls, and Miss Mary Daniell were returning from Laconia in a covered buggy Sunday afternoon, when near the centre of the bridge over the Winnipiseogee river, at East Tilton, the horse suddenly backed, breaking the railing of the bridge, and precipitated the vehicle and occupants some twelve feet into the rushing stream. Fortunately Mr. Harrison regained his feet in season to grasp Miss Daniell, who was beneath the water, when they were rescued from their perilous position by a ladder extended to them by the station agent.

The Yellow Fever at New Orleans.

Now the return of pestilence to the cities of the South, especially Memphis, and perhaps others, recalls to the mind of the reader the wonderful which occurred in New Orleans last year, and brings vividly forward the memory of the great good accomplished by the far famed Clayton Hospital of the Crescent City, which it was enabled to do only by the generous support it received from the revenue derived from the celebrated Louisiana State Lottery, which announces its 12th and last drawing will take place on September 9th, and the tickets for which, or any information relative thereto, can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La., or to the same at No. 319 Broadway, New York City.

Seedling Fruits.

In raising seedling fruits, wherever it has been attempted, the usual way is to take some kind already superior, and from this endeavor to procure a seedling of still better quality. It is remarkable that all attempts of this kind have failed so far as we know. No person has ever been known to originate a good variety in this way. All our best fruits are results of accident. Those who have persevered in the old line rarely offer us anything good, while the popular kinds are generally such as have been found in waste or fence corners. The Seckel pear is an admirable illustration. This was found wild in a meadow below Philadelphia. It is the most popular of all pears for flavor, but is small, a slow grower, a long time in coming into bearing, and ripens at a season when pears are plenty. If these imperfections could be remedied, what a grand thing we should have! So seeds are saved of the Seckel, and in all cases so far as we have ever known, with results inferior to that of the parent. Most of the seedlings seem to have a tendency to produce earlier fruit instead of later. The Ott, a seedling of the Seckel, is earlier, but not as good, and never will be so popular.—Germantown Telegraph.

Power of Speaking Restored.

NEWASH, ONT., D. C., Mch 30, '70.

Jonas Fotheringill writes: Some two months ago my son lost his voice. None of the physicians could do him any good. Two hours after taking the second dose of Fellows' Hypophosphites his power of speaking was perfectly restored.

A college professor once said that "he who expects to rate high in his class, must not expectorate on the floor." Much of the hawking and spitting was, no doubt, caused by catarrh, which the professor knew could be readily cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER was enlarged May 1, 1879, so that every bottle now holds one fourth more than formerly, while the price remains the same.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and setting deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scalp Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with the same cases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many responsible capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2300 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside three Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $2.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Turning Over a New Leaf.

"It is a shame!" said Mrs. Fogg, as she hurried away, after the funeral of Mrs. Grant, escaping from the poor desolate room where two children, almost babies, were sleeping, unconscious they were motherless. "It's a shame that nobody'll take them."

"Yes—a bitter shame!" replied a neighbor, who was also getting off as fast as she could, so as to shift the responsibility on some other shoulders.

"There's Mrs. Gove; she might take them as well as not. But they'll go to the poorhouse, for all she cares."

"Well, somebody will have to answer for it," said Mrs. Fogg. "As for me, I've got young ones enough of my own."

"We left Mrs. Cole in her room. She has only one child, and her husband well-to-do. I can't believe she'll have the heart to turn away from them."

"She's got the heart for anything. But we'll see."

Mrs. Cole did turn away from the sleeping babes, sighing aloud, with a forced sigh that others might hear, and give her credit for a sympathy and concern she did not feel.

At last all were gone—all but a man named Wheaton, and a poor woman, not able to take care of herself.

"What's to become of these children?" said Wheaton.

"Don't know. Poor-house, I s'pose," answered the woman.

"Poor-house!"

"Yes. Nobody wants 'em, and there's no place else for 'em."

"Mamma, mamma!" cried a plaintive voice, and a flaxen-haired child, not much over a year old, rose up in bed, and looked piteously about the room. "I want mamma."

A great choking sob came into the man's throat.

Then the other child awoke, and said, "Don't cry, sissy. Mamma's gone away."

At this the little one began crying bitterly.

"I can't stand this, nohow," said the man, speaking in a kind of desperate way; and, going to the bed, he gathered the two children in his arms, hushing and comforting them with soothing words.

"What on earth have you got there?" exclaimed Mrs. Wheaton, as her husband came striding into the room, where she sat mending one of his old work garments.

"Two babies!" he answered, in a voice so musical that Mrs. Wheaton dropped her work on the floor, and rose up in amazement.

"What!"

"Mrs. Grant's two babies. I've been over to the funeral; and I tell you, Jane, it wasn't in me to see these little things carted off to the almshouse. There was not a woman to look after them—no, not one. Every soul sneaked off but Polly Jones, and she's of no account, you know. Just look at their dear little faces!" And he held them up in his arms, and let their tender, tearful, half-frightened, half-wondering eyes plead their cause with his wife, and they did not plead in vain.

Surprised as she was, and with an instant protest in her heart, Mrs. Wheaton could not, in the presence of those motherless little ones, utter a word of remonstrance. She took the youngest one from the hands of her husband, and spoke to it tenderly. The child sobbed two or three times, and then laid its head against her bosom. There was an influx of mother love in the heart of this woman, who had never been a mother, the instant her breast felt the pressure of the baby's head, and the arm that drew it closer with an involuntary impulse was moved by this new love.

Not many words passed between husband and wife—at least, not then, though thought was very busy with both of them. Mrs. Wheaton's manner toward the children was kind even to tenderness, and this manner won their confidence, and drew from them such looks and ways and little expressions of satisfaction as touched her heart, and filled it with a loving interest.

After nightfall, when supper was over, and the children asleep, Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton sat down together, each showing a little reserve and embarrassment. Mrs. Wheaton was the first to speak.

"What are you thinking about, John?" said she, almost sharply. "I can't have these children."

Wheaton did not lift his eyes, nor answer, but there was a certain dogged and resolute air about him that his wife noticed as unusual.

"Somebody else must take them?" she said.

"The county will do it," Wheaton replied.

"The county!"

"Yes. There's room for them in the almshouse, and nowhere else, that I know of, unless they stay here."

"Unless they stay here!" Mrs. Wheaton's voice rose a little. "It's easy enough to say that—but who's to take the care of them?"

"It's a great undertaking, I know," answered the husband, meekly, yet with a new quality in his voice that did not escape the quick ear of his wife, "and the burden must fall on you."

"I wouldn't mind that so much, but—"

She kept back the sentence that was on her tongue.

"But what?" asked her husband:

"John," said Mrs. Wheaton, drawing herself up in a resolute manner, and looking steadily into her husband's face, "as things are going on—"

"Things shall go on differently," interrupted Wheaton. "I've thought that all over."

"How differently, John?"

"Oh! in every way; I'll turn over a new leaf."

Wheaton saw a light flash into his wife's face.

"First and foremost, I'm not going to lose any more days. Last month I had six days docked from my wages."

"Why, John!"

"It's true—more's the shame for me. That was eighteen dollars, you see, not counting the money I fooled away in idle company—enough to pay for all these babies would cat and wear twice over."

"Oh, John!" There was something eager and hopeful in his wife's face as she leaned toward him.

"I'm in downright earnest, Jane," he answered. "If you'll take the babies, I'll do my part. I'll turn over a new leaf. There shall be no more lost days; no more foolish wasting of money; no spending of evenings at McBride's."

Oh, John!" In her suprise and delight, she could only repeat the exclamation. As she did so this time she rose, and putting her hands on his shoulders, bent and kissed him on the foredead.

"You'll take the babies?" said he.

"Yes, and twenty more, if you keep to this, and say so," answered Jane, laughing through tears.

"All right, then. It's a bargain." And Wheaton caught his wife's hand and shook it by way of confirmation.

From that time Wheaton turned over a new leaf. Neighbors expressed surprise when it was told that Jane Wheaton had adopted the two orphan children. Fellow-workmen taunted John, calling him soft-hearted, and a fool, for "taking other men's brats."

One said to him: "Are four mouths easier to fill than two?"

Another: "You'll be sick of all this before the year's out."

And another: "I'll see you sold out by the constable in less than six months."

But John had little to say in reply—only maintaining an air of quiet good humor, and exhibiting more interest in his work.

For three weeks John Wheaton had not lost a day—something very unusual; and not one evening during that time had he spent at McBride's drinking saloon. His poor little home, which had come to have a neglected look, was putting on a new appearance. The gate that for months had hobbled on one hinge, now swung smoothly, and the mended latch held it shut. Rank weeds no longer filled the dooryard; the broken steps were mended, and clean panes of glass filled many a place in the sashes where had been unsightly rags and sheets of paper. A neglected running rose was trimmed, and trained to its proper place over the doorway, and was now pushing out young leaves and buds.

Within, pleasant changes were also apparent. Various new but inexpensive articles of furniture were to be found. Old things were mended, polished up, and wonderfully improved. With all this, marvelous to relate, Wheaton's earnings had not only been equal to the increased expenditure, but there was an actual surplus of ten dollars in hand.

"I never would have believed it," said John, as he and his wife sat one evening talking over their improved condition after the babies—loved now almost as if their own—were asleep. "It's just as old Brown used to say—'Waste takes more than want.' I declare, I've got a heart in me again. I thought we should have to let the place go; that I'd never be able to pay off the morgage. But here we are, ten dollars ahead in less than a month: and going on at this rate, we'll have all clear in eighteen months."

The Veterans' Reunion.

The third annual reunion of the Veterans' Association at the Weirs this week was a great success, from 7000 to 8000 people having been present at Camp Head on Tuesday. About 3000 were on the grounds Monday, the first day of the meeting, and a grand camp-fire was held in the evening, when the veterans made things lively with songs, stories, and serenades. A business meeting of the association was held Tuesday morning, and the following officers elected: Martin A. Haynes, Lake Village, president; C. J. Richards, Dover, vice president; Nathaniel Shackford, corresponding secretary; Col. D. W. King, Nashua, treasurer; J. E. Larkin, commandant; J. C. Linehan, musical director. At ten o'clock in the forenoon an extra train arrived with Gov. Head, Maj. Gen. Hooker, Gen. W. B. Barrett, and many other distinguished guests, who were received by the veterans assembled. At noon the meeting was called to order and welcomed by Gov. Head. An oration was delivered by Col. Frank W. Parker of Quincy, Mass., followed by short remarks from Gen. Hooker, Col. Thomas J. Whipple, Ex-Gov. Smythe, and others. The evening was passed in dancing and sitting about the camp-fires. The encampment broke up on Wednesday, having been more decidedly a success than either of the preceding ones.

News and Notes.

Mr. W. A. Stearns, manager of the Salem Press printing office, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head on Wednesday, but may recover. Mental aberration from over work was the cause.

John C. Porter was arrested in Lowell on the 26th inst., for pretending to be C. H. Kendrick, agent for the Old Colony railroad, and attempting to buy 2,000 cords of wood. He was detected in the cheat too soon for him to accomplish anything, but it is supposed that he intended to sell the wood for what he could get, and decamp with the proceeds.

Alvin C. Warner, a thirteen-year-old son of William Warner of Lowell, Mass., was killed by lightning on Friday, Aug. 22d. The lightning knocked down three section men in Barton on the same day, throwing a crowbar in the hands of one some distance.

At Memphis, on the 25th inst., Charles Atwell, white, had a quarrel with Henry Allen and another negro. The negroes tried to shoot Atwell, when he killed Allen in self defence.

The body of George Pecker, the old man reported as missing from his home in Newburyport, was found in a ditch in the rear of the Episcopal school on the 26th inst. He is supposed to have died from hunger and exposure.

On Sunday, the 24th inst., a mob released a murderer named Cowan from jail at Austin, Miss. The citizens rallied and fought the mob, killing and wounding some, and capturing one, who has revealed the names of his comrades. Cowan escaped.

George Mitchell and William Pratt quarrelled at Richmond, Ky., on the 25th inst., and the former went home, got a gun and shot Pratt. The ball passed through his shoulder and killed an innocent spectator, an Irishman. Pratt will also die.

A widow named Bammett, about forty years old and with two grown-up sons, fell in love with a boy of seventeen who worked on her farm near Wittsburg, Ark., and in spite of the opposition of her sons, married him. As the clergymen pronounced the ill-matched pair man and wife, two shots were fired through the window by the younger son, and the newly-made husband fell dying to the floor. A few days later the murderer was shot dead while endeavoring to escape arrest; and soon after the elder son went to his mother's house, and beat her brains out with a club.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 182.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Those who attended school a half of a century ago, recollect how spelling was taught: A column or two of words in the spelling book having been given out for study, the class formed a line on the floor, and, commencing at the head, words were put out, and, if there was wrong spelling, the one below who spelled it right went above those who missed. The method had some disadvantages, but many learned to spell as well as those do by more modern usages.

It is gratifying to those who lived in those times to see an old spelling book. Picket's is now in our possession. But before noticing this, some others used early in New Hampshire may be named.

The first used to much extent was Dilworth's. The author was Thomas Dilworth, a schoolmaster in England. It was published in 1740, and introduced here about 1770.

The next one, which came into more general use, was that of our own countryman, Noah Webster, first published in 1783. A grand spelling book it was.

There was Marshall's spelling book, but I think it was published much later. Now for Picket's. The author was A. Picket. I do not know where he lived; it might have been in New York, as the copyright was secured in that State. That was done in 1807 and probably the book was published in 1808. The copy at hand was printed in 1812. It has 252 pages, and at the bottom of the title page the price is printed thus: "Price 25 cents." The book appears well arranged. From easy spelling and reading lessons the ascent is gradual to those more difficult. The reading lessons were as well adapted to the capacity of children, indeed better than the more part of books at that time. Several of the front pages of the book are devoted to recommendations. Those in our State who commended it in good terms were President John Wheelock of Dartmouth College, Nathan K. Clough, Principal of Amherst Academy, Ephraim Kingsbury, Preceptor of the academy in Haverhill, and John Vose, Preceptor of Atkinson Academy. Later Mr. Vose was long Preceptor of Pembroke Academy, and author of a work on Astronomy.

Success in the Stock Market.

Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have just published "two unerring rules for success," and full details, so that any one can operate. Mailed free. Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every 30 days. $15 would make $75 profit, $100 would return $1,000, or 10 per cent. on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York Fashion Editress and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 375 per ct. profit on an investment, Oct. 5th, 1878. Many others are doing as well or better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal proportionate success by this system. All kinds of stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

New Hampshire Items.

A letter postmarked Hartford, Vt., purporting to be from Frank Wheeler, who was reported murdered at Springfield, addressed to his father, who lives at Derby Line, Vt., was received on Tuesday of this week, saying he should be at home on Wednesday.

The house of George Stevens of Monroe was attacked Monday evening of this week by some twenty of Vandyke & Merrill's employes, the windows smashed, and other damage done. Eleven of the rioters were promptly arrested.

The suspicions that the death of S. R. Noyes of Bow, whose body was recently found in the ruins of his burned barn, was caused by foul play, have been dissipated by the discovery that $1000 in money, with silver ware and other valuables, were left in the house untouched. Other circumstances tend to show that the fire was an accident, caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp which Mr. Noyes was probably using to look after a colt.

The houses, barns and other buildings of F. Hildreth and J. Jessamen, in Lisbon, were burned on the 25th inst. Loss $4000; insurance $2,500.

There was a large fire in the woods at Nottingham on Sunday and Monday of this week, burning over seven hundred acres. Five hundred cords of hard wood and twenty-five of hemlock bark in piles, belonging to the Newmarket manufacturing company, were burned.

It is now said that "all the great discoveries in the White mountains, recently announced, have been made by novices and boys. There is not a single waterfall in the whole mountain region that has not been known for the last forty years."

Among the guests at the Fabyan house is Dr. A. F. Sterling of New York. Among this gentleman's many eccentricities is a passion for climbing mountains. He has with him a cane upon which are carved the names of forty-seven mountains scattered over Asia, Africa, Europe and America, which he has climbed. He considers the cane as having cost him over $10,000.

A Newport fop, who wears a bracelet and affects all manner of silly airs, saved a life in the recent great storm, and showed remarkable heroism. He is evidently not such a fool as he looks.

The Times man has found out a new descriptive name for this paper, viz.: "The always-correct CHRONICLE." We wish it were possible to compliment the Times in the same terms.

The public schools of the city commence on Monday of next week. Mr. W. G. Myers, of the Congress block book store, advertises for sale all the various text-books and other supplies used in the schools in this vicinity.

On Wednesday, Sept. 3d, an excursion train will be run from Dover and this city over the Eastern railroad, through the White mountain notch to Fabyan's, leaving this city at 7:25 o'clock A. M. Tickets are placed at the low price of $2.25, and will be good to return on for six days. This is probably the most favorable opportunity that will be offered the citizens of Portsmouth this season.

The contract for laying the foundation and doing all the brick work on Mr. Alfred Stavers' new Franklin block, has been taken by Mr. Albert Currier of Newburyport. Work will be commenced at once, and it is expected that the building will be roofed-in before the snow flies. Mr. Currier will employ all his workmen from this vicinity and purchase all his supplies in our market. It will take quite a little army of men to do the work within the time laid out.—Times.

The seals at Major Urch's aquarium are growing finely, and their popularity with visitors to the aquarium increases at each visit. The docile amphibia have been taught a number of tricks, and are always ready to show off their accomplishments for the entertainment of callers—and to earn a nice fat herring. We saw them perform a few days ago, and were much amused, as is everybody who sees them. Major Urch held out over their tank a herring stuck on a stick, and they promptly thrust their odd-looking heads out of water, in readiness to receive the coveted titbit. "Whirl for it!" said the major, and round and round they went like tops, standing on end with their heads high out of water, looking comical enough. Having whirled a dozen times or so they stopped, but on being told "That isn't enough—whirl some more," they at once obeyed. When the fish was dropped into their tank they made a scramble for it, each getting a piece, and having eaten it looked up enquiringly for more. "I think you lost some—go down and look," said the major, and down to the bottom of the tank they went, and could be seen searching carefully all around for a stray bit of herring, which they didn't find, for one herring stands a very small show in that crowd. The seals are the great attraction at the aquarium, though there are many others at this popular place of resort, which has this season been visited by many thousands of people, all of whom find something new to interest them at each visit.

THE NEW FIRE ENGINE.

The trial of the new steam fire engine, "Col. Sise, No. 2," took place on Market square on the afternoon of the 27th inst., in presence of the mayor, the chief engineer and assistants, the purchasing-committee, and a goodly number of spectators. The engine was started in a few minutes after the fire was lighted, with a little more than fifteen pounds of steam, and threw a very fair stream of solid water; in five minutes from lighting the fire there were twenty pounds of steam, and the gauge indicator moved rapidly until over a hundred pounds were shown. The test was considered satisfactory, and the new machine was accepted on behalf of the city, delivered to the company and placed in what has for many years been the Sagamore engine house, the Sagamore having previously been put in the old Dearborn's place, and the connections made all ready for service. The Col. Sise is a very handsome and substantial looking machine, but has one grave fault in her extra weight; she is about four hundred pounds heavier than the Moses H. Goodrich, and there has been complaint that the latter was too heavy to draw at certain seasons of the year.

In the evening No. 2's company gave a supper at the engine house, a large number of invited guests attending, among them being the mayor and engineers, members of the city councils, officers of fire companies, and many other officials and prominent citizens. The tables, of which there were three, extending the whole length of the hall, were abundantly supplied with eatables, with all the fruits of the season for dessert, and presented a very handsome appearance, the floral decorations being profuse and in good taste. After the solid business of the evening had been duly attended to, recreation was had in the shape of a number of short and happy speeches, and the gathering broke up at a reasonable hour after spending a very pleasant evening.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Paymaster General George F. Cutter, U. S. N., visited the navy yard on the morning of Wednesday, the 27th inst., and received the regular salute.

The U. S. S. Wachusett was docked Wednesday morning without further mishap.

A reception was given by the officers of the yard on Wednesday afternoon, in the large rooms in the building devoted to storage purposes under cognizance of the bureau of provisions and clothing. The attendance was very large, and the decoration of the place elaborate and tasteful.

IT DON'T MIND TRIFLES.

KITTERY, ME., Aug. 27th.

Mr. Editor: The Times, in its Monday edition, in its report of Wm. P. Frye's speech at Eliot, Me., states that "Calvin Hayes, a member of the republican county committee and also a clerk at the navy yard, proposed three cheers for the speaker, about a dozen responding, and finally wound up for three more for the government workshop," etc. As I have not been a member of the county committee for several years, and as I did not have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Frye's speech in Eliot, not having been in that town for months, I think that truthful sheet must have been misinformed so far as I am concerned.

CALVIN L. HAYES.

Evidently Mr. Hayes does not understand things. The Times having said he is a member of the republican county committee, and that he called for cheers "for the government workshop," of course he is a member of that committee and did call for such cheers, no matter what he may think or where he may have been at the time referred to. Some months ago the Times beached a schooner near the life-saving station at Rye, and then sent the life-saving crew to sea in her when she floated off the beach; and notwithstanding the captain of the station (who might have been supposed to know something about the matter, as it occurred directly under his eye and was in the line of his sworn duty,) over his own signature asserted that the vessel never touched the beach at all and was not boarded by the life-saving crew until she was four miles off shore after breaking adrift from her anchorage, the Times respectfully declined to admit that there could possibly be any error in the account it had given. And a day or two since, after the Times had stated that during the storm of the 18th inst. the captain of the schooner Samuel Hart "had both wrists severely injured and was otherwise hurt, while the steward was knocked overboard by a heavy sea, but was washed on board again by the incoming wave," when the captain of the vessel, who appears to be a respectable and trustworthy man, had the assurance to assert that neither he nor any one else on board his schooner received any hurt during the gale, and that nobody was washed overboard at all, let alone his being washed back again, the mariner was promptly squelched with the conclusive argument, "Bandages won't lie"—whatever that may mean. Mr. Hayes may as well understand first as last that as the Times says he is a member of the republican committee of York county, he is such; and that the same paper having asserted that he called for cheers for something on a specified occasion, he did then call for them, whether he was present or not. The Times is not one of the "slow" papers that allow trifles of fact to stand in the way of an item.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 27; Batchelder, J.

Curtis C. Edgerly, of Boston, and Henry B. Haley of Newmarket, were brought before the court on a charge of breaking and entering the store of Benjamin F. Haley in Newmarket, and stealing therefrom certain cloths and clothing. The defendants pleaded guilty, and were ordered to give bonds in the sum of $1000 each for their appearance at the October term of the supreme court. Several burglaries have been committed in and near Newmarket within a month past, and the people of that vicinity will rejoice that two of the thieves are likely to get their deserts.

EPPING CAMP-MEETING.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 26th.

Sunday afternoon at half past one o'clock there was a Bible class ably conducted by Rev. E. P. F. Dearborn of Londonderry. At the same hour there was a children's school in charge of Rev. W. H. Stuart of Hillsborough bridge and Mr. Dickinson of Haverhill, Mass. At half past two Rev. Mr. Howard of Exeter preached from John VII, 33 and 34; also VIII, 21, 22, 23 and 24. To a thinking mind these different texts will suggest all the ideas of the sermon, and we trust more. At six there was a prayer meeting conducted by Rev. J. Mowry Bean of Milton Mills. Some six or eight hundred people were present at the different services on Sunday, and they were much enjoyed.

Monday forenoon was apparently devoted to the completion of preparations for the meetings of the week. Cottages and tents were put in order, and many of them decorated with evergreen and bouquets and oak leaves. I had heard about the death of Mr. Orin Gotham, at the Corner, and felt a desire to know the facts in the case. It was stated repeatedly that he ate thirty-five peaches, stones and all. I went to the Corner and made what inquiries I could. The undertaker was at work on his casket. I noticed on the plate that his age was thirty-one. It seems that Tuesday evening, Mr. Gotham then not being very well, he and another man ate sixty-seven peaches; Mr. Gotham thirty-five and the other man thirty-two. Many of those that Mr. Gotham ate were unripe, but the other man was more careful in his selection, taking only those that were the ripest. I could not learn that any stones were swallowed. For myself I would quite as soon think of swallowing a whole orchard, trees, land, stone fence and all. Mr. Gotham was ill all day Wednesday, but had no physician until Thursday, when it was too late to save him. I have heard all sorts of remarks about his death, but think he was not the last fool in the world, nor perhaps the biggest one; at any rate, the poor fellow is dead, —requiescat in pace.

The regular camp-meeting work commenced Monday afternoon, the first sermon being by Rev. G. W. Norris of St. Paul's church, Manchester. His text was Mat. V, 13, "Ye are the salt of the earth." Mr. Norris is one of the clearest headed ministers in the conference. He always knows himself just what he is talking about and just what he wants to say, and, what is more, says it. I have lost my notes of his sermon, but his aim was to press upon Christians a feeling of their own responsibility, and in this he succeeded. At six there was a sermon by Rev. D. W. Downs of Goffstown Centre. The text was Luke XXIV, 47, "Beginning at Jerusalem." It was an earnest exhortation for professed Christians to begin the work of the week at home, in their own hearts. Then followed the evening prayer meetings in perhaps half of the church tents.

Tuesday morning at nine there were tent meetings again, followed by a sermon by Rev. W. C. Bartlett of East Rochester. His text was John XIV, 26. His subject was the Holy Ghost, and the sermon was what Methodists call a powerful one. Mr. Bartlett did not know, for some reason, when he came upon the stand that he was to preach, but few would have done better with ever so much preparation. He stated that he did not bring any sermon to camp-meeting, and would not, if he had had a barrel full; it took the Holy Ghost, not manuscripts, to save a man. He spoke of ragged edges, saying that some men get so smoothed off that they go through the world without anybody's knowing it. He caused some merriment by telling how objections were made to his building a church tent on Wesley Park, for fear that people would be disturbed by noisy meetings in their vicinity. In the afternoon Rev. A. B. Carter of Hampton preached from John XX, 27. I heard only a portion of the sermon, which seems to have been an earnest one. I am told that he spoke plainly in regard to the use of tobacco, referring to his own experience. This sermon and that of the morning were both followed by altar services, which continued for an hour or more. There were in attendance upon the preaching four or five hundred people yesterday, and six or seven hundred to-day.

I was thinking to speak of the boarding tent and the decorations, but I am tired and will wait till next time. This letter brings us to Tuesday evening, where the next will begin.

Political.

A correspondent of the Boston Post, writing from Portland in the interests of the "truck and dicker" party, as represented by the sterling anti-Union patriot Eben F. Pillsbury, who means to be United States senator if enough republicans will go with the greenbackers to secure a democratic victory, incidentally remarks: "A bank president says more goods and merchandise have been sold here during the last year than ever before during the same period." That's no kind of a way to help on greenodembackery; he ought to yell "misery" and "hard times."

About the roughest thing told on the workingmen's gubernatorial candidate is that once he attended a hanging near Santa Cruz, and, by permission of the sheriff, said a few words to the condemned man as he prepared to mount the scaffold. Just as White finished speaking, the hangman, a stranger in the place, stepped up and said: "Excuse me, but which of you two gentlemen is the one I'm to hang."—San Francisco Post.

NEWASH, ONT., D. C., Mch 30, '70.
Jonas Fotheringill writes: Some two months ago my son lost his voice. None of the physicians could do him any good. Two hours after taking the second dose of Fellows' Hypophosphites his power of speaking was perfectly restored.

A college professor once said that "he who expects to rate high in his class, must not expectorate on the floor." Much of the hawking and spitting was, no doubt, caused by catarrh, which the professor knew could be readily cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq., manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.
CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome and tormenting of Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a complete constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulder, Fullness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, and hawking and coughing to clear the throat, excoriations, hoarseness, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be applied, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild, pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy, and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. HOSTETTER'S

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.
For sale by all Druggists and respectable dealers generally.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $25.50 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which mines, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $2.00 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Daily Chronicle.

Concluded from yesterday.

Turning Over a New Leaf.

Next day a fellow workman said to Wheaton, half in banter:—"Didn't I see the constable down your way yesterday?"

"Shouldn't wonder," replied Wheaton, with more gravity of manner than his questioner had expected.

"I thought I saw him looking around after things, and counting his fees on his fingers."

"Likely as not," said Wheaton. "I know of a good many rents not paid up last quarter. Money gone to McBride's, instead of the landlord—eh?"

The man winced a little.

"How are the babies?" he asked.

"First rate," Wheaton answered, and with a smile so real that his fellow workman could not pursue his banter.

Time went on, and to the surprise of all, Wheaton's circumstances kept improving. The babies had brought a blessing to his home. In less than eighteen months he had paid off the light mortgage that for years rested on his little home; and not only this, but had improved it in various ways, even to the putting up of a small addition, so as to give him a breakfast-room.

The children grew finely—there were three of them now, for their hearts and home had been opened to another orphan baby—and, being carefully trained by Mrs. Wheaton, were a light and joy to the house.

At the end of five years we will introduce them briefly to the reader. Wheaton is a master workman, and employs ten men. He has enlarged his house, and made it one of the neatest in the village. Among his men is the very one who bantered him most about the children, and prophesied that he would soon be sold out by the constable. Poor man! it was not long before the constable had him in charge. He had wasted his money at McBride's, instead of paying it to the landlord.

Walking homeward, one evening after work was over, Wheaton and his journeyman took the same way. They were silent until they came near the former's pretty dwelling, when the journeyman said, half in jest, yet with undisguised bitterness:—"I guess we'll have to take a baby or two."

"Why?" asked Wheaton, not perceiving what was in the man's thought.

"For good luck," said the journeyman.

"Oh!"

"You've had nothing but good luck since you took poor Mrs. Grant's orphan children."

"Only such good luck as every one may have if he will," answered Wheaton.

"I can't see it," returned the man. "Your wages were no better than mine. I had one child, and you saddled yourself with two, and not long after added a third. And how is it to-day? You have a nice house, and your wife and children are well-dressed, while I have never been able to make both ends meet, and my boy looks like a ragmuffin half the time."

"Do you see that house over there—the largest and the handsomest in the place?" said Wheaton.

"Yes."

"Who owns it?"

"Jimmy McBride."

"How much did you pay toward building it?"

"Me?"—in surprise.

"Yes, you. How much did you pay toward building it?"

"Why nothing. Why should I help pay for his house?"

"Sure enough! Why should your hard earnings go to build and furnish an elegant house for a man who would rather sell liquor, and so ruin his neighbors, body and soul, than support himself in a useful calling, as you and I are trying to do."

"I can't see what you're driving at," said the journeyman.

"How much a week do you spend at McBride's saloon?"

The man stood still with a blank look on his face.

"A dollar a week?" asked Wheaton.

"Yes."

"Say a dollar and a half."

"Well, say as much."

"Do you know what that amounts to in a year?"

"Never counted it up."

"Seventy-eight dollars."

"No!"

"Yes, to a dollar. So in five years, at this rate, you have contributed nearly four hundred dollars toward McBride's handsome house, without getting anything but harm in return, and haven't a shingle over your head that you can call your own. Now, it's my advice, in a friendly way, that you stop helping McBride, and begin to help yourself. He's comfortable enough, and can do without your dollar and a half a week. Take a baby, if you will, for good luck. You'll find one over at the poor-house; it won't cost you half as much as helping McBride, and I don't think he needs your aid any longer. But here we are at home, and I see wife and children waiting for me. Come in, won't you?"

"No, thank you. I'll go home and talk to Ellen about taken a baby for good luck." And he tried to smile, but it was in anything but a cheerful way. He passed onward, but called back after going a few steps, "If you see anything of my Jack about your place, just send him home, will you?"

Jack was there, meanly dressed and dirty, and in striking contrast with Wheaton's three adopted children, who, with the only mother they knew, gave the happy man a joyful welcome home.

"I've turned over a new leaf," said the journeyman, when he came to work on the next morning."

"Indeed! I'm glad to hear it," returned Wheaton.

"Ellen and I talked it over last night.

I'm done helping saloon keepers build fine houses. Glad you put it just in that way. Never looked at it so before. But it's just the hard truth. What fools we are!"

"Going to take a baby?" said Wheaton, smiling.

"Well, we haven't just settled that. But Ellen heard, yesterday, of a poor little thing that'll have to go to the county, if some one don't take it; and I shouldn't wonder, now, if she opened her heart, for she's a motherly body."

"Where is it?" asked Mr. Wheaton.

"Down at Woodbury Mills."

Wheaton reflected a few moments, and then said:—"Look here, Frank; take my advice, and put this baby between you and McBride's—between you and lost days—between you and thriftlessness—and, my word for it, in less than two years you'll have your own roof over your head."

Only for a little time did the man hesitate; then, with an emphatic manner, he exclaimed:—

"I'll do it!"

"Do it at once, then," said Wheaton. "Put on your coat, and go over to the Mills and get the baby. It will be an angel in your house, that will help and bless you in every hour of temptation. Go at once. God has opened for you this way of safety, and if you walk therein all will be well."

He did walk therein, and all was well. Wheaton's prophecy was fulfilled. In less than two years the journeyman had his own roof over his head, and it covered a happy home.—Arthur's Magazine.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1879.

News and Notes.

The schooner Stephen Bennett, 243 tons register, on the 12th of August sailed from Boston for Baltimore in ballast under command of Captain George Bennett, be intending to make the run to Baltimore and back as a pleasure trip, and taking with him his wife and nephew, and a son of George H. Richards of Boston. The schooner was passed on the 26th of August, about twenty miles off Phenix island, bottom up, and there is no hope but all on board, numbering ten persons or more, are lost.

A singular disease is carrying off swine in Westfield, Mass., in large numbers. The animals seem first to be attacked in the hind legs, losing the power of supporting the body. At the same time all appetite is lost, and the animals die in a few days. An effort is to be made to have a scientific examination of the disease, to see if some remedy cannot be discovered, as the sickness is fast spreading.

A horrible story comes from Philadelphia, a city not given to sensations, of the arrival there of a party of Italian children, each one of which had been purposely maimed, as by putting out an eye or twisting a limb, so as to fit them for professional beggary. Three padrones were in charge of them. It will appear incredible to many, but it is not nearly so barbarous as some of the uses to which children are put in the large cities. Often it is the incredible which is true. A branch of the society for the protection of children is needed in Philadelphia.

Walter Grant of Fitchburg, Mass., it is said, has had two wives, and each presented him with eleven children. The twenty-second arrived on Aug. 17th. Walter is in his 74th year.

A lawyer of Shelburne Falls, Mass., charged a poor widow $456 for his services in collecting a bill of $567.

A Miss Lemon was recently found dead at Lincoln, Vt., under circumstances which indicate that she was murdered. The authorities are investigating the case.

Rear Admiral Ammen, U. S. N., one of Ex-President Grant's most intimate friends, announces that Gen. Grant will accept the presidency of the Nicaragua Canal Co. It is said that the quiet purpose Gen. Grant had in view during his tour in Europe was to learn for himself what encouragement the construction of an interoceanic canal would receive from European capitalists if the enterprise was in American hands, and that the announcement of his willingness to accept the presidency of this company is made with his approval, and as a flank movement on his so-called friends who have, in spite of his wishes, insisted on bandying his name in connection with a renomination for presidency.

Weston the pedestrian, with his wife and three children, arrived at New York Aug. 27th, and was loudly cheered by a large crowd that awaited his landing.

Elmer Redifer, a citizen of Hartford county, Maryland, was murdered on the evening of Aug. 27th near Perrymanville. He was attacked by a white man and a negro, supposed to be tramps, and was shot in the head by the negro. Both assailants escaped.

Samuel H. Pemberton and William Roberts, while returning from Galatin, Ill., to their homes near Walpole, were waylaid and assassinated, Aug. 26th. Pemberton had been to Galatin to take charge of a lawsuit, and while there had a difficulty with parties interested in the suit, but nothing serious occurred. The theory seems to be that those persons committed the murder.

In Henry county, Ky., some weeks ago, a gang of white men murdered one negro man, a little girl and an infant, and burned their bodies, and wounded another negro. Seven men, all grandsons of an old lady named Ogan, have been arrested in Sandriffe county, which is known in Kentucky as the ku-klux county, for the murder. Sandriffe is the county in which a gang of four brothers, named Simmons, were hung by a mob some time ago for numerous crimes.

Thomas Hines, a constable, was killed at Fort Thomas, Arizona, Aug. 26th, by a merchant named J. B. Collins, whom he was trying to arrest.

Gen. J. B. Hood and his ten-year-old daughter were taken down with yellow fever at New Orleans, Aug. 27th. Gen. Hood's wife died of the disease a few days previously.

Charles Rowell, the famous English pedestrian, has arrived in New York accompanied by his trainers. He feels confident that he will take the Astley belt back to England.

The Silver Reef (Col.) Miner states that John Pickering, Piute county, gave a whipping to one of his sons, a boy aged about twelve years. The boy turned upon his father and told him that that was the last time that he would submit to a chastisement, and that he would leave home never to return. Next morning the boy got up and sent his younger brothers to the pasture for the calves. His father was yet in bed asleep. The youth slipped on his father's shoes, walked out into the road through the dust, so as to make a man's tracks, then went back to the house, took his father's pistol, and, making a rest of the back of a chair, shot him through the heart. The parricide then went to Jim Marshall's ranch, about five miles distant, and told Marshall that John T. Mathias, a stage driver, had shot and killed his father. Subsequently, the boy became frightened and confessed his crime.

There is nothing like enterprise, and Yankeedom must at last yield the palm to the Dominion. Acquitted murderers have from time to time taken to the platform on the strength of their ill-gotten advertising, but it has remained for New Brunswick to bring out the champion. The government witness in the famous McCarthy murder case of St. John advertises herself on exhibition, at a public house, where, as her bills state, "she can be seen and spoken to relative to that occurrence. Admission, twenty-five to forty cents."

Serious riots have occurred at Santiago, Chili, in consequence of popular discontent at the conduct of the war. The populace erected a barricade and shouted "Death to the traitor ministry." Two persons were killed in a conflict with the troops, and several wounded. It is reported that the Chilian president has fled to a place telegraphed as Vina Del Mar.

New Hampshire Items.

Frank Wheeler, the young man for whose supposed murder Henry Cole was arrested at Springfield, arrived at his father's house at Derby Line, Vt., on the evening of August 27th. Cole has been released from custody.

Ira Bragdon, a Biddeford man about forty-five years old and of bad reputation, was arrested in that city on the 27th inst., on a charge of stealing a team somewhere in New Hampshire. Bragdon acknowledged to another man that he stole a big black mare first, but did not say in what town the theft was committed; he rode the stolen animal about twelve miles, turned her loose in a pasture, and from another pasture, supposed to be in Eaton, stole the horse which was found in his possession, and from a stable near by took a wagon and harness.

A queer story comes from Laconia concerning the attempted abduction of a boy named Luther Plummer, aged twelve years, by a man forty-five years old, who fired a pistol bullet through the boy's clothing as the latter ran away.

Patents have recently been granted to New Hampshire inventers as follows: To Albert Ball, of Claremont, for cap tube; to C. J. Daniels, of Lebanon, for harrow and plough; to G. W. Cain, of Newport, for lightning conductor.

The legacy to Atkinson academy by the will of the late William Johnson of Atkinson is arranged as follows: The income of his property, amounting to full $12,000, was bequeathed to his daughter, Mrs. H. J. S. Knight, during her life, and at her death the property is to revert to Greenleaf Clark, W. C. Todd and John J. Marsh, to be held in trust by them for the benefit of the academy, and to be known as the Johnson fund forever. The income is to be devoted to the education of indigent scholars.

—The successful winner at a recent English bar-maid show is said to be the great attraction at the Brighton western pier. She has bright eyes, wears gaudy dresses and diamonds innumerable. She drives in a Victoria.

—Half a century ago, Emons Rudge of Hartford was fined $40 and costs for selling ice in the summer. The traffic was alleged to be dangerous to public health. The world is getting wiser than the lawmakers of those "good old days."

—The Detroit Free Press says "the chances of an editor's catching fish, while trying to do so, are ten in fifty, and those of the unknown small boy, with straw hat and broken suspender, forty-nine in fifty." It might add that if the editor assumes an old straw hat and one broken suspender he'll only discover that attempts at deception never prosper.—Boston Post.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 29, 2 A. M.

Partly cloudy weather in the northern portions, occasional rain, variable winds, mostly from south to west, nearly stationary temperature.

AROUND HOME.

The Granite State base ball club of this city are to play a game with the Epping club on the latter's grounds to-day.

Miss Betsey Speed of South Newmarket, ninety-four years old, fell down stairs a few days ago and fractured her hip.

The little steamer "La Chiquita," of South Newmarket, made a trip to this city on Thursday, bringing a party from Exeter.

The members of Col. Sise S. F. E. Co., No. 2, dressed in parade uniform and grouped around their engine, had their photographs taken on Thursday.

A large gang of men went to work on the ruins of the old Franklin block Thursday morning, clearing away the rubbish, and cleaning and sorting bricks.

The Exeter Gazette says: "This is the largest paper in the county and is not exceeded in size by any in the State." If our Exeter brethren will measure the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE they will find it larger than its Exeter namesake.

The yacht William H. Russell took a party of Concord excursionists from this city to the Shoals, on Wednesday of this week, and made the run from Whale's-back lighthouse to the Appledore in forty-two minutes, a heavy easterly chop prevailing at the time.

The base of the new Franklin block is to be placed eight inches above the present level of the Congress street sidewalk at the corner of Fleet street, which will bring it two feet above the sidewalk at the junction of Congress and Vaughan streets. This will admit of a long needed improvement being made there, in the way of raising the walk so that it will not be lower than the middle of the street.

The Ambrotype, one of the yachts belonging to the Charlestown fleet, left this port on Wednesday, the 27th inst., for Boston. She is commanded by Capt. Badger, who was formerly captain of the fleet. The yachts Una, William H. Russell and Ambrotype had quite a skirmish when going down the river. The Una must have lost some of her sailing qualities since her change from a sloop to a schooner, as she did not acquit herself so well as formerly.

As Mr. Charles Gotham, of Kittery, and two other men, were engaged in painting the skylights on the yards and docks store at the navy yard, Thursday, by the breaking of a rope Mr. Gotham was caused to slide from the ridgepole to the eaves, and thence precipitated to the ground some twenty or twenty-five feet below. He was a good deal jarred by the fall, but was able to walk to the hospital; and after he had fully recovered his consciousness—for he was completely bewildered by the shock, and for a little time had no knowledge of who he was or what had happened—proposed to walk home, but was sent home in a carriage. It is thought no serious injury will result.

The races at the State fair, to be held at Granite State park, Dover, next month, will bring together the finest lot of race horses ever assembled at one place in this State. There will be two races on each of the four days of the fair, as follows: First day, three minute class, eleven entries; 2:22 class, five entries. Second day, 2:30 class, thirteen entries; 2:27 class, six entries. Third day, 2:34 class, eleven entries; 2:25 class, six entries. Last day, 2:40 class, eleven entries; free for all, five entries. Every State in New England will be represented by horses, and a dozen or so of fast ones from New York are among the entries.

The Concord Monitor says: "The trouble between the selectmen of Hampton and the squatters at Hampton beach is brewing rapidly. At a recent meeting of the squatters, S. K. Dexter of Lowell was chosen chairman of a committee to act in behalf of the squatters. Uri Lamprey, agent of the town, has sent them a sharp letter, and a suit is commenced against one, which if successful, will be entered agaist all—some fifty in number—mostly Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell and Concord people."

A friend of ours, who visited Newcastle a short time since, having occasion to make some inquiries soon after crossing the bridge, accosted a manly looking sailor whom he chanced to meet, and whom he thought he had before seen. The inquiries were most politely and intelligently answered, and our friend passed on. But it soon occurred to him that, as on H. M. S. Pinafore, things might have got a little mixed; that the language at least, of this fine sailor was a little superior to what his experience had taught him to expect from Jack. Our friend now thinks that he mistook the chaplain for one of the crew. He says, however, that he was so well pleased with the sailor that, if he is ever in Portsmouth on Sunday, he shall be tempted to see if the surplice becomes the gentleman as did the blue shirt.—Exeter Gazette.

William Hurd, of Dover, has again had his gospel temperance tent attacked by the roughs of Colchester, Conn., a town where ruffianism appears to be omnipotent. One of the roughs who made the first attack was arrested and fined $20, and his friends vowed revenge, but did not venture to make another open assault on the tent and its occupants, as it was feared that in such a case some rough might lose his valuable life, it being reported that not a few of the temperance people had armed themselves to protect their wives and children. So they prowled around the tent, evenings, and disturbed the meetings with yells, jeers and obscenity; and as the town officers did not dare to arrest them, or, more likely were in sympathy with them, they at length became bolder, and on a recent evening made a simultaneous rush for the tent, threw a large quantity of vitriol upon its roof, and then bravely ran away. The tent was nearly ruined, being damaged to the extent of four or five hundred dollars. Mr. Hurd still "sticks," and the acts of the lawless scoundrels have secured him the support of all the decent people of Colchester.

UNDER WHICH KING, BEZONIAN?

The position of the distinguished directors of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad is anomalous and ludicrous; amusing, to all but the tax-payers.

Look at it.

The president of the P. & D. is also a director in the Eastern road.

As president he leases his road to the Eastern.

As director, he joins in repudiating the contract; must be supposed to approve that act, otherwise he should have resigned.

As director, he says the P. & D. road cost too much, and on that solely is based the act of repudiation.

As president he states in his annual report that it did cost too much, in stating that the bonds received in payment of this city's subscription were sold at a discount and the discount charged to construction, showing of course that he received them at Par—knowing all the while that they were the property of the Trust Co., and that it was bound to pay one hundred cents for every dollar this city subscribed for stock.

As president he thus gives great aid and comfort to himself and his brother directors of the Eastern road. What a spectacle; the president and directors of a railroad, having retained experienced counsel and commenced a lawsuit of which the cost and end cannot be computed or foreseen, virtually announcing in their published report that the whole equity of the case is with their opponents! Verily "No man can serve two masters."

As if this were not enough, this board of directors have selected one of their number as counsel in this case,—for what? Not surely to advocate the position taken in the report, which substantially admits their opponent's position; and scarcely with the hope that this astute counsel's admission since being retained, that the enemy's point is well taken, would give force to his eloquence or weight to his arguments. Every one knows a counsel's readiness to advocate either or possibly both sides of a case, consideration being sufficient, but some might think it suicidal to retain a "counsel" who had, after accepting a retainer, given his adhesion to a public document justifying the adversary's view and action. Mr. Editor, your columns of seven years ago will show that the writer thought and said that this whole P. & D. railroad matter was a "muddle;" that was true then, has been true ever since, is true now; time has made his predictions history. The writer may ventilate the action of the original directors of this road on another point shortly.

"Personally the directors court investigation as to all their doings, and will meet any responsibility which may justly attach to them." W.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening:

Bonds of Thomas Entwistle, Peter Pray, William Nowell, John Turner, Thomas R. Moore, Joseph B. White Charles P. Abbott were received and accepted.

Petition of William H. Gray to be appointed special police officer without pay was granted.

Alfred Stavers asked leave to encumber Vaughan, Congress and Fleet streets for building purposes. Granted.

William A. Varney asked permission to open Myrtle street, and Albert J. Badger, Vaughan street, for purpose of laying drains. Granted.

The board were informed by Mayor Sise that the officers of the navy yard desired to have communication between the two places by telephone, the government to bear part of the expense. Referred to a special committee consisting of Aldermen Shannon and Sanborn.

Mayor Sise announced that the new steamer proved satisfactory to the committee, and had been accepted and turned over to the chief engineer and placed in the engine house on Court street, and the Sagamore removed to the house on Hanover street. The report was accepted and approved.

Dennis Shea asked permission to open Islington street to repair a drain. Granted.

Committee on streets reported recommending petitions of Willam Ward and Dr. Potter for sidewalks to be granted.

Committee on fire department recommended that the matter of telephone fire alarm be indefinitely postponed. Ald. Hazel, being a member of the committee, objected, as he had not been notified of a meeting of the committee by the chairman, Ald. Barri, and moved that it be recommitted, which was done.

The following were elected supernumerary watchmen:

Chas. W. Roberts, Geo. Stringer, Walter S. Gray, Michael E. Long, Henry Wallace, Daniel Webster, Edward Underhill, Chas. H. Besselievre, Sam'l Taylor, Daniel McDonald, John C. Lewis, James T. Shannon.

Inspector of Petroleum, Arthur H. Shannon.

Committee on gas lights reported that it is unexpedient to grant the petition of Chas. W. Drown for a gas light on Gardner street.

Claim of assessors for extra services was taken from the table and referred to committee on claims.

The following were elected health officers:

Rolla C. Grant, Robert Shillaber, Anthony Nowell.

The question of rules to govern hackmen and drivers of job wagons, was referred to committee on police to report.

THE "GOLDEN GATE."

The marine columns of the metropolitan papers on Aug. 26th contained, under the heading of "Spoken," the following item:

July 15, lat 41 N, lon 59 W, the dory Golden Gate, from Boston for Melbourne (with mainsail boom fished; was otherwise all right, and required no assistance.)

This little craft sailed from City Point, South Boston, at 2:45 o'clock P. M. on the 9th of July last, bound for Melbourne, Australia, via the Cape de Verde islands and the Cape of Good Hope. She was built by Hutchings & Pryor of South Boston, which firm is composed of Mr. Henry T. Hutchings, formerly of Kittery, and Mr. Waterman K. Pryor, formerly of this city. As she is by far the smallest craft that ever attempted such a long voyage, a description of her, clipped from a Boston paper at the time she sailed, may be of interest:

She is nineteen feet in leagth, five feet four inches beam at the water-line, two feet six inches depth of hold, and 1 1-7 tons burden; schooner rigged, carrying seventy-five square yards of canvas, and her stern of the old-fashioned "Pinkey" build. The principal peculiarity in her construction is that, from the water-line to her upper streak, she tumbles in, leaving her breadth of beam across the deck four feet and eleven inches. This is so as to conform with the deck, which crowns to an elevation of five inches, and is intended to enable her to accomplish the feat of righting herself if ever capsized. Her knees and timbers are white oak, her deck white pine, and her planking cypress wood. She is furnished with compasses, sextant and quadrants, and each of the two mariners is provided with a chronometer watch of the newest and best style. The water tanks are of copper, lined with tin, and hold two and a half barrels. The provisions, which have been selected with especial care, are put up on the canned principle, and are sufficient to last five or six months, barring accidents. All spars, except the mainmast, can be unshipped and stowed under decks, for which, as well as the sails, there is ample room. The cabin is watertight in all weathers, and can accommodate two sleepers on a pinch, and by a system of brass tubing connected therewith have sufficient ventilation even with all hatches battened down.

Her crew consists of Henry F. Burrill, the master, a native of Falmouth, Mass., thirty-five years of age, who has filled all positions from cabin boy to master in the whaling and merchant service, and has also had experience in the navy; and Andrew B. Coon, first officer, a native of Nantucket, twenty-eight years old, who has made four voyages around Cape Horn. Both are said to be cool, daring men, and strictly temperate in their habits, using neither liquors nor tobacco. They expect to reach Melbourne in time for the world's fair to be held in that place in October, 1880.

—Men are fonder of those qualities which they fondly believe they have than of those which they really have.—Voltaire.

Political.

A "Straight democrat" writes from Bangor to the Boston Herald: "In the present state of affairs, nothing is to be expected but a repetition of last year's performance on a more extended scale, and the practical obliteration of the democratic party as an organization in this State. If there was one democratic paper in the State that had courage and independence and principle enough to make a bold stand against this shameful betrayal of the party, there would be some hope that, through the facts which could be presented in its columns, democrats might be awakened to a proper sense of the suicidal folly of the course which they are pursuing. But it is a striking evidence of the party's degradation that any democrat who wishes to speak through the columns of the press for democratic honor, democratic principle and democratic integrity, must go outside of the State to find a paper willing to give utterance to such sentiments."

The D. S. Terry who has just been nominated for State attorney-general by the democrats of California, is the notorious "Dave" Terry who killed Senator Broderick in 1858. Terry at that time was chief justice of the State. Broderick was not a duelist, not even a good shot with a pistol. By a trick played by the officers of the court Terry escaped even the formalities of a trial for murder. Soon after, the rebellion having broken out, he slipped off to Mississippi, and headed a rebel brigade during the war. This over he returned to California, where he lived very quietly until the recent political upheaval brought him to the surface. He is an active member of the party known as the "honorable bilks."

Treatment of Blighted Trees.

We have saved at least fifty pear trees which were affected with the frozen sap-blight which shows itself in spots on the bodies, and sometimes in the branches, quite often where limbs join on the body. The bark seems to have been frozen and dries up and causes a decayed spot in the body of the tree, or on the limb, unless something is done to prevent it. This form of blight prevails more among young trees newly set than older ones, although they are also affected, and so are apple trees when quite large. It is generally found on the west side of trees. A coat of paint of almost any kind should be put on the diseased parts as soon as discovered, and a slit cut in the bark through the blighted portion and above and below it. The paint preserves the wood until a new bark is formed underneath the diseased portion, and the slit seems to start the growth anew by letting out the poisoned sap and allowing the healthy sap to extend over the part. These sores on trees are like ulcers in flesh, they need to be opened to be cured. If the spot blighted extends far around the tree, two or three slits should be cut through it. We do not know of any remedy for the fire blight, but when the top of a tree or any portion of it is attacked, the disease may often be arrested by cutting away all of the wood affected. The cutting should be below the diseased portion, where the tree is healthy. If this is thoroughly and properly done, a great many trees may be saved. We knew trees thirty years ago, when fire blight raged so fearfully, to have the whole tops cut away and then to throw out new branches and bear fruit for many years. We find the Louis Bonne de Jersey to be more liable to blight than any other variety we have. The Flemish Beauty comes next. It is unsafe to graft limbs of large trees during the year when blight prevails, as the severe pruning invites its attack. Every tree we have had grafted during the past three or four years has been affected, and the same kinds standing alongside not regrafted have been healthy.—SARATOGA, in N. Y. Tribune.

Cuticura

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Burning and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of WM. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present one of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome forms of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians prescribe it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
"THE LITTLE GIANTS" THE CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Dyspepsia or Sick Headache, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. And does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated, hence in no danger of quite losing their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, offensive discharge from nostrils, sometimes profuse, watery, thick and tenacious, putrid, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up of the nostrils, one or more nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, throat ulcerated, hoarse voice, altered nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be applied, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented which affords a cleansing treatment to be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

No fee for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to inventions or patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.
Old Bounty Land Warrants.
The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,500,000 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given gratis.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. What are the Profits!

This is the absorbing point that is of chief interest in every business transaction. By the combination system of operating in stocks, Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite the orders of thousands of patrons in various sums, into one immense amount, and operate them as a mighty whole, thus obtaining all the advantages of the largest capital and best skill. Profits are distributed pro rata among shareholders every month. In this way large gains are secured in short periods, and capital from $10 or $15 to $50,000 can be used with equal proportionate success. $20 will make $100 in 30 days. $150 will pay $1,500 profit, or 10 per cent. on the stock, and so on, according to the market. A citizen of Troy, made $815.75 on an investment of $50. Many customers are doing better. The new circular has "two unerring rules for success," and full details so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

The Earl of Mayfield is the title of a new and powerful novel, by a distinguished American author, now in press and to be published in a few days by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. The opening scenes are laid in Louisana during the early days of the rebellion; the hero is a rich planter, and the heroine is a lovely example of pure womanhood. The old English home is very likely a correct photograph of an ideal house, as many similar ones exist in that identical locality. It has the advantage of having but few characters, with good descriptions, excellent dialogues, well sustained interest, and contains all the elements of a successful novel, the whole being well told, within the limits of probability, and it will no doubt prove to be a success. It will be issued in uniform style with the works of Mrs. Southworth, in a large duodecimo volume of 500 pages, bound in vellum cloth, black and gold, price $1.50.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1879.

News and Notes.

There was a "Farmers' Picnic" at Queen City park, Burlington, Vt., on Thursday last, and it was the largest gathering that ever took place in that vicinity, over 140 carloads coming by rail, hundreds of people by boat and hundreds more by teams. It is estimated that nearly 15,000 outsiders were in the city. An immense audience listened to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher in the afternoon. His subject was the present condition of the country.

The village of Wickford, in North Kingston, R. I., was visited on the night of Aug. 27th by robbers, who plundered three stores and the post-office. The amount of plunder was not large, and consisted mainly of money and jewels. The gang were discovered and fired upon when endeavoring to enter a drug store; they returned the fire, and fled in a carriage, leaving part of their tools behind them. The robbers were tracked to Greenwich.

A Washington special says Mr. Morris, formerly president of the Nicaragua canal company, is organizing the new canal company on a solid basis, and desires to offer its presidency to Gen. Grant. Cyrus W. Field and Sir John Hawkshaw are both taking an active interest in the matter. A charter granted by the New York legislature in 1869 is still available for the company.

There is a crisis in the political affairs of Quebec that is causing much excitement. The legislative council has passed resolutions calling upon the lieutenant governor to remove his ministers, and refusing to pass the supply bill until he does.

Augustus Stuart, of Wareham, Mass., who lives on Cedar island, has been held in $2500 to answer a charge of shooting at several persons from the shore of the island as they were passing.

Munson, who married himself at Worcester, Mass., several weeks ago, and was jailed therefor, has obtained bail.

Rose Zego, an Italian girl twenty-two years old, was killed by the cars at Lake Walden, Mass., Thursday evening, while on a picnic excursion. John Warner, aged twenty years, jumped from a moving excursion train on the Providence & Worcester railroad at Junction station, Thursday morning, and fell between the platform and track; one of his arms was torn off, and he will probably die.

Temperance lecture: Mary Quinlan, five years of age, died in New York on Thursday from the effects of drinking whiskey from her father's flask, which she found on the parlor table.

Great Bear, a leading chief of the Indians of Winnipeg, Canada, where Sitting Bull and his people took refuge after the Custer massacre, is reported as on the warpath against the Sioux, and serious trouble is apprehended.

Ship Naturalist sailed from Calcutta for San Francisco, Feb. 3d, and barque L'Alba sailed from New York for Alicante Dec. 4th; neither has been heard of since, and both are given up for lost.

Barque Blaney Brothers, from Hayti for France with coffee, was fallen in with Aug. 22d with seven men dead from yellow fever, and the remainder of her crew, three in number, entirely worn out. An officer and one seaman were put on board by the steamer America, which spoke her.

Benjamin Drown of East Hardwick, Vt., was taken from his house one night recently by a party of men and boys, and tarred and feathered. It was claimed that he had been living with a disreputable woman.

About two acres of gardens and nurseries at Mill Hollow, a suburban mining village near Wilkesbarre, Pa., sank about eight feet Wednesday. It is believed the entire surface of the land is undermined and must go down, destroying many public and private buildings.

The trotting mare Filecutter and her colt, both valued at $2,500, were poisoned Thursday morning, at Providence, R. I., by Paris green maliciously mixed with their feed.

New Hampshire Items.

The fall term of Dartmouth college opened on Thursday last. The number of freshmen in attendance upon chapel exercises was about eighty, of whom thirteen enter the Chandler scientific department. Others are known to be coming, and a large class is assured. The "Collegiate Algebra," a new work by Prof. Elihu T. Quimby, for a long time connected with Dartmouth, has been adopted.

The seventh annual session of the Sullivan musical association, at Newport, was well attended, and proved very successful. L. O. Emerson of Boston was conductor, with Mrs. H. E. H. Carter, soprano; Miss A. C. Holbrook, contralto; H. C. Barnabee, basso; G. T. Sanborn, tenor; Mrs. Martha Dana Shepard, pianist.

Thursday last was picnic day in the Spiritualists' camp at Sunapee lake, and was given mostly to recreation, dancing being the principal pastime. Speaking and singing were the features of the forenoon's exercises.

Moses N. Collins Post, No. 24, G. A. R., of Exeter, has voted not to attend the dedication of the soldiers' monument at Manchester.

A blast was recently made at the Cape Ann granite company's quarry at Bay View, Mass., which rent asunder and lifted from its solid foundation a piece of stone weighing, by computation, 40,000 tons. It required for the job eight drill holes, twenty feet in depth each, and 425 pounds of powder. The fissure was 200 feet in length and eighty-five feet wide at the widest part.

Absolutely pure—made from Grape Cream of Tartar, imported exclusively for this Powder from the Wine district of France. Always uniform and wholesome. Sold only in cans by all Grocers. THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 30, 2 A. M.

Cloudy weather, occasional light rains, winds mostly northwest, nearly stationary temperature.

AROUND HOME.

Rev. Dr. A. J. Patterson will preach at Eliot to-morrow afternoon.

The Journal says that the contract for furnishing and dumping the stone for the breakwater between Goat and Great islands has been awarded to out-of-town parties for sixty-nine cents per ton. Twelve thousand tons of rough ledge stone are to be furnished.

Hon. William Simes, treasurer of the Home for Indigent Women, and Mr. John Stavers, treasurer of the Howard Benevolent society, each acknowledge the receipt of $500, free from probate tax, from Hon. Marcellus Bufford, executor of the will of Mr. John Walker.

"Rev." I. S. Kalloch, of San Francisco, whose notoriety was a few days ago revived by the cowardly and murderous atatck made upon him by another blackguard, preached in Exeter in 1859. Kalloch's wife was a grand-daughter of Samuel Philbrick, formerly of Exeter.

Mr. Benjimen Durgin of Kittery was prevented from delivering his proposed address on "Science and theology reconciled," last Thursday evening, by a sudden attack of sickness. He will speak on that subject Thursday evening Sept. 4th, on Market square, and invites everybody interested in the subject to be present.

Mr. Asa McIntire, of Beech ridge, York, was seventy-nine years old on the 12th day of August. On that day he budded a row of apple trees, over two hundred in number, by way of celebrating his birth-day. The old gentleman is hearty and lively, and works right along with the rest of the boys, at haying or anything else that has to be done.

The Portsmouth savings bank corporation, at the meeting on Wednesday of this week, voted to increase the investment committee by the addition of two members; and the trustees chose Messrs. William H. Rollins, Charles Robinson, Charles H. Mendum, Daniel Marcy and Joseph H. Thacher to serve with the president and treasurer as that committee.

The people in the neighborhood of Little Boar's Head are interested in a cow and Newfoundland dog that have formed an intimate friendship. The cow may be often seen licking the dog with her tongue, to the evident comfort and liking of the latter; while the dog manifests his good will by gnawing off the rope with which the cow is tied, whenever he finds her tied, thus giving her a free range of the field in which she is tethered.

A Stratham correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter says that peaches are rotting badly on the trees in that town, and the present indications are that the crop will be a total failure. From an orchard belonging to Ezra Barker, which a few days previously gave promise of a yield of two hundred bushels, the probability is that the harvest will fall below five bushels. The foliage on most of the trees has the appearance of having been singed by fire. In the vicinity of the orchard, the atmosphere is heavily laden with a sickenning odor from the decaying fruit.

Boatswain John McCaffery, who has been attached to this navy yard something over five years, three of which were served some years ago, and two during the term of duty just closed, is ordered to report on the 6th of September on board the U. S. S. Shenandoah, which vessel will be attached to the South Atlantic squadron. Mr. McCaffery's qualifications for his position are first class; his war record is a good one, he having been honorably mentioned by his commanding officers; and during his term of service here he has won the respect of his superiors as well as his subordinates in the service, and we believe without making an enemy. All who have been brought in contact with him will join in wishing him prosperity during the voyage. He is relieved by Boatswain Henry P. Grace, who is at present on leave of absence.

Text-books and all supplies used in the schools of this city and vicinity can be procured at Mercer Goodrich's book-store under the city building.

The Portland Press says there is no no truth in a rumor which has been current for several days, to the effect that the Portland & Rochester railroad had been leased by the Eastern.

The fine decorations of the room in which the officers of the navy yard gave their reception and ball on Wednesday afternoon of this week, were made under the superintendence of Mr. Oliver S. Loomis of this city and were complimented by all who saw them.

John H. Canney, who was arrested and lodged in jail in this city some months since for burglaries committed at the Epping camp grounds, who attempted to burn the jail by setting fire to some rags, and stuffing them into a hole in a partition, and who was subsequently adjudged to be insane and committed to the asylum at Concord, made his escape from that institution one night this week.

The Boston Post says that the archery clubs of New England, nine in number, propose to have a prize competition in that city the last of September. There will be a "champion" and a "championess" medal offered, besides various other prizes. The competition will probably take place at Beacon park. Portsmouth boasts of an archery club, but we do not know if it is one of the nine referred to by the Post.

At the last meeting of Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R., of this city, the question of accepting an invitation to take part in the dedicatory exercises of the soldiers' monument at Manchester was considered, and the following resolution passed: "Resolved, That owing to a dispute between comrades of Lewis Bell Post, No. 3, and members of the committee on dedicatory exercises of the soldiers' monument to be dedicated in Manchester Sept. 11th, 1879, and being unwilling to become a party or take sides in such dispute, we hereby respectfully decline to participate in said exercises."

The large schooner yacht Resolute, of New York, which was in these waters for several weeks, four years, ago and had a series of races with Gen. Butler's famous yacht America, and which was afterward repaired here, having been partially disabled in a gale of wind on the passage from the Shoals to Boston, arrived at this port again on Friday morning. She is owned by Rufus Hatch of New York, but is now under charter by a gentleman of that city named Gurney, who with his family and invited guests will go as far east as Portland in the yacht, where they will leave her and make a trip to the White mountains, sending the schooner back to New York.

BASE BALL, ETC.

The Granite State base ball club of this city went to Epping on Friday to play a game with the Stars of that town. The choice of an umpire resting with the Stars, they selected a man from Kingston, and the game began. At the end of the second inning the Epping club demanded a change of umpire; the Granite States thought the Kingston man was umpiring fairly, and saw no reason for a change, but one was made, both parties being willing, a man who played with the Stars last season being put in. The game then went along until at the end of the seventh inning the score stood eleven to eight in favor of the Granite States. On the eighth inning Buckley went first to the bat for the Portsmouth club, hit the ball a sockdologer, and made a home run. The Stars claimed a foul hit, which the umpire refused to allow. This led to some loud talk, which was brought to a close by the captain of the Stars hitting Morrisey of the Granite States a rap, which was promptly acknowledged by a return blow. There was no more ball-playing, but fists were handled lively for a few minutes, and then the Stars hauled off. It is said that several black eyes were given, but none of the Granite State boys show any signs of hard usage; from what we know of them we should suppose they would be a very unprofitable crowd for any ordinary club to try bulldozing on, though they are all peaceable and well-behaved young men, so far as we are aware; and we know that among clubs they have played with they bear the reputation of playing a square game.

EPPING CAMP-MEETING.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 27th.

In my report of Monday I said, "No humane person can look without a feeling of sadness upon those in poverty and suffering." It was printed, "No human person," etc. Well, I wish it were so,—there would then be far less suffering than there now is. One thing more, for which I myself am partly responsible: I wrote, "so the slightest desires of true penitence are the germs of a world-wide beneficence." The word gems was in printing substituted for germs. Neither exactly expressed what I wished to say. Radicles, meaning rootlets, would have been better, but having no dictionary here, I did not feel quite sure about it—nor do I now. Some people seem to think that ideas are as plenty as blades of grass, but they are as rare as diamonds, and when we get hold of one, we should be careful not to spoil it.

There are upon the grounds just one hundred and eighty private cottages, five new ones having been built this year. The first of the week these were almost all occupied, as I learned from personal inspection, and of course they are now. There may possibly be half a dozen not open, but I doubt it. At that time I counted thirty-one church tents that were occupied. Perhaps there are now more.

Some of the cottages and tents are handsomely decorated. On the circle Mrs. Clough's (of Greenland) bears off the palm, as usual. Of the church tents, Raymond, Salem, Exeter and Haverhill, Mass., excel. On Brodhead avenue the cottage of Rev. Mr. Haines is beautifully decorated with festoons and circles of evergreen, and bouquets. Two others attract the eye, that of a Mr. Webster on Spring avenue and that of Mr. John Young on Wesley park. On Perkins avenue one cannot help noticing the cottage of Mr. C. C. Bean of Fisherville. It has been painted by a brother of Mrs. Bean, who is a carriage painter. It has scrolls, bouquets of pansies, etc., all in gay colors. Some say it is too flashy. I should hate to be the painter and offer to paint theirs for nothing,—perhaps they wouldn't let me.

At the boarding tent and restaurant great preparations were made. There were laid in twenty barrels of flour, five of sugar, two and a half of beans, a tierce of lard, four hundred lbs. of butter, three hundred of cheese, three chests of tea, and other things in proportion. There were about 1500 lbs. of confectionery. Several hundred pies are ready for to-morrow's eating.

On Tuesday there were fewer people here than usual, but to-day the attendance has been much better; two thousand people have listened to the preaching. My last report came up to last evening. At six P. M., yesterday, Rev. Mr. Stuart preached from I. Chron., XXI, 1, "And Satan stood up against Israel, and provoked David to number Israel." I don't remember much more about that sermon. There was some sort of a difficulty in which poor David seemed to get the worst of it, but he repented and said, "for I have done very foolishly."

Last evening there were prayer meetings in most of the church tents. I am told that the one in Manchester tent was very interesting. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Norris, is a model minister, quiet, earnest, gifted, pious and faithful. I think I might say even more of him, but that is enough to expect in one poor mortal.

This morning at nine there were prayer meetings in the different church tents. After that Rev. O. H. Jasper, D. D., of Nashua, preached a sound and able sermon. His text was Luke XVIII, 30, "Who shall not receive manifold more in this life, and in the world to come life everlasting." His subject was the world to come. There are suggestions of the world to come lying loose all about us,—we only need to gather them up and put them together. In astronomy the Ptolemaic system suggested the Copernican by its unsatisfactoriness. There are many things in this world which are unsatisfactory and which strongly suggest a world to come. Uranus wobbled in his orbit, and this led to the discovery of Neptune. There are disturbances here which indicate a world to come. If God made this world as a finality, it is a poor thing. As a vestibule it is good. Who cares for the love of God, if this is all? If this world is all, he who gets most does best. The estates and conditions of the next life depend upon how we use this. I wish I could report this sermon more fully, but have not the time. It was followed by an altar service.

At one o'clock the district stewards met and fixed the Presiding Elder's salary at $1300. Last year it was fixed at $1300, but he actually received about $1200. Of this Portsmouth pays $60. The portion of the Bishop's salary to be raised by Dover district is $200; of this Portsmouth is supposed to pay about $10. At one there was also a prayer meeting at the stand. At half-past two Rev. Mr. Durrell of Rochester preached from Isa. LIX, 20, "And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord." I have not time to report this sermon, but it was a good one, more elaborate and scholarly than is necessary, or even best, for this place. The sermon was followed by an altar service. At four there was a meeting of the association in Great Falls tent. From the report of the secretary it appears that the association now owes $3850, but it has a large amount of property here in land and buildings. A committee was appointed to nominate officers, and the meeting adjourned till to-morrow morning. At six there was a good camp-meeting sermon by Rev. G. A. McLaughlin of Littleton. His text was I. John, II, 15, "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." What the world failed to do by force in the early ages of Christianity it now tries to do by strategy. God save me from a church that has to be turned into a restaurant or a theatre, in order to pay my salary.

But I ought to have been asleep two hours ago,—good morning! *

EAST EPPING, Aug. 28th.

Up to to-day the attendance had been smaller than for a number of years; this was owing in part to the lowery and threatening skies of Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, and in part, no doubt, to the fact that people have to economize now more than in former years. Then many have gone to the Weirs and to Alton Bay. Many feared that to-day would be stormy and the meeting a comparative failure in point of numbers, but some of the aged brethren declared that the Lord would give us a good day, adding that it always had been so. Well, as Homer used to sing thousands of years ago, "Aurora, rosy-fingered daughter of the morning," was ushered in with all the promise of a successful day, and that promise has been fully realized. It was one o'clock when I completed my yesterday's report and retired; it hardly seemed as if I had gotten soundly asleep before bang went the bell and I was aroused from the fairy beauties of dreamland to another day of camp-meeting life. To-night I forego the evening meetings, and give that hour to the writing of my report. It is easy enough, when once I get about it; but that "pawky thief," procrastination, has always been my worst enemy. I really think I might have been somebody if it had not been for that.

At eight o'clock there was an adjourned meeting of the association in Great Falls tent. Voted to place the treasurer under $4000 bonds. The committee on nominations reported, nominating Rev. James Thurston for secretary and Rev. G. W. Norris for treasurer, and an executive committee of eight, the Presiding Elder being president by virtue of his office. During the meeting there was much discussion concerning the farm; one opinion was that a man should be hired to carry it on for the association, so as to furnish the needed supplies of vegetables, butter, eggs, chickens and so on, instead of buying them. Another party was in favor of leasing it for a term of five years. Many improvements were suggested, among them some of a sanitary nature, which will soon be needed, or portions of the grounds will become too unhealthy for occupancy. Voted to raise $100 among the cottage owners towards paying a man for watching the grounds, so that there may be no depredations.

After the morning prayer meetings in the different tents, there was a sermon by Rev. C. B. Pitblado of Portsmouth. His text was Luke I, 32, "He shall be great." No one ever created as much stir in the world as Jesus Christ, and in pandemonium too. Mahomet created a stir, but the crescent is waning. The stir that Jesus Christ created is felt more than ever before, and is going to be felt more than now. Thirty-two writers have attempted his life and all have failed. He is the fascination of the ages, the bewilderment of all times. He is renowned for his words, and most of all for redemption. He has made a life-boat to take us from the wreck to the shore. The speaker went on to describe a castle over whose portals was written the word "welcome." So it is with the castle of redemption. He then went on to speak of the names over the doors of the different rooms. Christ's originality is absolute; he never relied upon or received suggestions. His fame is brightening all the while. Mr. Pitblado has a wonderful power of imagination and a great fund of illustration. He never used these to better advantage than to-day.

At one o'clock there was a meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society at the stand, at which Rev. Mr. Durrell read a letter from Miss Clara Cushman, now a missionary in China. This was the most interesting feature of the occasion. Rev. Mr. Dinsmore was appointed a committee to send to Miss Cushman the thanks of the meeting.

At half-past two Rev. Frank Stratton of the New England Conference preached from Col. II, 9 and 10. Human ingenuity has never been able to fathom the depths of Christ's love. One's heart beats faster as he crosses the suspension bridge at Niagara falls. A deeper and broader gulf has been bridged. There is only one that can span it, and his wondrous love has prompted him to do it. The love of friends is very tender, but oftentimes how unable friends are to protect one. "Not so with the Christ I present to you. He is able to bear me above all my trials up to a home beyond the skies. O, friends, bow before the King of Kings to-day! Xerxes lashed the Hellespont, but was unable to calm its waters. Christ was able to calm the sea. In Christ was the fulness of sympathy. A love that brings salvation is the love that I court most." This was probably considered a great sermon, but Mr. Stratton is not a speaker whose points are like mountain peaks, and some of us are so stupid that we cannot see them, unless they are. Father Adams, a minister over ninety years old, was upon the stand. Mr. Stratton referred to him as having been in the ministry sixty-two years, and the way had grown brighter all the while.

At six Rev. Mr. Bennett of Great Falls preached a good sermon, taking as his text Philippians III, 13 and 14. The grandeur of the man consists in the grandeur of the idea which possesses him. No man will be any greater or holier than his ideal.

There were the usual tent prayer meetings, Portsmouth uniting with Wesley church of Haverhill, Mass. The number of people present to-day has been estimated all the way from eight to fifteen thousand. I asked Gov. Prescott how many he thought there were, and he set the number at eight thousand. I am just informed that a clergyman present set it about twice as high. "You pays your money and you takes your choice." At any rate the association put up as many horses as ever before; "The woods were full of them." At the boarding tent there did not so many dine at the table as usual, but the other part of the establishment is ten dollars ahead of last year. I understand there has been some drunkenness outside the grounds, but have seen only one case. Here the order has been good. Thus closes the big day. My next and last report will be a short one.

THE JUVENILE PINAFORE CO.

Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore Company, who are to give one of their superb entertainments at Music Hall on Thursday evening of next week, are just now finishing a tour through Connecticut, where they have had immense audiences and called out the highest meeds of praise from press and people. The New Haven Register, after speaking in the most flattering terms of various members of the company, says:

The gem of the party was little Daisy Murdock, a wee bit of a girl, who sang Hebe, and who was, as the ladies say, "just too sweet for anything." She was as airy and vivacious as one could wish, flirted desperately with the Captain, and sang very prettily, the cute rendition of Hebe's song at the close of the last act, bringing three encores. She was better in the character than any one we have ever seen, and when old enough will become one of the brightest, sauciest and best soubrettes on the stage, for she has the natural talent, life and vivacity necessary to a successful soubrette. Either that or an opera bouffe interpreter will be her fate, or ought to be. The Captain was enacted by Willie Newman, who made a very dignified commander, looking finely and sang well, considering that he had baritone music to sing. The Dick Deadeye was Arthur Dunn, and he was as full of fun as an egg is full of meat, and his cute actions, never reaching buffoonery, kept the audience in the best of humor. He danced excellently, and was the life of the performance. The choruses were well done and the march in review before the Admiral a pleasing innovation. Taken all in all, the performance was as satisfactory a one as we have had of this tuneful and popular opera.

The company is composed of half a hundred children from five to fourteen years of age, selected from about two hundred and fifty who applied, some months ago, when Manager Haverly announced that he was to organize such a party. They created a great furore in New York city, have met with unbounded success everywhere, and no doubt our people will give them a bumper at Music Hall. The sale of reserved seats commences at Dr. Preston's at ten o'clock on Monday forenoon.

Political.

Cyrus thinks that Samuel ought not to ride up to the White House on the elevated railroad.

There's a man up in Aroostook, Me., who hasn't heard a political speech this campaign, and three speakers have been detached, one from each party, to go into the woods and talk at him.

The latest "situation" arranged by the New York Herald, (if we understand it,) is that Grant has positively declined the nomination; at the same time he doesn't exactly know whether he is in earnest or not, and dosn't expect to find out until he gets his copy of the Herald, and sees what that paper has to say about it.

A college professor once said that "he who expects to rate high in his class, must not expectorate on the floor." Much of the hawking and spitting was, no doubt, caused by catarrh, which the professor know could be readily cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and eating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, often cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man supplied there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believed it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 29, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 300 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

It also has a marked influence in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of chean, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Also does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being uninjured, preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any one at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge principally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY, one recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. BITTERS

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

warranted, on the reputation of Dr. Collins, its inventor, an old physician, to be the best plaster in the world of medicine. The union of the two great medical agents, viz., Electricity and Medical Gums and Essences, fully justifies the claim, and entitles this remedy to rank foremost among all curative compounds for all internal Aches and Pains and Chronic Ailments.

Price, 25 Cents.

Be careful to call for COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER and see you get some worthless imitation. Sold by all wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $2.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D.

Daily Chronicle.

The Pluck of Newspaper Men.

Forney's Progress pays this tribute to the pluck of newspaper men:

Memphis presents a fresh example of the faithfulness of the journalist. The city is literally dead, there is positively nothing doing in the way of business, yet the papers appear as regularly as ever, and it has, of course, never occurred to the editors to suspend publication, and like the merchants of the place, close their establishments. Certainly they go on at a loss, for all the sources of their profits are shut.

The newspaper is ever the last of all to succumb. If its office burns down, it is out the next morning with a "full account of the conflagration." The fires which destroyed Chicago and Boston only scorched the newspapers, though their buildings were laid low. The war record of the Memphis Avalanche cannot be forgotten—how it carried its presses from point to point as the Union armies advanced, and printed its edition everywhere and anywhere, but always somewhere. The religion of the journalist is his trade. To him it is a sin to fly from his desk at the appearance of danger. Like the general at the head of his army he would be forever disgraced in his own eyes if the enemy, coming in what shape it might, did not find him in command.

The income of the Memphis editor stops, but his expenses do not. He fights for others and pays for the privilege. He urges courage. He is so little frightened by yellow jack that he takes him by the button hole and laughs with him. He tells his affectionate fellow citizens never to lose hope. He sifts out the truth from the wild stories flying about, and kills despair by showing how things might be a great deal worse than they are. He points gleefully to the future, and declares that Memphis must and will recover her old-time prosperity.

Imagine, if you can, Memphis in this hour of its sore trial, without its press. Think of the ravages of the dreaded visitor unrecorded, with only the alarmed people to tell one another who still lived; with the whole world silent; with no word of encouragement to reach the public ear.

Land--Ground--Earth--Soil--Dirt.

The terms are often used incorrectly from mere oversight and carelessness, and it may be well to recall to memory the strict proprieties of the case.

Land, then, we should say, is pre-eminently the geographer's and surveyor's word, indicating primarily the solid portion of the globe as distinguished from the ocean, and secondarily any particular subdivision of that solid portion. "Four-fifths of the land of Great Britain is held by seven thousand proprietors."

The ground is the surface of the land. We break ground for a new building or railroad.

Earth, beside its astronomical usage as the proper name of our planet, indicates the material of which a considerable portion of the outside of the planet is composed, exclusive of water and rocks. The civil engineer, about to construct an embankment, calculates how many cubic yards of earth will be required for the purpose.

Soil is the earth considered from an agricultural point of view, and is especially the farmer's word. The substance is no longer thought of as an homogeneous mass weighing so much per cubic foot, but as a very complex mixture and compound of many different elements, and possessed of a great variety of chemical as well as physical properties. It is therefore much better to speak of raising a certain crop on good soil, than on "good land" or "good ground"—neither of which phrases expresses exactly the meaning that the speaker wishes to convey.

Dirt, lastly, has been succinctly defined as "matter in the wrong place," and should never be applied to earth except when it is sullying or defacing something. To speak of packing "dirt" around the roots of a tree is a detestable error.

To re-state the whole matter in a different way:

A person going west to farm will perhaps take up government land, and the first question to be decided will relate to the position and extent of the land to be selected—a purely geographical matter. Next he will probably look over the ground, considering chiefly its surface and what there is on it. Then he must know what is the character of the soil—its chemical constitution and mechanical condition. When he comes to build his house and excavate the cellar, he will throw out earth; and if, in the process, some particles of this earth are deposited on his shirt front, to the detriment of the appearance of that article, and the disgust of its proprietor, then, and not until then, does the earth deserve the repulsive and unsavory appellation "dirt."
—Country Gentleman.

Power of Speaking Restored.

NEWASH, ONT., D. C., Mch 30, '70.

Jonas Fotheringill writes: Some two months ago my son lost his voice. None of the physicians could do him any good. Two hours after taking the second dose of Fellows' Hypophosphites his power of speaking was perfectly restored.

—An English newspaper tells a good story of a clergyman who was consoling a lady for the death of her husband by emphatic assurances that those who had been friends in this world would be reunited immediately after death. He was thinking of the happiness of being able to offer the relief of such faith, when she broke in upon his meditations by exclaiming sadly, "Well, his first wife has got him, then, by this time!"

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1879.

News and Notes.

Delaware is full of business just now. Peaches are ripe, and they've just started the Bayard boom.

The bureau of statistics' statement of imports and exports of the United States shows an excess of exports over imports of merchandise for the month ending July 31st, 1870, of $9,573,174; and for the twelve months ending July 31st, 1879, of $583,572,089.

Willie Roland, aged eleven years, was buried in a sandbank in Dedham, Mass., Thursday afternoon, while at play, and before he was extricated, life was extinct.

The Chinese language is to be taught at Harvard university, and Prof. Ko Kom Huo, the instructor, has already arrived.

Col. Samuel Ward, father of Genevieve Ward, the actress, is dead.

Gen. J. B. Hood died at New Orleans on Saturday, of yellow fever. He was one of the bravest and most distinguished officers of the rebel army. He was educated at West Point, and served in the United States army until he left it to enter the rebel service. Gen. Hood was in command of the army which Sherman defeated at Atlanta, just before he commenced the famous march to the sea.

Miss Johnson of Wisconsin, about twenty-one years of age, who has been boarding at Biddeford Pool, was drowned Friday forenoon while bathing. Her body was recovered, but all attempts at resuscitation proved unavailing. Miss Johnson was a good swimmer, but ventured too far from shore.

An insane woman, who had been missing from Millbridge, Me., for eleven weeks, was found in the woods on Monday of last week, alive, having subsisted all that time on roots and grass.

Henry Barton was detected by Henry Miller of New York in robbing the latter's premises Friday night, and fled, pursued by Miller, at whom he fired a shot, wounding a Mr. Michels. A policeman named Dokels joined in the pursuit, and was shot at by the thief. The officer caught Barton and knocked the latter's pistol up just as he fired, and the thief fell dead, shot with his own pistol.

According to the report of Consul Perceval of Port Said, the total number of vessels which passed through the Suez Canal in 1878 was 1550, of which 1,227 were British, 89 French, 71 Dutch, 44 Italian, 38 Austrian, 22 German, 21 Spanish, 8 Egyptian, 8 Japanese, 6 Danish, 5 Swedish and Norwegian, 4 Portuguese, 3 Turkish, 2 Belgian, 1 American and 1 Zanzibar. Total 2,178,316 tons, of which 1,726,946 were British.

The Russian authorities of Odessa prepared a grand reception for Mr. Maynard, United States minister to Turkey, and the crew of the United States steamer Wyoming, and ordered the public establishments not to accept any money from the Americans. Mr. Maynard, however, was obliged to leave before the principal fete took place, in consequence of the diplomatic meeting at Constantinople.

There was a serious accident on the Old Colony railroad at Brocton, Mass., Friday. A train consisting of seven passenger and two baggage cars and one smoking car, was thrown down an embankment twenty feet high by a misplaced switch, and piled up in the greatest confusion. By the most remarkable good luck no lives were lost, and only two persons were seriously injured

The French movement for a treaty of commerce with the United States seems in a fair way of success. Twenty-five chambers of commerce in France have voted resolutions favorable to such treaty.

The bodies of six men have been found on the beach in Northampton county, Va. They are supposed victims of the recent great storm.

Unknown men claiming to be revenue officers, recently abducted Mrs. Pullian, a handsome widow residing in Elbert county, Ga. Great excitement prevails in that vicinity over the mysterious affair.

The actual amount of gold received at the assay office in New York up to the 29th of August, from London shipments since the 12th of August, was $4,000,000, and the manifests received amounted to as much more. In addition to this, cable despatches show that five and a half million dollars were shipped on the 29th ult. by the steamships Germanic, Weser, Algeria, and the French steamer which left for New York.

The steamship Bristol, which arrived at Bristol, Eng., Aug. 29th, from New York, reports speaking a vessel that reported having picked up the crew of the "Uncle Sam." It was not stated whether the barque Uncle Sam or the tiny boat of the same name was the one abandoned by her crew.

Rarus, the noted race-horse, has been purchased by Z. E. Simmons of New York, for $36,000.

Thomas Lookup, alias Dr. Powers, alias Dr. Evans, a notorious abortionist of New York, died miserably on Friday night. He lived like a miser and died like a pauper, surrounded by broken furniture and the filth of a tenement house, with between $60,000 and $100,000 to his credit in various banks, where it was deposited by him under another name.

There have now entered for the long-distance race for the Astley belt twelve competitors, viz: Weston; Rowell and Hazael, the Englishmen; Taylor, the pie eater; Ennis, Krohne, Fitzgerald, Panchot, Frank Hart of Boston, Merritt, Guysson, and Yuma, the Indian from Los Angeles, Cal. "Blower" Brown has not entered for the match. It is said that he has been induced to reserve his powers for the O'Leary belt.

Wm. A. Armstrong of New York had a misunderstanding with his wife. His mother called Thursday evening and chided him, when he picked up a revolver, in the presence of his mother and wife, and blew out the place where people of common sense carry their brains.

The yellow fever is reported as again on the increase at Memphis, twenty-two new cases and three deaths being reported on Friday. The disease is reported to have obtained what seems a firm hold in a dangerous locality in New Orleans, and serious apprehensions are felt that that city may share the fate of Memphis. The national board of health on Friday received notice of three new cases at Mississippi City.

An expert accountant who has for some days been carefully examining the books of the Mechanics' mill at Fall River, Mass., finds them all straight, with no evidence of transactions of a criminal nature on the part of George B. Durfee, the late treasurer. It appears that what Durfee did was to speculate in futures with the corporation's money, on the corporation's account; he had done it before, and made money for the mill, the corporation pocketing the profits and finding no fault; and it was only when the "futures" went the wrong way and Mr. Durfee's speculations resulted in a loss, that any trouble was made.

The woollen mill at Winooski, Vt., is running daily from six o'clock in the morning to half past ten at night, with a full complement of hands. Resumption has ruined business.

William Switzer and seven other men of Sutton, Vt., have been arrested for tarring and feathering one Drown, and breaking the windows in his house. Nine others are said to be concerned in the outrage, which was caused by jealousy and women. Drown was badly burned by hot tar.

Mrs. John Waters, a French woman of Adams, Mass., eighteen years old, took oil of tansy on Thursday because her husband refused to get his own breakfast, and there is little hope of her recovery.

A Sample Convention.

The greenback State convention of New York met at Saratoga on Friday. William Voorhis of Richland, a national banker, was elected permanent chairman, and took his seat amid a storm of hisses, cat-calls and cheers. The name of Richard Schell of New York city was presented as a candidate for governor, but was withdrawn on a threat being made by a large faction that they would bolt his nomination if it was made. Harris Lewis was nominated for governor, and John M. Wieting for lieutenant-governor. Among other things the platform demands the withdrawal of national bank currency; that all money be issued by the general government and be full legal tender, the volume of such money to be $50 per capita, or sufficient to meet all trade requirements, said volume to be increased in direct ratio with the increase of population and business so as to maintain a uniform purchasing power for the dollar; that new issues of paper money be used to cancel the interest-bearing debt, promote public improvements, and pay current expenses; that the surplus in the treasury be used to cancel the interest-bearing debt; that no more interest-bearing obligations be issued by the general government, and all outstanding be paid at once in fiat money. After passing a resolution endorsing Denis Kearney, the disorderly convention broke up.

More War in Cuba.

Advices from Cuba confirm the previously reported revival of the Cuban revolution. An army convoy has been captured by Capt. Rojas and a small band of Cuban patriots, while on its way from Manzarillo to Bayamo. The convoy was surprised in several places at once, and a stampede took place among the Spanish troops. The plunder was $30,000 in gold coin intended for the arrears of pay to the troops, 60,000 cartridges, 500 rifles, a number of kegs of powder, a large quantity of clothing, provisions, etc.

An Ancient House.

The residence at Newport, R. I., known as the Atkinson house, now the property of James Atkinson, Esq., is a somewhat noted landmark in that ancient city. The house, which was built more two hundred years ago, is peculiar in its construction, there being no staircase or closet in it except around the chimney. The latter, near the top, is twelve feet square. The stairs ascend around the chimney by easy approaches, at each turn passing under arches. It is said that Washington delighted to visit this house, and the Antiquarian Society of Rhode Island has set there for many years. A great many curious things and papers have been found in it. There is there a manuscript book of recipes of considerable size, showing that the people of the olden times were fond of good cheer. As usual then, the handwriting and the ink were good; but the paper upon which it was written would be considered in these days, when the mechanic arts have made so much advancement, rather execrable. Here is a recipe written in A. D. 1713 by a young lady, who states that she was nineteen years of age on the 29th day of April of that year:

To make potato Pudden: Take one lb. of potatos run through a Sieve put Sugar 3-4 pounds butter half a pound ten eggs half the whites left out a gill of wine Cinneman for Spice.

—The dentists at their late convention in New York agreed to pull together.

—A Chicago clergyman startled his flock a few Sunday evenings ago, by telling them "hell is not half so full of men and women as men and women are full of hell."

AROUND HOME.

Fred P. Wilson, at No. 37 Congress street, is selling silver-plated knives at $2 a dozen.

Sale of reserved seats to the Juvenile Pinafore commences at Preston's this morning at ten o'clock.

The Wachusett was taken out of the dry dock Saturday night, she having apparently suffered little damage from getting on shore.

D. F. Berthwick announces for sale at the Popular store, Nos. 7 & 9 Market street, bleached and brown cottons, cashmeres, silks, velvets, satin, etc., of good quality at low prices.

On Friday last Mr. Samuel P. Abbott fished from one of the wharves at the north end, and caught eight varieties of fish, viz: Cod, pollock, smelts, frost fish, eels, hake, cunners and whiting.

One of the crew of the schooner Active, Capt. Matthews, which sailed from this port for Philadelphia on Saturday, was Mr. Joseph Rogers, who though in his 84th year is working his passage to Philadelphia as a seaman, to see his son, who lives in the west and will meet the old gentleman in that city. He is more active than ordinary men of sixty years, and can do a good day's work yet.

The Dover Democrat of Friday says: "The directors of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad held a special meeting in this city yesterday afternoon, and after a full discussion it was voted to offer an ultimatum to the Eastern, involving no surrender or reduction of claims, but a fair and honorable proposition, the details of which cannot be published at present. If the Eastern managers are wise they will accept it, for as we understand the matter it is fair and honorable to all concerned, and will prevent expensive litigation."

One J. Leach, a person of no very prepossessing appearance, who has lived in Kennebunkport, Me., about two weeks ago went to the stable of Isaiah Buffum in North Berwick, and stole a team and drove to Wakefield and back to Great Falls. He was caught at the latter place and returned to North Berwick, but Mr. Buffum made no complaint against him for the theft, preferring to give him a superior horsewhipping, and doing so. Somebody else took the fellow before a justice on the charge of being a tramp, and he was sent to jail for thirty days.

The Boston papers of Saturday, in mentioning the fight between the Star base ball club of Epping and the Granite State club of this city, at Epping on Friday, say "a dispute was started by the latter club." Possibly the fact that the catcher of the Epping club is the local correspondent for one or more of the Boston papers may have had some influence in coloring the report of the affair sent those papers. It is a little singular that the Granite States and several other clubs have played against each other for several years without having any trouble, but as soon as any of them go to Epping to play the Stars there is a muss right away. The Granite States played the South Berwicks, Rochesters, Newmarkets and Farmingtons last year, and the Farmingtons and Newmarkets this year, besides having five or six games in this city with picked nines, and had no quarrel; but two years ago, when they undertook to play a game with that same Epping club, they abandoned the field on the third inning—"we saw we'd got to leave the field or get a licking," as one of the club told us at the time; and last Friday, though the Stars had as umpire a man who played in their nine last year, their captain struck one of the Granite State club because the umpire decided a dispute in the latter's favor. The Farmington and Rochester clubs, too, which have no difficulty in playing peaceable games with each other or with the Granite States, have been bull-dozed when playing with the Stars; and the last time the Rochesters played at Epping—and it will probably be the last time that club or the Farmingtons will go there to play—one of their men was severely injured and several others more or less badly marked, as the usual row occurred.

EPPING CAMP-MEETING.

EAST EPPING, Aug. 29th.

This morning dawned bright and fair, but soon it became evident that the multitude had come and gone. In place of the ten thousand of yesterday we now have less than half that number. At eight there was a love feast, at which one hundred and fifty-two spoke. Next came an excellent sermon by Rev. G. W. Ruland of Greenland. His text was John VIII, 34, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." This afternoon Rev. Mr. Howard of Exeter has been reviewing the work of the week, and at this hour a large number of people, including whole families and some aged men and women, are kneeling at the altar and are being prayed for.

The numbers are gradually going away, and to-morrow at this time hardly any will be left. Thus will end the meeting of this year. It has not been so largely attended as in other years, but the preaching has been good and there now seems to be a great religious interest on the part of many here. At the love feast this morning one hundred and sixty-two dollars were raised to send to Rev. L. P. Cushman, who is doing missionary work in Texas, to build a chapel for the colored people where he is laboring. He asked for one hundred.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this county have been left for record in the office of the register of deeds:

NORTHWOOD.

Edville Emerson to Sam. E. Brown, land, $75.

NOTTINGHAM.

Moses M. Wilson to Edward F. Watson, land and buildings, $200.

SOUTH HAMPTON.

Geo. W. French, of Brooklyn, N. Y., to Sarah E. Parker, land, $100.

WINDHAM.

Eliza C. Owen, of Manchester, to Dora E. Owens, of Derry, land and buildings, $350.

Thomas Cloyd, of Plainfield, N. J., to James C. Cloyd, of Brooklyn, N. Y., land, $1.

Naval Matters.

Lieut. Comdr. John McGowan, Jr., is detached from the hydrographic office at Washington, and ordered to the Marion as executive officer.

Naval Constructor Samuel H. Pook, who has been absent for some months on a tour to Europe, has arrived home and resumed his duties at the Boston navy yard.

Asst. Surgeon Richard Ashbridge is detached from the Powhattan, and granted three months leave. Asst. Surgeon Daniel M. Guiteras is detached from the naval hospital at New York, and ordered to the Powhattan.

Chief Engineer George E. Emmons has been detached from the U. S. S. Wabash, and placed on sick leave.

Leave is granted to Capt. F. H. Corrie, U. S. M. C., attached to the marine barracks at Brooklyn, for one month from Sept. 1st.

The U. S. S. Hartford arrived at Rio Janeiro Aug. 2d. The Essex was expected at Rio about Aug. 15th, and would leave at once for Philadelphia.

On Tuesday, the 26th ult., at Norfolk, Va., during an extraordinarily high tide caused by a northeast strom, the frigate Franklin was hauled off the mud at St. Helena point, where she was blown by the great gale of the 18th. Everything movable was taken out of the ship before the tugs took hold of her. She will go into dock for examination and repairs.

New Hampshire Items.

Will Moore and Dana Hadlock, two men who assisted the officers of Monroe in arresting the rioters who attacked the house of Gorge Stevens on Monday night of last week, were assailed in a covered bridge on Thursday night by five men, some of whom had knives in their hands. Two of the assailants were arrested.

A large number of men are now employed in rebuilding and enlarging No. 3 mill, belonging to the Manchester Mills corporation. The mill is about 400 feet long, and is to be made about ten feet wider. It is to be four stories high. One section of 160 feet in length has been completed, and the machinery is being put in. The work of remodelling another section is now progressing.

The owner of the team found in possession of Ira Bragdon of Biddeford, as previously reported, was James O. Libby of North Conway, who has recovered his property. Bragdon is in jail.

The Newspaper Law!

The New Haven Journal and Courier publishing company has recovered a bill of $43 from William T. Howd, till recently postmaster at Stony Creek, for papers sent him since November, 1871, and the cost of prosecution. Howd testified that he had repeatedly said that he did not want the Journal and Courier, and he thought the publishers ought to make a discount to him for favors shown them while he was postmaster. The court held, however, that the State and United States law would authorize the collection of the bill for a paper after it had been ordered stopped, until the bill for the entire time was paid. Similar cases have before been decided in the same way, and it is the law of the land. The following is a summary of the law as the courts have universally decided it:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bill and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

Political.

The Boston Post has discovered "Bright skies in Ohio" for Ewing and the other soft-money democrats. Also that the republicans feel worried about the result in Maine, fearing that the Post's truck-and-dicker brethren will carry the State. The fact that the Post has carried New Hampshire for the democrats at every election — or rather just before every election—for many years past, and given the republican party of Rhode Island a hard pull to save that State, detracts somewhat from its reliability as a political prophet.

—When John Dixon, a Savannah negro, sat up in the coffin in the midst of his own funeral services, the assembled mourners ran yelling from the house, some of them getting out through the windows.

—There is to be a reunion of the author of the Saxe-Holm stories at Saratoga next week. Rooms have been engaged for one hundred and sixty-four.—Albany Journal.

Cheap Paint for Farm Buildings.

The following is a very cheap and excellent paint for farm buildings, forming a hard surface, and as its hardness increases by time, it is far more durable than paint:—Take freshly burned unslacked lime and reduce it to powder. To one peck or one bushel of this add the same quantity of fine white sand or fine coal ashes, and twice as much fresh wood ashes, all these being sifted through a fine sieve. They should then be thoroughly mixed together while dry. Afterward mix them with as much common linseed oil as will make the whole thin enough to work freely with a painter's brush. This will make a paint of light gray stone color, nearly white. To make it fawn, add yellow ochre and Indian red; if drab is desired add burnt umber, Indian red and a little black; if darker stone color, add lampblack, or if brown stone, then add Spanish brown. All these colors should of course be first mixed in oil, and then added. This paint is very much cheaper than common oil paint. It is equally well suited to wood, brick or stone. It is better to apply it in two coats—the first thin, the second thick.—Farmer's Home Journal.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER was enlarged May 1, 1879, so that every bottle now holds one fourth more than formerly, while the price remains the same

A college professor once said that "he who expects to rate high in his class, must not expectorate on the floor." Much of the hawking and spitting was, no doubt, caused by catarrh, which the professor knew could be readily cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

—Although the Big Horn canon is called impassable, two miners have gone through it; but their experience was such as to discourage anybody who would repeat the feat. Desiring to save 200 miles of roundabout travel by land, they built a small but staunch boat, put some provisions aboard, and embarked on the rushing stream. They were whirled along at a frightful speed, and finally hurled ashore, the boat going on without them. The walls of the canon rose perpendicularly 500 feet, and there was no escape except by water; so they lashed two logs together with their belts, and again trusted themselves to the rapids, finally completing the trip unhurt.

Cuticura

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by bursting through the skin and causing pain into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in Premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-Rheum, Scaly and Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has established the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it invigorates the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region Tuste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to the head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in pasteboard boxes, or in bulk. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stoppage, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling, dry cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. One bottle of the liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, full directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or potions. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

For sale by all Druggists and respectable dealers generally.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.00 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCracken Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of the Company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D.

The Largest Ship Ever Built in America.

The ship Great Republic was built at East Boston by Donald McKay in 1853; was put up, when finished, in New York for San Francisco. When nearly loaded she took fire and burnt to the water's edge, involving a loss of cargo and ship of nearly $400,000. Nearly the whole was insured and paid for by various companies in New York and Boston; she was then sold at public auction, the mere shell of a four-thousand-ton ship, for $27,500; bought by Messrs. Low & Brothers of that city. They repaired or built her up again with three decks, leaving off one—she had four when first completed. When finished in the autumn of 1854 we thought her the finest craft ever put afloat. Captain Joseph Limeburner of the clipper ship Samuel Russell was appointed to take charge of her for a voyage to London. She sailed the following February, 1855, for London, with upwards of 3,000 tons of mixed freight; chiefly however, of guano. She made the land in England in twelve days.

She was then chartered to the French government, and sailed for Marseilles, which port she reached in twelve days. They loaded her with ordnance of heavy calibre, and 3300 horses; and with French officers in the cabin she sailed for the Crimea. She delivered her freight so satisfactorily that they rechartered her for another six months, and kept her fourteen months in the same service. Before the French government accepted the charter, she was remeasured in London by government officials, and found to be 3500 tons—measured in the old way, not by sections.

She had four masts—the fourth barque rigged. She was 305 feet long, 54 feet beam; from the deck to the main truck she measured 210 feet. With the French blue, white and red, all four masts covered with Marryat's naval numbers from the trees, and the American star spangled banner at the peak, Count Cambaces, the officer in charge at Marseilles, remarked that she was the prettiest marine view he ever remembered to have witnessed; in fact she became the favorite among 800 of the transports out of that port. They appointed steamers to tow her up, but she could reach the Dardanelles better under canvas than under towage, so they let her sail up and towed her through the straits.

While in London she was visited by many distinguished persons, among them Sir Joshua Bates, Russell Sturgis, William Phillips, Richard Green, and William S. Lindsley, Member of Parliament. While in Marseilles, it was observed that upwards of 10,000 people were on board of her at a reception given by Captain Limeburner.

When she returned to New York she was put upon the berth for California, and loaded rapidly for that place.

Here passages were always fine; in one of these passages she crossed the equator inside of fifteen days, and made the most miles in twenty-four hours' run ever made by steam or sailing ship—412 miles—392 miles being the best ever made by a recent passage to England. In one of her voyages from the Chincha islands with 4000 tons of guano, while running twenty miles an hour off Cape Horn, with a fearful sea running, she had a sea come on board just under the main yard, which stove in fifty feet of deck about the main hatch and filled her with water, and she came near foundering. She became so waterlogged that it was a serious matter to save the ship, but by superhuman effort they worked her up to Por. Stanley, Falkland islands, men all worn out, handsore from the ammonia from the guano taking the skin off. When she hove in sight of the port, a steamer came out and her captain asked if he wanted to tow into the anchorage. Limeburner said, "That depends on your price. What will you take us up for?" "Four hundred dollars," said the captain of the steamer. "Well, hook on to us." And when she came to at her anchors and the captain of the steamer found it was a case of salvage—say one-half—he was furiously indignant.

Before she could proceed upon her voyage to London, they had to send to Montevideo for sails and provisions; and the whole cost, from this unlucky sea was forty thousand dollars.

After delivering cargo she returned to New York and loaded for San Francisco; returning from that voyage she was sold to parties in St. John, N. B., and loaded deals for London, thence to Rio Janeiro; on her return to England, when off Bermuda, she sprang a leak on the 9th of March, 1872, and was abandoned. The captain and crew arrived safely in their boats at Bermuda on the above date.

The last time she loaded for San Francisco her freight amounted to $160,000; expenses, $116,000, including the repairs and outfits, provisions, etc., for round voyage.—Boston Transcript.

Winter Geraniums.

Geraniums that are expected to bloom in winter must have a season of rest during the summer. Keep the plants in pots out-of-doors, under the shade of some tree, till September, and water sparingly. In the begining of September shake the soil from the roots, replant them in rich sandy loam, and bring them forward to the sun and air. Place them in a sunny window, in-doors, when there is danger of frost, and when they begin to grow give them an occasional watering with liquid manure. They need plenty of sun and air and a comparatively low temperature. In a hot room they will not do well.

—If any one has missed any of the "John Smiths" they can be found in the Massachusetts State prison, which institution has the honor of entertaining just twenty-six of that name.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1879.

A Long-Eared Democratic Commentator.

A correspondent of the Boston Post, a democrat of course, waxes virtuously indignant over a recent case of outrage in Sutton, Vt., where a man's house was mobbed, its doors and windows broken, and the man himself taken out and tarred and feathered. The correspondent attempts to offset with this case the instances of democratic bull-dozing in the south, and shrieks aloud as follows:

What I wish to know is, where is the federal government in this matter? Is a citizen of the United States living in Sutton, Vermont, to be despoiled and almost slaughtered without the instant interference of the President and the army of the United States?

Where too, are the press agents, and the stalwart editors? Here is a first-class outrage on a white citizen, yet the republican papers "coo it as gently as a sucking dove." No extra head lines, no labored editorials as to the great demand for Grant on account of the necessity of having a man of firmness and decision to put down these terrible onslaughts on the citizens of the United States. It was up in Vermont, whose republican star never sets; had it been in Georgia, or Mississippi, or in any other southern State, how the pious eyes of those holy republicans would have rolled up, and their voices would have trembled with emotion, sermons would have been preached about "the duty of the north," and the saints would have thanked God they were not as other men—down south.

We think our southern friends should get up some grand meetings, and memorialize Congress next winter to see about protecting citizens of Vermont, in Vermont; at least they should do so if they imitate our northern stalwarts, and intermeddle with other people's business, neglecting their own.

This is a fair sample of the "arguments" employed by the democrats to support their constant assertion that life and property are as well protected in the south as in the north, and its feebleness and utter absurdity show how untenable is the position it is sought to defend. There is not in any one respect any similarity between the Sutton affair and the southern outrages of which the republicans of the north complain, excepting that they are alike crimes of violence.

There was no aiming to sway public affairs by terrorism, in the outrage on the Sutton man, and there is no pretence that it was anything more than a lawless exhibition of spite on the part of a few persons; there was no order of any republican political committee that the outrage should be committed, and no intimation that other men who presumed to vote against the dominant party in Vermont would be similarly treated; there was no mass meeting of citizens to approve the act and applaud its perpetrators, nor have they been nominated for office as a reward for their crime; and not a republican paper in Vermont or elsewhere came out with "extra head lines" in honor of the affair and praising its perpetrators. On the contrary, the papers in the vicinity of Sutton denounced the tarring and feathering of Drown as an illegal interfering with a man who, whatever immorality he might have been guilty of, was fully entitled to the protection of the law until proved guilty in the courts; and within a few hours of the commission of the crime, eight of its perpetrators were in custody, and every other one whose name was known was being hunted down by the officers.

On the other hand, the bull-dozing outrages in the south are ordered by the democratic committees, with the openly avowed purpose of preventing republicans or any other opponents of the "regular" democratic machine from enjoying their political rights; sometimes, as in the case of Dixon in Yazoo county, Miss., the men most active in committing the outrages are the most prominent democratic leaders; it is the leaders in these political outrages whom the democrats elect to office, as in Kemper county, Miss., for instance, where the leaders of the mob that murdered Judge Chisolm and his son and sixteen-years-old daughter, was promptly elected high sheriff of the county; enthusiastic public meetings "endorse," and southern democratic papers applaud, the outrages and those who commit them; and no perpetrator of any crime whatever, murder not excepted, committed "in the interests of the party," is ever punished, or even a pretence made that he should be.

The Post correspondent says the republican editors "know that such things (as the Sutton affair) are occurring almost daily all around us, north and south, east and west." True; but in the north the criminals are punished, no matter to which political party the actors or victims belong; while in the south the democrats who murder republicans are punished only by presentations of plate and elections to office.

News and Notes.

Col. N. A. Miles arrived at Fort Keogh, D. T., Thursday, with his command, consisting of seven companies of the Fifth Infantry, bringing with him nearly 1,000 half-breeds, who had been furnishing arms and ammunition to the Indians between the Yellowstone and the boundary line. He has cleared the country of all roving bands, and driven Sitting Bull's followers across the American line, besides breaking up all the illicit traffic in arms and ammunition between the half-breeds and hostile Indians. The campaign has been very successful, considering the small loss to Gen. Miles.

The Fall River, Mass., weavers held a large meeting Saturday evening, and not receiving from the mill directors any answer to their request for increased wages, a strike without notice was urged but not acted upon, though favorably received. Committees were appointed to ascertain the sentiment of the mills and to canvass for aid, and the meeting adjourned for one week. It is hardly possible that the great calamity of a general strike can be averted, as a number of noisy demagogues are doing all in their power to bring it about.

The yellow fever is spreading again in Memphis and vicinity. There were thirty-eight new cases and ten deaths Saturday, making 171 new cases during the week, and a total of 848; deaths during the week, fifty-one; total deaths to that date, 228. Twenty new cases and five deaths were reported on Sunday up to evening. The health officers of New Orleans say they have the disease under control, and there is no cause for any panic.

Hon. John Welsh, ex-minister to England, arrived at Philadelphia on Sunday.

On Wednesday of last week a man about forty years old, and apparently a tramp, was found at Vegennes, Vt., in an exhausted condition. He was removed to the poor-farm, where he soon after died without giving his name, place of residence or friends. On his person was found a Catholic bible and a few other articles, but no clue to his identity. It is thought the poor creature actually starved to death.

John Tallman, twenty-eight years old, jumped from an excursion train at Hawleyville, Conn., at twelve o'clock Saturday night, fell under the train and was killed.

Five passengers in a Denver stage coach were robbed by road agents Thursday night near Leadville, Col. Among the victims was C. N. Clarke of the Kansas Pacific railroad.

Henry W. Glass of Ellsworth, Me., was one of the crew of the fishing schooner Eastern Queen, which left that place some time ago for a fishing cruise on the grand banks. August 2d, Glass left the schooner in a dory for the purpose of fishing. It was slightly foggy at the time he left the vessel, and soon it closed in so thick that he was unable to find his way back. It soon began to grow cold and he was compelled to row around to keep warm. August 5th he was picked up by a Gloucester fisherman and taken to that port, from which place he got a passage to Ellsworth. He was all of sixty hours in the dory without food or drink, and of course suffered greatly.

At Louisville, Ky., Sunday, James Day was shot and killed by his son Jesse, aged eighteen years. There has long been trouble between the two, and the father was chasing the son and pelting him with stones when the latter fired a pistol with fatal effect.

Will Ward, a colored man, fatally shot Annie Lewis, a colored girl fourteen years old, at St. Louis, Mo., on the 31st ult., because she refused to marry him.

It is reported that Hanlan and Courtney have been matched for a race on Chautauqua lake, N. Y., on the 3d of October.

On Friday night a body of unknown men went to the cabin of a negro named Cason, five miles from Boonville, Mo., and riddled him bullets. Cason, who kept a low gambling den, had visited the house of a neighbor during his absence, insulted and slapped his wife and otherwise abused her.

On the night of August 14th some scoundrels visited the house of Mrs. Hartwell, an old lady living alone in Lunenburg, Vt., and breaking in the windows drenched the old lady with water, and stuffed the chimney with hay so that no fire could be built in the stove. Mrs. Hartwell is a quiet and worthy lady, although slightly deranged.

The practice ship Constellation arrived at Annapolis, Md., on Friday, with all well on board.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29th.

The Baltimore Sun says, in substance, that Secretary Sherman is sending his photographs, with treasury documents, all over the country, with a view of promoting his Presidential prospects. I don't care whether the secretary becomes President or not, but as one taking interest in passing events, and in the same spirit that would lead me to prevent any one from drowning or hanging or poisoning himself, I advise the secretary to stop that. His face is not his fortune. If the pictures are correct ones they will disarrange his campaign. The eminent ability of the secretary is not shown, or his virtues either, in his face or his figure.

An effort is being made to have Messrs. Conkling and Tilden made the candidates of their respective parties for governor of New York this fall.

To do his best to keep up with current business the commissioner of pensions is now running a double force of clerks, one set commencing at four o'clock P. M., when the others cease work. But even in this way he is unable to give prompt attention to new claims. The number being filed is far beyond precedent. One firm alone, Messrs. Gilmore & Co., of this city, receives and files over five hundred claims per month, and others very large numbers. The increase is owing to the "arrears" bill, which gives pension back to the time of the discharge of the soldier.

As stating an important truth, and one it is well to have understood, I copy from the daily Post, democratic, of this city, the following:

There is no doubt that the superior intelligence of American mechanics, due largely to our splendid free school facilities, is one of the principal causes of the rapid improvement in our manufactures. The highest authorities in England grumblingly concede that in almost all articles made from iron or steel, from a half-ounce casting to the heaviest locomotive or marine engine, we are ahead of the British manufacturers. The Swiss and German reports of our Centennial assigned as the reason of the high average character of the American work, brains in the workmen. And they simply told the truth. KNOX.

Political.

A mass convention of straight greenbackers at Lewiston, Me., called by the anti-fusionists for the purpose of nominating a county ticket, was captured by the fusion leaders on Saturday and the democratic nominations endorsed. During the squabble Mr. Eaton of Greene called Hon. F. M. Fogg a liar. The gentlemen who signed the call for the meeting left the hall and met in the Chronicle office, where they nominated a straight ticket.

The largest political meeting ever held in Androscoggin county, Me., was held by the republicans at East Livermore on Saturday. Not less than seven thousand persons were present, from about forty towns in four counties. Speeches were made by Hon. O. C. Moore of New Hampshire, Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin and Senator Blaine, Congressmen Frye closing with a short address. The speaking commenced at ten o'clock in the morning, and continued until almost evening.

A new phase of the "supremacy" question has arisen in Texas. The nullifiers and secessionists have always held that any one State was superior to the whole number, and now a city in Texas comes to the front with the doctrine that the municipality is superior in authority to the State. It now only remains to show that the citizen is above the municipality, and then there will be a reign of true freedom, in which each man will obey only such laws as he desires to.

An Ohio paper thinks that as the Yazoo democrats presented Dixon with a silver ice-pitcher, inscribed to "The Bravest of the Brave," it would seem an appropriate thing for them to bestow upon Barksdale a solid gold pitcher, with the inscription: "Braver than the Bravest of the Brave."

—An Arab writer says: "A woman will make as long and patient a tug as a camel if you will give her a kind word and show her a bit of green comfort at the end."

Refined Cider.

Of the different summer beverages manufactured at this establishment it is hardly necessary to say a single word. They have become popular "on their own merits" and can be found in many private families and on sale in every hotel, saloon and restaurant in this locality.

The lagers bottled by me are from the best breweries in the country, and it is safe to say that there is no better in the world.

☞ Orders may be left at my establishment for any of the above, which will be delivered anywhere within the city limits without extra charge.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for the New England States, To-Day:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2, 2 A. M.

Partly cloudy weather, followed by occasional rain, nearly stationary temperature, stationary or higher barometer, with winds mostly from southwest and northwest.

AROUND HOME.

The fair of the York county agricultural society occurs at Berwick this week, from the 2d inst. to the 5th, both inclusive.

At about nine o'clock on Saturday evening the schooner Ada, of York, ran into the Grand Trunk railroad bridge at Portland while a freight train was passing over. The bridge was damaged and six cars were wrecked. The vessel's bowsprit and head gear were carried away. No one was injured.

Philip Kirby on Saturday evening attacked James Davidson with a club, on South street, and inflicted some ugly bruises and wounds about his head. Kirby gave himself up to the police, but Davidson not appearing on Monday to prosecute him, he was discharged. Jealousy was the cause of the assault.

One hundred and seventy-three tickets to the performance of Pinafore by Haverly's Juvenile Company on Thursday evening, were sold within three hours of the time the sale of reserved seats commenced on Monday. This indicates a full house, and persons having a preference for any particular chairs should secure them at once.

Horse stealing seems to be becoming a very popular branch of industry in New England. Sheriff Kent on Monday recovered a team stolen from Wm. H. Bethybridge of Haverhill, Mass., last Friday night. The thief escaped. He arrived at the Ocean house, Hampton beach, on Saturday, and left for parts unknown the same day.

William A. Brewster, otherwise known as "Lon" Brewster, a kind of a hypocritical "theological tramp" who has for some weeks been confined in Dover jail on a charge of marrying an old lady and running away with her money, escaped from custody on Friday night. He gained the confidence of the jailer, who allowed him too much freedom.

George P. Haley, who was accepted as a candidate from this district for West Point at the competitive examination in Dover a short time ago, is not a resident of this State, but of Fryeburg, Maine, and is therefore not entitled to the appointment under the laws. He has taught school and been clerk in a store at Jackson in this State, but always made his home in Fryeburg. Henry Taylor of Tilton, who passed the next best examination, will probably receive the appointment.

The company is rapidly leaving the summer hotels in this vicinity, as well as elsewhere. The railroads and steamboats entering New York on Saturday and Monday were crowded with persons returning from the Adirondacks, the White mountains, the beaches and the coast islands. Five teams, loaded with "cottagers" and their effects, left York beach for Concord, via Dover, one day last week, and the guests at the Rye and Hampton hotels are thinning out very perceptibly. About a hundred persons came in from the Shoals on Monday, by the steamer's first trip.

Schooner Mayor Jones, Dunphy master, arrived at Deane's wharf from the Grand banks on Monday evening with eighteen hundred quintals of large fish. For eight day after leaving this port on her outward passage she had very heavy weather, had her flying-jibboom and jib carried away, her foresail torn into ribbons and her figure-head knocked off, and received other minor damages. There are but few vessels that have visited the banks this season that have entirely escaped injury. Capt. Dunphy, who is one of the most experienced skippers sailing out of this port, speaks in the highest terms of the Mayor Jones as a sea-boat.

Lieut. N. J. Coffin on Saturday sent to L. W. Brewster, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Portsmouth Journal, a challenge to meet him (Lieut. Coffin) on the field of honor, the challenge being accompanied by an intimation that unless Mr. Brewster accorded the challenger the satisfaction demanded the latter might take satisfaction in some other way. Mr. Brewster, being a peaceable man and quiet citizen, with no desire whatever to kill anybody, and having serious objections to being killed himself, swore out a warrant against Lieut. Coffin, and the case will probably come up in the police court to-day.

It is said that last Sunday was the best day of the season for the livery-stable keepers of this city, everything in the shape of a horse being let, and many would-be hirers of teams being unable to procure them.

The rooms in Mechanics' block for some years past occupied by Mr. Lewis E. Smith for a commercial college, have been leased by him for a term of five years.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 1; Batchelder, J.

George Anderson, for drunkenness, was ordered to the city farm for thirty days, costs being taxed at $6.90.

HAVERLY'S JUVENILE PINAFORE COMPANY.

This splendid company, which is to give us one night of Pinafore at Music Hall on Thursday, has lately been making a tour of Connecticut. We clip the following from the Hartford Times:

A more delighted audience there could not have been than that in Roberts's Opera House, last evening, to see the first performance of Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore Comdany. The opera was presented in a style far superior to that of some of the companies who have performed in this city. Every part was well rendered, the chorus exceedingly well. The principal characters were admirably sustained by the little ones, but especially good was the "Dick Deadeye" of Master Dunn, who was recognized as an old friend, having frequently performed at the National Theatre. His manner of presenting the character was fresh and original, and he was constantly applauded, and several times encored. The marching of the chorus in the review was fine. There was much that was original and much that was an improvement in the presentation.

New Hampshire Items.

Mary Lynch, of Suncook, died a few days ago from the effects of accidentally tasting corrosive sublimate, prepared for bed-bug poison, in a neighbor's house, a few days previously. She was about eighteen years of age.

Sarah Ann Moran, eleven years old, was fatally burned at Manchester, Monday, by the explosion of a can of kerosene with which she was hastening a fire.

Stephen H. Hastings, of Bath, was shot at twice at two o'clock Monday morning, by an unknown person who fired through the window of Hastings' house, one of the bullets grazing his thigh. The assassin was in a carriage, and drove off at a gallop.

Mrs. Judith Dearborn of Candia, eighty-five years old, while cooking fell on the stove, Friday, injuring herself seriously.

A fig tree which stands in the open air in Thomas Sanborn's yard, Canaan, has yielded a quart of ripe fruit this season.

George H. Buffum of Hillsboro' was arrested Saturday for raising money on mortgaged property.

The grove meeting of Universalists at Chesterfield, on Saturday evening and Sunday, was attended by over 2000 persons, and sermons were preached by Messrs. Harris, Smiley, Nye and McCalister. The weather was fine, and great religious interest was awakened in those who attended the services.

A few days ago a dog was detected in stealing chickens belonging to a couple of boys in Salmon Falls. The dog belonged to a neighbor and was friendly and familiar with the boys. But they resolved to kill him, and save the rest of their chickens. They were afraid to tackle the dog or shoot at him, lest they might miss, and then he would go for them. So they got him out into the orchard, put a rope around his neck, and tied him to a tree. Then they were afraid to shoot, because if they did not kill him at the first shot he might get away, and mad at his wound, bite them. So they climbed up into the tree, and getting upon a limb in good range, they began to blaze away with their pistols. They had amunition for only one shot apiece. The dog was wounded but not killed. He howled and showed his teeth in the ugliest way, and kept those boys up that tree nearly all day, when a man happening along went to their relief, killing the dog with a cudgel. Then they came down and went home, knowing, perhaps, a little more than they did when they first started.

Disputed Authority.

There was a conflict of authority at Houston, Texas, on Saturday, between the city authorities and United States officials who were acting under instructions from the governor of Texas. Houston has proclaimed quarantine against Galveston, and when the Galveston train arrived at the city limits it was halted by the whole police force of Houston. The United States marshal having deputized about a hundred persons on the train, they arrested the police, and on reaching the city the United States officers were themselves arrested by the city authorities, and required to give bail to the amount of $50 for appearance at the city court to answer a charge of violating the quarantine laws. United States District Attorney Romans said he and his party were acting under instructions from Gov. Roberts of Texas and under authority of the United States government. He shew despatches from the governor to the conductor of the train, telling him to take the train through at all hazards. The prisoners refused to give bail, Romans announcing that they would apply to Judge Masterson for a writ of habeas corpus. The passengers were released and allowed to proceed. The train men and United States officials alone were held.

"Reformer" Tilden and "Boss" Tweed.

The New York Star, a democratic paper which opposes Tilden, quotes the following as a specimen of the political correspondence which was current in New York ten years ago:

My Dear Tweed: Appoint my friend ——— to a position where the salary is not less than $2500 per annum. He is a very useful man in the interior of the State. Sincerely yours, S. J. T.

My Dear Tilden: O. K. I have appointed him Inspector of Water Meters. Send me a check for $10,000. I need it for the legislature, to settle our rail road matters.

Truly yours, W. M. TWEED.

Prudent Stock Speculations.

The Stock Exchange never presented such an admirable condition for profitable and rapid stock operations. There never before have been so many fortunes made by quick fluctuations and skilful manipulations. Careful and reasonable people only operate through the combination system of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., which enables those with large or small means to invest and realize handsome profits, which are divided pro rata among the shareholders every thirty days. New combinations are constantly forming. From $25 to $10,000 can be safely invested with splendid opportunities for quick profits. An Illinois grain dealer made $13,220.41 in two investments. A Michigan farmer invested $50, which yielded $433.14. He made by three reinvestments over $3000. A Wisconsin country merchant made $4,249.16 in four combinations; and others have done equally as well. New explanatory circular, with "unerring rules for success," mailed by Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER was enlarged May 1, 1879, so that every bottle now holds one fluid ounce more than formerly, while the price remains the same —In response to a question as to his business, a witness replied, "I am a retailer of wet goods." "Wet goods!" exclaimed the judge, "what are they?" "Liquors, your honor," said the witness. "Oh yes, I see. Wet goods; you mix 'em with water," responded his honor.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 20, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in municipal and important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, Pa., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are unrivalled in the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, Pimple, or Eruption. Scrofula, or Scrofulous Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a clear skin, with a fair complexion established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Scrofula has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and mental forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of clean, coarse, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated Feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated, and put up in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, and they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulceration extends from nasal voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be used with the nasal syringe, or by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications, and is the most pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $67.60 per ton. The three shafts already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "Mectrachia Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this Company, (25,000 shares out of 100,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for five (5) shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 may be sent by express, C. O. D., to

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1st.

Politics and the weather have grown warm together, the past week. The republican State convention does not meet until Wednesday, and yet as early as Saturday, delegates and outsiders began to gather at Saratoga. Another change of political atmosphere brings Cornell once more to the front as the leading candidate for governor, and some of his enthusiastic friends go so far as to predict his nomination at the first ballot. Devoutly as this may be hoped for, it looks exceedingly doubtful. And if he is not nominated on the first ballot, will he win at all? A week ago, the anti-Conkling men were gleefully predicting that for once they would control the State convention. This very fact probably helps Cornell—for in no case is there likelihood for the New York republicans to lend even a quasi endorsement to the removal of Arthur and Cornell. George William Curtis was expected to be a delegate to the convention, and Ex-Gov. Fenton, having returned from Europe to take an active part in politics once more, was chosen a delegate. As if by magic, the situation changed, and politics got to be politics. It was like waving a red flag in the face of a herd of pensive bulls. Cornell swept two-thirds of the New York and Brooklyn delegations, and a most effective charge along the whole line during the week did wonders, and among other results brought to the surface Lord Roscoe himself as a delegate. What an opportunity for music! The old Greeley element seems safely back in the party, and the general impression seems to be that such an experience as that from 1872 to date, is sufficient to last a man a life-time. With Fenton and Conkling in the Senate, New York was a sturdy republican State. But Fenton went under—and made the fatal mistake of going over, also. With such defection, and the democracy led by a Tweed and a Tilden, what wonder that New York went to the dogs!

Well, the time has come for more diplomacy and less savage display of hard words and harder feelings. The democracy are in the midst of a quarrel that is far from settlement. The time is ripe for the recovery of the State, the return of republican ascendency. Harmony at the State convention, this week, can secure it—for there is no candidate before that convention who cannot be elected on a full republican vote, be it Cornell, Robertson—who boldly voted for Blaine at Cincinnati—or Starin. There are "dark horses" in the field, such as Hamilton Fish, Sloan and Levi P. Morton, men whom no republican convention would feel ashamed to nominate. Though Pomeroy and Hiscock seem to be counted out of the race, when the convention meets the anti-Cornell men may find it difficult to combine. That is Cornell's vantage ground. The party ought to be satisfied with either candidate, and if Roscoe Conkling, Reuben E. Fenton and George William Curtis sagaciously hold their tongues, and go home prepared to do their utmost to elect the ticket, there is every prospect that New York State will surprise the country and the statesman of "Cipher Alley" with an old-fashioned republican victory that will do your souls good to hear about. And such democrats as Bayard, Hendricks, Thurman and Kelly would not feel extremely regretful at the "stern logic of fate" which would remove Tilden and his "barrel" from their path.

Just now, Sammy is striving hard to get control of the inspectors of election, by manipulating his puppets, Gov. Robinson and Mayor Cooper. At the last election, the Tammany democrats threw about 60,000 votes out of the 88,000 or less that the city democracy cast for their State ticket. This left the anti-Tammany democracy 28,000 votes, round numbers, the republicans throwing nearly 52,000 votes in the city. There is a law by which the inspectors of election are divided between the democratic and republican parties. The old democratic doctrine that a majority shall rule is not any element of Tilden's creed. The anti-Tammany and republican aldermen can agree not to recognize the 50,000 voters of Tammany hall as democrats, and Sammy's "little game" is to divide the inspectors equally among the representatives of 28,000 anti-Tammany democrats, and 52,000 republicans, and not allow the 60,000 Tammany democrats one! There's democracy for you, democracy that ought to make every democrat in the land unite in praising the astute "reformer" who "only wishes the success of the party and is not selfish." And yet had a little more than one-half of these 60,000 Tammany democratic votes been withheld from his support in 1876, the vote of New York State would have been cast for Hayes and Wheeler. Tilden's actual plurality then was 32,742, in a total vote of 1,015,-502. His great desire is now to control enough patronage to prevent the large anti-Tilden majority in this city from sending an anti-Tilden delegation to next year's convention, which will be called on to elect delegates to the national democratic convention. Do you think he is one of that kind of men who "would rather be right than be President?"

The "season" is about over, and business men and their families come trooping from the seashore and the country. The New Yorkers who have remained in the city have found Coney island all that is desirable in the way of entertainment. It has been no unusual thing for 100,000 people to make excursions thereto on Sundays, the place then appearing like a huge fair, and in some regards reminding one of Centennial times. By the way, one of the Centennial buildings has been transplanted to the island, and is gorgeously arrayed. It is now known as the Ocean Beach Palace or Pavilion.

Wholesale merchants report brisk business. The hotels are full, and New York wears the guise of old-time hurry and bustle. Importations have been very heavy of late, and complaint is made that delay is incurred at the custom house in getting entries of goods through. The force was reduced in the spring by the new collector to a hard times basis, but with the rapid increase of importations it is expected that additional force will be necessary.

Jay Gould is back from Europe, and is expected to break the present inflated stock market. And there come vague whisperings from 'Frisco that a big "deal" in mining stocks will "boom" the market there shortly after this week's election. So speculators here are preparing to "go short" on railroads and "long" on Comstocks. It is alleged that the bonanza kings are engineering the prophesied rise for the sake of unloading upon the Eastern public—and that then, having money enough, they will retire. Did you ever see a man who ever had money enough? I have seen but one. He is a Portsmouth boy, and resides in Butler, Ky.

So Portsmouth is to have a glimpse of Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore Company; and if the staid old critics who adorn the Music hall on special occasions, do not go home delighted with the "five-year-old's," your correspondent will claim no acquaintance with the progeny of any prophet. The Juveniles carried New York by storm, and the way they interpret "Pinafore" will be appreciated by all who have any love for little children. Take your own! G.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1879.

The Monument Dedication in Manchester.

Preparations for dedicating the soldiers' monument at Manchester on Sept. 11th are being actively pushed, and the indications all point to the largest gathering ever seen in that city. Every commandry of Knights Templar in the State has been invited and will attend. Wanalancet and Mt. Washington encampments of Odd Fellows, of Manchester, have voted to come out, and have invited the uniformed Patriarchs of Portsmouth, Nashua, Concord and Suncook. They will probably occupy the right of the line in the civil department of the procession, doing escort duty for the Masonic brethren who perform the services of dedication. There will unquestionably be present the largest assemblage of Knights Templar ever seen in the State, and there will be about four hundred members of the Grand Army in line. The city governments of Portsmouth, Dover, Nashua, Concord and Keene have accepted invitations, with the State militia, a large number of civic societies, the fire department and public schools of the city, the Ransom Guards of St. Albans, Vt., the Cadets of Boston, and other guests. The dedication bids fair to be worthy of the city, the State, and the occasion which calls it forth.

News and Notes.

Richard Stephenson, a United States deputy marshal, was murdered on Saturday in Kingman county, Kansas, by a horse thief whom he had arrested, the murderer escaping to the Indian Territory. Stephenson had arrested the thief at Wellington, and was returning with the prisoner and property to Kingman. Both men were with a drummer in a carriage. In descending a steep declivity the thief snatched Stephenson's revolver, shot him through the breast, disarmed the commercial traveller, mounted the best horse, and fled.

At De Kalb, the county seat of Kemper county, Miss., on the 2d inst., was commenced the trial of the cases of State vs. Henry J. Gully, Virgil Gully, Houston Gully and Slocumb Gully, indicted for the murder of W. W. Chisolm, Miss Chenilla Chisolm and J. P. Gilmere, April 29th, 1877. The prosecution is conducted by District Attorney Thomas S. Ford, assisted by Stewart L. Woodford of New York, Ex-Attorney General Morris of Vicksburg, and Ex-Chancellor Ware of Jackson, Miss. Over 500 persons, mostly whites, were in attendance, and great interest is felt in the trial. W. H. Gully, one of the defendants, has died since he was indicted.

The New York Tribune has an article showing that the losses to creditors of southern States by various forms of repudiation agnregate two hundred and fifty millions of dollars. If repudiated municipal debts be added the sum will reach three hundred millions. Eighty millions of this loss has been sustained by foreign capitalists, and one hundred and fifty millions by northern creditors. The remainder was held by southern people.

Mrs. Ellen Kelley of East Braintree, Mass., was on Saturday last fined $15 and costs for cruelty to her step-daughter, and ordered to give $500 bonds for good behavior for one year. In default of sureties she went to jail. The society for the protection of children prosecuted the woman.

A boat race between Warren E. Smith of Halifax and Wallace Ross of St. John, at Halifax on Monday, was won by Smith by a length and a half.

The public debt statement for August shows a decrease of $3,527,395. Secretary Sherman says the reduction would have been over six millions except for the heavy payments on arrears of pensions.

Charles De Young of San Francisco, who shot the "Rev." Kalloch, has been admitted to bail in $25,000.

It is now stated that both Hanlan and Courtney decline to pull in a race for a field purse of $5000, at Chatauqua lake, N. Y.

Nathan Beardsley, fifty-seven years old, was run over by the evening train on the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad at East Fairfield, Vt., Saturday night. He was returning home from the village, walking on the track, when he was struck by the train and literally cut to pieces.

Rev. W. H. Griffis (colored) of Jersey City has brought action against W. H. Dohrman, a German confectioner, for refusing to serve ice cream to himself and daughter on Sunday evening. The case comes under the civil rights law.

There was a prize fight Sunday in Jersey City between John Reardon and Frank McDermott. It was stopped by the police just in time to save Reardon's life. He was horribly beaten.

A. L. Donaldson of Baltimore, brother of the late æronaut Prof. Donaldson, swam from Norfolk to Old Point Comfort, Monday, a distance of fifteen miles in six hours. He has but one arm.

While a party of American tourists were driving from Martigny to Chamougnix, Switzerland, their carriage was overturned, and a Mrs. Wright of New York was killed.

At Linden, N. J., Monday, a family consisting of a man named Susick, his wife and four children, were poisoned by eating toad-stools for mushrooms. Two children died during the night, and the other two were dying Tuesday morning. The parents will recover.

It is said that Rev. J. F. Lovering, a retired Unitarian minister, of Watertown, Mass., has become a convert to the Orthodox church and will publicly join it next Sunday.

The earthenware and china manufacturers of Straffordshire, Eng., have resolved on a reduction of wages of employes, which will affect over 50,000 workmen. Thomas W. Brooker & Co.'s sheet iron and tin plate manufactory near Cardiff, in Wales, which has been in constant operation since 1740, were closed on Saturday last, and 1500 workmen thrown out of employment. Three villages had grown up around the works, the inhabitants consisting solely of working people and their families, and these, numbering 6,000 persons, are now destitute.

A disastrous storm prevailed at New Orleans on Monday, and coal barges to the value of $100,000 were destroyed. Crops were greatly injured, several steamboats sunk, and a number of buildings unroofed.

D. W. Hager and Hattie Haskins, who recently eloped from Brattleboro', Vt., are in Canada, and they want to come back and be forgiven.

Matthew Hughes, employed in the Barnard mill, Fall River, Mass., reports that his son, Matthew Hughes, thirteen years of age, is missing, under very suspicious circumstances. The father is what is termed a working spinner, or a "nobstick," and is compelled to remain about the mill premises most of the time from fear of bodily harm from the striking spinners. The lad is what is termed a "bag boy" in the mill with his father, and stays with him. His mother is employed in another mill in the other part of the city. On the 15th ult. the boy left the mill-yard to visit his mother. He was compelled to pass over a bridge guarded by a band of spinners, and as the anxious parents have heard nothing of him since, they believe he has been spirited away or been foully dealt with.

—What is believed to be the largest rope in the world is a grapnel rope, 10,-000 fathoms long without a splice, and has been made for the Siemens telegraph company. It is made of three strands, the diameter of the completed rope being two inches.

—Fullness under the eye denotes language; fullness under the ribs denotes beer.

—Charles Langheimer, the Philadelphi prisoner whose case touched Dicken's heart and was recorded in "American Notes," has robbed a safe in his seventy-seventh year, and is to go back to his old home.

—A New Bedford woman was the owner of a cat which she prized very much, and which, about three weeks ago, gave birth to four kittens. The lady not wishing to have such a large family of cats, had three of them destroyed, leaving poor Topsy with only one. On finding that her kittens were gone, and all efforts to find them were unavailing, Topsy took her remaining kitten by the back of the neck and dropped it into a tub of water, waited till life was extinct, and then very mourefully jumped into a hogshead of water standing by and drowned herself.

Increasing cloudiness, followed by rain, variable winds, shifting to southeasterly, stationary or lower temperature and barometer.

AROUND HOME.

Orders were received at the navy yard on Tuesday to prepare the U. S. S. Wachusett for sea with all possible dispatch.

The interest due the stockholders of the Wolfeborough railroad will be paid at the office No. 82 Market street on Friday, the 5th inst., at 11:15 o'clock A. M.

A reception and hop complimentary to the officers attached to this naval station and also those belonging to the United States vessels now at this port, is to be given in Congress hall this evening.

H. C. Bean of Kennebunk Depot, Me., a brakeman on the Maine Central railroad, was thrown from a flat car on Monday and had a leg and three ribs broken, and received injuries to his head. He had but just recovered from a broken arm.

The Portsmouth cricket club will play a game with the Longwoods of Longwood, Mass., either on Thursday or Friday of this week, on the grounds in this city. The Manchesters want to come on the 11th, and the Needhams, of Needham, Mass., on the 13th.

Tuesday was another "hottest day of the season," and the brisk shower which came just at night was a very pleasant affair. The thunder which accompanied the shower was the first really respectable sample of the article which we have been favored with since last autumn.

Lieut. Comdr. Crowninshield, commonding the sailing ship Portsmouth, in his report to the navy department concerning the grounding of that vessel off Bra' Boat harbor, York, on the 12th of August, says the ledge on which she struck is neither marked on the charts nor mentioned in the sailing directions. Probably a little search, or a few enquiries of fishermen, would show that there are plenty of other rocks along there that are not shown on charts or specially mentioned in the Coast Pilot, for the bottom is so rough and comes close to the surface in so many places that it is not supposed a vessel will ever go there if she can help it.

The annual meeting of the East Rockingham Bible society was held in the Congregational church at Hampton on the 2d inst. The agent of the State society, W. G. Brown, with Rev. F. D. Ayer of Concord, were present. Consideration of the general cause was the business of the forenoon; and* in the afternoon several prominent clergymen spoke on the question "Is a fresh revelation needed, or is the Bible adequate to the demands of the age?" after which the annual sermon was preached by Rev. A. H. Quint, D. D., of Dover. The annual meeting of the West Rockingham Bible society will be held in the Presbyterian church at Windham on the 3d inst.

John Randolph, Charles Carroll, Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Henry Longfellow and Henry Clay have at various times been before the police court in this city, all of them on charges of drunkenness, and it is a singular fact that not one of the eminent men named happened to have money enough just then to pay his fine. On Tuesday another somewhat noted man was before the court on the usual charge—August Belmont, no less—and like the others, he was troubled with impecuniosity to such an extent that $9,90 was a sum too vast for him to control. It is thought this August Belmont is not the New York banker of that name who was formerly chairman of the national democratic committee.

Our New York correspondent "G.," who has witnessed the performance of Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore company, says they "carried New York by storm," and intimates that "the staid old critics who adorn Music hall on special occasions" will go home from that place on Thursday night "delighted with the five-year-olds." No person need fear that in patronizing this entertainment, encouragement will be given to abuse of children in any way, for the moral and material welfare of the little people is well looked after, even to the sending of them to school for two hours each day, their governess being Mrs. Bishop, whose little daughter takes the part of Little Buttercup in the opera. They are lodged at first-class hotels, and the utmost care taken to have the influences thrown around them kept as pure as possible.

The schooner Addie, of York, before reported as having been in collison with a bridge at Portland on Saturday evening, was loaded with brick, and at the time of the accident was making for the draw. The schooner's bowsprit and figure head were carried away, her bow planking stove and her head sails torn to pieces. Six cars of the freight train on the bridge at the time were capsized, and four pairs of trucks went overboard, while the underworks of several cars were badly damaged, as was also the draw. It is not often that a schooner runs into a railroad train, but even that does not seem so odd as to have a ship run down by a meeting-house, as occurred years ago off Cape Cod, according to old sailors' tradition.

Frank Hardy, a man in the employ of the Concord railroad, met with a serious accident on Tuesday morning. He is employed on the gravel train on that road as brakeman, and while engaged in shackling cars at the depot in Greenland was jammed between two of the cars and had his thigh broken in two places. He was then thrown down, falling with his leg so near the track as to allow the flange of the wheel to catch it and cut it terribly, nearly from the knee to the ankle. He was brought to this city, and taken to the police station, where his wounds were attended to by Dr. Hall. He was conveyed to his home in Manchester on the noon train.

The yacht Una, Capt. Godfrey, of Hampton, on Saturday last took a sword fish weighing three hundred pounds, and on Monday captured one of over five hundred pounds weight, the latter making a hard struggle for his life. The fish were taken about ten miles off the Shoals.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's new minstrel combination will give an entertainment at music hall on Monday evening, Sept. 8th. Their performances are spoken of in the highest terms by the papers of the west, where they have drawn large and enthusiastic audiences.

The adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad will be held at the common council room this afternoon at three o'clock.

MASONIC.

Ill. Brother John Christie, 33d degree, Deputy for New Hampshire, will leave this city on Wednesday next, the 10th inst., to attend the Supreme Grand Council of the 33d Degree of the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States, which holds its annual session at Philadelphia on Tuesday, September 16th.

The Annual Conclave of the Grand Commandry of Knights Templar of the State of New Hampshire will be held at Masonic Temple in Concord, on Tuesday, September 30th.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Sept. 2; Batchelder, J.

James Lane, for maintaining a pig-stye nuisance, was bound over in the sum of $50 to appear at the supreme court to answer to the charge.

John Burns and August Belmont, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs.

N. J. Coffin, arraigned on a complaint of Lewis W. Brewster, was placed under $200 bonds to keep the peace for three months. Lieut. Coffin giving his word that he would keep the peace, sureties were easily procured.

Political.

The greenbackers of Saco caucussed on Saturday last to nominate a candidate for the legislature. There were but nineteen greenbackers present; and some of their democratic friends, thinking that rather a small number, generously voted with them, swelling the total vote to twenty-seven, and nominating a good democrat who talks a little greenbackism but can be depended on to vote as the democratic managers may direct, every time. Some of the greenbackers were so ungrateful as to demur at this, and another ballot was taken, only the nineteen greenbackers being allowed to vote, the result being that the candidate selected by the democrats for the greenbackers to vote for, was discarded, and a greenbacker nominated.

According to the Chicago Times, a democratic sheet, never before has trade been so good as this season, and in no previous year have Chicago merchants sold so many goods as thus far during 1879, and to-day the business interests of that city are in a better shape than at any previous time since the panic of 1873. Yet the Chicago Times, with all the other democratic papers in the country, has for years been proclaiming that only a complete democratic victory in the nation could restore prosperity and improve business.

The Springvale, Me., Reporter is a greenback paper, and of course constantly gives mouth to the party cries of "hard times," "depression of industry," etc.; but in a recent issue it inadvertently allowed its correspondent at Sanford to jubilate as follows: "Business continues brisk. The Sanford mills are running on extra time. S. B. Emery, owing to press of orders, has again hired D. J. Harrigan. The Mousam River mills, having received a large order for goods, are running until nine o'clock P. M. each working day." Pretty stuff that is for a greenback paper to publish, while the party speakers are going about over the State groaning and wailing over the depression of business, asserting that there is no improvement, and declaring that only a deluge of worthless paper can save the country from going to the demnition bow-wows.

The democrats and greenbackers of Portland "fused" on nominations for the legislature, that city being entitled to five representatives. The Portland greenbackers of republican antecedents are now wondering how it is that the fusion ticket bears the names of three straight democrats and two soft-money democrats, and are asking themselves if, after all, there may not be some truth in the republican talk about the democratic tail wagging the greenback quadruped.

Perhaps one reason why Kentucky elects such a barbarian as Blackburn to the governorship is that education is so neglected in the State that the people don't know any better. At least one-half of the children in Kentucky of school age, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal, are without the slightest instruction. Of these untaught children 200,000 are white and 25,000 colored.

It is passive suicide to permit the health to be undermined, the constitution broken, and the lease of life shortened, by nervous complaints, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, or intermittent or remittent fevers, when it is a fact established by unquestioned evidence that the Bitters will prevent and remove these evils. All the symptoms of lassitude and general debility speedily vanish when this invigorant is given a trial.

Sunday was a grand occasion at Wolfeboro. A special train of eight cars, heavily loaded, brought passengers from points on the Ess.ex railroad between North Conway and Conway Crossing, and there were many teams from the nearer towns. The steamer Mount Washington carried many hundreds to the Advent camp-meeting at Alton Bay, and the Lady of the Lake was crowded with excursionists to the State Temperance camp-meeting at Weirs. The temperance camp-meeting closed on Monday, the meetings during the session having been well attended, and the most interesting and successful of any ever held by the association.

A serious disturbance took place at Bath on Sunday evening. Alvah Davis and wife were calling on Katy Waters, a maiden lady over eighty years of age, when a dispute arose between Mrs. Davis and Miss Waters, and the latter told Mrs. Davis to leave house. She refused, and clinched Miss Waters, when a scuffle ensued and Mr. Davis interfered, seizing Miss Waters and throwing her violently down, breaking her hip, spraining her wrist, and otherwise bruising her. A physician who was called thinks the injuries will prove fatal. A warrant for the arrest of Davis on a charge of aggravated assault has been executed. Davis works on the railroad.

A fifteen-mile walking match took place in the town hall at Claremont, Monday evening, between A. H. Libby of Springfield, Vt., champion ten-mile walker, and George F. Avery of Boston, champion long-distance walker of New England, resulting in favor of the latter.

Information has been received of the sudden death at Fernandina, Florida, of Charles L. Hoyt, of the firm of Sanborn & Hoyt of Meredith. He was a prominent and respected citizen of Meredith, where he had held various public positions.

Rev. Job C. Tyler, an old and honored resident of Canaan, died suddenly Monday afternoon, aged eighty years. He married a couple the same morning.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Speedily, Permanently, and Economically Cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other known medicine and methods of treatment fail.

Scrofulous Ulcers and Sores, Abscesses, Milk Leg, Fever Sores, Erysipelas Sores, Old Sores and Discharging Wounds, Boils, Carbuncles and Blood Impurities, which manifest themselves by burning through the skin and cating deep into the flesh, when treated internally by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and externally with the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, rapidly heal and disappear. Salt Rheum or Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Leprosy, Barber's Itch and all Scaly and Itching Eruptions of the skin, Scald Head, Dandruff, and Irritating and Itching Humors of the Scalp, which cause the Hair to become dry, thin, and lifeless and result in premature Baldness, are permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SKIN DISEASE.

A Remarkable Letter from J. A. Tucker, Esq.,* manufacturer of the Bay State Superphosphate.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I think I have paid for medicines and medical treatment during the last twenty years all of three thousand dollars, without receiving any permanent relief.

Last May while taking a Turkish bath at 17 Beacon St., a young man employed there by the name of Wm. Corbett induced me to allow him to apply a preparation that he had upon me, assuring me that it was perfectly harmless, and for a certain consideration he would cure me within thirty days from the time he commenced. In case he failed to do so I was to pay him nothing. I consented and he applied it nearly every day for five weeks, when the disease entirely disappeared. I very cheerfully paid him the amount agreed upon, and then asked him what this remedy was, and he replied that it was no other than CUTICURA.

Since that time I have had no trouble from this disease, and have not had such good health in twenty years as I have had during the last six months.

I have since my recovery bought CUTICURA and given it to friends suffering with skin diseases, and in every instance it has cured them. I believe it to be the greatest discovery of the present century.

J. A. TUCKER.

13 DOANE ST., Boston, Dec. 29, 1878.

NOTE.—Mr. Tucker is a well-known citizen and has served the city in many important capacities. He is at present a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is also well known to agriculturists and farmers as the manufacturer of the celebrated Bay State Superphosphate.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Have done for me what hundreds of dollars spent on other remedies have failed to do, and I do not hesitate to recommend them as first-class articles.

CARBONDALE, PA., Dec. 20, 1878.

Skin and Scalp Diseases should be treated externally with CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, and RESOLVENT taken internally, until cured and for some time afterward. Where the Humors are confined to the Blood and do not show themselves on the surface, the RESOLVENT alone will speedily drive them from the system. The CUTICURA REMEDIES infallibly cure the most loathsome cases of Scrofulous and Skin and Scalp Humors, as is attested by hundreds of unsolicited testimonials in our possession.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Eruptions, Salt-Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" all of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as its effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Hunted feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the renovating power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Yet does not impair the efficacy of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved and unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into the throat, sometimes mucous, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, shyness, heat, burning, and irritation of eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and EFFectively applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

The property of this Company consists of the "Mountain Ranger" and "Expert" Mines, which aggregate 2500 feet in length and 600 feet in width. Work done on them in several localities, shows in every case MILLING ORE, varying in width from 40 to 80 feet. Average assays taken promiscuously from these openings show a value of $27.50 per ton. The three shafts, already down show a splendid body of PAY ORE.

The mines are the natural extension of the "McCrackin Lode," capitalized at the rate of $10,000,000, (four times as much as this Company,) and which milled, with a twenty-stamp mill during eight months of 1878, and shipped to San Francisco, as shown by the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., bullion valued at Six Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars ($670,000.)

FOR THE ARIZONA CONSOLIDATED to pay regular dividends, all that is needed is a mill. To purchase and erect this, the Trustees have set aside One Quarter of the whole capital stock of this company, ten thousand (10,000) shares of which are now offered at the subscription price of $3.50 per share. This will be sufficient to erect a twenty-stamp mill and set it in complete operation. The management will be conducted in an energetic and economical manner.

Subscriptions for any number of shares or upward, will be received, and the certificates of stock promptly mailed. Drafts or checks should be made to the order of ROBERT J. S. WHITE, Treasurer, and forwarded to the General Agent. Amounts of $100 or less may be remitted, if subscribers prefer, by Post Office money order or registered letter. Subscriptions exceeding $100 must be sent by express.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1st.

The recent "accident" in this city by which the contents of a private letter addressed to one William B. Moore became known to another William B. Moore, a government official, and finally got into print, will, whatever the merits of this case may be, attract a great deal of attention to the law and practice on the subject. The law, it is unnecessary to say, imposes heavy punishment for the wilful violation of sealed correspondence sent through the mails; but violations of the law are not uncommon, while punishment is very rarely inflicted. The clear duty of the William B. Moore to whom the letter did not belong was to seal it up immediately, taking care that its contents were not made known to any one else, and send it to its real owner. There are circumstances in this particular case which render it probably that there was no wrong intention on the part of the Mr. Moore who got the other man's letter.

It may be that the board of health is justified in all that it is doing in its efforts to suppress the yellow fever, but we all know that the way to succeed is not by getting up quarrels about the jurisdiction of federal, State or municipal authorities. So that needed work is promptly done, it matters little who does it. Disputes of jurisdiction which if fought out now would prevent the doing of anything may be safely left to another time for settlement.

It is given out by Col. Robert G. Ingersoll's friends that he will defer until after the next presidential election any efforts to organize a new party. It remains to be seen whether Mr. Parton and the colonel's other assistants in the matter will agree with him, or will insist upon earlier action. KNOX.

Just Your Time

To make money safely, easily and rapidly, is now, while the stock market offers so many splendid opportunities. The combination system has had unprecedented success, and brings good fortune to thousands of shareholders in this and other countries. Investments of from $25 to $10,000 are thus consolidated into one vast capital, and operated by the best skill and experience, result in heavy profits, which are divided among shareholders every month. A New Orleans cotton dealer made $27,649.18 in two months. A Baltimore merchant received an aggregate profit of $9,642.04 from three combinations. A San Francisco mining agent made $22,438.16 from four combinations, his first investment being $100. Others have been equally fortunate. Every day there are new and grand opportunities. New explanatory circular, with "unerring rules for success," mailed by Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

"Laugh and Grow Fat."

This ancient bit of advice is well enough for "spare" people, but how about those that are already too fat? What is to become of them? Sit still, and I'll tell you. After many experiments, extending through months of patient investigation and toil, the celebrated analytical chemist, J. C. Allan, has perfected and given to the world Allan's Anti-Fat. Thus far in several hundred cases this great remedy has never failed to reduce a corpulent person from three to six pounds per week. It is perfectly harmless and positively efficient. Sold by druggists.

SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER was enlarged May 1, 1879, so that every bottle now holds one fourth more than formerly, while the price remains the same

Cheerfulness, courage, and activity of intellect are engendered by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and its capacity of imparting power of endurance to the brain and nervous system is shown in its property of sustaining persons through mental difficulties.

—Good doctors are liable to be rapped up in their business.

—The pastor and deacons of a church at Gainesville, Texas, are said to have played poker, at five cents ante and fifty cents limit, while waiting for a quorum at a business meeting.

—Two elephants escaped from a menagerie at Warrington, in England, and there was a chase through the streets, by men, boys and dogs, resulting in a capture of the beasts and the injury of two of the men.

—Olive Logan to the author of "Pinafore:" "I understand that you soon sail the ocean blue, and your gallant ship's a beauty?" "I sail for America soon, if that is what you refer to." "Have you never visited America before?" "Never." "What! never?" "I never have, 'pon my honor." Exit Olive.

—Conjugal affection depends largely upon mutual confidence. "I make it a rule," said a wiseacre to his friend, "to tell my wife everything that happens. In this way we manage to avoid any misunderstanding." Not to be outdone in generosity, the friend replied: "Well, sir, you are not so open and frank as I am, for I tell my wife a great many things that never happen."

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1879.

The Life Saving Service.

An important measure went into effect on the 1st inst., that of placing on duty the surfmen employed by the United States life-saving service along the Atlantic coast. It is a fact established by statistical data that during the month of September a larger number of lives are lost in the surf than at any other time of the year, and it is during this month that the surfmen at the various stations along the coast are required to be most active. During what is called the "off season"—that is, from May to September—the men are out of the employment of the government, and make a living as best they can along the coast, generally as fishermen and coastmen.

A Farce.

The Union, S. C., rescue cases came to an unexpected ending on the 30th ult. Four revenue officers, who had seized the wagon of a tobacco peddler for defrauding the revenue, in December, 1877, were set upon by a State militia company of one hundred and fifty men, and compelled to abandon their seizure. It was generally expected that the leaders in the affair, who were subsequently arrested and identified, would be severely dealt with by the United States courts; but on the date named Judge Bryan accepted their plea of guilty, made with the understanding that the penalty should be small fines, which aggregated $850. The officers of the court say they did this in preference to depending on an up-country jury for conviction, as it is hopeless to expect a South Carolina jury to convict even on the plainest evidence, in cases where the United States laws are broken.

News and Notes.

Rev. W. H. H. Murray has made a public statement in which he declares to be false the reports against his business and personal honor, and announces his determination to retire from public life.

An explosion of fire damp occurred in the coal mines at Beauchamp, France, on the 2d inst., resulting in the death of fifteen persons and the injury of a large number.

The annual fair of the New England Agricultural society opened at Worcester, Mass., on the 2d inst., Hon. George B. Loring delivering the annual address.

A gas explosion in a New York dance house known as Cremorne Garden, on the 2d inst., shattered the bar-room and killed the proprietor and his bartender.

John Tourden, a released convict, on the 3d inst. murdered his wife at Trenton, N. J., by choking her and cutting her throat, and then jumped into a canal with his son, nine years old, in his arms. The murderer was drowned, but the child was rescued.

George Schwartz of San Francisco, a cigar dealer and local politician, was shot twice on the 2d inst. by Dudley Haskell, a young man employed in a law office, the second shot entering his head and killing him instantly. The murder was committed in the victim's place of business, where Haskell went to find him. The crime was occasioned by a dispute at a political meeting on the previous evening. Haskell was arrested, the police having some difficulty in rescuing him from the mob.

A gang of Williamsburg, N. Y., roughs, known as the Cherry Hill gang, said to be one of the worst sets of scoundrels in the country, went to Sheepshead bay on the 1st inst., stole clams from a man named Jerome, and when he asked for his pay beat him to death. Thirty-six of the ruffians were arrested on their return.

By the great storm at New Orleans on the 2d inst., forty-five coal boats were sunk, with their cargoes, involving a total loss of $200,000, with no insurance. At Morgan City two steamboats were sunk, and a saw-mill, warehouse, church and schoolhouse blown down. Negro cabins all along the river were destroyed, many sugar houses on the plantations unroofed and otherwise damaged, and the crops almost ruined.

The annual reunion of the 1st Maine Cavalry association was held at Lewiston on the 2d inst., the attendance being larger than on any previous occasion. Gov. Garcelon, Gen. Culley, Hon. D. F. Davis and many other prominent men were present. Special services were held in Riverside cemetery in memory of Lieut. Col. Stephen Boothby, who was mortally wounded in Sheridan's raid to Richmond, and an address was delivered by Lieut. Tobie. It was voted to hold the next reunion at Pittsfield.

At Houston, Texas, on the 1st inst., the quarantine breakers were brought before the United States court on a writ of habeas corpus, and discharged from custody. The judge ruled that the board of health had no power to declare quarantine under the city charter, that power being vested in the board of aldermen alone. The next proceeding will be to arrest the mayor, health officers and the members of the Houston board of health on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct and for obstructing the United States mail.

An illicit distillery was captured in Washington, D. C., on the 2d inst., within three blocks of the executive mansion, and seven men arrested. It had been in operation but a few days.

While the Transatlantic circus was parading the streets of Mayfield, Ky., a boy twisted the tail of the lion, which hung outside the cage, causing the animal to assail and nearly tear to pieces his keeper, who rode inside with the beasts. The keeper is alive but badly torn up.

Information is received of the murder of Samuel Ham, a farmer living near Roscoe, in St. Clair county, Mo. Three unknown horsemen rode up to Ham while he was engaged in bailing sorghum, and shot him dead. He was supposed to have a large sum of money. After searching the body and failing to find money, the murderers rode away.

The city of Lawrence, Kansas, refuses to levy the bond tax ordered by the United States district court.

The dead bodies of two women and a little girl, supposed to be Mrs. Hatto and her child and sister, were found in a house at Paynesville, Ohio, on the 2d inst., having evidently been murdered. The bodies were covered with bed clothing that had been sprinkled with lime.

The governor of Pennsylvania has appointed Friday, Nov. 14th, as the day of execution of Drews, Stichler, Hummel and Brandt, four of the six men concerned in the murder of an old man named Raber, in Lebanon county, to get the insurance on his life. Another of the murderers awaits sentence, and a sixth has been granted a new trial.

Charles Welch, of Newburyport, eighteen years old, was arrested at Lowell on the 2d inst. for stealing pies. He was recognized as a member of the gang of roughs who kicked a police officer to death in Newburyport on the 4th of July, and who was wanted in that city to answer for the crime.

Allen Thayer, living at East Braintree, Vt., a day or two since accused one Kimbal of improper intimacy with his wife, and claimed he had letters written by Kimbal proving it. Thayer drew a revolver and snapped it twice at Kimbal, while only four or five feet distant, but the cartridges failed to explode. At this Kimbal also drew a revolver, when Thayer ran away. The authorities are looking up the case.

At Bradford, Penn., on the 2d inst., Lewis Gray, aged twenty-seven years, and Charles Jones, aged twenty-one, were conveying sixty pounds of nitroglycerine to an oil well, when the stuff exploded, scattering the men, their team of horses and their buggy in fragments among the trees and over the hill-sides. It is supposed the men were lifting one of the cans of glycerine from the buggy, when the handle gave way.

—Abraham Layman, a bachelor, aged seventy-seven years, and Miss Ann Layman, thirteen years, both of Rockingham county, Va., were married on the bridge of Harper's Ferry recently.

—London Truth says: "A most extraordinary feat at billiards has just been performed at Moscow, by a young Japanese, who won in twelve hours a game of 5000, in the course of which he once scored 1800 caromboles in succession."

"Let Them Not be Confounded!"

There is so much said in the papers of the day about the action of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Louisiana just adjourned that it is but proper to notify the public that the condemnation of the scaling of the State indebtedness in no way effects the management and the plans of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, which since its incorporation in 1868, has never scaled its schemes or postponed its drawings, but, with strict integrity, has observed its pledges to the public inviolate, and has hence derived a popularity unknown of since the days when General George Washington drew a lottery under the authority of the Continental Congress, to carry on the War for Independence. The next—the 112—monthly drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery will occur on Tuesday, Sept. 9th, and any information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, or the same at No. 319 Broadway, New York City.

During the thunder shower on the evening of the 2d inst. the house of John Dalton in Deerfield was struck by lightning, and with his barn and the contents of both buildings destroyed. The barn of Alonzo T. Brown of Mont Vernon was also struck and burned.

The roof of the State prison took fire on the evening of the 2d inst., from sparks from the chimney. The prison fire department extinguished the flames, more damage resulting from water than from the fire.

The September term of the supreme court opened at Nashua on the 2d inst., Judge Foster presiding.
